• App. NA____ Attach documentation of any sources of revenue appearing in the spreadsheets that are anticipated to come from private sources.

• App. NA____ Attach a copy of any agreements with other local schools for the charter school students’ participation in extracurricular activities such as interscholastic sports and clubs.

• App. NA____ Attach a copy of any intended contracts for the provision of educational management services or the provision of supplemental educational services and remediation. Such contracts shall describe the specific services for which the contracting organization is responsible. In the case of a management organization, such contracts shall clearly delineate the respective roles and responsibilities of the management organization and the governing board in the management and operation of the charter school.
Executive Summary

Origin, History and Innovations. As a program alternative for students who have unique needs as a result of family and life circumstances associated with the court and juvenile justice systems, Destiny Academy initially opened in 2008. Enrollment was generated by the DeKalb County Student Services Department. Students were referred to Destiny Academy by the department as an alternative to expulsion. As a result of its success with these students, in 2010, Destiny Academy was invited to form a start-up charter high school. The Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence (DAAE) Charter High School’s Start-Up Petition was approved without any revisions for operations as a charter high school for a term of five years. DAAE is seeking the renewal of its charter for another five year term. DAAE serves students in grades 9 through 12. Our enrollment has grown steadily beginning with on 30 students to its current 120 students. The potential and original enrollment of 300 students is planned. The school’s innovations have included an older student initiative, Saturday tutorials, credit recovery, extended day classes and dual enrollment options with other local district schools and local colleges to create a school without walls. An advisory period was added to the daily schedule to foster the development of life skills and promote college and career readiness.

Academic Performance and Student Growth

i. Academic Performance, Student Growth, & CCRPI/Georgia Milestones

DAAE has demonstrated increased academic success as a high school charter in its graduation rate and subject area test performance. DAAE has maintained or increased its performance scores on the CCRPI’s Content Mastery Achievement and Post-High School Readiness performance indicators for the 2012 and 2013 school years. The graduation rates for the four-year cohorts of DAAE have shown improvement for three consecutive years with a significant increase of 21.5 percent in 2014. Destiny continues to strive to have its five-year cohorts persist in achieving a high school diploma. The five-year cohort rates were mainly stagnant due to former the Georgia High School Graduation Test (GHSGT) requirements.

Although the total score of 38.2 for the 2014 College and Career Ready Performance Index indicated the desired target in student achievement and progress points was not met, DAAE achieved a School Climate Five-STAR rating, highest possible score. The group sizes for two of the mathematics End-of-Course Tests were too small to report. The lack of points earned in these areas caused us to achieve a lower overall score.

The three years of data for 9th grade Literature and Coordinate Algebra (see charts on the following page) demonstrate growth over a three-year period. For 9th Grade Literature it can be seen that the test scores went down slightly over the three-year period. When it came to Coordinate Algebra the students show a trend of increasing scores from 2012 to 2013. It can be noted that there is no score for 2014, as the number of students was too small to report.
As we continue to focus on the student data, we have come to realize that while we are doing a good job at getting our students graduated, our students’ performance on tests is not very good. We have not been intentional enough about finding out what our students’ deficiencies are and what specific strategies will help them master the standards and ultimately assist them in the learning process. The renewal petition addresses these issues. Our pre-assessment processes will identify students’ strengths and weaknesses. Direct instruction and blended learning, and hybrid models for grouping students will address the learning deficits that our students have. The reverse will also be addressed for those talented and gifted students. More time can be spent with them developing challenging course content and project-based learning situations, in addition to dual-enrollment in college courses. An Individual Learning Plan (LIP) designed from data and student/parent/guardian information will be created for each student at DAAE beginning in 2016-2017. The technology will be used for monitoring and communicating about student progress and student efficacy. Additionally, while students are working in the personalized environment, teachers can pull them out in small groups and give them the amount of time necessary to counsel and instruct in the areas most needed.

ii. Governance:
Governance training for the board was not always met as scheduled. However, the Board has committed that all Board members will be required to obtain at least six hours of training annually. They are scheduled for their first training on August 14 and 15 and all six have committed to that training. The governance of the charter school has been highly effective during its first start-up charter cycle. The Board maintains an active membership and holds board meetings open to the school’s stakeholders. The control over the school’s operations is prudent and managed independently of the local district by the school administration. The approved waivers related to operations are followed as specified. Board Members focus on governance and refrain from management decision-making and do not interfere with school operations. To date the board has reviewed and revised its Mission statement and its By-Laws. It has scheduled training for the month of August 2015, and is planning to develop a Board Calendar for training for the 2015-2016 school year. In addition the board has decided that the school should have a full-time Principal and has decided not to fill the CEO position.

iii. Fiscal Knowledge & Responsibility:
Policies and procedures have been developed and approved by the Governance Board for financial decisions. The Board recently hired a part-time Chief Financial Officer and an Auditor to audit their books and bring all financial information up-to-date. Additionally, the Governance Board has formed a Fund Raising Committee and has asked that every Board member commit, as to their ability and means, to making an annual financial donation to the school. All of the Governance Board members have made that commitment. For each of the three years of the charter term, the School has managed to show a respectable fund balance. Student enrollment is very important to the success of the school and while the initial enrollment of students was helped by the referral process from DeKalb County Department of Student Services referral. It has become incumbent upon DAAE to form solid partnerships with others, especially the Department of Juvenile Justice and to seek referrals for students to the School.

Academic: While there were years that the school did not reach its academic goals, it was clear that there was growth in student performance. However, the achievement made by students was not enough to achieve the goals identified in the petition. As data continues to be reviewed, staff has come to realize that knowing exactly where students are when they enter the school would be helpful in the teaching and learning process. Therefore the renewal petition includes an enrollment process that has a Universal Screener and academic assessment process that will clearly allow teaching staff to identify students’ academic strengths and weaknesses. Additionally, the enrollment process will see information that will support the five pillars on which the school was originally built: (1) academics, (2) health/wellness, (3) student advisement/mentorship, (4) student engagement, and (5) parent involvement.

Parent Involvement: While some of the parent involvement goals were met, many were not. Staff discussed how parents/guardians interfaced with the school, the staff and ultimately the students, and it became clear that they were using a traditional metric for a non-traditional situation. Parents were expected to come up to the school to check on their students, even when there was technology that allowed the parent to view the grades and teacher comments via computer. Many of the students they were working with had poor relationships with their parents, had no relationships with parents, or were living with other family and/or extended family members. The people, who actually supported them, may not have any blood relationship to them at all. Therefore, there is a need for relationship building, one that sustains healthy relationships in an extended-family format in order to support our students. DAAE is fortunate to have a certified Botvin Life Skills trainer on staff currently working at the school. She will work with students and parent/guardian/family member to “knit” and build the relationships of these groups to support the DAAE student. The Botvin Life Skills programs are abilities for adaptive and positive behavior that enable us to deal effectively with the demands and challenges of everyday life. In other words it is a set of human skills that help all of us adjust to everyday experiences and problems that are encountered in everyday life, that require us to respond in a way that depends on the social norms of the community expectations in which we live on a daily basis.

There was no Breach of Contract Notice during the most recent charter term. No termination proceedings were initiated during the most recent charter term.

Destiny has been able to save many lives. But there are still many more to save. With new innovative strategies and new best practices and student input in the best ways to serve them, this new Petition will get the job done for students.
I. THE CASE

1. Why do you want a charter?

Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence (DAAE) is a DeKalb County School District (DSDC) charter school that is currently operating in the fifth year of its initial charter petition agreement with the Georgia State Board of Education. DAAE’s Governance Board and Leadership Team continue to carry the mantle of the Founding Board to work with high school aged boys and girls who were either caught up in the juvenile justice system and/or found themselves behind in high school credits because of their “at-risk” circumstances. The work is, without a doubt, challenging but the consequences of not completing high school is even more dismal. The findings from the National Governors Association report, “Achieving Graduation for All,” show that at-risk situations—academic failure, lack of engagement that leads to poor attendance, problematic behavior, and life events—typically combine to convince young people that school is not for them.

However, over the last four years DAAE has demonstrated success with graduating students who are in at-risk situations. The first two years started out slow, but as students enrolled at DAAE to recover high school credits, they were able to do so and graduate within the current school year. Graduation rates for the four-year cohort of DAAE has shown significant improvement for three consecutive years with a marked increase of 21.5 percent in 2104. DAAE continues to strive to have its five-year cohorts persist in achieving a high school diploma. However the five-year cohort rates were mainly stagnant due to the now discontinued Georgia High School Graduation Test (GHSGT) requirements.

This School’s graduation data demonstrates the Founding Board’s desire to work with these young people because they have value and are deserving of “another chance to complete their education.” DAAE was developed and implemented out of this need as a way to develop the full potential and inherent talents of students who are in at-risk situations. The Governance Board’s experience with DAAE, over the past four years, has served as the best example of what the Charter School can do for young men and women who come from adversity and difficult situations. DAAE is uniquely structured to offer students a teaching and learning environment that has the supports and flexibility necessary for earning their high school diploma. DAAE accomplishes this through:

1. An Engaging and Customizable Curriculum aligned to the Common Core Georgia Performance Standards (CCGPS) for Mathematics and English Language Arts and Georgia Performance Standards (GPS) for all other content areas.
2. A Rich Selection of Career and Technical Education Courses
3. Hybrid Classroom for Individualizing Instruction
5. Multiple Levels of Student Support
6. Cross Functional Approach to Teacher Responsibilities and Accountabilities
7. Effective and Efficient Management of Daily Operations

“The Charter School is a public school, but is different in two distinctive ways from the traditional public school: autonomy and flexibility. Charter schools are governed, not by a local board of education, but by an autonomous non-profit board of directors, and they receive flexibility from certain state and local rules and regulations from their local school districts (LEAs) in exchange for a higher level of accountability. Charter schools use this flexibility to implement innovative or unique programs, in order to provide educational options to parents and students that are not typically available in the traditional public schools.”

~Georgia Department of Education, Charter Schools Division www.doe.gov

The Governance Board is seeking a five-year renewal term for DAAE so that the School can continue to work with and help students who are at-risk, obtain a High School Diploma and leave the School with a solid plan for transiting into a career and/or college. Although the total score of 38.2 for the 2014 CCRPI indicated the desired target for student achievement and progress point was not met. DAAE achieved a School Climate Five-Star rating. The group sizes for two of the mathematics End of Course (EOCT) tests were too small to add to the calculations. The lack of points earned in these areas dragged down the School’s CCRPI score.

DAAE has maintained or increased its performance scores on the CCRPI’s Content Mastery Achievement and Post-High School Readiness performance indicators for the 2012 and 2013 school years following the School’s Five Pillars of Student Achievement, which has been revised over the last four years, based on the School’s progress towards achieving its goals.

DAAE also graduated its largest class of students this year, 2015 (see photo on following page). The Governance Board and the Leadership Team would like to continue graduating students, who find themselves in at-risk situations.
Section I: The Case

a. What is your motivation for applying to be a charter school?

Nationally, there are more than 70 million children under the age of 18 in the juvenile justice system and by the year 2020 the projections are for that the number to exceed 80 million across the nation. From 2009 to 2013, DeKalb County had the highest population of juveniles identified in the “at-risk” population with a total of 47,741 children; and Gwinnett County came in second with more than 37,000 children (U.S. Census Bureau). These are two of the largest counties in the state with juvenile at-risk populations the size of some large school districts. While many of these students will not find their way back to public high schools in DeKalb County, they may represent one of the reason the graduation rate in DeKalb County is low.

Additionally, Research from the Center for Labor Market Studies shows that 1.3 million people drop out of school every year, and only 69% of those who enter 9th grade finish high school in four years. In 2008, 54% of this group, on average, was out of work compared with 13% of college graduates; 40% of dropouts were jobless for the entire year; dropouts earned $8,358 or one third of what the total population under 25 earned in 2007. The data clearly demonstrates that continuing the work of DAAE is a community imperative.

Given these statistics and DAAE’s initial success, the School is highly motivated to obtain approval of its Charter Renewal Petition Application so it can continue to:

- Provide another opportunity for students to learn and achieve in a non-traditional public school educational setting;

- Provide another opportunity for students to graduate from high school, and recognize their talent potential to become contributing members in the community.

- Promote diversity—which means more than coming from a low income background and/or being minority—by enrolling students from across multiple neighborhoods within DeKalb County and implementing an education program that meets the needs of learners from a wide variety of backgrounds:
  - Encourage mix of strong teachers, involved parents, and engaged students
  - Civic skills development that encourages tolerance and reduces stereotypes
  - Cognitive skills for developing the 4Cs (Trilling and Fadel, 2009) needed for life in the 21st Century—communication, critical thinking and problem solving, collaboration, and creativity and innovation.

- Enroll a larger proportion of students who have characteristics that would suggest being at-risk—for example: minority students, low income, older, single parent, works more than 15 hours a week, had not participated in college/career preparatory program, etc.

- More families deserve the chance to send their children to a high quality charter school in spite of their actual and perceived at-risk circumstances.

DAAE’s Governance Board, Leadership Team, teachers and staff are also highly motivated by the School’s mission to increase the number of students who graduate from high school recognizing their full potential so they can, ultimately, become contributing members of the community. This contributes to increasing DCSD’s graduation rate. Further, DAAE is motivated by the learning from the last four years of operating the School and their sincere desire is to continue implementation, improvement, and refinement of the best practices discovered of what will work for the students that choose to attend DAAE. By having the opportunity to continue, DAAE knows that it can and has changed the lives of students who are at-risk.

Interestingly, over the last four years many of the innovations that were implemented at DAAE are no longer innovative as when the school first opened its doors to serve students who are at-risk. It was difficult to achieve high graduation rates and high End of Course Test scores simultaneously. However, one of DAAE’s strongest attribute is having a climate of care and support for its students as evidenced by the School CCRPI rating of 5 in this particular area (https://qualityrated.decal.ga.gov). A score of 5 is the highest score that a school can achieve, which indicates the following about DAAE:

School climate refers to the quality and character of school life – the “culture” of a school. A sustainable, positive school climate fosters youth development and student learning, which are essential elements for academic success, career-skill improvement and overall quality of life. The School Climate Star Rating helps determine whether a school is on the right path to school improvement.

State School Superintendent Richard Woods said, “Research has shown us that school climate has a strong impact on student achievement. The data used to develop the 2014 Star Ratings proves this once again. If your school has a positive climate, it’s giving students the environment they need to learn. You’ll likely see high achievement there or a school that’s on the right track towards high achievement.” Clearly, DAAE is on the right track!

Each school in Georgia received a one (1) to five (5) Star ratings, with five (5) Stars representing an excellent school climate, and one star representing a school climate most in need of improvement. School Climate Star Ratings are an informational tool for schools, administrators, and parents; they do not affect the school’s College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI) score.

b. What will you be able to do with a charter that you cannot do without a charter?

DAAE will have the flexibility to: (1) provide the STRUCTURE, (2) develop the CULTURE, and (3) offer the PROGRAMS where students at-risk can thrive in a non-traditional high school setting. This framework is undergirded by developing with each student their own Individual Learning Plan that focuses on:

1. Defining each student’s graduation goal, clear pathway for graduation, and a specific timeframe for achievement;

2. Utilizing a Learning Management System (LMS) to track student progress, mandated counseling/advising, work in cohorts/small groups, teacher engagement, parent engagement, etc.; and

3. Providing extensive focus on job placement and college placement aligned with appropriate life skills development using the Botvin curriculum.

DAAE’s success (retaining and graduating students at-risk) is a direct function of the School’s organizational practices and structure. Through utilization of the full flexibility waiver, DAAE is able to modify the instructional day for students; the instructional materials used; daily attendance requirements; class sizes and the seat time, to name a few. The modified school day and daily schedule at DAAE encourages students to attend full-time by offering sequential scheduling of courses in flexible block scheduling by course. Students are able to attend DAAE from 8:30 am to 1:30 pm or from 12:30 pm to 6:00 pm three to four days each week. This schedule allows students to have a standard work schedule if they need to be employed while in school, and assumes a predictable daily routine which has been identified as a way to keep students engaged in the education process.

Additionally, the School’s culture and goals stress STUDENT RETENTION, COMPLETION, and GRADUATION—which is in direct alignment to the School’s mission and vision—and are key to achieving student success. PLUS academic and student support services are provided that promote the completion of high school courses, college placement and job placement. Clearly a combination of approaches are being utilized by DAAE students in order for students to thrive, graduate and attend college and/or begin work.

The smaller school setting of DAAE with fewer students on campus, compared to students’ home high schools, provides more opportunities for interaction between teachers and staff and students, which research suggests also increases retention. Another factor that is expected to improve graduation rates is the fact that the school provides students with a clear connection between their studies and a job and/or college degree attainment. DAAE will be constantly reviewing employer demand to inform career and technical program offerings and student advisement.

In summary, DAAE is able to enroll higher numbers of students at-risk than traditional public high schools. At the same time, the School is structured to have shorter course lengths, full time enrollment, and a strong job/career and college orientation that will help at-risk students—who might not succeed in a more traditional high school setting—succeed.

c. Describe how parents, community members, and other interested parties were involved in developing the petition and will be involved with the school.

The Governance Board met with the Chief Executive Officer at the end of last school year and made their recommendations on what should be done for the next school year. The recommendations included surveying parents of students to get their input on how they felt about the school and how their students were performing at the school. The Governance Board also stated that they saw a need for the school to continue and that the Leadership Team should move forward with seeking the renewal of the School’s Charter Petition.

See Appendix 1.1—Parent Survey Instrument and Results

The Governance Board and Leadership Team also completed an informal analysis of high schools’ student achievement data within DCSD. Additionally, the Governance Board reviewed the County’s comprehensive redevelopment plan, inclusive of its current and projected demographics, completed several windshield surveys of the area, and talked to parents and community leaders to understand their perspectives on public school education and needs within their communities.

Some of the findings from the review of the comprehensive redevelopment plan were: DeKalb County’s population is 691,893 (US Census, 2010), contains about 10% of the City of Atlanta and is part of the five-county core of the Atlanta metropolitan statistical area. DeKalb is the third most populous county in the metro area, as well as the most diverse county in the entire state of Georgia. While, DeKalb is the second most affluent county with an African American majority (behind Prince George County, Maryland), the communities with a majority African American population tend to fall below the county’s median income, while the communities with the majority white population have incomes above the median. DAAE serves predominantly African American communities with median incomes that fall well below the county’s median income.

The median income for a household in the county was $49,117, and the median income for a family was $54,018. Males had a median income of $36,270 versus $31,653 for females. The per capita income for the county was $23,968. About 7.80% of families and 10.80% of the population were below the poverty line, including 14.10% of those under age 18 and 8.70% of those ages 65 or over (US Census, 2010). Clearly, a significant portion of the county’s minority population is earning wages below the median and just over 14% of residents below the age of 18 are living below the poverty line. DAAE can provide a high quality education for students with unique needs and especially those who come from adverse and at-risk situations in the county regardless of their race or income levels.

Since early 2012, the Chief Executive Officer for DAAE and the Governing Board had been in meetings with community members to get stakeholder perspectives on the public education needs within the community to inform the continued needs of the students who were attending the high school. It should be noted that DAAE’s CEO passed away recently, and his main responsibilities have been passed on to the Principal and the Leadership Team.

Parents shared their vision for college and career readiness with an emphasis on helping students to develop life skills for work and for personal development. Parents also suggested that, as the school grows, it should consider additional career pathways for the students to learn as much about career possibilities as they could. Parents seemed to realize that technology was becoming a way of life for all of us and that computers were everywhere, certainly there had to be jobs in the technology field. Parents were also excited to learn that college and career readiness was a real possibility for their students as they completed their diploma and/or high school programs.

The conversations opened the doors for discovering what “could be” for the community and for learning what the possibilities could be for the students. Community stakeholders, parents, school staff, community leaders and even students were equally excited to learn more about the Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI) and how this could impact the course offerings at the school. Parents were equally excited to learn that there would be many opportunities for them to participate in the activities and programs at DAAE and suggested that the School have a volunteer coordinator to match parents to school needs. Additionally, parents/guardians and community stakeholders were asked about the following:

(i) Curriculum design – to provide input for developing a rigorous and high-quality curriculum. The School solicited parents/guardians and community stakeholders buy-in for the academic design as well as their commitment to support their child at home and while at school;

(ii) Governing Board development – to learn more about the board’s oversight responsibility for the school and how it ensures that the mission of the school is being carried out to increase student academic achievement. Parents/guardians and community stakeholders also have the opportunity to serve on the governing board or on one of its committees or task forces;

(iii) School Advisory Council development – to understand how such a council might work at the school and be inclusive of parents, teachers, staff, and administrators;

(iv) Marketing and Enrollment – to participate in the community outreach efforts and share their experiences and involvement with potential students and their families; and

(v) Facilities – to better understand all the steps involved in reviewing the school’s facilities options by being part of the Governance Board’s Facilities Taskforce.
Continuing Involvement of Parents and the Community. Parents and community stakeholders shall continue to actively participate on the governance board and its various committees and task forces. In order to increase family involvement at the school, the Governance Board is taking a more intentional approach to family and community engagement by adopting the National Network of Partnership Schools (NNPS) Model developed at John Hopkins University. This model helps to organize and sustain excellent research-based and goal-oriented programs of school, family and community. The family and community engagement plan will be implemented by the School’s Community Liaison. The four essential elements of the NNPS model are:

1) Action Team for Partnerships – to organize and sustain the program with the aim to create a welcoming school environment and engage families and the community in ways that support student achievement and success;

2) Framework of Six Types of Involvement – parenting, communicating, volunteering, learning at home, decision making, and collaborating with the community.

3) One-Year Action Plan for Partnerships – organized by type of involvement and focuses on the activities for each of the Six Types of Involvement.

4) Program Evaluation – includes evaluations to assist the School with documenting progress, program strengths and weaknesses, and improvements for the following year’s plan.

Additionally, DAAE will continue to build its Parent Teacher-Student Organization (PTSO) where all parents/guardians, students and teachers shall be encouraged to participate in and advocate for the school. Working with the Principal, the PTSO will continue to provide before and after-school program ideas, resources, support and volunteer leadership. Through the PTSO, DAAE shall establish consistent communication channels among parents, teachers, students, and administration using a variety of traditional and electronic formats.

See Appendix 1.2—PTSO Officers

i. Describe in detail the community support for this school and the need for this particular school in the community it will serve. Support may be evidenced through additional documentation.

See Section VII: Student Admissions for a map of the school attendance area and Appendix 1.3—Parent Support and Parent Contract. From 2009 to 2013, DeKalb County had the highest population of juveniles identified in the “at-risk” population with a total of 47,741 children. This statistic is the cornerstone of the need for DAAE in the County. Without exception, working with students who are at-risk is challenging. As a result, DAAE has worked to improve the delivery of its instructional program model, which now involves having students participate in a structured program of coursework (See Appendix 5: Curriculum) where each student must set an unambiguous graduation and college/career goal. This is foundational to the retention and graduation of students at DAAE.

This particular School in the community is necessary for reaching students at-risk and helping them to succeed and be contributing members of the greater community. Research shows that the components of the model illustrated above when used with students who are at-risk enables them to succeed because the courses include immediate hands-on work from the start while advisors work with students to secure mentorship/internships opportunities during their time at DAAE. Additionally, the high school courses and programs of study are organized into routine blocks of time for scheduled coursework and tutoring with mandatory attendance expectations. This model is needed to serve this community of students at-risk because:

a) The class sizes are relatively small and are composed of multi-age students who are able to start a high school course of program of study every nine (9) weeks.

b) Attending school in define blocks everyday throughout the program allows students to integrate their routine work, childcare, and other obligations around these hours, and for other students it makes arranging for transportation easier. DAAE will allow students to shift blocks if life changes intervene, such as a job.
c) DAAE updated to a balanced schedule calendar (See Appendix 7.4 – Annual School Calendar).

d) The curriculum in all cases is structured around objectives and learning outcomes with clearly defined expectations for students (See Appendix 5—Curriculum). In addition to independent study out of class, students work every school day in labs receiving teacher support, tutoring, and doing hands-on work.

e) DAAE students often lack career and college readiness and preparedness. They need structure and discipline, which includes a dress code and uniform policy. Students are provided with all needed books, manuals, and tools to ensure that they can be successful from the start of class.

d) All DAAE teachers have at least three years of teaching experiences with clearly defined responsibilities, regular evaluations (self, student and peer), and supervisor observations, which are used in decisions about continued employment, salary and promotion.

e) Along with a passion for the work and helping students, DAAE emphasizes stable staffing as important for student success because accomplishing the mission and vision of the School is a team effort and a stable staff is the backbone of the School.

In summary, DAAE is able to enroll higher numbers of students at-risk than traditional public high schools. At the same time, the School is structured to have shorter course lengths, full time enrollment, and a strong job/career and college orientation that will help students at-risk—who might not succeed in a more traditional high school setting—succeed.

ii. As part of your evidence of community engagement, you must provide a letter or a petition signed by parents/guardians of school-age children eligible to attend the charter that demonstrates that they would consider enrolling their child in the proposed school. These items may be placed in the Appendix.

See Appendix 1.3—Parent Support and Parent Contract

iii. Describe the steps you have taken to develop any partnerships and your plans to further develop additional community partnerships.

Working to engage partners and develop partnerships is an ongoing process for DAAE. The School expects to have a number of partnerships and business arrangements to provide educational services for students and operational services to the School and the Governance Board. The Governance Board and the Principal will jointly decide and shall be responsible for the programs and partnerships of the school. Since these programs and partnerships may include compensation, the following steps must be completed before a program or partnership arrangement is signed: (i) the board and Principal are in agreement that there is a need for the program or partnership; (ii) staff and parents support the program or partnership; and (iii) the organization providing the service to the school has a satisfactory performance record.

The Governance Board and the Leadership Team has been working on several potential partnerships to support the academic and instructional program at the School. The currently uses a Partnership Opportunity Form to track partners. These potential partnerships include, but is not limited to:

1. DeKalb School of Technology South is an accredited career and technology focused high school that serves thirteen DCSD feeder school. DAAE students are able to select a program of interest from their course offerings. Students spend half the school day at the DeKalb School of Technology receiving hands-on instruction in that area of study. Through this partnership, DAAE is providing options for students to explore and learn more about technology careers.

2. Georgia Perimeter College (Panthersville Campus) is being considered to develop an early college prep program focusing on exploration in nanotechnology, micro-electronics and other support technologies, which are especially important in the medical fields and provide opportunities to learn about emerging careers in technology.

3. Metro Atlanta Chamber Technology Leadership Council. Metro Atlanta is among the fastest growing high-tech metro areas in the nation – with 13,000 technology companies employing nearing 200,000 technology workers. The Chamber’s Technology Leadership Council is a coalition of the region’s bioscience and high-tech community dedicated to advancing the industry and promoting continued economic growth to create quality jobs. Through this partnership, the School hopes to provide mentorship and internship opportunities for students throughout their term at the school.

4. The Advanced Technology Development Center (ATDC). ATDC is a business incubator that helps Georgia technology entrepreneurs launch and build successful companies. The incubator program has graduated over 120 companies that now generate millions of dollars in tax revenues for state and local governments. Through this partnership, the school will showcase the ways in which S.T.E.M. applications can be converted into viable businesses to drive innovation and advancements in science and technology.

5. The United States Military Recruitment Offices – one will be selected that is near the School. DAAE supports students preparing for and in taking the ASVAB test. This gives students the option for entering military service. The ASVAB test is a multiple aptitude battery of tests that measures developed abilities and helps predict future academic and occupational success in the military. It is administered annually and is offered to high school and post-secondary students as part of the ASVAB Career Exploration Program. The program provides tools to help students learn more about career exploration and planning, in both the civilian and military worlds of work.

The ASVAB test is required of every branch of the US Military Services and it serves two primary purposes for the Air Forces (1) it determines whether the person who might enlist has the mental aptitude to be in the Air Force; and (2) it helps determine the career(s) that are most appropriate for the person who might enlist (http://official-ASVAB.com). For example: The mission of the United States Air Force is to fly, fight and win ... in air, space and cyberspace. To achieve that mission, the Air Force has a vision of Global Vigilance, Reach and Power. That vision orbits around three core competencies: developing Airmen, technology to war fighting, and integrating operations.

iv. Provide a list of organizations that have committed to partner with your school and the potential nature of the partnerships. Provide evidence of support from the partners in the Appendix.

The following organizations have been partners with us for the past four years and will continue with us as we renew our Charter Petition:

- County Line/Ellenwood Community Association – provides lists of local events and forums, share knowledge of local history, raises awareness of local political actions and issues that might affect the school, and community engagement opportunities

- AT&T – provided installation support for the technology lab and funding for school uniforms

- DeKalb County Public Library, Ellenwood Branch – provided media resources for the school’s community outreach efforts and instruction for information literacy

- DeKalb High School of Technology South – provides courses for students to meet their CTAE requirements

- Morehouse School of Medicine – provides opportunities for students and parents to participate in health and wellness programs

- PATH (Pointing African-Americans Towards Health) Project – provides classroom instruction on health and wellness topics

- Publix Grocery Store – provides refreshments for school meetings and functions

See Appendix 1.4—Partnership Notice of Opportunity

d. What is the Charter School’s Mission? How does it support the legislative intent of the school’s program to “increase student achievement through academic and organizational innovation?”

Recently, the Mission statement of DAAE was reviewed taking into consideration the student populations that the School serves. The Governance Board, Leadership Team, teachers and staff decided it was time to modify the mission so as to more aptly express its mission. The following is the new Mission Statement:

The mission of DAAE is to provide uniquely challenged students with the highest level of academic opportunity by promoting high social and community standards while employing high expectations in a highly structured and supportive environment; thereby ensuring that all students will be given ample opportunities, experiences and the academic preparation needed for graduation and post-secondary opportunities, including college and entry into the workforce.

The legislative intent of the Charter School legislation is to increase student achievement by expanding public school options through the development of high quality charter schools. DAAE has developed an educational program in a particular educational format that addresses the need for a specific group of high school-aged students. The traditional public school format has proven not to work for the unique needs of these students.
e. Please provide specific examples of and documentation regarding programs that would be offered by your school that are not offered in any existing schools in DCSD. Please see Board Policy IBB.

Review of Programs of Study at DCSD High Schools: Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence Charter School’s review of other high school programs in the DeKalb County School District shows that both its Leadership Studies Program and STEM Studies Program remains unique and innovative among high schools within the District.

There are currently no schools in the DCSD this is working exclusively with students who are at-risk to ensure that they do not fall between the cracks but rather have a chance to succeed with meaningful supports and utilizing an instructional model based on their needs. In summary, DAAE is able to enroll higher numbers of students at-risk than traditional public high schools. At the same time, the School is structured to have shorter course lengths, full time enrollment, and a strong job/career and college orientation that will help students at-risk—who might not succeed in a more traditional high school setting—succeed.
II. ACADEMIC OBJECTIVES, PLANS, AND WAIVERS

2. What are your school’s performance objectives for the proposed charter term?

DAAE’s major performance objectives provides each student with a quality educational experience that will yield a high school diploma and the skills necessary to put them on the road to becoming responsible and contributing members in the community. The School’s performance objectives for the charter term 2016-2021 are based on CCRPI and Beating the Odds goals. DAAE proposes to increase its CCRPI composite score to 60 from its current score of 38.2, by 2021 (the end of its second five-year charter term).

Student Body Composition and Enrollment. DAAE serves a unique student population of 14 to 21 year-olds. They are non-traditional students who are at-risk. The student population is divided into three groups and students are enrolled into these groups versus by grade level.

- Group 1: Individual Course Program - Students who wish to recover high school credits and graduate from DAEE within the same full academic year they enrolled in the School;

- Group 2: Credit Recovery Program - Students who wish to recover high school credits at DAAE and reenter their home high schools at the appropriate grade for their cohort/age group; and

- Group 3: High School Diploma Program – DAAE’s 9-12 High School Diploma Program enrolls students who enter the school and will spend the remainder of their high school experience (grades 9 through 12) at the School and graduate with a high school diploma.

The academic goals are the same for all students even as they may find themselves in unique at-risk situations today. However, DAAE has the capability to serve non-traditional students who are at-risk in an environment that will enhance their success because the Governance Board and Leadership Team believe in the value and worth of these student. Over the five-year period of the renewal charter petition, a total of 300 students will be enrolled in the School as follows:

a. As background for your answer to this question, please see the CCRPI and Beating the Odds goals (Attachments A and B) and review the PowerPoint found on the GADOE Charter Schools Division’s website. These goals will be included in your charter contract.

DAAE has reviewed the CCRPI and Beating the Odds goals and reviewed the PowerPoint found on the GaDOE Charter Schools Division’s website. These goals will be included in DAAE Charter Contract for the renewal term, see Appendix 2.1—CCRPI High School Indicators. DAAE’s performance objectives for the proposed charter term are based on the CCRPI and Beating the Odds goals. DAAE’s major performance objective is to increase the School’s CCRPI composite score to 60 from its current score of 38.2 achieved in 2014.

From the table shown above, DAAE achieved 5.4 points less than the state’s average for high schools based on the 2014 CCRPI Achievement Point Data and 24.6 points less than DCSD on the 2014 CCRPI Achievement Point Data for its high schools. To make up almost 25 points over a five year period would be a challenging goal for students and staff, but one nonetheless worthy of the effort and necessary as identified performance targets for each of the content areas are completed. DAAE will strive to meet these performance targets and ensure a participation rate of, at least, 95% or greater.

More specifically, the School’s performance objectives proposed will be specific for each group of students enrolled at the school. Group 1—Students who wish to recover high schools credits and graduate from DAAE within the same full academic year that they enter the school. Twenty-five percent (25%) of the proposed annual enrollment at DAAE shall be in Group 1.

Group 1 students will be entering DAAE from an external educational environment and from another cohort group. The School’s goal for these students will be to help them recover needed courses for graduation status and to take the End of Course Tests (EOCTs) in the course areas required for that full year that he/she will be in attendance at the School. Students will be held to the Performance Targets identified in Content Area chart (see Appendix 2.2—Content Area Achievement Chart).

DAAE students in Group 1 will attend the School for one full academic year with the objective of graduating at the end of that school year. DAAE’s goal is to graduate the largest percentage of students possible. However, given the School’s past performance and taking into consideration the new applications of innovations that the School will be utilizing, the target setting for the renewal charter term is cautious but realistic. DAAE believes the projections listed in the chart below are realistic based on revised teacher training and continuous progress monitoring of student performance that will be instituted.

Group 2—Students who wish to recover high school credits at DAAE and re-enter their home high schools at the appropriate grade level for their cohort/age group. Fifteen percent (15%) of the proposed annual enrollment at DAAE shall be in Group 2. These students can only re-enter their home schools at the beginning of a semester. DAAE’s goal for these students will be to help him/her recover needed courses in order to re-enter their home school at their appropriate grade level. Students will be held to the Performance Targets identified in the Content Area Achievement Chart (see Appendix 2.2—Content Area Achievement Chart).

Group 3—DAAE’s 9-12 High School Diploma Program is for students who enroll at the School and spend the remainder of their high school experience at DAAE and graduate with a High School Diploma. Sixty percent (60%) of the proposed enrollment at DAAE is expected to be in Group 3. Performance targets for Group 3 students are stated under Question 2 above and DAAE will strive to meet these performance targets and ensure a participation rate of 95% or greater.

Additionally, the Content Area Achievement Chart (see Appendix 2.2) includes DAAE’s current level of performance through the 2014 school year with projected goals for the last year (2015-2016) of the current Charter Petition term followed by performance targets (goals) for the Charter Renewal term (2016-2021). Each number represents the percentage of students scoring at meets or exceeds on the content area tests. In addition to using the overall state performance targets, DAAE also considered its two primary sub-groups: (1) black students; and (2) economically disadvantaged students in establishing the School’s targets or goals.

b. In your answer to this question, you will list the specific areas you will target to achieve your CCRPI and Beating the Odds goals.

c. For example, you may choose to target Math or ELA to raise your overall CCRPI score – because your current Math or ELA scores are dragging your CCRPI score down.

The following narrative is in response to Question 2.b & c. The prioritized order for improving overall student achievement at DAAE in content areas is illustrated in the chart below:

</tbody>

DAAE strives to maintain and continues to increase student’s performance in Physical Science, American Literature, and Ninth Grade Literature at a proficiency rate of 60 percent or greater annually.

As a Title I school, with increased academic performance, DAAE will seek to attain Reward School Status.

To achieve Reward School status, the students of a high school receiving Title I funds must show improvement in their graduation rate and academic performance. DAAE has made significant progress in increasing its graduation rate.

d. As a way to be competitive on Beating the Odds, you may also choose to focus on closing the gap in your school between educationally advantaged and educationally disadvantaged students – or you may choose to ensure gifted students are well-served, since average-performing gifted students will lower your Beating the Odds ranking compared to schools and districts with high- performing gifted students.

DAAE will incorporate the Beating the Odds factors of race and school size, the CCRPI Exceed the Bar Indicators, participation in the Capstone Project, credits earned from modern language studies, increased use of the Student Longitudinal Data System (SLDS), and other innovative practices to support and improve student achievement.

DAAE’s Individual Learning Plan (ILP) enables students to adjust easily to the School’s overall instructional delivery model, the Hybrid Teaching and Learning model found in every classroom, and using online tools and resources, including Odysseyware. Additionally, learning plans for high achieving (gifted) students will have:

- Increased rigor on the unit testing in online courses
- Opportunities to complete gifted online courses (e.g., AP classes)
- Opportunities to enroll in college courses (dual enrollment)
DAAE’s curricula resources along with the SLDS will enable the School to pinpoint where student growth (Group 3 students only) is occurring and where the gaps in learning are. The SLDS will also help the School recognize which teachers may be struggling with moving students in growth percentiles. Armed with this information, the School is able to not only help students, but also its teachers and staff.

DAAE’s first STAR rating for school climate in the 2015 CCRPI was a five (5). The School seeks to maintain this 5-STAR climate rating during the charter renewal period. After statewide implementation, the TKES and LKES average score rating and the percent of tested students scoring at a proficient level on a Soft Skills Assessment will be addressed and incorporated as CCRPI Exceeding the Bar Indicators for DAAE.

e. Indicate the expected rate of student performance growth in each year of the proposed charter term.

DAAE’s expected rates of student performance growth on the CCRPI for the charter renewal term are listed below.

The total possible points for the area of Achievement on the CCRPI is 60. The 2014 score for the DAAE was 25.2. The School’s “Progress Points” score was 12.8 in 2014, indicating an achievement of 48% of the total possible 25 points in this category. The total possible Achievement Gap Points for the lowest 25% of a sub-group making a leap was 15 points. DAAE has made significant progress in closing this gap and achieved 10 points in 2013. However, the School’s 2014 results lapsed to 0%, due to a lack of students in more than one sub-group.
You are encouraged to include all or some of the components of the current draft of the Georgia Department of Education’s College and Career Ready Performance Index (CCRPI).

Historically, cohort analysis and measurements have been challenging for DAAE due to the unique make-up of the School's student population. Those students (Group 3) who remain at DAAE for a full academic year or more are the only students for which we can obtain cohort data. Over the last four-year period, the School had less than 15 students per grade level. This challenge is being addressed by assessing the progress of these students have made against other cohort groups and by the increase and implementation of the programmatic innovations in the Renewal Charter Petition Application.

g. You are urged to include cohort measures that show the progress over time of a single cohort of students.

DAAE expects that by intentionally placing students in Groups 1, 2 and 3 along with implementing the innovations described in this Charter Renewal Petition Application, the School will be able to increase the enrollment of students who choose DAAE as their four-year high school of choice. As a result, the School have cohort data that can begin to show students’ progress over time. DAAE believes this student achievement and performance data will reinforce the work that the School is doing for teachers and staff, students, parents, and the community at-large.

The graduation rate for DAAE has steadily increased since inception. The highest percentage increase among DCSD high schools was achieved by the DAAE, a 21.5 percent increase in the School's graduation rate and this boosted the School’s overall graduation rate to 53 percent. DAAE’s goal is to achieve and maintain a 100 percent graduation rate during the entire charter renewal term. One hundred percent (100%) of DAAE students are expected to meet the requirements for passing the Georgia High School Writing Test (GHSWT) annually. This goal was achieved in 2015, with 100 percent of our 2015 graduating cohort of student passing the fall 2014 GHSWT test compared to the district’s 96 percent pass rate. On the February 2015 GHSWT test, 88 percent of DAAE students were proficient and the School’s GHSWT proficiency rate for 2015 is 92.5 percent.

h. You are also urged to include national norm-referenced test results among your performance measures.

Nationally norm-referenced tests are generally not given to all high school students simultaneously. However, DAAE actively encourages students to take the ACT and/or the SAT tests. Student achievement in this area will be traced through the CCRPI’s Post High School Readiness Indicators showing the percent of graduates entering college not requiring remediation or learning support courses or those scoring program ready on the Compass or scoring at least 22 out of 36 on the composite ACT; or scoring at least 1550 out of 2400 on the combined SAT. Currently, too few students at DAAE take the ACT or the SAT. However, those that are capable and wish to do so will be encouraged and supported to take the tests. Additionally, the new petition includes the use of the STAR 360 program, which will provide us with a way to assess our students on the Nationally normed STAR Math, and STAR Reading tools, which can be used as formative testing measures.
i. Be specific, measurable, attainable, relevant, and time-based (SMART).

3. How will the charter school governing board, management, instructional leadership, faculty and staff know that students are on track to meet these academic goals?

DAAE’s data management system will be used to ensure that the Governance Board, Leadership Team, teachers and staff know that students are on track to meet the School’s academic goals. Odysseyware’s Learning Management System (LMS) is the lynchpin in the School’s data management system. It enables the management, delivery and tracking of student learning in real-time. During the enrollment process, each student is assigned an Advisor to compile and assess their academic strengths and weaknesses using STAR Assessments, gather any additional student data, and historical testing information. Student data is entered, stored and routinely updated in Odysseyware. After thoughtful analysis of each student’s data and consulting with students, Advisors then factor each student’s specific learning needs to create his or her Individual Learning Plan (ILP) and set benchmarks as an initial comparison for academic performance and expectations.

The School will use ongoing formative assessments built into Odysseyware and aligned to the Common Core Georgia Performance Standards (CCGPS) for Mathematics and English Language Arts and Georgia Performance Standards for all other content areas. Performance indicators will be created for all course chapters and their corresponding lessons, projects, quizzes and tests. Students along with teachers and advisors can view the indicators as students complete the chapters for each course. Teachers and advisors will track each student’s performance on every indicator. As each student completes their daily assignments, proficiency will be evaluated and individualized interventions generated. This information is shared with students, parents/guardians, and appropriate staff whenever any student’s grade falls below a demonstrated 70% correct threshold on any individual objective. Student will also receive additional individualized academic interventions if they fail to meet or exceed 70% mastery on end of unit exams.

Once interventions are created, accepted and completed by each student, Odysseyware will track the intervention. If students are identified as not mastering the course objectives, curriculum and instruction modification are made in real time. The Odysseyware system records data on how students interact with the system, time on task, and many other accountability records which teachers and advisors will use to make instructional decisions regarding each student. The data is also available to students and parents/guardians. As students complete each course, Odesseyware produces individual and aggregated data at regular checkpoints. This monitoring assists with improving the competencies built into the state’s performance standards. Monthly reports identify strengths and deficiencies in relationship to key state performance standards and benchmarks to raise overall achievement. Using the School’s Data Management System, the Governance Board, the Leadership Team, teachers and staff will know in real-time if students are on track to meet the academic goals described in the Charter Renewal Petition Application.

a. What assessments will the school administer to obtain performance data for each student?

DAAE administers classroom, district and statewide assessments as a means to verify student proficiency on CCGPS and GPS. The School uses a variety of assessment types and techniques to measure students’ progress towards meeting the academic achievements goals in their ILPs.

School-wide Assessments – DAAE will administer assessments from the STAR Assessments which includes reading, math, English, science, and literacy. This package also has a universal screener that will assist in identifying Lexile scores and ranges for students. Most importantly, these online assessments will provide information to teachers about student growth and achievement levels that can be used to progress monitor. The STAR assessments provide estimates of students' skills and comparisons of students' abilities to national norms. They are also able to provide comprehensive insight into our students’ performance on and predict their performance on the Georgia Milestones test, while assisting us in monitoring College and Career readiness through classroom assessments. The data gathered from the STAR assessments will assist teachers in determining the instructional level that students are performing on and it will provide teachers with suggested instructional strategies to assist in planning for instruction. The STAR assessments will be used to monitor student growth throughout the year and will be administered three times each year: fall, winter, and spring.

District and State-Based Assessments – All DCSD and state-mandated tests and assessments will be administered and academic performance data for each student will be used to inform student instruction and teacher professional development. The tests include: Georgia Milestone Assessment System (GMAS) End of Course Tests (EOCT), Student Learning Objectives (S-L-Os) for non-content area courses, Cognitive Abilities Test (CogAT), and the Georgia High School Writing Test (GHSWT). The results from these tests will be used each year to measure the percentage of students meeting grade level expectations for content areas contained in their ILP with an emphasis on the priority content areas of improvement: Coordinate Algebra and Analytic Geometry, Biology, U.S. History, and Economics.

Classroom-Based Assessments – These assessments are curriculum based and provide teachers and specialists with immediate feedback regarding the level of students’ understanding and their progress toward goals. Classroom-based assessments include a variety of measures (formal and informal) such as unit tests, chapter tests, quizzes, projects, portfolios, written work, rubrics and observation checklists.

b. Describe how the school will obtain baseline achievement data.

During the first two (2) weeks of school, the Leadership Team will oversee the administration of a series of benchmark assessments using Classworks Assessments and Universal Screener, plus teacher observations for all students with respect to core subjects as well as students’ social/emotional well-being, to establish current levels of achievement. Student achievement data will also be reviewed (if available) through the State’s Longitudinal Data System (SLDS) and from standardized test results administered at previous schools to document student achievement.

The STAR assessments will provide pre- and post-assessment data and will be generated as students enroll at DAAE. These assessments will also be used as benchmarking tools for student progress monitoring and to inform classroom teachers on how to approach differentiation and remediation in their instructional plan. The results from these assessments and data reports will serve as the School’s baseline student achievement data. Additionally, the STAR assessment utilization will serve as a Universal Screener to inform student ILP development. The pre-assessment anticipates and schedules appropriate support classes and interventions for remediation and/or enhancement in Odysseyware and in the assignment of their Classroom Support teachers and mentors.

Additionally, students’ baseline achievement data will be used to communicate expectations for learning to students, teachers and staff, and families; determine whether the student can perform the learning objective under naturally occurring situations and if so, to what extent; determine student grouping and placement for instruction; determine what content needs to be taught (inform overall instructional plan); inform the development of each students’ ILP goals and objectives; monitor and measure student progress; predict subsequent student performance; and serve as the basis for measuring the attainment of the academic goals and objectives stated in the charter petition. The Leadership Team will provide the results of the baseline assessments to the DCSD no later than November 15 of each school year.

c. Describe how the school will benchmark student growth.

To monitor student growth throughout the year as well as identify specific areas in which individual students might need intervention, the Leadership Team will oversee the administration of the STAR Assessments three times per year – fall, winter and spring. The data revealed in the Student Growth Percentile (SGP) after each assessment period will provide teachers with a snapshot of whether their students’ academic progress is more or less than what was expected during a specific period of time. In other words, teachers will be able to determine how students performed over time relative to their peers (for example, How has Janet improved?) versus just knowing the traditional point-in-time achievement data (for example, Janet passed the EOCT for U.S. History).

The individual SGP reports will be used in the collaborative teaching team meetings to discuss: (i) whether students grew more or less than academically when compared to similar students; (ii) whether students are growing as much in Algebra as in Economics; (iii) whether students showed as much growth this year as they did compared to last year; (iv) what levels of growth is necessary for students to reach or exceed proficiency; and (v) did students grow sufficiently towards meeting state standards and college and career ready goals. These discussions help teachers to better focus on instruction and support the use of student data for individualize instructional planning and progress monitoring for all students. Additionally, the STAR Reading Assessment will incorporate Lexile Measures to determine students’ reading ability.

As a result, teachers will have a clear understanding of which CCGPS and GPS standards students have mastered and will be able to plan appropriate intervention and acceleration as needed. Results from the STAR assessments administered in the spring will give teachers a picture of each student’s overall growth from the beginning of the school year to the end. DAAE will also administer pre- and post-assessments for DCSD-developed Student Learning Objectives (S-L-Os) for non-content area subjects.

d. Describe plans to formally and informally assess student performance in the core academic areas.

James Popham (2011)\(^1\) states the case for formative assessments that gathers evidence in a variety of ways moving from “traditional written tests to a wide range of informal assessment procedures.” Students at DAAE will be assessed in core content areas and said assessments will be diagnostic, formative, and summative. Assessments may be both formal and informal to gauge student performance in core content areas. However, the most powerful assessment a teacher can use is his or her own ongoing, informal assessments.

Diagnostic pre-tests (formative assessments) will be administered in the core content areas and will be used to (i) measure the levels of preparedness of students in the respective subject areas; and (2) provide guidance to teachers for selecting instructional strategies and customizing course lessons, projects, quizzes and tests in Odysseyware. Students will be expected to utilize previous knowledge to predict rational answers to the pre-test questions. Post-tests (summative assessments) will be administered at the end of units of study to assess student learning outcomes. With post-tests, students will be expected to answer more questions correctly based on an increase in knowledge and understanding. The pre/post-test assessment design will be a valuable diagnostic tool for more effective teaching and will measure the amount of learning a student has acquired in a specific subject.

Informal assessments occur at any time—almost daily in all learning situations—and identify the strengths and needs of individual students without regards to grade or age norms and can easily be done without interfering with instructional time. Teachers use a combination of structured and unstructured informal assessments to complement and balance the formal assessments. Sponge activities, choral responses, exit tickets, etc. will occur on a daily basis to track the ongoing progress of students and to give the teacher an opportunity to check for understanding and to adjust the lesson accordingly in order to provide support for student learning.

Unstructured informal assessments such as teacher observations, checklists, and portfolios, journaling, work sampling, parent/guardian consultations, writing samples, storytelling, and brain-storming will be used to inform instruction. Structured informal assessments may include: student checklists for each subject area, social-emotional skills inventory checklist, structured student interviews, work sampling, cloze tests to check reading comprehension, student self-reporting questionnaires, and miscue analysis to check reading fluency.

To ensure fidelity for all the assessments, teachers and staff will receive ongoing professional development to prepare them to administer assessments, build their knowledge base, and acquire the skills necessary to analyze student data to make informed instructional decisions. The use of student achievement information derived from the various assessments will always connect to the overall school goals and center on developing academically, socially, emotionally, and intellectually prepared students.

Section II: Academic Objectives Plans & Waivers
e. Explain how the charter school will work with the local school system to participate in all state-mandated assessments. Provide a statement that the charter school will administer all state assessments in accordance with the DCSD testing calendar.

DAAE staff will continue to attend all DCSD and GaDOE trainings (webinars, workshops, etc.) related to understanding and implementing the guidelines and procedures related to assessments as outlined in the State Assessment Handbook and the State Accommodations Manual as well as any other state and local guidance training on assessments. Trained school staff will keep all training and guidance materials current and will train, at least, two other staff members to ensure that someone is always available to carry out, in a timely fashion, all necessary policies and procedures related to mandatory student assessment. DAAE will also follow DCSD report card process and cycle with grades posted in Infinite Campus and LMS. Student transcript records are maintained within DCSD Infinite Campus system. DAAE will administer all state assessments in accordance with the DCSD testing calendar.

f. Describe plans to diagnose educational strengths and needs of students and plans on how this data will be used for instructional planning.

The Leadership Team will monitor the administration of appropriate assessments to measure students’ academic growth and mastery of standards against benchmarks. They will also collect student achievement data for review and analysis to gain a broader, deeper perspective of student knowledge and skill levels. They will also review student portfolios, work sampling, teacher observations, parent/guardian consultations, etc. to establish a comprehensive data profile for each student.

During the admissions/enrollment process, students will take a series of online academic assessments to understand their current levels of proficiency in math, reading, science, social studies, Lexile score and results from the Universal Screener. The purpose of this assessment process is to be able to identify the areas of weaknesses and strengths of the students who are enrolling for the current school year. The assessment will identify the reading and mathematics level of the students that teachers will be working with and serve to indicate at what levels intervention services may be needed. Since DAAE’s instructional program is a “Blended or Hybrid” model, classroom teachers will set goals with their students to monitor and improve achievement. Monitoring progress is also part of the student’s responsibility, as well as that of the teacher and the Leadership Team.

Family engagement is important and necessary to begin to understand how students’ families operate and what support systems are in place. DAAE will use this information to strengthen family support for student achievement through curriculum and academic nights, parent and teacher conferences and parent contracts. Parents/guardians will also have access to their student’s academic performance data through Odysseyware. If a student is having difficulty meeting achievement goals, their ILP will be revised to provide that student with additional instructional time and tutoring and accommodations for support services. Parents/guardians may schedule teacher conferences to discuss student progress as needed.

The Leadership Team works with teachers to implement the School’s data driven instruction process to make teaching more systematic and effective and develop instructional plans based on assessment information relevant to the desired learning outcomes for students. Within this process, teachers will learn to analyze achievement test results and other types of data to make decisions to improve student success. Given the importance of re-teaching and differentiation...
strategies, the Leadership Team will be trained in the use of a variety of assessment tools and will serve as instructional coaches to assist teachers in using data to inform instruction.

The Leadership Team works with teachers to address the needs of individual students by examining student work and assessments and assisting with the development of re-teaching strategies for gifted and struggling students to meet learning expectations set in the CCGPS and GPS. Student assessments are used to determine their present levels of achievement, improve classroom instruction, improve the overall school program and determine intervention and acceleration strategies for individual students or groups of students. The Leadership Team disaggregates the data collected from the various formative and summative assessments to determine students’ grade level progress toward meeting their ILP goals.

g. Describe the school’s plan for using assessment data to monitor and improve achievement for all students over a set period of time.

DAAE will also use the SLDS as a monitoring tool to review achievement data for all students and across multiple years to determine patterns and trends and develop remediation and improvement plans. More importantly, Odysseyware provides student achievement data in real time and the courses are fully customizable. Reports will be generated on individual students, groups of students, courses taken, or by grades received.

Research has shown that using student achievement data to make instructional decisions can lead to improved student performance. DAAE’s Leadership Team provides supports that foster a data-driven culture, strengthen collaborative professional learning and planning, help teacher teams analyze student work, and use achievement data analysis to improve instruction. As a result, teachers collaborate regularly to plan and implement standards-based lessons.

For each of the nine-weeks marking period, teachers use interim assessments to adjust instruction to meet both the enrichment needs of high-achieving students and the intervention needs of struggling students. The Leadership Team always asks the following question of teachers, “Which data, well analyzed, can help improve teaching and learning?” because teachers’ use of data has the most direct impact on student performance; and, it also give the team answers to two key questions: (1) How many students are succeeding in the subjects I teach? (2) Within those subjects what are the areas of strengths and needs?

The answers to these two questions then sets the stage for targeted, collaborative planning and teaching efforts between teachers and the Leadership Team. The answer to question 1 allows the Leadership Team and teachers to set annual improvement goals, e.g., increasing the percentage of 11th graders passing the GHSWT from 78% in 2013 to 83% in 2014. After setting the goal(s) related to question 1, the Leadership Team and the teachers can now turn to the second question. Once the Leadership Team has identified the areas of strengths and needs, they will begin the real work of instructional improvement, which entails participating in a collaborative effort to share, produce, test, and refine lessons and strategies targeted to the areas of need, where the most effective instruction will make the greatest difference for students.

DAAE teachers will meet weekly to analyze, interpret, and use student assessment data to adjust instruction and plan lessons. The Leadership Team will participate in teacher planning meetings and observe classroom instruction to assess the effectiveness of the instructional strategies used based on student data analysis and will provide feedback for improvement. Frequent monitoring of formal and informal assessments will be used to address students’ specific learning needs. The Leadership Team will take care to balance its data analysis efforts and keep its primary purpose on: improving instruction to achieve greater student success. On a regular basis, teachers will share the testing results with students individually and collectively and teach students how to examine their own data and to set learning goals each nine-week period.

The Leadership Team will be responsible for updating the data room that houses the School’s charter performance goals and objectives as well as all student assessment and achievement data. The data room will contain school-wide performance data from past CRCTs, GMAS, National Norm Referenced Tests, and STAR assessments. A drill down of this data will yield information that will be used to ensure sustained academic achievement for all students.

h. Describe how the charter school shall comply with the accountability provisions of O.C.G.A. § 20-14-30 through § 20-14-41 and federal accountability requirements.

DAAE shall comply with the accountability provisions of O.C.G.A. §20-14-30 through §20-14-41 and federal accountability requirements and the Governance Board shall cause the School to prepare an Annual School-wide Accountability Report for stakeholder dissemination. DAAE will set standards and goals for students according to the charter, measure students’ progress towards those goals, and report its results publicly in order for said transparency to be possible and meaningful. The School will follow national best practices for creating its accountability plan to crystallize the process. The proposed sections of the School’s accountability report may include information on: student performance, charter goals and objectives, operations, and continuous improvement.

i. Describe how the charter will adhere to all assessment guidelines and procedures as outlined by the State Assessment Handbook, the State Accommodations Manual and other state and local guidance on assessment.

DAAE staff will continue to attend all DCSD and GaDOE trainings (webinars, workshops, etc.) related to understanding and implementing the guidelines and procedures related to assessments as outlined in the State Assessment Handbook and the State Accommodations Manual as well as any other state and local guidance training on assessments. Trained school staff will keep all training and guidance materials current and will train, at least, two other staff members to ensure that someone is always available to carry out, in a timely fashion, all necessary policies and procedures related to mandatory student assessment.
j. Describe how staff from the charter school will attend required test administration training held by DCSD.

All staff members involved in test administration will attend the required test administration training held by DCSD. Staff attendance will be verified by the signatures found on the sign-in logs for training sessions held at the District approved sites and can be found saved at the district offices.

4. What specific actions will the school’s management, instructional leadership; faculty and staff take to ensure student performance objectives are met during the proposed charter term?

DAAE follows the DCSD’s adopted diploma program of studies (see Appendix 5: Curriculum for additional details). Students’ ILPs are developed and shall include the courses necessary to satisfy the student performance objectives. The curriculum is based on four units of English, four units of math, four units of science, four units of social studies, one half of a unit in health and one half of a unit in physical education. Electives in a World Language and Career Technology are offered to complete the total of twenty-four units required for the diploma program of study. The diploma program of study is aligned to CCGPS and GPS. Through a waiver, DAAE offers students the opportunity to earn three units of study in a single term. Differentiated instruction, remediated instruction and small group blended learning classes will ensure that students’ ILPs are implemented as prescribed for success.

   a. Describe the focus of the curriculum. This statement should also discuss any distinctive or unique instructional methods to be used that are research-based and standards driven.

The Foundation of DAAE’s curriculum in based on CCGPS and GPS to build students’ foundational academic skills. Additionally, the School’s culture and goals stress STUDENT RETENTION, COMPLETION, and GRADUATION—which is in direct alignment to the School’s mission and vision—and are key to achieving student success. PLUS academic and student support services are provided that promote the completion of high school courses, college placement and job placement. A combination of approaches are being utilized by DAAE students in order for them to thrive, graduate and attend college and/or begin work.
DAAE’s curriculum is focused on:

1. Building students’ foundational academic skills using the CCGPS for English Language Arts/Reading and Mathematics and the GPS for all other content areas through hands-on, student-centered, differentiated instruction to ensure an appropriate balance between basic skills acquisition and higher-level learning using the Hybrid/Blended Learning.

2. Teaching and enabling students to Develop Life Skills which are the personal traits and attributes that would allow them to succeed in the workplace, college, and life. DAAE will use the Botvin LifeSkills Training Curriculum to help students develop this cluster of skills that will enable them to work well in groups, solve problems, manage their time, and take personal responsibility for their work. In the competitive job market, these are the skills that will set DAAE students apart from other candidates. And, while in college, these are the skills will enable DAAE graduates to stay on top of their studies.

3. Helping students achieve College and Career Preparedness through (a) an understanding of college and career pathways, that is, their trajectories, environment and eligibility requirements; (b) provide Career Technical Education (CTE) courses in areas such as business management, health science, information technology, etc.; and (c) offer corresponding opportunities for student to experience their desired college and career fields working as an intern or at a part-time job, volunteering, and/or participating in challenging extra-curricular activities.

The over-arching premise for the curriculum’s focus is to prepare DAAE students to graduate from high school with a sound foundational academic background coupled with the necessary life skills to succeed in and college and careers.

b. A full and complete curriculum, aligned, for all grade levels to be served during the proposed charter term is required to be submitted as an Appendix item. This information must be aligned with Common Core and Georgia Performance Standards (where applicable).

Appendix 5—Full and Complete Curriculum.

c. Identify materials/programs that the school plans to obtain/purchase to support the stated curriculum.

DAAE uses state approved textbooks as supplemental materials to the Odysseyware Courses. Other supplemental materials will be purchased as need, and the School will use online resources like Khan Academy.

Additionally, the content based teachers will use STEM materials to support their science curriculum instruction. The Carnegie Learning Georgia Mathematics Program will be used to support quantitative reasoning and math skills development. This program is an innovative, research-based math solution for middle school, high school and post-secondary students. Carnegie learning Math is based on extensive research from Carnegie Mellon University along with field tests in schools throughout the United States. The curriculum provides differentiated instruction, integrates interactive software, consumable text and collaborative classroom activities. The program aligned to the CCGPS and GPS.
d. Describe the educational innovations that will be implemented.

The educational innovation that will be implemented at DAAE are described below:

1. Hybrid/Blended Learning

   - Direct Instruction: Teacher-lead, face-to-face, small-group instruction, where students receive the lesson materials while integrating technology during the classroom session, including interactive whiteboards, laptops, or tablets. Teachers are able to provide individualized attention to all students, adopt a balanced mix of digital and traditional instruction, while employing regular benchmarks to check student performance.

   - Peer Collaboration: Students work together in teams on the lesson materials, collaborating with various technology using laptops, desktops or tablets invariably developing their leadership and interpersonal skills.

   - Independent Learning: Self-direction, where students work on lesson materials by themselves, at his or her own pace, or using a computer or tablet.

DAAE Classroom Using a Variety of Instructional Strategies and Methods
2. Arts and Music Therapy. Students will be offered the opportunity of learning how to play the guitar, percussive drum and/or steel drums. They will also experience art in the form of clay, paint and photography classes during their time at DAAE. The purpose of these classes is for the students to learn to create and to explore their potential. Research suggests that these activities act as a therapeutic means to get students to talk about ideas that they might not otherwise discuss. More importantly, music and art begin to ignite brain dendrites, which has been known to cause students to re-focus and increase memory recall.

The activity of refocusing and concentrating on creating and performing in music and art is soon transferred to schoolwork. Dr. Marcia Tate (2013) states, “Musical performance also appears to strongly correlate with improved academic achievement, particularly in math and foreign language and with a person’s ability to retain information. When this strategy is combined with others, such as movement or drawing, an engaging, brain-compatible classroom is the order of the day.”

3. Personalization of Learning. This is a teaching and learning environment where teachers develop students’ capacity to become independent learners who set goals, monitor their progress, and reflect on their own learning. Student assessments measure mastery of standards. A Personalization of Learning approach to teaching and learning will require rethinking the role of the school, teachers, parents/guardians and the community, the structure of the classroom, and the ways in which knowledge and skills are taught to students and measured. The chart on the following page provides a snapshot of Personalization of Learning.

4. Instructional Delivery Model. The delivery of instruction at DAAE will combine several researched-based approaches to delivering instruction into a Model that meets the unique needs of the Students at the School.

The components of the Model, illustrated on the previous page, when used with students who are at-risk enables them to succeed because the courses include immediate hands-on work from the start while advisors work with students to secure mentorship/internships opportunities during their time at DAAE. Additionally, the high school courses and programs of study are organized into routine blocks of time for scheduled coursework and tutoring with mandatory attendance expectations.

5. Life Skills Development. DAAE is making a concerted effort to integrate life skills development into the teaching and learning environment at the School. This integration when enable students to cultivate the personal traits and attributes that would allow them to succeed in the workplace, college, and life. DAAE will use the Botvin LifeSkills Training Curriculum to help students develop this cluster of skills that will enable them to work well in groups, solve problems, manage their time, and take personal responsibility for their work. In the competitive job market, these are the skills that will set DAAE students apart from other candidates. And, while in college, these are the skills will enable DAAE graduates to stay on top of their studies.

e. Provide a clear explanation of how the innovations will increase student achievement.

1. Hybrid/Blended Learning. The implementation of this model ensures that there is accountability for all who are in the teaching and learning environment. The Learning Management System (LMS) will help to monitor student progress at all times, which is key to the successful implementation of the hybrid/blended learning model at DAAE.

Students will have the accountability of doing their work; teachers will have data on what supports students will need and exactly how to support each student. Benchmark assessment monitoring will also keep the Leadership Team on point. It minimizes any shifts from what the School ought to be doing to assist each student and take immediate corrective actions. Teacher collaboratives and student collaboratives will be formed to provide additional support and differing ways to help one another learn (see Appendix 5: Curriculum for additional details).

2. Arts and Music Therapy. Arts Therapy is an approach that is often used to work with students who are at-risk. It is a way to get students to talk, to externalize their inner world, and to verbally share information of their choice. Students do not need to have any artistic talent to benefit from this approach. DAAE will include the Fine and Performing Arts in the School’s educational program. It will also serve to set the stage for the formalized counseling sessions. The Fine and Performing Arts will offer opportunities for students to experience new ways to learn more about their potential to: expand and stretch their horizons, learning more about who they are or who they can be, while exhausting their energies in a positive way.

The Fine Arts program integrates the visual arts with history, social sciences, literature, math and science. Each art lesson enhances curricular learning objectives through a creative, hands-on approach. The focus of the art program concentrates on creative expression more than the actual art product. Through this program, we will encourage the students to find their ideas in the world around them and to interpret those ideas through experimentation with media and tools in the classroom. Students will explore different media, including: textiles, watercolor, acrylic paint, printmaking, drawing and collage, and videography to name a few (see Appendix 5: Curriculum for additional details).

3. Personalized Learning. Additionally, Harvard University continues its work through the Education Innovation Laboratory by asking the question: What impact does personalized learning systems have on student achievement? While the analysis is ongoing, several observations have been made in an alternative school setting by Dr. Sabrina Tillman-Winfrey, former Alternative School Coordinator in Greene County, Georgia. Students were placed and observed in a personalized learning program with daily support from trained professionals and intense and specific support from certified retired content course and special education teachers. Dr. Winfrey recorded:

The students were successful in all credit recovery classes and were able to return to their home high school programs and/or to take additional courses needed for graduation.

The students were able to articulate exactly what they did not understand about a lesson in a small group setting.

The students were not hesitant about asking questions or for asking for help from the certified teacher in the classroom.

In a traditional classroom, student learning is almost always stunted because students are afraid to say what they do not know in the “open classroom” setting, especially in front of their peers. The personalized learning model lends itself to an environment where inquiry and questioning is the norm, therefore students feel safe to participate (see Appendix 5: Curriculum for additional details).

4. Instructional Delivery Model. This model is needed to serve this community of students at-risk because:

a) The class sizes are relatively small and are composed of multi-age students who are able to start a high school course of program of study every nine (9) weeks.

b) Attending school in define blocks everyday throughout the program allows students to integrate their routine work, childcare, and other obligations around these hours, and for other students it makes arranging for transportation easier. DAAE will allow students to shift blocks if life changes intervene, such as a job.

c) DAAE updated to a balanced schedule calendar (See Appendix 7.4 – Annual School Calendar).

d) The curriculum in all cases is structured around objectives and learning outcomes with clearly defined expectations for students (See Appendix 5—Curriculum). In addition to independent study out of class, students work every school day in labs receiving teacher support, tutoring, and doing hands-on work.

e) DAAE students often lack career and college readiness and preparedness. They need structure and discipline, which includes a dress code and uniform policy. Students are provided with all needed books, manuals, and tools to ensure that they can be successful from the start of class.

d) All DAAE teachers have at least three years of teaching experiences with clearly defined responsibilities, regular evaluations (self, student and peer), and supervisor observations, which are used in decisions about continued employment, salary and promotion.

e) Along with a passion for the work and helping students, DAAE emphasizes stable staffing as important for student success because accomplishing the mission and vision of the School is a team effort and a stable staff is the backbone of the School.

5. Life Skills Development. DAAE Students come to the School not only behind academically but also lacking in college, career and life skills preparation. It is imperative for the School to help students with cultivating these skills. Life skill are necessary because we live in a constantly changing world and having these skills is an essential part of being able to meet the challenges of everyday life. The dramatic changes in the global economy of last two decades is matched only by the transformation of technology in the last five years. These changes are impacting education, the workplace and personal lives.

In order for DAAE students to cope with the increasing pace and change of life in the 21st Century, they need to develop a cluster of life skills such as the ability to deal with stress and frustration. The first step in providing support to students is to ensure that their Advisors know as much about their academic abilities and interests. Once we understand each student’s background and unique needs, his/her Advisor will develop their Life Skills Attainment Plan as part of the student’s Individual Learning Plan (ILP). The plan will ensure that students cultivate skills necessary for everyday life that will help them to:

- Find new ways of thinking and solving problems
- Recognize the impact of their action and teach them to take responsibility for what they do rather than blame others
- Build confidence both in spoken skills and for group collaboration and cooperation
- Analyze options, make decisions and understand why they make certain choices outside of the classroom
- Develop a greater sense of self-awareness and appreciation for others

The development and use of life skills for each student will vary depending on their individual situations. DAAE hopes to graduate students who are college and career ready with the tools necessary to deal with the challenges of the 21st Century.

f. Describe why the innovations are appropriate for this unique school.

As a result of the nontraditional high school population that will be attending DAAE and because many times these students have not had opportunities to experience success, it has become important for them to be able to learn in an environment that is supportive, yet structured and one that suggest overtly that safety nets are available and that they will not fail if they avail themselves of the systems that are in place.

Technology also provides multiple ways for the students to access the instructional platform at times when they are ready to learn. Many times, students are more ready to learn later in the day than in the morning. Then there are times when once they begin their work, they will want to continue and not be stopped by a bell or the ending of a class session; this is an example of how the hybrid/blended learning facilitates student learning at their own pace.

DAAE understands that online classes are neither new for high schools nor for high school students. Further, online classrooms and/or recovery classes that are online are also not considered innovative. However, when you combine an online learning model with teachers that have been trained in instructional strategies that engage the brain when implementing direct instructional modalities that support and/or remediate the online curriculum and add innovative support activities and classes such as: art/music therapy; videography classes; non-traditional life-skills development; family and individual counseling; mentoring, work internships, college/career coaching, then you have provide innovate support that research suggests will enhance academic support for students that should produce real academic outcomes. (Tate, M.L. 2013).

DAAE is a non-traditional high school that can serve students who are not accommodated in the traditional high school setting. DAAE is able to plan a specific course of study for the non-traditional student. Due to the unique needs of the students and their desire to obtain their high school diploma, the staff is trained to understand how to work with this population of unique learners and their unique circumstances, thereby promoting the learning process. Our students have value and various opportunities for learning through field trips, community service learning, cooperative-learning pods, inquiry-based learning and peer support learning groups to foster and increase the ability of students to retain knowledge. Also the Arts Therapy program will help them with focus and discipline in learning and also retention of information.

g. Describe the anticipated teacher-to-student ratios and the rationale for maintaining these ratios. Please describe your intended class sizes, including the minimum and maximum number of students. Be sure to explain the source of any additional funding necessary if the class sizes are smaller than those set forth in the SBOE Class Size Rule 160-5-1-.08.

The class-size of small group instruction and/or remediation classes at DAAE will average five (5) to eight (8) students. The direct instruction classes will reach a maximum class size of 19 students and then we will have some one-on-one tutoring. The rationale for this class size is to be able to provide intensive support for this school population in order for them to graduate and successfully seek post-secondary opportunities.

h. If this is a charter high school, describe how the charter high school will determine that a student has satisfied the requirements for high school graduation, including the credits or units to be earned and the completion credentials to be awarded.

Upon enrollment at DAAE, the student will be provided with an ILP that will include any previously earned high school credits. The student will be designated, as a Group 1, 2 or 3 enrolled student and the ILP will be designed for that student with all classes required for high school graduation. In addition, all other requirements/credentials that will need to be met for graduation will be included in the ILP and when they will be due. They will form the basis of the contract that is signed by student and parent/guardian (advocate).

This means that students must satisfy all local district and state requirements for graduation. DAAE will assure that all students will have earned the 24 credits required, passed the necessary district and state assessment and met the attendance requirements for graduation. The school counselor and admissions director will verify and certify that all requirements have been met. Students meeting all the requirements will receive a high school diploma. Students not meeting all requirements will receive a Certificate of Performance. Signatures of the Governance Board Chair, District Superintendent and School Principal will endorse the diploma and certificates.

5. What are the school’s plans for educating special populations? (Reciting the requirements of law and rule is not sufficient)

The needs of students with disabilities are addressed by teachers certified in special education services and through careful planning with the regular education teachers to fulfill the mandates of the students individualized education plan (IEP). Should DCSD currently hold an IEP for any student who enrolls at DAAE, the DCSD Special Education Vocational Lead Teacher (CEVLT) will provide the said plan to the school upon enrollment or within 10 school days. Future IEPs will be developed, amended, reviewed in accordance with state and local school system rules. DAAE will follow IEP regulations for the Least Restrictive Environment (LRE). Students will be afforded the same opportunities as their non-disabled peers in accordance with their IEP. If a student’s progress indicates a need for a more restrictive environment, an IEP meeting will be convened to address that need.

Teachers certified in Special Education review the individualized education plans of students with special needs. A consultation model for joint planning and classroom support with the regular education teacher is documented and structured. Parents participate in conferences to assure that their student’s needs are being met. A consultation log of meetings and classroom support is maintained. Additionally, in order to comply with all special education laws and regulations, including Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act and the IDEA, DAAE will do the following:

- Establish Student Support Team (SST) procedures in accordance with State Guideline and local board policies by enrolling student in the TieNet interface;
- Establish a Section 504 Team in accordance with State Guidelines and local school policies and use DCSD forms for Section 504;
- Handle all discipline issues regarding Section 504 students in accordance with Federal regulations, State guidelines, and local school board policies including the Code of Student Conduct;
- Participate in workshops, in-service and/or training sessions offered by DCSD for persons serving as SST/Section 504 chair persons and Exception Children staff;
- Comply with Section 504 by providing the appropriate accommodations and equipment;
- Immediately notify the DCSD Coordinator of Charter Schools upon receipt of a complaint made by a parent/guardian or student concerning Section 504 and/or Individual with Disabilities in Education Act, furnish a copy of said complaint, and cooperate fully in the investigation, defense, and resolution of such complaint.

6. Describe methods, strategies and/or programs for meeting the needs of students identified as gifted and talented. Include any diagnostic methods or instruments that will be used to identify and assess those students.

Gifted and Talented Students. DAAE is committed to meeting and exceeding the needs of all of our gifted and talented students by providing a rigorous educational program that enriches, extends, and accelerates learning for the gifted students in their areas of strength. DAAE will identify students who are eligible for gifted educational services following the eligibility requirements guidance for Gifted Education Services (O.C.G.A. § 160-4-2-.38) used by DCSD. This will provide teachers with a framework for: (i) identifying, referring and assessing students for gifted instruction; (ii) designing and delivering gifted instruction; (iii) program administration and teacher professional development; and (iv) program evaluation.
The identification of gifted learners will begin with a screening process where a student’s enrollment assessment scores will be closely reviewed, and/or the nomination by a staff member or a parent/community member is recognized. Anyone of these events will trigger a screening event, which will begin a screening process. During the screening process, the School’s Leadership Team will collect data from a variety of sources to support the student’s nomination. The data gathered will be comprehensive in order to represent a complete profile of the student’s present level of educational performance and to show a pattern of performance over time. To be eligible for gifted services, students must qualify in three of the following four areas of the screening assessment:

1. Mental Ability – Minimum score of 96th percentile (or higher) in at least one sub-test area

2. Achievement – Minimum score of 90th percentile (or higher) on the total reading, total math, or complete composite

3. Creativity – Minimum score of 90th percentile (or higher) on an assessment for creativity

4. Motivation – Minimum of 90th percentile (or higher) on an assessment for motivation (Grades K-8) or GPA of at least 3.5 on 4.0 scale, using the average of core grades over the last two years.

This information will also form the basis for each student’s individualized gifted education plan and will also include his or her areas of strengths. The Leadership Team will have meetings throughout the school year to review student profiles to determine if they meet the eligibility criteria of the state’s Gifted Education program. All eligibility decisions are made by the Leadership Team. DAAE goal is to provide a developmentally appropriate curriculum that is consistent with gifted students’ learning rates and abilities in all subject areas.

7. Describe how the charter school will provide state and federally mandated services for students with disabilities. Include any diagnostic methods or instruments that will be used to identify and assess those students.

DAAE will follow the procedures that are prescribed through the DCSD’s Office of Student Support Services to provide state and federally mandated services for students with disabilities through the identification and implementation of written individual education plans (IEP), developed 504 plans and other accommodations prescribed to meet student needs. With the assistance of the school counselor we will work to ensure services. DAAE shall continue to comply with all applicable State and Federal Laws in serving students with disabilities, including, but not limited to, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act (“Section 504”), the Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”) and the Individuals with Disabilities in Education Improvement Act, revised 2004 (“IDEA 2004”). The facilities to be used by DAAE shall be accessible for all students with disabilities and shall provide students with disabilities equal access to all aspects of the educational program.

Once a student’s IEP is established, DAAE will provide the appropriate interventions and supports both directly and under contract with outside providers, or arrange for the provision of said services with assistance from DCSD. DAAE works specifically under the DCSD Charter Guidelines for Special Education and Wrap-Around Services. LPA takes responsibility for the delivery of special education services by working with its Special Education and classroom teachers to integrate all IEP interventions and supports into the general education classroom.
All special education interventions and supports will be delivered in the timeline outlined in the IEP and a co-teaching model will be used to provide direct instructional services and support to students with disabilities in the general education classroom. All transition and assistive technology needs, as identified in the IEP, will be provided to students.

DAAE shall comply with the treatment of Special Education records pursuant with all procedures and guidelines in the Federal Regulations for IDEA 2004 including, but not limited to: access rights, record of access, records on more than one person, list of types and locations of educational records, fees, amendment of records at parents’ request, opportunity for a hearing to challenge records hearing results in finding of violation, finding of no confidentiality safeguards, and destruction of information.

DAAE will follow all procedures that are outlined in the DCSD document “Your Rights as Parents Regarding Special Education” (Revised 2007). DAAE will follow the mandated procedures relating to parental consent for initial evaluation. Parental consent must be received prior to initiating the evaluation process. Parents/guardians will be kept informed throughout the process and will be invited to attend any meetings concerning their students. Parents/guardians will have the right to refuse evaluation and placement in any program. When there is a difference of opinion related to any part of the referral/placement process, all efforts will be made to reach a satisfactory agreement regarding an arrangement that will benefit the student. All special education students will receive instruction based on the core curriculum and will have the same opportunity, as other neuro-typical students, to participate in all extended learning activities (see Appendix 5: Curriculum for additional details).

8. Describe methods, strategies and/or programs for students receiving supplemental education services. These services should be provided pursuant to SBOE Rule 160-4-5-.03 and the Elementary and Secondary Education Act/No Child Left Behind.

DAAE shall follow all district, state and federal guidelines with respect to the provision of supplemental education services when required to provide these services. Since the School has not been identified in Needs Improvement status, Supplemental Education Services have not been required. However, if the school falls into Needs Improvement status, services of a state approved supplemental education provider will be acquired and made available to eligible low-income students as required.

9. Describe methods, strategies and/or programs for meeting the needs of students at-risk of academic failures through remediation. Include any diagnostic methods or instruments that will be used to identify and assess those students who are performing below grade level as well as the processes/programs/tools to be used in providing them with remedial instruction. These services should be provided pursuant to SBOE Rule 160-4-5-.01 and NCLB.

Because our students participate in Personalized Learning there are multiple opportunities to observe their progress.

- The first exists as the Online Coordinator monitors their online activity
- The second opportunity exists as the students progresses through the course to take pre-tests will gage where the students are and how they are progressing; again the Online Coordinator monitors this activity
• The third opportunity manifests itself when the student takes the unit test; if they do not pass this test, they must go back through the unit and retake the test. Again the Online Coordinator is monitoring.

The online system is set up to send out notices to the Classroom support teacher, the student and ultimately to the parent of the student. At each of these intersections:

• The student conference can convene;
• Data is presented on where the deficiency exists
• Tutorials can be set-up to assist in remediating the student
• Students can be placed in direct instruction classrooms

All of these systems are part of the Hybrid system, except for the counseling system that takes place in the face-to-face conversations held by the Classroom support teachers. This is the human side of the teaching experience where the one-on-one contact of the classroom teacher comes into play. If it is decided that the student needs to spend time in tutorial sessions where there is direct instruction with a content area specialist, then it will occur for a specified time.

10. Describe how the charter school will provide state and federally mandated services for English Language Learners (ESOL). Include any diagnostic methods or instruments that will be used to identify and assess those students, including:

DAAE will provide state and federally mandated services for English Language Learners (ESOL). All appropriate diagnostic testing methods will be used, as per the DeKalb County District Office. We will contact the district office and follow all of the DCSD mandated procedure for screening and enrolling ELL students in support programs. We will use the results of those diagnostic tests and the fact that our Personalized Learning materials can be standardized to support ELL students, as they are provided support in learning English and learning how to be successful in their high school classes and get prepared to pass the Georgia tests to secure a high school diploma.

a. A description of the special language instructional program to be provided to ELLs that is designed to teach English, as well as general curriculum and who on staff will coordinate this effort.

DAAE shall serve English Language Learners (ELL) students who enroll in accordance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations. The school is in contact with the DCSD's International Center to evaluate, determine eligibility and provide service requirements for any students who enroll and have limited English proficiency. ELL student will be given appropriate support based on demonstration of a lack of familiarity with English. To determine appropriate services for ELL students, the procedures outlined in DCSD Handbook for ELL studies program and the International Center will be followed. Student are eligible for ELL services, if their first/primary language is other than English and after being screened they score below a composite proficiency level.

Upon recommendation from the International Center, services of an ELL tutor will be provided to supplement language acquisition and provide academic support to the student. International Center personnel will determine duration of services and exit criteria from the program. The ELL tutor will be a person who has ESOL endorsement through the DCSD or other means. The Leadership Team will make every effort to employ a teacher who has ESOL endorsement and will encourage teachers to take advantage of the opportunity to become endorsed in this area through the online ESOL endorsement program or via other means offered by the DCSD. The monthly cash flow projections for the first year and the annual cash flow projections for the first five years of the operations for the school include adequate funding for ELL personnel.

b. A provision indicating that ELL students will not be excluded from curricular and extracurricular activities in school because of the inability to speak and understand the language of instruction.

ELL students will not be excluded from any curricular, co-curricular and/or extracurricular activities in the school because of the inability to speak and understand the language of instruction. In all cases a translator will be contacted and/or hired in addition to the staff person we have in place who speaks fluent Spanish if it becomes necessary.

c. Appropriate evaluative standards for measuring the linguistic and academic progress of ELL students, including program exit criteria.

The Personalized Learning program that we will be using can be adjusted/modified to meet the languages standards of the ELL student needs and also will be able to send detailed messages to parent in the languages spoken at the home. Further, the ELL students will follow and meet all District criteria for meeting progress measures and exiting the ELL program.

11. List all proposed extracurricular activities or other auxiliary educational activities along with the grade levels in which these activities will be offered. Please list and describe the partnerships the school has developed to offer extracurricular activities (ex: chorus, band, sports, clubs, art). This information should explain who the partner organization is, at which location the activity will be offered, and any charges associated with providing these activities. Please provide copies of contracts or correspondence setting forth the terms of the partnership.

As has been stated before, these students attending DAAE are a unique group of students. The extracurricular activities that are proposed for these students are also uniquely placed for this student body. Therefore, in addition to the Fine Arts Programming, DAAE will offer opportunities for leadership and citizenship development through activities that enhance lifelong learning activities, activities that enhance the educational experiences and help to develop emotional, social, psychological, and workplace appropriate skills. These activities are also designed to assist in developing socialization skills and appropriate soft skills. These activities are available to all students in all grades 9-12:

- Business Luncheon
- Chess
- Future Business Leaders of America
- Museum Scavenger Hunt
- Student Ambassadors
- Public Speaking – Toast Masters, Inc.
- Beautillion
- Lifetime Sports Canvassing – Golf/Tennis/Bowling
12. Waivers for Academic Goals and Objectives. Which of the specific actions in the academic plan require a waiver of state law, rule, or guidelines?

a. Although you will be granted a broad flexibility waiver if you are granted a charter, please demonstrate why a charter is necessary for this school by providing examples of significant components of your academic plan for which you need a waiver. Please also identify the specific waivers that are required to allow the implementation of those components.

Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence requests to waive the following from Title 20 of the Official Code of Georgia and Rule 160 of the State Board of Education and from the DeKalb County School System policies and procedures. We will proceed by identifying a few situations that broad flexibility will assist in implementing our academic instructional program.

Scheduling for Instruction - SBE Rules 160-4-2-.16 Paragraphs (2)(a). Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence in lieu of scheduling students in grade 9-12 for minimum of six high school class periods for each day enrolled, shall schedule student in classes as appropriate to meet the need of the students.

Designate the performance to be improved: Because students will be working in online classes they will be group in multi-age, multi grade classrooms/groups as their classes will be individualized

Describe how the charter will measure the improvement of such performance: We will monitor progress towards the performance goals indicated in Student Performance Outcomes; Performance will be measured by how successful the students are in completing their classes; these same students will also be measured by the growth in their pre and post-test assessment scores.

Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations, and policies: The requested waiver does not undermine the waiver and is consistent with the intent of the law to improve student achievement by providing the flexibility to schedule students in a manner that meets their individual needs for support to learn and to achieve.

School Day for Students - SBE Rules 160-5-1-.02 Paragraphs (2)(d), (2)(e). Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence in lieu of the requirements of a minimum daily average of 330 minutes of instructional time for grades 6-12 and that students must be present for at least half of the instructional time in order for the day to count as one of the 180 school days, the charter school shall determine the length of time students will be in classes.

Designate the performance to be improved: Because students will be working in blended classes they have the ability to work at their own pace and can work in a school setting as well as any place outside of the school setting, including at home, the public library and in some cases on the job. Their learning spaces have truly become a school without walls.

Describe how the charter will measure the improvement of such performance: The blended instructional management plane will assist in the monitoring of students being on task, being on their computers working and making progress towards completing Online classwork. Performance will be measured by how successful the students are in completing their classes; these same students will also be measured by the growth in their pre and post-test assessment scores.
Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations, and policies: The requested waiver does not undermine the waiver and is consistent with the intent of the law to improve student achievement by providing the flexibility to schedule students in a manner that meets their individual needs for support to learn and to achieve. This waiver will also support students who need to leave school site to fulfill internships for high school credit.

High School Graduation Requirements - SBE Rules 160-4-2-.06 Paragraphs (2)(c), (2)(d) and (3)(e)6.(i), 160-4-2.36, 160-4-2.46. Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence in lieu of the 150 clock hours of instruction for awarding Carnegie units of credit, shall award Carnegie units of credit based on demonstrated competency of course examination(s).

Designate the performance to be improved: For courses that do not require an EOCT, students who repeated failed specific courses in traditional high schools will be permitted to test out of the courses using a content specific assessment to demonstrate proficiency. Such tests may be developed by Odysseyware, DeKalb Online Academy, or DCSD developed End-of Course Tests.

Describe how the charter will measure the improvement of such performance: We will monitor progress towards the performance goals indicated in Student Performance Outcomes; we will also look for increase in the pre and post-test performance of students; and the Direct Instruction assessment done in classrooms with teachers;

Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations, and policies: The requested waiver does not undermine and is consistent with the intent of the law to improve student achievement by providing the opportunity for students to earn credits in a credit recovery environment that supports them remaining in school; this same environment also supports a unique way of learning in a personalized way – one that supports a hybrid environment where a student has responsibility for his/her own learning, yet also can count on support from content area experts to support those trouble spots where one-to-one or small group learning is necessary.

State Board to Prescribe Textbooks - O.C.G.A. Section 20-2-1010 and Electronic Format of Textbooks: O.C.G.A. Section 20-2-1015, and SBE Rules 160-4-4-.10(k) and DeKalb County School Board Policy IFCA and IFA. Given its unique instructional elements, Carnegie Learning Georgia Math Program, and the Personalized Learning format, Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence wishes to have flexibility in the selection of textbooks and the electronic copy requirements to improve student performance/achievement. DAAE intends to utilize cutting edge textbooks, digital instructional resources, and digital media that are aligned well with the GPS standards and the DeKalb County Schools curriculum.

Designate the performance to be improved: Granting of this waiver will improve student achievement in all areas particularly math, science, and reading based on evaluated results of the curriculum.

Describe how the charter will measure the improvement of such performance: The importance of flexibility in curriculum selection will be measured by the achievement toward the mission of Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence and performance goals as found in the “Student Performance Outcomes” of this petition.

Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations, and policies: The requested waiver does not undermine and is consistent with the intent of the law and State Board of Education rule in ensuring that students of public schools are using the best resources available for instruction. To accomplish this mission, DAAE will utilize the most appropriate textbooks for its program and will guarantee that the State and DeKalb County Schools will have access to copies of all textbooks used at the school. The flexibility to select resources developed through research and field test in collaboration with top notch publishers with research institutes, universities and software designers will greatly enhance our uniqueness.

Measure 1: Conduct an assessment of each student enrolled at the School to determine placement in core content areas, career and college goals, and soft skills attainment and use such information as a baseline for the student ILP.

Measure 2: Ensure that the School’s instructional strategies are scientifically grounded and based on research that is most likely to bring all groups of students to proficiency in English Language, Arts, Reading, and Mathematics by selecting materials that are indicated when identifying educational resources to support English Language, Arts, Reading, and Mathematics.

Measure 4: Provide students with opportunities to develop their own inter and intra personal skills needed for both college admission and job placement by providing them with training in non-traditional ways to socialize and communicate in social and work environment.

Appendix 3.3: Staff Handbook

Appendix 4.4: DCSD Code of Ethics

a. School organizational performance objectives should reflect where the school envisions itself organizationally at the end of the charter term.

b. Objectives should include areas such as: governing board training, student and teacher retention, and student, parent and teacher satisfaction.

The following narrative is in response to Question 13.a & b. DAAE’s overall organizational performance objectives based on the goals and measures described above are:

1. Increased Board Members Skills, Knowledge and Commitment. This objective aims to ensure that the School’s governance board collectively possess the diverse expertise and capacities needed to execute the board’s management and oversight responsibilities in governing the School, and to carry out the board’s policymaking and strategic decision making roles for the long-term success of the School.

2. Continued Leadership Oversight and Evaluation. This objective ensures that the governance board’s chief responsibilities with respect to School Leadership remain:

   a) Hiring a strong instructionally focused, highly capable, and knowledgeable School Leader;

   b) Monitoring and evaluating the School Leader against established performance expectations based on SMART goals; and
c) Supporting the School Leader in achieving the School’s goals and securing long-term success, while respecting the distinct roles of governance versus management.

3. Continued Contract Management and Oversight. This objective focuses on ensuring appropriate stewardship over all contracts executed by the School’s governance board, including the charter contract itself, as well as any service or management contracts with third parties. All such contracts should delineate the roles and responsibilities of the parties and articulate performance goals, timelines and terms, including consequences for inadequate performance or service. Governance board oversight shall be focused on contractually-agreed performance outcomes and quality service.

4. Continued Public Accountability and Transparency. This objective ensures clear, accurate, regular communication by the School on its academic and operating performance to key stakeholders and the public through a variety of means that maximize understanding and access. This objective emphasizes the public stewardship responsibility of the School’s governance board. As educational trustees, the School’s governance board members are called upon to be responsive to diverse stakeholders. The key principles underlying this objective are:

   a) The Governance Board governs on behalf of and is accountable to the broader public, not only to its own School’s stakeholders.

   b) The Governance Board serves the public interest and upholds the public trust. This central commitment guides all board policy making and decision making.

5. Securing the Future/Continuous Improvement. Under this objective, the Governance Board and the School’s leadership team shall ensure documented board and leadership team attention to:

   a) Significant changes in the school’s environment including authorizing changes and legislative and regulatory and policy activity as it relates to charter schools in the state of Georgia.

   b) Conducting an annual school and board self-assessment of performance and improvement against annual targets as well as long-term academic and operating performance goals.

   c) Making measurable improvement in the School’s academic and operating performance over time and aligned with the School’s performance charter agreement goals.

   d) Compliance with applicable laws, rules, regulations, and provisions of the charter agreement relating to governance by its board including but not limited to:

      - Board policies and procedures
      - Board bylaws
      - State open meetings law
      - Code of ethics
      - Conflicts of interest
      - Board composition and/or membership rules
      - Strategic planning
6. Continued Regulatory and Reporting Compliance. This objective ensures that all required filings are complete, accurate, and submitted on time, absent of any violations of reporting requirements; and the School complies with applicable laws, rules, regulations, and provisions of the charter agreement relating to the rights of students, including but not limited to:

- Policies and procedures related to recruitment, admissions, and enrollment
- The collection and protection of student information
- Due process protections, privacy, and civil rights
- Conduct of discipline

14. What specific actions will the school take to achieve its organizational performance objectives?

a. Describe the organizational innovations that will be implemented during the proposed charter term.

DAAE shall implement a number of organizational innovations that are both structural and process/procedure driven. The structural innovations will influence change and improve responsibilities, accountabilities, and information flow. The process/procedural innovations are expected to influence flexibility (e.g., teamwork) and quality of work (e.g., continuous improvement). Structural innovations include, but are not limited to:

- Form collaborative teams of teachers who work and plan by grade level and/or by content area
- Decentralization of planning and moving to a distributed leadership model where teachers and staff take on more responsibility and accountability for the teaching and learning environment
- Restructuring the school day/daily schedule and the school year. For example, students may attend DAAE in shifts so the building is able to accommodate growth in student enrollment over the first two years of the charter renewal term
- Less hierarchical levels of management and reporting
- Forming alliances and partnerships with organizations and institutions of higher education to achieve the mission and vision of the school
- Outsourcing the CFO function

Process/procedural innovations include, but are not limited to:

- Utilizing teamwork in the teaching and learning setting to implement instructional strategies, mentor teachers, and improve instructional practices in the classroom.
- Job enrichment/enlargement under the distributive leadership model
- Adopt continuous improvement process model that allows for self-assessment annually by the board and review of instructional practices every nine weeks
• Timely administration of Students/Parents/Teachers satisfaction surveys
• Management of the teaching and learning process to include college and career preparation and high school transition planning
• Implementation of personalized and blended learning strategies to provide additional teaching and learning opportunities for at-risk and non-traditional students in a way that fits their schedule

b. Provide a clear explanation of how the innovations will increase organizational effectiveness.

DAAE’s organizational innovations—structural and process/procedure driven—will increase the school’s effectiveness across five areas as illustrated in the chart below:

Leadership: The governance board shall develop the school’s strategic goals, priorities, and ensure that they are clear and well-communicated to the school community. The leadership team shall work collaboratively and use instructional tools, resources, data collection and analysis, and team work to ensure that the student achievement goals outlined under Section II of the Charter Renewal Petition Application are met.

Decision Making: The goals described in the Charter Renewal Petition Application are prioritized and the decision making roles and accountabilities are clear for both the governance board and the leadership team.

People: The governance board completed an audit of the school’s performance based on the goals outlined in the current charter agreement and have shared and discussed the results of this audit with the leadership team, teachers, and staff at the school. The governance board believes that the priorities and goals of the teachers and staff are aligned with the priorities and goals developed as a result of the audit. The governance board will also ensure that professional learning for teachers and staff are provided to develop the skills and capabilities they will need for the School’s continued success.

Process/Procedures: The governance board and the leadership team understand that the work of the school is accomplished through processes and procedures (this does not negate talented staff). The governance board and the leadership team are reviewing all processes/procedures to ensure that they are relevant, well-defined, and communicated to teachers and staff to ensure that they are implemented to the highest level possible. The School’s processes/procedures are enabled with support and resources to offer strategies and approaches for teachers and staff to complete their daily work.

Culture: The governance board and leadership team is committed to building a culture of high student achievement and high organizational performance. The School is open and adaptable to change and will use the organizational goals, measures, objectives described in this section of the Charter Renewal Application towards accomplishing the School’s mission and vision.
c. Describe why the innovations are appropriate for this unique school.

The innovations described above ensure that the School delivers on its mission and vision, the Governance Board delivers on its management and oversight roles and responsibilities, and the Leadership Team delivers on the academic, organizational, and financial goals described in the Charter Petition Renewal Application.

The innovations shall also drive the transformation of the School from a Priority Focused school to a Rewards school leading to significant growth in graduating at-risk and non-traditional students from high schools and ensuring that they are college and career ready when they graduate from DAAE.

The innovations aim to ensure that clearly defined "jobs-to-be-done"—at both the Governance Board and school levels—will be done in a manner that maximizes school resources and the talents and expertise of board members.

The innovations further ensure that the organization remains agile and able to respond to the changing needs of students and their parents as well as teachers, instructional practices, technology, the charter school arena, and the economic and political climate in metro Atlanta and nationwide. As a result, DAAE shall have the ability to grow its student population through the alignment of students needs with the school’s programs and course offerings, the teaching and learning environment, and technology and other resources.

15. Which of the specific actions in the organizational plan require a waiver of state law, rule, or guidelines?

   a. Although you will be granted a broad flexibility waiver if you are granted a charter, please demonstrate why you need a charter by providing examples of a significant component of your organizational plan for which you need a waiver. Please also identify the waivers that are required to allow the implementation of that component.

   School Day for Students. SBE Rules 160-5-1-.02 paragraphs (2) (e). The charter school shall determine the length of time students will be in blended learning classes in lieu of the requirements of a minimum daily average of 330 minutes of instructional time for grades 9-12 and that students must be present for at least half of the instructional time in order for the day to count as one of the 180 school days.

   A.    C. Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations and policies: The required waiver does not undermine and is consistent with the intent of the law to improve student achievement by providing the opportunity to accommodate students who are not able to be in the classroom for the entire traditional school day or leave campus to attend DeKalb School of Tech to fulfill requirements for CTAE courses.
Teacher Certification. O.C.G.A. Section 20-2-200, Professional Standards Commission Rule 505-2-.09 1(a), and DeKalb County Schools Policy CGBA. The school intends to employ highly qualified teachers who have demonstrated required qualifications as required by No Child Left Behind. This waiver provides the flexibility for the school to hire teachers, regardless of current certification status, to help the school fulfill its mission and vision.

A. Designate the performance to be improved: The waiver provides the school with the flexibility to hire staff who may not be currently certified but who have the capacity to work with at-risk, non-traditional students and provide them with the social and emotional support they need in addition to the subject area content that they teach.

B. Describe how the charter will measure improvement of such performance: The school shall monitor teachers’ teaching and learning practices toward meeting the goals outlined in Section II of the Charter Petition Renewal Application. These evaluations will include, but is not limited to: formal and informal formative assessments by the principal, nine-weeks review and reflection on classroom teaching and learning practices; and interaction with students and parents as measured by the computerized Learning Management System.

C. Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations and policies: The required waiver does not undermine and is consistent with the intent of the law and DeKalb County Schools policy to set a standard for highly qualified public school teachers. The school will employ highly qualified teachers based upon their demonstrated ability to teach at-risk and non-traditional high school students along with their academic qualifications that are consistent with achieving the school’s mission and vision.

Conditions of Employment. O.C.G.A. 20-2-850, O.C.G.A. 20-2-851, O.C.G.A. 20-2-853. The school seeks to waive the relevant Georgia Codes and the local school policy governing sick leave for teachers and other personnel, accumulation of sick and personal leave; regaining forfeited leave; and the cost of employing substitutes to best align human resources to meet the needs of students and to ensure sound and smooth operational/financial management, thereby improving student performance/achievement in all subject areas.

A. Designate the performance to be improved: Such waiver will increase teacher attendance, eliminate unforeseen absences of all personnel, and reduce the cost of employing substitute teachers, which will result in the efficient and effective allocation of operational and financial resources leading to increased student learning.

B. Describe how the charter will measure improvement of such performance: The benefit of this waiver shall be measured by the achievement of the school’s mission and vision, performance goals described in Section II of the Charter Renewal Petition Application, teacher performance on high-stakes tests, student attendance, and overall student success.

C. Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations and policies: The requested waiver does not undermine and is consistent with the intent of the law and DeKalb County Schools policies to establish conditions of employment. The school shall afford its personnel three personal and five sick days, during which time his or her basic salary, as stated in the Employment Contract, shall be paid in full. Such personal and sick days shall not be cumulative from year-to-year unless consent from the school has been obtained.

Board Members Selection. DAAE’s governance board is an organized group of volunteers who, collectively, are legally and morally accountable to the community for the health, vitality and effectiveness of the school. As representatives of the school community at-large, the Governance Board is the primary force pressing the organization to the realization of its mission. As a result, the Board’s Governance Committee is continuously recruiting community leaders and business professionals to serve on the Governance Board and its various committees and task forces.

The Governance Committee follows best practices in recruiting individuals with knowledge and expertise in finance, legal, human resources, education, board development, marketing and other areas, as needed and based on the governance board’s strategic plan. Individuals with these skill sets are necessary for carrying out the board’s management and oversight responsibilities of the school’s affairs, in accordance with DAAE’s mission and vision.

The Governance Committee recognizes that the work of building a great board involves more than simply getting an individual to fill a seat. Through very intentional planning, the Governance Committee aims to develop and maintain an effective board that is committed to the mission and vision of the school, and brings expertise in key areas of school operations and represents the community as well as diverse viewpoints.

Appendix 4.1 – Governance Board Organization Chart

Board Member Terms. The term of office for each board member shall be three years. The Founding Board implemented staggered terms for the initial Governance Board. Board members were divided into three classes to ensure appropriate succession and continuity in subsequent years. Class 1 served a one-year term; Class 2 served a two-year term; and Class 3 served a three-year term. Following the end of these initial terms, board members are eligible to serve additional 3-year terms.

Recruitment Plan. The Governance Committee shall implement BoardSource’s Nine Steps to Finding, Recruiting, and Engaging Nonprofit Board Members (2nd Edition). This very intentional planning process guards against the sudden loss of a founder or key board member, so that the school is not caught off-guard and continuity in school management and oversight is ensured.
Step 1 – Develop board member profile by identifying the needs of the boards related to skills, knowledge, perspectives, connections, etc., needed to implement the strategic plan for the School. Board members shall ask the questions: What do we have? What is missing?

Step 2 – Develop a pool of potential board members by identifying individuals with the desired attributes. Board members can suggest potential candidates from within their networks as well as ask senior staff and key stakeholders to suggest potential candidates. Then, board members can connect with candidates and provide them with information about the school’s progress.

Step 3 – Recruit prospective board members for interest and fit with the school’s mission and vision. Board members shall explain to prospects why new board members are needed along with board member roles and responsibilities; and invite prospects to ask questions and find out if they are prepared to serve.

Step 4 – Prepare new board members for active participation by conducting a board orientation so that new members become familiar with both the board and the school explaining its history, programs, pressing issues, finances, facilities, bylaws and organizational chart. Also, share with new board members committee descriptions, board member responsibilities, and board roster.

Step 5 – Engage board members with the work of the board by involving everyone based on their interests and availability. New members shall choose a committee to serve on and have an assigned board mentor to provide support as needed.

Step 6 – Conduct ongoing board development and training (workshops/seminars/retreats) to educate the board concerning the mission and vision for the school by promoting the exploration of issues and challenges facing the organization as well as to build board capacity to carry out its management and oversight responsibilities.

Step 7 – Assess the board’s performance as a whole as well as individual board members to see how the Principal works with the board as a team and identify ways in which the work of the board can be improved.
Step 8 – Rotate board members by enforcing term limits, reexamining board member interest and fit for implementing the school’s mission and vision, and advising board members who are not active to consider resigning and possibly rejoining the board in the future when they have more time to serve.

Step 9 – Appreciate board members and celebrate achievements no matter how small by recognizing individual contributions to the board, the school, and the community.

The governance board’s board building cycle emphasizes the importance of good board governance and presents the process or roadmap to build and maintain an effective board in fulfillment of their management and oversight responsibilities to the school.

The school improvement plan and the results from the principal’s self-assessment shall be used to develop these goals.

The principal and the Executive Committee shall identify appropriate sources of documentation that will be used to determine if these goals were successfully attained. The Executive Committee shall review multiple sources of data before evaluating the leader on the standards. The Executive Committee’s evaluation shall be based on the totality of evidence and consistency in practice, both for the formative assessment in January/February and prior to the summative assessment in April/May. For example, the Climate Survey is completed by all certified and classified staff members and shall be used to inform the summative assessment as well as act as a point of reflection for the principal, generate goals for continuous improvement, and provide feedback for professional development.

The Executive Committee will ensure that the principal participates in ongoing professional development to validate teaching and learning as the central activities of the school, engage with staff and teachers to improve leadership skills, collaborate with staff to achieve organizational goals while still meeting the needs of individual staff members, use data and information in planning and decision making for continuous improvement, model effective teaching and learning processes, and find opportunities to work, discuss, and solve problems with staff.
To the extent possible, the Executive Committee shall interview the school leader who is leaving the employ of the DAAE (resignation, leave of absence, layoff or dismissal). The purpose of the exit interview will be to: (a) ascertain the reason(s) for termination to inform and improve management practices and policies, reduce turnover, and obtain appropriate information for potential unemployment claims; (b) inform the school leader of the terms and conditions of employment affected by the separation; (c) foster good public relations by correcting misinformation and modifying negative attitudes.

Voluntary separation from employment may be initiated at any time by the school leader’s submission of a letter of resignation to the governance board and will be placed in their personnel file. Involuntary separation from employment may be initiated at any time by the governance board based on the school leader inability to meet the goals set forth in the Charter Renewal Petition Application. The separation will also be reviewed by the board’s attorney so that the termination will not qualify as wrongful dismissal. Upon receipt of the notice of termination by the school leader, he/she shall arrange for an exit interview with the Executive Committee. The school leader will ensure that all school property in his/her possession is returned. The following items will be reviewed with the school leader during the exit interview: final pay calculation, benefits termination and insurance continuation rights, status of payroll deductions, and address to which correspondence is to be sent.

Monitoring Academic Goals, Curriculum, and School Operations. The governance board’s first priority is to improve academic achievement for all students attending DAAE by expanding learning opportunities for all students and operating under a performance-based accountability system. The board’s accountability system is focused on:

- Reviewing the mission and vision statements for the organization annually, to ensure that it is relevant and guides the work and decision making of the school to expand educational opportunities for at-risk students and change their lives.

- Ensuring that teachers and staff employed at the school are competent to carry out the day-to-day instructional and operational tasks of the school and that the school leader, in particular, has a broad skill set—from academic knowledge to fiscal expertise.

- Training teachers and staff in understanding their roles and responsibilities regarding school autonomy, funding, administration and oversight, student and organizational outcomes, measures for evaluating success or failure, and performance consequences.

- Completing and reviewing the annual financial audit of the school that is conducted by a qualified, independent Georgia-licensed certified public accountant.

- Establishing, communicating and implementing an ongoing review and evaluation process for all functional areas of the school—instruction, organizational management, governance, finance and human resources—that uses performance data to determine if the school is meeting the goals outlined the Charter Petition Renewal Application.

- Developing the school’s annual report for stakeholders summarizing its performance and compliance requirements as well as identifying areas of strengths and areas needing improvement.
c. Please use the Governance matrix (found on the Charter School Division’s website) to illustrate the level of autonomy your Governing Board will have. Please note: This matrix will become part of your charter contract.

Appendix 4.2 – GaDOE Governance Matrix

d. Use this section to provide a narrative of your matrix, including anything in the matrix that requires further explanation or clarification.

Appendix 4.2 – GaDOE Governance Matrix

e. Describe your plan for ensuring that you maintain a diverse board with broad skillsets.

New board members will be assigned a veteran board member as a mentor, and shall plan School visits with the Principal to learn more about the School’s instructional program, strengths and needs. To maintain a strong foundation on which to build and sustain the Governance Board, orientation and ongoing board training and development shall be necessary. Board members will also have the opportunity to attend the Georgia and/or National Charter Schools Annual Conference.

The board shall review annually the organization’s strategic plan, the results of the board self-assessment, and its committee structure. The results of this review will allow the board to determine what additional areas of expertise, if any, it may need to meet its management and oversight responsibilities of the school. Additionally, the review process keeps board members engaged and seeks to add board and committee members to find creative and innovative ways to accomplish the mission and vision of the school.

f. Describe how and why governing board members may be removed.

The manner and conditions under which Governance Board members may be removed from office are stated in the organization’s Bylaws (Appendix 4.3 – Bylaws). Board members may be removed with or without cause by a vote of a majority of the board members then in office. The Governance Committee will monitor board member participation and expectations and make recommendations from time to time to remove members of the board if they fail to fulfill their responsibilities. For example, inconsistently attending board meetings, failing to participate in a committee of the board, or engaging in dysfunctional and disruptive behavior may be causes for removal. Additionally, if board members engage in activities unbecoming, they will be subject to the procedures and remedies of the DCSD’s Code of Ethics (See Appendix 4.4 – DCSD Code of Ethics).

The manner and conditions under which Governance Board members may be recruited if vacancies occur are stated in the organization’s Bylaws (Appendix 4.3: Bylaws). A vacancy shall be declared, by a majority vote of the Directors, in any seat on the Board upon the death or resignation of the occupant thereof, or upon the disability of any occupant rendering him or her incapable of participating in the management and affairs of the organization. Vacancies on the Governance Board, including those resulting from an increase in the number of Directors to serve on the Governance Board, shall be filled by majority vote of the attendees of the remaining members of the Governance Board. A Director elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected for the unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office. Replacement board members shall be recruited from the membership of the committees of the Board as well as from the professional networks of board members, the leadership team, and key stakeholders.

g. Georgia law now requires Charter Schools to provide initial training for newly approved charter school Governing Boards as well as annual governance training thereafter. Governance training should help build the capacity needed to make decisions in the above-mentioned areas. Trainers must be selected from a SBOE-approved list that ensures that the training covers certain SBOE requirements. Beyond those requirements, as a best practice, Charter Schools should also ensure that it selects a training program that covers areas of identified needs.

New board members shall be assigned a veteran board member as a mentor, and shall plan school visits with the principal to learn more about the school’s instructional program, strengths and needs. The governance committee shall prepare a training schedule for board members based on the results of the board’s annual review of its strategic plan, the board self-assessment, and its committee structure. The Governance Committee shall organize board training in the form of in-person and online monthly and quarterly workshops/seminars utilizing a Georgia Department of Education approved governance training provider. All board members will receive orientation annually and planned workshops/seminars may include, but are not limited to: fund raising, principal evaluation, communication, finance and operations oversight, conducting meetings and Georgia’s Sunshine laws, etc. Board members will also have the opportunity to attend the Georgia and/or National Charter Schools Annual Conference.

h. Describe your plan and timeline for securing a provider for your initial governance training as well as annual training thereafter. Include in this plan, areas of focus that are specific to your board and school. Provide a brief plan for continuous governance training, recruitment and retention of high quality governing board members.

Prior to the start of each School year (July 1), board members will participate in board orientation to communicate updates for the upcoming School year related to the mission/vision, core values, charter petition goals and objectives, and strategic plan goals and objectives; roles and responsibilities of the Governance Board and its members; best practices for board service related to legal compliance, financial accountability, staff management, communication and advocacy; the school design, instructional program, and student achievement; the Governance Board Digital Handbook; and the financial management practices implemented at the School.

The governance committee shall review the list of prequalified governance training consultants listed with the Georgia Department of Education, Charter Schools Division, and select two to three providers for an interview. After the interview, the governance board shall select and contract with a provider for services. The board shall work with the consultant to provide training to board members in the areas described under Questions 16.g over the course of the school year. The governance committee shall continue to work with members of the board, committees, and taskforce on recruiting new members by inviting them to attend board and committee meetings, and school visits.

i. Disclose any potential conflicts of interest and describe how the governing board will ensure that current and future board members avoid conflicts of interest.

The Governance Board has several means of ensuring that current and future board members avoid conflicts of interests. The Governance Board has approved a Conflict of Interest Policy (Appendix 4.5 – Conflict of Interest Policy). The purpose of the Conflict Of Interest Policy is to protect DAAE’s tax-exempt status and is meant to supplement, not replace, any applicable state and federal laws governing conflicts of interest applicable to nonprofit and charitable organizations.

Additionally, all Governance Board members are required to disclose any actual or possible conflicts of interest and sign the DCSD Conflict of Interest Form (Appendix 4.6 – Governance Board Members’ Conflict of Interest Forms) and the DCSD Code of Ethics Oath, annually; and all Governance Board members receive training on the Code of Ethics (Appendix 4.4 – DCSD Code of Ethics) and Conflict of Interest policy that includes: procedures related to duty to disclose, determining whether a conflict of interest exists, procedures for addressing conflict of interest, violations of the conflict of interest policy, records of proceedings, compensation, annual statements, and periodic reviews.

j. How will the governing board’s role uphold the school’s mission and vision? Please provide specific examples.

The Governance Board upholds the School’s mission and vision by promoting the scholastic and personal (social-emotional) development of students as 21st Century scholars and leaders. Furthermore, the Governance Board will continue to uphold the mission and vision of the School through visible leadership and stewardship of the School’s resources by: communicating the mission and vision of the School to the community; recruiting and mentoring Governance Board members to ensure shared values; holding the School’s Leadership Team accountable for achieving the mission and vision of the School; and participating in fundraising and other community events on behalf of the School.

k. How will the governing board evaluate the principal’s performance? This should include the assessment tool that will be used to determine effectiveness.

The Governance Board will utilize the LKES evaluation tool as the instrument to evaluate the principal’s performance. Selected members of the Executive Committee will become Certified Trainers in the LKES evaluation process. The manner in which the governance board evaluates the principal’s performance is described in Question 16.b above.

l. How will the governing board ensure effective organizational planning and financial stability? Please provide specific examples.

The hallmark of the Governance Board’s leadership, first and foremost, has been the establishment and communication of the School’s mission and vision.

The mission of the Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence Charter School is to provide uniquely challenged students with the highest level of academic opportunity by promoting high social and community standards while employing high expectations in a highly structured and supportive environment; thereby ensuring that all students will be given ample opportunities, experiences and the academic preparation needed for graduation and post-secondary opportunities, including college and entry into the workforce.

The vision for Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence Charter School is to increase the number of graduates at Destiny Achievers Academy Of Excellence; to increase the number of those graduates who go on to college; to help ensure that each and every one of the students who graduate from Destiny Achievers Academy Of Excellence is prepared to enter the world and workforce armed with all the knowledge and personal strength the need to succeed.

The Governance Board shall develop the School’s strategic plan which establishes the strategic priorities for the School with realistic goals and objectives for the term of the charter consistent with the established mission and vision. The plan will also have progress measurement indicators to measure accomplishments and make informed changes. The Governance Board and Leadership Team shall facilitate and work to establish among all stakeholders, a shared understanding and commitment to the future vision, goals and objectives, and the path to get there.

Annually, the Governance Board will review and assess the organization’s structure and infrastructure with a focus on student academic achievement goals; people (roles, relationships, competencies, etc.); key operations systems and processes; information technology; facilities; and other critical resources. The review shall be completed using organization reports, structured interviews, surveys, and documents review, etc. The Governance Board will also conduct a board self-assessment or “check-up” to ensure a healthy and energized board. This annual review will yield functional organizational charts with near- and long-term recommendations to address gaps and take advantage of opportunities towards accomplishing the School’s mission.

The Governance Board acknowledges that nonprofit organizations, in general, face a myriad of challenges in establishing and maintaining financial stability and DAAE is no exception. In the face of reduced funding from the state and local School district year-over-year, DAAE’s first line of defense has been the creation of a reserve account that holds a percentage of FTE revenues annually (Appendix 4.7 – 2013 an 2014 Annual Audit Report). The School shall develop and review its fundraising plans annually to ensure organizational financial stability through the continued establishment and development of additional streams of revenues from government and foundation grants, private donors, corporate gifts and partnerships, and its annual fund.

Additionally, the Governance Board will lead, direct and coordinate its financial management and oversight responsibilities, which are to: approve the organization’s annual operating budget; select and oversee the organization’s independent auditors; ensure the quality and integrity of the organization’s financial statements and reporting process; ensure the performance of the organization’s accounting systems, fiscal controls and risk management practices, and tax and regulatory compliance; ensure compliance with the organization’s code of ethics and conflict of interest policy; oversee all funding and debt instruments of the organization; and oversee the investment of the organization’s idle funds.

m. How will parents, community members, or other interested parties be involved in the charter school’s governing board?

Parents and community members will continue to be involved with DAAE after the charter renewal application is approved by the State Board of Education. Parents and community members may serve directly on the Governance Board and on any of its various committees and task forces, which may include, but not be limited to: governance committee, finance committee, development committee, teaching and learning committee, strategic planning task force, facilities task force, and technology task force.
n. How will the school promote parental and staff involvement in school governance?

Education is a shared responsibility where parents and staff are key stakeholders and their involvement enriches the teaching and learning environment and directly contributes to student achievement. The Governance Board promotes a healthy partnership with parents and staff by:

- Making sure the School is accessible and welcoming to parents as well as professional and collegial for staff;
- Making sure that parents and staff have open access to relevant information about the School’s policies, programs, and services; and
- Encouraging meaningful opportunities for input into decision-making at the School and at the Governance board level.

DAAE strives to maintain a welcoming teaching and learning environment for parents and to make it easier for all parents to participate in their child’s education through the implementation of the National Network of Partnership Schools model. Research shows that when schools are successful in engaging parents, there is a strong and positive connection to improved student achievement. Examples of parent and staff involvement in governance include, but are not limited to, the following: serving on the Governance Board and its various committees and task forces; and participating in surveys and other School community meetings.

While parent involvement is an important part of a students’ education under normal circumstances, students at DAAE come from unique circumstances. Many times our students may not be living with their parent but with foster parents, grandparents, and/or others approved by the judicial system or may be living in independent living arrangements. However, it is important that whoever they call “family” be involved in ways that support what the student is trying to do by completing their education. Another innovation program that will be implemented is Botvin Life Skills Training Program. This is a research based program that uses a psychosocial competency approach for adaptive behavior that helps us deal with the demands and challenges of everyday life.

o. How will the school communicate with students’ families?

Communication is at the heart of education and is a dynamic part of student success in the teaching and learning environment. This type of student success is built on effective two-way communication on all levels of engagement at the School. Accordingly, DAAE’s family involvement policy, anchored in the Title I Parent Compact, is focused on improving student achievement and engaging students and families to develop specific knowledge and skills related to teaching and learning. Generally, school-to-home communication is about programs, student progress, and academic achievement. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Beginning of the year parent communication includes a letter of introduction of the teaching team and welcoming families back to school, and meeting the Teacher/Orientation to share information on curriculum, schedule, goals and expectations.

- Parent communication throughout the year in the form of weekly updates, monthly newsletter, updates on the School’s website, social media to share student successes, and conferences, notes or calls to home to share positive and not-so-good news.
• End of the year parent communication includes conferences to share observations along with student samples and suggestions for home activities to support students’ growth and development; and thank you notes to families letting them know that the teaching team enjoyed the opportunity to learn and grow with their children.

17. Grievances

a. What will be school leadership’s role in resolving teacher, parent and student grievances and other conflicts? Describe the rules and procedures concerning how the school will address grievances and complaints from students, parents, and teachers. The grievance policy should clearly articulate how individuals may present grievances, how those grievances will be reviewed, and who will undertake the task to review grievances, as well as the time frame for disposing of a grievance.

See Appendix 4.8 – Grievance Procedure

b. What will the governing board’s role be in resolving teacher, parent, and student grievances and other conflicts? This should include specific procedures and protocols for grievance resolution for each group. Describe the plan or method that the charter school’s governing board will utilize for resolving conflicts with the DeKalb County School District and/or Board of Education. Explain how conflicts will be addressed and resolved.

Teacher: The Governance Board will follow the procedure as outlined in the Complaint and Grievance Procedure for Staff. Their role is ultimately to hear the next level of the grievance/complaint and to ensure that due process was followed and that all evidence was presented, make a fair assessment and present a decision. See Appendix 4.8 – Grievance Procedure.

Parents: The Governance Board will follow the procedure as outlined in the Student and Parent Complaint Procedure. Their role is ultimately to insure that the parents have followed the process of starting their conversation with the classroom teacher and then working their way up through the system to the Principal prior to coming to the Governance Board. They want to make certain that the parent’s voice was heard and that due process was followed on the part of staff and that the parents are clear about the resources that are available to them for resolution and that the lines of communication have been open throughout the process between home and school prior to their feeling the need to seek out Governance Board attention to their complaint. It is important to the Governance Board that the parents of DAAE feel heard, feel that their students are in a place where attention is focused on student success, and that the parents are a part of the “team.”

Students: The Governance Board will follow the procedure as outlined in the Student and Parent Complaint Procedure. Their role is ultimately to ensure that “due process” has been followed in any complaint/grievance areas involving the students; that parents have followed the processes identified for resolving the issues presented to them. Ultimately, the Governance Board will send the decision back to the school leadership to implement their decision and let the student and the parent know of their decision in a written communication through the Principal. See Appendix 4.8 – Grievance Procedure.

Community Concerns (including Parents): When community members address the Governance Board during their Board meetings, they have an opportunity to speak directly to them and share their concerns and/or issues. They sign their names to a list and a response to questions asked or concerns raised is sent to them at a later date.
c. Describe the method that the governing board plans to utilize for resolving internal conflicts.

DAAE acknowledges that the Governance Board shall be subject to the control and management of the local school board and subject to the provisions of O.C.G.A. § 50-14-1 et seq. and O.C.G.A. § 50-18-70 et seq. For any disputes arising between the DCSD and the Governance Board, the following procedures will be adhered to: (1) Any and all disputes between the charter school and DCSD will first be expressed in writing by the complaining party within 30 days of the incident; (2) Written complaints initiated by DCSD shall be addressed to the board; (3) Written complaints initiated by the board shall be addressed to the superintendent; (4) The board shall respond in writing to any DCSD written complaints within 10 business days from the date of receipt of the complaint; (5) The DCSD shall respond in writing to any board written complaints within 10 business days from the date of receipt of the complaint; (6) If necessary, the board members and the superintendent shall meet to resolve the complaint; and (7) In the event that the complaint cannot be resolved then the parties will, upon mutual consent, engage in binding arbitration.

19. Provide a brief description for each governing board member that explains what role they will play on the board and why they were chosen to participate in the founding group. Attach the member résumés or curriculum vitas in the appendix.

VI. FINANCIAL OBJECTIVES, PLANS, AND WAIVERS

24. State the school’s Financial Goals and Measures.

Goal 1: DAAE shall be economically sustainable.

Measure 1: Each year, DAAE shall operate in a fiscally sound manner as measured by an annual audit conducted by a Georgia licensed certified public accountant, as required by law.

Measure 2: The actual and proposed budgets developed at DAAE shall demonstrate an effective allocation of all resources, which are aligned with supporting the goals identified for the school year.

Measure 3: DAAE shall have a written set of board approved financial policies, procedures and internal controls that sets clear operating standards for the management of the school. These policies, procedures, and financial controls shall be reviewed and updated annually, as needed.

Measure 4: DAAE shall adhere to sound and consistent methods for collecting and organizing financial data and meet Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, as demonstrated by internal and external audit reports.

Goal 2: DAAE’s financial performance over the short-term shall be benchmarked to evaluate the School’s performance and improve outcomes.

Measure 1: Student enrollment variance equals or exceeds 90% for years 1 and 2; and equals or exceeds 95% for the remaining years of the charter term. Enrollment variance = actual enrollment / enrollment projection in Board approved budget.

Measure 2: The school’s current ratio shall be greater than 1.1, or between 1.0 and 1.1 and one-year trend is positive (i.e., current year ratio is higher than the previous year). Current ratio = current assets / current liabilities.

Measure 3: The school’s unrestricted cash days shall be 60 days cash or between 30 and 60 days cash and one year trend is positive (i.e., current year ratio is higher than the previous year). Unrestricted days cash = total expenses / 365.

Measure 4: The school’s debt to asset ratio shall be less than 0.9. Debt to asset ratio = total liabilities / total assets.

Measure 5: The school shall not be in default of any loan covenant(s) and/or is not delinquent on debt service payments.

Goal 3: The Financial performance of DAAE over the long-term shall be benchmarked to evaluate the School’s performance and improve outcomes.
Measure 1: The five year cash flow projection sheets shall demonstrate that DAAE maintains adequate reserves over the term of the renewal charter and the school’s cash flow shall be positive for each year during the term of the charter.

Measure 2: The school’s annual total margin shall be positive each year during the term of the charter. Total Margin = Net Income / Total Revenues.

Measure 3: The school’s debt to asset ratio is less than 0.90 for each year during the term of the charter. Debt to asset ratio = total liabilities / total assets.

Measure 4: Student enrollment shall be monitored each semester to ensure that the strength of demand for the school is at 1.0 or better using the formula: (Enrolled Students + Excess Demand) / Current Enrollment capacity.

a. School financial performance objectives should reflect where the school envisions itself financially at the end of the charter term.

b. Objectives should emphasize fiscal health and sustainability.

The following narrative provides an answer to Question 24.a & b. DAAE’s overall financial performance objectives based on the goals and measures described above are:

1. Implement Organized Financial Policies and Procedures and Internal Controls. This objective ensures that (a) the School has a sound financial basis from which to operate—record keeping, cash flow management, and a system of checks and balances required for systemic scrutiny of all financial transactions; (b) the implementation of a clear set of operating standards for the financial management of the school with consistent, organizational practices in the event of leadership or staff turnover; and (c) internal resistance to viewing the school as a business are overcome.

2. Comprehensive Financial Accounting System. This objective ensures that the school adheres to sound and consistent methods for collecting and organizing financial data and serves as the backbone for solid financial analysis. The School recognizes that the Georgia Department of Education requires a specific chart of accounts for organizing school financial data and that the organization shall be in compliance with said requirements.

3. School and Board Level Financial Expertise. This objective ensures that both school level financial management as well as board-level capacity are in place for the school to perform well, indicating that each is necessary but not in itself sufficient.

4. Consistent and Transparent School-Level Financial and Academic Reporting. This objective ensures that the Principal works closely with the Chief Financial Officer to develop periodic financial reports to present and review key performance indicators—budget with year-to-date activities, student enrollment variance, current ratio, etc. as described in the previous goals.

5. Proper Accounting for In-Kind Services. The Governance Board understands that it can be difficult to accurately capture the dollar value of in-kind support—transportation, facilities, and student support services to name a few, as provided to the School. However, this objective ensures that the school shall develop and use appropriate industry standards and measures concerning in-kind services, as well as recognize and record them in the school’s financial reports.

c. Describe the school’s plans for fiscal management; and specify how the school will manage budgets and expenditures.

The Governance Board shall be accountable for the fiscal management and oversight of the School’s resources. The Governance Board recognizes the importance of excellent fiscal management and oversight in managing public resources to achieve the mission and vision of the School. The Governance Board will be vigilant in fulfilling its responsibilities to see that funds are used wisely to achieve the purpose for which they are allocated. DAAE’s fiscal management plan seeks to achieve the following:

1. Engage in thorough advance planning to develop the budget and guide expenditures to achieve the greatest educational returns and the greatest contributions to the educational program. The Governance Board will also ensure that educational programs are reviewed on an ongoing basis.

2. Establish levels of funding which shall provide a high quality education for all students at the School and use the best available techniques and processes for budget development and management.

3. Ensure that timely and appropriate information and financial reports are provided to the Governance Board and all staff with fiscal management responsibilities, in accordance with the Governance Board’s Financial Management Policy.

4. Establish and implement efficient procedures for accounting, internal controls, audit, risk management, investing, purchasing delivery, payroll, payment of vendors and contractors, and all other areas of fiscal management.

5. Ensure compliance with DCSD and GaDOE fiscal requirements and the timely reporting of appropriate financial information to DCSD, GaDOE, and to other entities as required by law.

The School has the responsibility to establish and maintain a system of internal controls in accordance with the Governance Board’s Financial Management Policy. The Governance Board expects the School to put in place an internal control system with policies and procedures necessary to provide reasonable assurance that practices result in effective and efficient operations, reliable financial reporting, and compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The office of the Chief Financial Officer has the primary responsibility for internal controls, financial reporting, and compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations. The external auditor is responsible for examining the adequacy of all internal controls related to finance and compliance and for reporting any weaknesses to the Governance Board.

The Principal shall be responsible for preparing and presenting to the Governance Board for adoption, the annual school operating budget. The Governance Board expects that the Principal shall work closely with other members of the Leadership Team, the Chief Financial Officer and the Finance Committee to assess the needs of the School and develop the School’s annual operating budget.
In the event that it becomes necessary for the Principal to expend an amount greater than what was budgeted for a specific purpose, the Governance Board authorizes such expenditures up to the maximum amount listed in the Governance Board’s Financial Management Policy. Any such expenditure shall be reported to the Governance Board at its next regularly scheduled meeting. In no circumstance shall the total amount spent exceed the line amount of the approved budget without prior authorization from the Governance Board.

Checks drawn on the general operating account or any special account will require the signature of the Principal and either the Governance Board’s treasurer or board chairperson, who are authorized to sign only after approval of the annual operating budget by the Governance Board. All Governance Board members and School staff with fiscal responsibilities shall be bonded in accordance with the requirements set forth by the DCSD. It is the practice that employees who assist or administer any student activity account shall be bonded. Additionally, all invoices presented for payment must be accompanied with supporting documentation and approved for payment by the Principal.

The School shall maintain an inventory of all fixed assets in accordance with the Governance Board’s Financial Management Policy. Fixed assets at this time include furniture and equipment. All qualifying assets shall be evaluated annually to reflect either an increase or decrease in total value. The Principal will be responsible for managing the School’s fixed assets and managing the fixed assets inventory.

The function of purchasing is to serve the educational program by providing the necessary supplies, equipment, and services. The acquisition of supplies, equipment, and services shall be under the supervision of the Principal and is responsible for all phases of purchasing in accordance with the Governance Board’s Financial Management Policy. The primary guideline for this responsibility is that all purchases fall within the framework of the Governance Board approved annual operating budget and be consistent with the instructional program goals of the School.

The procurement process for the acquisition of supplies, equipment, and services is done through a Request for Proposal (RFP) process in accordance to the Financial Management Policies of the Governance Board. Awards for supplies and equipment shall be made on the basis of the lowest price among responsible proposals and awards for services shall be made on the basis of best value. Through the Principal, the specification for the RFP is developed and advertised; questions are received and site visits (as necessary) are completed; proposals are received and opened; an administrative review is conducted and the most responsible offer from the proposal submissions is determined; responsiveness and responsibility of the apparent low bidder is verified and the award is made. When necessary, Governance Board’s approval is obtained and the contract is issued.

All wages earned by employees will be paid through the office of the Chief Financial Officer. Payroll procedures are contingent on accurate accounting of hours worked. The process for this is established and implemented by administrative staff, under the direction of the Principal. Compensation records shall be kept through the office of the Chief Financial Officer and reflect an accurate history of the compensation and related benefits paid to each employee. The School pays salaries on a regular schedule throughout the School year. There will be no salary advances. Salary deductions are allowed within the limits of the accounting system and all such deductions, other than those required by the federal and state laws, will be deducted only upon written approval of the employee.
The Governance Board shall ensure that the books and accounts of the School are audited annually and meets the audit procedures, as prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). The Governance Board contracts with Bennett and Moody CPAs, a certified and licensed public accounting firm in the State of Georgia to conduct its annual audit, in accordance with the Governance Board’s Financial Management Policy.

d. Use the spreadsheets provided by GADOE, which list detailed budget information projecting revenues and expenditures for the first five years of the proposed charter term. If any sources of revenue appearing in the spreadsheets are anticipated to come from private sources, documentation of such revenues must be included along with the petition. Include a budget that complies with O.C.G.A § 20-2-171.

Appendix 6-1: School Operating Budget and Cash Flow Projections

e. Identify the school’s Chief Financial Officer and describe how that person’s credentials comply with the Guidance for Georgia State Board of Education Rule 160-4-9-.04 for the purpose of developing and adhering to generally accepted accounting principles.

The School’s Chief Financial Officer (CFO) holds all appropriate credentials required by the State Board of Education rule 160-4-9-.04.

Appendix 6-2: Chief Financial Officer Resume

f. Identify the representatives of the school who will be responsible for the financial management of the charter, and describe plans to procure and maintain during the entire length of the charter a Crime/Fidelity Bond covering all persons receiving or disbursing funds. The DCSD required bond amount is $1 million.

The Governance Board will be responsible for the management and oversight of the financial management of the School. The Principal, working with the Chief Financial Officer, shall be responsible for the day-to-day financial management of the School. Except as may otherwise be provided, the School has obtained and will maintain Crime and Fidelity insurance in the amount of $1,000,000 per loss subject (maximum deductible of $10,000 per occurrence) covering employee theft and dishonesty, forgery or alteration, theft of money and securities, robbery or safe burglary, computer fraud, and money orders and counterfeit currency.

25. What specific actions will the school take to achieve the financial performance objectives?

a. Describe the financial innovations that will be implemented during the proposed charter term.

DAAE shall implement a number of financial innovations that are both structural and process/procedure driven. The structural innovations influence, change and improve responsibilities, accountabilities, and information flow. The process/procedural innovations are expected to influence flexibility (e.g., collaboration) and quality of work (e.g., consistent financial reporting). These innovations include, but are not limited to:

- Collaborative planning among the Principal, Leadership Team, Chief Financial Officer, and the board’s finance committee to prepare and present the school’s annual operating budget no later than May, prior to the start of each school year.
• Implementing the Governance Board’s financial management, which serves as the cornerstone of its role in directing the financial management practices of the organization.

• Outsourcing Chief Financial Officer function

Process/procedural innovations include, but are not limited to:

• Utilizing Governance Board approved financial controls to manage record keeping, cash flow management, and a system of checks and balances required for organizational scrutiny of all financial transactions.

• Any significant revisions to the budget must be brought to the Governance Board by the Principal for review and approval.

• The Principal will have some authority to enter into and sign contracts if they are not large in value or in duration, but will require board approval and the chairperson’s signature (e.g., foundation or government grants).

• The Principal working with the Leadership Team and the Chief Financial Officer will develop and provide periodic financial reports to the Governance Board.

• The Principal will be responsible for all purchasing and ensures that all purchases fall within the framework of the Governance Board approved annual budget.

b. Provide a clear explanation of how the innovations will increase financial effectiveness.

DAAE’s financial innovations—structural and process/procedure driven—will increase the school’s effectiveness across five areas as illustrated in the chart below:

Leadership: The Governance Board will ensure the development of the school’s Financial Management Policy and ensure that it is clear and well-communicated to the designated staff and board committees. The Principal working with the Chief Financial Officer shall ensure sound financial practices in implementing financial controls, budgeting, contracts, reporting and record keeping, purchasing decisions, and protection of assets to ensure that academic, organizational, and financial goals outlined in the Charter Renewal Petition Application are met.

Decision Making: The financial management and oversight goals described in the Charter Renewal Petition Application are prioritized and the decision making roles and accountabilities are clear for both the Governance Board and the Leadership Team.

People: The Governance Board completed an audit of the school’s performance based on the goals outlined in the current charter agreement. They have shared and discussed the results of this audit with the Leadership Team, the teachers and staff at the school and assert that their priorities and goals are aligned with the priorities and goals developed as a result of the audit. The Governance Board will also ensure that professional learning for teachers and staff are provided to develop the skills and capabilities they will need for the school’s future success.

Process/Procedures: The Governance Board and the Leadership Team understand that the work of the school is accomplished through processes and procedures. The Governance Board and the Leadership Team are reviewing all financial processes/procedures to ensure that they are relevant, well-defined, and communicated to the Leadership Team and designated staff to ensure that they are as productive as possible. The school’s financial processes/procedures are enabled with support and resources to offer strategies and approaches for the Leadership Team and designated staff to complete their daily work.

Culture. The Governance Board and Leadership Team are committed to building a culture of high student achievement and high organizational performance. The school is open and adaptable to change and will use the financial goals, measures, objectives described in this section of the Charter Renewal Application to fulfill the school’s mission and vision.

c. Describe why the innovations are appropriate for this unique school.

The innovations described above ensures that the school delivers on its mission and vision whereby that the Governance Board delivers on its management and oversight responsibilities and the Leadership Team delivers on its academic, organizational, and financial goals described in the Charter Petition Renewal Application.

The innovations will also drive the transformation of the school from a Priority Focused school to a Rewards school leading to significant growth in graduating at-risk students from high schools, ensuring that they are college and career ready when they leave DAAE.

The innovations aim to ensure that clearly defined “jobs-to-be-done”—at both the governance board and school levels—will be done in a manner that maximizes school resources as well as the talents and expertise of board members.

The innovations ensure that the organization remains agile and able to respond to the changing needs of students and their parents, teachers and instructional practices, technology and the charter school arena, and the economic and political climate in metro Atlanta and nationwide. This way the DAAE will have the ability to grow its student population through the alignment of students needs with the school’s programs and course offerings, the teaching and learning environment, and technology and other resources.

26. Fundraising or Other Sources of Income

a. Please describe in detail the school’s plans for securing other sources of funding. This plan should demonstrate financial independence from the school district by using state and local funds and a feasible plan to supplement those funds with other funding sources on a yearly basis as required.

DAAE shall procure the services of a part-time Director of Development, who researches grants from foundations and gifts from individuals that support charter schools, students who are at-risk, and education in general. The Development Director works with the Governance Board’s Marketing and Fund Raising Committee to create the School’s Marketing and Fund Raising Plan. The part-time Director of Development will work with business leaders, parent volunteers, staff, and community leaders to implement the School’s Marketing and Fund Raising Plan:

- Establish short-term and long-term goals for DAAE’s annual fund raising program
- Develop job descriptions for key stakeholders—parents, staff, business, and community leaders—that streamline the task of implementing the annual fund, and ensures that assignments are not duplicated or overlooked
- Devise a twelve month plan for the annual fund, with detailed schedules and deadlines for each component of the program
- Identify appropriate audiences and develop a strategy to approach each audience to market the DAAE and its programs
- Determine what mix of marketing and fund raising techniques that would be appropriate—i.e., direct mail, personal solicitation, special events, etc.—to achieve the goals of the marketing and fund raising plan
- Draft materials, at least, annual including the text for all letters, brochures for inserts which may be desired, response instruments, and report forms

b. Describe any planned fundraising efforts and who will lead and coordinate these efforts. Because there is no guarantee that these funds will be awarded, you must describe how your school would remain solvent if you do not receive these funds.

The Development Director shall develop a plan to attract Annual Fund support for DAAE from the Board, faculty/staff, current parents, and foundations. The plan will be implemented at the start of the 2016-17 school year. The tentative primary financial goal will be to raise $20,000 by the end of the school year. The School is currently operating at a surplus based on FTE revenues.

c. Independent private funding sources that have been secured must be evidenced through a letter of intent, commitment letters, and/or loan agreements from the funder may be included as an Appendix item.

The Director of Development shall work on potential funding and partnership development. The following list potential funding sources:

- Potential Funding Sources
  - The AFLAC Foundation
  - The Community Foundation of Greater Atlanta
  - The James M. Cox Foundation
  - Georgia Power Foundation
  - The Marcus Foundation
  - Wayne Rollins Foundation
  - Turner Foundation
Potential Partnership Development Organizations

- Center for Education Integrating Science, Mathematics and Computing (CEISMC) Mentoring program to recruit GA Tech students with strong science, mathematics and computing background to work in our classrooms to enrich students’ educational experiences and their Middle School Outreach program
- Society of Women Engineers (SWE) to visit our classrooms to give presentations about engineering
- Organization of Black Aerospace Professional (OBAP) to visit our school to give presentations about careers aviation and aerospace engineering
- South Eastern Consortium of Minority Engineers (SECME) to provide teacher professional development to gain a deeper understanding of the sciences, mathematics, and technology to deliver engaging instruction, demonstrating its relevance to careers

If established, provide evidence of your organization’s federal tax-exempt status in the Appendix.

Appendix 6-3: Federal Tax Exempt Status Letter

Which of the specific actions in the financial plan require a waiver of state law, rule, or guidelines?

a. Although you will be granted a broad flexibility waiver if you are granted a charter, please provide examples of a significant component of your financial plan for which you need a waiver – and the waivers that are required to allow the implementation of that component.

School Administrator. O.C.G.A. Section 20-2-942(1.1). The school intends to employ a principal who has demonstrated leadership, business, and educational skills that fit the mission and vision of the school.

A. Designate the performance to be improved: Such flexibility in the hiring of its principal will provide the opportunity to select an individual who shall successfully implement the mission and vision of the charter. There are uncertified administrators who possess the general management and educational qualifications to adequately fulfill leadership obligations. This will give the school the flexibility for hiring a non-certified principal.

B. Describe how the charter will measure the improvement of such performance: The school will demonstrate how flexibility in hiring will help the school accomplish its mission as measured by the school’s progress towards meeting its academic, organizational, and financial goals described in the charter petition renewal application.

C. Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations, and policies. The waiver does not undermine and is consistent with the intent of the law to set a standard for highly qualified public school leaders. The school will employ a principal based upon their demonstrated ability to manage a public charter school, previous academic, organizational and finance experience, and academic qualifications that are consistent with the school’s mission and vision.
Expenditure of Funds. O.C.G.A. Section 20-2-167. The school is continuing to build and expand its program over the renewal charter term; therefore, the school wishes to waive expenditure requirements of Quality Based Education Funds. The school wishes to roll over any excess money from such funds to be used the following year to improve upon or expand educational opportunities and resources rather than return such funds to the State Treasury. By reinvesting these funds into the school, the organization will have the means to directly improve student performance and achievement in targeted academic areas. These funds will be used for assets such as increased teacher training, lab resources, the media center, classroom resources, technology, and future facility improvements.

A. Designate the Performance to be improved: In general, student achievement in all areas can be improved through the granting of this waiver and in particular areas that rely on teacher skill, classroom resources, and field work.

B. Describe how the Charter will measure the improvement of such performance. This effectiveness of surplus funds will be measured by the school’s operating and five-year budgets in Appendix 6.1 – Five Year Budget and Cash Flow Projections that includes but is not limited to: technology resources, increased teacher development, reduced student-teacher ratio, and additional facilities.

C. Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations and policies: The requested waiver does not undermine and is consistent with the intent of the law to efficiently manage and spend the Quality Based Education Funds. To accomplish its mission, the school will use financial tools such as, but not limited to: budgets, cash flow statements, and annual financial audits to monitor rollover funds.

Teacher Salary Schedules and Increases. O.C.G.A. Section 20-2-21.1-4, and SBE Rules 160—2-.04-05. DAAE wishes to waive the state teacher salary schedules and increase requirements to ensure compensation aligns appropriately with teacher background and credentials and complements the ongoing development of the school vision and instructional goals.

A. Designate the performance to be improved: Teacher performance as demonstrated by student proficiency will be rewarded by incentives (e.g., Pay for Performance) for increased performance on high-stakes tests, student attendance, and overall student success.

B. Describe how the charter will measure the improvement of such performance: The benefit of shaping a unique compensation plan for DAAE will be measured by the achievement of its mission and instructional goals stated in the Performance Based Goals and Objectives section of this petition. Incentives can be earned based on student performance and factored based on years of service.

C. Demonstrate how any such waiver does not undermine the intent of the waived state and local rules, regulations, and policies. The waiver does not undermine, and is consistent with, the intent of the law and the State Board of Education regulation to establish a schedule of minimum salaries for services rendered. To accomplish its mission, DAAE will compensate its faculty based on demonstrated ability to teach high school students, their academic qualifications, experience, motivational fit, and feedback evaluations that are consistent with the school’s mission to ensure increased student achievement.
VII. STUDENT ADMISSIONS

28. How will students be admitted to the charter school?

a. What is the school’s attendance zone? Please describe or provide a map which indicates your targeted attendance zone.

DAAE is located in Ellenwood, Georgia, and is part of the DeKalb County School District (DCSD). The School’s attendance zone is the entire DeKalb County area, established pursuant to O.C.G.A. §20-2-2062.

b. Please state the following enrollment priorities that apply, pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 20-2-2066(a)(1), in the rank order the school will use them. If the school will not utilize any enrollment priorities, please leave this section blank.

i. A sibling of a student enrolled in the start-up charter school
ii. A sibling of a student enrolled in another local school designated in the charter
iii. A student whose parent or guardian is a member of the governing board of the charter school or is a full-time teacher, professional, or other employee at the charter school
iv. Students matriculating from a local school designated in the charter

DAAE School Attendance Zone—DeKalb County, GA
DAAE utilizes the enrollment priorities pursuant to O.C.G.A § 20-2-2066(a)(1). Enrollment preference will be given to applicants in order of priority: (i) a sibling of a student enrolled in the School; (ii) a sibling enrolled in another local school designated in the charter; (iii) a student whose parent or guardian is a member of the Governance Board of the charter school or is a full-time teacher, professional or other employee at the charter school; and (iv) a student matriculating from a local school designated in the charter. DAAE conducts school-wide re-enrollment for each school year.

c. Describe the rules and procedures that will govern admission and registration. Please include the school's admissions policy for potential students that are equitable, non-discriminatory, and will ensure that the student populations will reflect diversity. Please note that “enrollment priorities”, “admission” and “registration” are different concepts. To avoid confusion the GADOE recommends the following:

i. “enrollment priorities” describe those students granted priority pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 20-2-2066(a)(1);

ii. "admission" describes pre-lottery processes and forms; and

iii. "registration" describes post-lottery processes and forms after the student has been offered a seat at the school through enrollment priorities or the lottery process.

DAAE serves a unique student population of 14 to 21 year-olds. They are non-traditional students who are at-risk. The student population is divided into three groups and students are enrolled into these groups versus by grade level.

- Group 1: Individual Course Program - Students who wish to recover high school credits and graduate from DAAE within the same full academic year they enrolled in the School;

- Group 2: Credit Recovery Program - Students who wish to recover high school credits at DAAE and reenter their home high schools at the appropriate grade for their cohort/age group; and

- Group 3: High School Diploma Program – DAAE’s 9-12 High School Diploma Program enrolls students who enter the school and will spend the remainder of their high school experience (grades 9 through 12) at the School and graduate with a high school diploma.

The academic goals are the same for all students even as they may find themselves in unique at-risk situations today. However, DAAE has the capability to serve non-traditional students who are at-risk in an environment that will enhance their success because the Governance Board and Leadership Team believe in the value and worth of these student. Over the five-year period of the renewal charter petition, a total of 300 (see Table on following page).

General Admission Requirements include providing: proof of 8th grade completion from an accredited institution or home school, and transcripts from accredited institutions which student previously attended. The School’s admission counselors will guide each student through the registration and enrollment process and will provide with a complete overview of all program so that future students understand their options. To assist with gathering your documentation, DAAE provides the following tools: Credit Transfer Request Form, Transcript Request Form, and, Home School Policy. The following is a step-by-step description of DAAE’s student admissions and registration process:
Student re-enrollment is held from 8 weeks prior to the start of each semester. During this time, the School will also accept enrollment applications from students in order of the enrollment preferences listed above.

At the close of the re-enrollment process, the School will verify that all information provided is accurate and confirm each student’s enrollment within seven days.

The School then determines the number of unfilled seats it has open in each group level and announces open enrollment for those seats. Open enrollment occurs during the first two weeks of March and is open to all residents of DeKalb County, including students on the School’s waiting list.

At the close of the open enrollment period:
- The School will verify each student’s registration information and determine the number of students registered at each grade level within seven days of the close of open enrollment.
- If there are more student registrations than open seats in any group level, then the School will hold a lottery for those open seats.

If a lottery is not held then the students, whose registration information has been verified, will be invited to complete an enrollment application and turn it in to the School within two weeks. Following this two-week period, the School will accept applications for open seats on a first-come, first-serve basis until all seats are filled. After all seats are filled, a new waiting list will be created.

If a lottery is held, then the students selected in the lottery does not complete their enrollment application within a two week period after their selection, they will forfeit their seat and students on the wait list will be invited to enroll.

Students will be considered enrolled at the School upon receipt of the enrollment application with all supporting documents. The School will provide confirmation to students and their families, including an electronic copy of the charter agreement.

The following documents are required along with the completed enrollment application for students to enroll at the School: (1) official birth certificate; (2) proof of residence of parent or legal guardian; (3) child’s immunization records and health screening (Forms 3231 and 3300);

(4) student’s records from previous school (report card, school withdrawal form, discipline record); (5) proof of legal guardianship/independent student; (6) home language survey; and (7) IEP (for students with disabilities only). The student’s social security number on the enrollment application is optional. Students will be able to withdraw from DAAE at any point in time and return to their locally zoned public school or any other school to which they can gain admission. Upon notification of student withdrawal, DAAE will immediately notify the appropriate local school district in which the student is zoned.

A parent, guardian, grandparent, or other person having control or charge of a student has the authority to withdraw a child from school in compliance with O.C.G.A. § 20-2-780. Such individuals, who desire to withdraw or transfer their student from DAAE, may do so at any time, without penalty, by completing a Student Withdrawal Form at the school, in accordance with SBOE Policy 160-5-1-.28. Additionally, and as required by SBOE Policy 160-5-1-.28, when a parent, guardian, or other person withdraws a student, the School shall provide proof of the student’s enrollment in another school, other LEA, private school, or home study program in order to code the reason for withdrawal.

This process will be followed to document both the withdrawal and the reason for the withdrawal. The School will follow the student withdrawal guidelines of SBOE Policy 160-5-1-.28 for individual situations contained therein. The School will complete the withdrawal process using Infinite Campus and, within 24 hours, provide to the parents/guardians with the necessary documents for registering or transferring their child to another school.

d. Describe procedures for situations if student applications for admissions exceed available space, including the following:

For any grade level that has more confirmed registrations than available seats, a lottery has to be held so that each child will have an equal opportunity of being picked to attend the School. After the lottery is held for available seats, each additional name drawn in the lottery system will be assigned, per grade level, to an ordered waiting list. If a student from the lottery results list does not enroll (within the time allowed) or chooses not to attend the School, the first person on the ordered waiting list will be given the opportunity to register. The waiting list will be in effect for that school year only. The School’s registration, admission and lottery policies and procedures will be written and disseminated to all school and community stakeholders. If the School did not receive more confirmed registrations than available seats, then registration will continue on a first-come, first-serve basis until enrollment capacity is reached. At that time, a waiting list will be started by grade level and will be in effect for that school year only.

i. The precise manner in which the lottery will be conducted and by whom;

If a lottery is conducted, there will be a committee consisting of an administrator, a parent representative, and the public notary to certify the lottery results. The lottery will be open to the public and the names of students by grade level will be randomly drawn from the lottery pool. The school will not need to conduct a lottery if the number of applications received does not exceed the spaces available.

ii. Measures to ensure that the admissions process adheres to legal requirements; and the procedures for wait-listing students who are not included in the first round of lottery offers.
The lottery will be conducted as follows:

1. Within each group level (i.e., Group 1, Group 2 and Group 3), applications will be sorted according to the categories as follows:
   - Category A-Returning students
   - Category B-New applicants to whom enrollment preference applies
   - Category C-New applicants to whom enrollment preference does not apply

2. The Admissions Committee will fill spaces in the following order:
   - Students in Category A
   - Students in Category B through random lottery if capacity is exceeded
   - Students in Category C through random lottery if capacity is exceeded

3. After all available spaces in each grade level are filled, names that remain will be placed on the school's waiting list in the order of the lottery results

e. How will the charter school reach students representative of the racial and socioeconomic diversity in the school system?

   It is the School’s policy that no person be denied admission to the School or be denied participation in, be denied benefits of, or be discriminated against in any curricular, extracurricular, student services, recreational or other program or activity, shall not be abridged or impaired because of a person’s sex, race, religion, national origin, ancestry, creed, pregnancy, marital or parental status, sexual orientation or physical, mental, emotional or learning disability as required by state and federal statutes. This policy also prohibits discrimination as defined by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (sex), Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (race and national origin) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (handicap).

   DAAE’s goal is to recruit and enroll students at the School who reflect the broad range of ethnic and socio-economic diversity that make up DeKalb County as well as provide authentic opportunities for families to become truly involved in the School so it forms a stable part of community. The School’s student recruitment efforts will be implemented throughout DeKalb County with an emphasis on those students leaving the juvenile detention system and the communities of South DeKalb, particularly the Ellenwood Community where the School is located. The School’s community outreach plan will include student recruitment strategies for reaching out to families to share information about the school, the curriculum, enrollment programs, personalized education, and the enrollment process. The outreach plan activities include, but are not limited to, the following:

   - Hosting community meet and greets to provide parents with more in-depth information about the School, especially in high poverty, high-need communities, churches, and neighborhood centers
   - Focused calling and texting campaigns to inform harder to reach families throughout DeKalb County
   - Social media campaigns targeted to community stakeholders
   - Forming partnerships with community-based organizations, pre-school programs, libraries, churches and houses of worship, youth organizations, etc. to disseminate information throughout DeKalb County
• Advertisement in community publications and local media outlets throughout DeKalb County
• Providing communication materials to DeKalb County School District to include in the District’s School Choice publications
• Posting and distributing flyers in high-visibility areas throughout DeKalb County
• Reaching out to community businesses to promote awareness of the School
• Reaching out to post-secondary institutions to promote awareness of the School
• Hosting information tables at local community events
• Providing information on the School’s website
• Hosting information nights for prospective parents several times during the school year
• Meeting with parents/guardians and other community stakeholders one-on-one at planned school visits scheduled throughout the school year
• Participate in the DCSD School Choice Program Open Enrollment Process.

f. How does the school plan to recruit students and maintain/increase enrollment? Please include an enrollment application in the appendix.

Recruitment will also be focused through the following partnerships:
• Military recruitment centers (all branches)
• Department of Juvenile Justice, Education Department
• DeKalb DFACS
• DeKalb County High Schools • Others

VIII. FACILITIES

29. Describe the school facility that the charter school proposes to use.

a. Is the facility new or existing? Describe the quantity and types of rooms (i.e. classrooms, administrative offices, program specific space (science labs, art workshops, etc.), media center, meeting space, and/or kitchen facility.)

DAAE is operated out of a facility that is owned by New Birth Missionary Baptist Church, which is located at: 3595 Linecrest Road, Ellenwood, Georgia 30294. This facility is being used through the term of the charter and will continue to be used for the renewal term of the charter. The School facility does not house any church activities.

The building layout of the facility contains classrooms and other academic support spaces plus administrative office space. The instructional classroom size exceeds the state minimum for classroom size. Overall, the facility is ideal for DAAE 9-12 blended learning program with boys and girls restrooms, adequate common areas with lockers, sufficient gathering spaces—cafeteria/auditorium, and computer labs. Additionally, the facility is in compliance with all applicable zoning and building codes and meets the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), as amended.

The facility has a full-size kitchen, cafeteria, five separate administrative offices, seven classrooms, and four portable classrooms. Two of the seven classrooms also serve as computer labs. The growth plan for the renewal term of the charter up to full enrollment is as follows:

We expect that this space utilization plan will accommodate DAAE’s growth and expected full enrollment of 300 students by year three of the charter renewal term (see Appendix 8-1: School Building Floor Plans).

b. Will the facility require renovations? If so, describe the extent of the renovations and source of funding to pay for the renovations. (Building plans must be approved by the DeKalb County School’s Facilities department.)

   I. Please include a narrative regarding how the renovations will comply with all applicable local zoning and building codes and timetable to achieve compliance. Include how anticipated completion date for each major phase of renovation.

   II. Any rehabilitation work necessary for this site to meet building codes applicable to schools must be completed before the start of the school year and must include the following:

   - The scope of the work to be completed and proposed funding mechanism to cover these costs;
The facility is located at 3595 Linecrest Road, Ellenwood, Georgia 30294.

Appendix 8-2: Building Lease with Religious Organization Questionnaire

The facility is leased from New Birth Missionary Baptist Church. No church activities are held at the facility and the School does not share employees or programs with the church. There are no religious symbols, pictures, or statues in the school building, classrooms, and common areas used by students. No members of the Governance Board are directly affiliated with the church and no church members’ children attend the School. All marketing materials for the School clearly state that the charter school is neither operated by nor affiliated with the church.

Appendix 8-3: Facility Lease Agreement

d. How does this facility meet the required space needed for the proposed school? Please indicate if the identified site will accommodate the school through the initial charter term and at full capacity. If the school will not start at full capacity, describe how the school will accommodate growth over an initial five-year term of the school.

The facility houses up to 150 students and it will be operating in shifts. Shift 1 begins at 8:30 am and ends at 1:30 pm and Shift 2 begins at 12:30 pm and ends at 6:00 pm. The facility will be able to accommodate 300 students at full enrollment. At the start of the 2015-16 school year, the Governance Board plans to create a Facilities Taskforce to review the school’s facility options and make a recommendation to the Board by the end of the school year.

e. If applicable, schools must submit a School Site Selection Form for Site and Facility Approval for a site or facility not owned by the DeKalb Board of Education. This also includes completion of a “Phase I Environmental Site Assessment.” (Place these items in the Appendix.)

Appendix 8-4: School Site Selection Form
30. Does the charter school have an MOU for the facility pending charter and facility approval?
   a. The MOU should include the total proposed facility cost.
   b. The MOU should set forth any material terms that will be reflected in a lease, such as the lease term.

NA

31. Does the charter school have a Certificate of Occupancy (CO) for the proposed facility?
   a. Please note that schools must obtain a CO no later than 45 days before the start of the charter term on July 1. Attach a copy of Certificate of Occupancy. Please provide a Certificate of Occupancy, or a timeline detailing the latest possible date by which the Certificate of Occupancy will be obtained prior to students occupying the proposed facility.

Appendix 8-5: Certificate of Occupancy

32. Does the charter school have an emergency safety plan pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 20-2-1185 for the proposed facility? Please note that schools must submit an emergency safety plan no later than 45 days before the start of the charter term on July 1.
   a. Provide the school’s emergency/safety plan in the Appendix.

DAAE acknowledges that as an independent charter school, it will develop and submit a School Safety Plan in compliance with OCGA §20-2-1185, Safe School Plan, to the Georgia Emergency Management Agency (GEMA) and the District, for approval, no later than 30 days prior to the start of the school year. The School Safety Plan is developed with input from students and their families, teachers, community leaders, and district staff in consultation with the fire marshal, police chief, and other emergency management agencies.

The School Safety Plan includes thoughtful and practical strategies for preventing the growing incidence of violence in schools, responding effectively to such incidents, and for providing a safe and secure learning environment for all students, teachers, other school personnel, and visitors. The School Safety Plan is annually reviewed and revised. At the beginning of each year, students are instructed on the different response strategies within the School Safety Plan and the school community will be prepared and practiced in responding to various threats.

Appendix 8-6: School Safety Plan

b. Describe how all local and state policies related to health and safety will be met.

DAAE will continue to work with the DeKalb County Health Department to ensure that all mandated screenings (hearing and vision tests) are completed for all enrolled students, manage the school-based medication administration program, assure that all students’ immunization records on-file are current, develop and disseminate health promotion materials, and evaluate and monitor the School’s health services. The School’s health-related policies ensure that: (i) students have proper immunizations and documents; (ii) students needing medication administered are provided with a medication administration form; (iii) automated external defibrillator (AED) are available and staff has been trained on how to use the device, additionally, all staff are encouraged to have cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training in the event that the AED malfunctions; and (iv) staff are trained on reporting violent or disruptive incidents and reporting child abuse.
The School will comply with the Uniform Building Code Inspection and the Standard Building Code, Standard Plumbing Code, Standard Mechanical Gas Code, Federal Americans with Disabilities (ADA) access requirements and other applicable local, state, and federal fire, health and structural safety requirements and laws. The School will meet all applicable codes for sanitation, fire, construction, stability, temperature, ventilation, and suitability of physical space. The School will maintain a Certificate of Occupancy from the required government agency.

The School will grant access to local health and fire department officials for inspection of the premises or operations of the school for purposes of ensuring the health, safety, and welfare of students and employees pursuant to Georgia Statutes and National Fire Protection Association Life Safety Code, N.F.P.A. 101. The School is subject to all federal, state, and local rules, regulations, court orders, and statutes relating to civil rights, insurance, the protection of physical health and safety of school students, employees and visitors, conflicting interest transactions, and the prevention of unlawful conduct.
IX. STUDENT DISCIPLINE

33. Please state whether or not the school intends to adopt the DeKalb County School District’s Student Code of Conduct as the school’s discipline policy.

a. Provide the school’s student discipline policies and procedures, setting forth student due process procedures for all disciplinary action, not just for the most serious forms of discipline such as out-of-school suspension and expulsion, in a Code of Conduct, as an Appendix item.

As required by the DCSD, the School has adopted its Student Code of Conduct and follows the rules and procedures governing student discipline and dismissal therein, and where applicable. Since DAAE does not provide bus transportation, the rules regarding bus safety will not apply except when on field trips. The School will comply with all federal and state rules regarding student due process. The Student Code of Conduct will be posted on the School’s website and copies will be made available to parents who do not have access to the Internet.

At DAAE, discipline is defined as actions that teachers, administrators, support staff, and parents employ to teach students the essential skills necessary for academic and social success. The School will ensure a positive school culture and the dissemination of the Student Code of Conduct to express that the school community has rules and regulations and the individuals who enjoy those rights and privileges must also accept the corresponding responsibilities including respect for, and compliance with, school rules.

The Student Code of Conduct provides a consistent set of expectations for student behavior, reinforces positive behavior and provides students with opportunities to develop appropriate social skills, outlines the interventions and consequences for students who engage in inappropriate behavior, explains the rights of students with disabilities including procedural protections when disciplinary action is taken, and describes the rights and responsibilities of all members of the school community. The Student Code of Conduct applies to actions of the students at school, at school-sponsored and school-related activities, school-sponsored travel, and for school-related misconduct. The Code of Conduct is intended to outline a range of appropriate response for inappropriate behaviors and does not attempt to specifically address every possible infraction. However, it is important to note the following:

- Poor academic achievement is not an act of misconduct. Therefore, the Student Code of Conduct shall not be used to discipline students for poor academic achievement or failure to complete assignments
- A parent’s refusal to appropriately support their child’s education cannot be considered misconduct on the part of the child
- The Student Code of Conduct applies to all students. However, discipline for students with disabilities shall be administered in accordance with federal and state law

The Student Handbook will address dress code expectations, the use of electronic devices, bullying, cyber-bullying, intimidation and harassment, acceptable use policy for Internet and school technology resources, attendance expectations, medication policy, visitors on campus, search and seizure, classifying discipline infractions, corrective strategies, alternatives to suspension or expulsion, suspension, expulsion, appeals processes, and discipline for students with disabilities. As required by DCSD, the School will report attendance and discipline incidents using Infinite Campus.
Appendix 9-1: Student Code of Conduct

Appendix 9-2: Parent and Student Handbook

b. Provide a description of how the charter school will meet the federal due process requirements for students with disabilities, or students believed to have a disability, who are suspended or removed for disciplinary reasons.

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA, 2004) mandates that each child with a disability is entitled to a Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE), including educational services, related services, and transition services. DAAE will follow the IDEA and the accompanying federal and state regulations with respect to discipline for students with disabilities. When a student with a disability is facing suspension or removal for more than 10 consecutive or cumulative days throughout the school year, the School will put measures in place to assure that the student has continued access to the general curriculum and educational opportunities.

DAAE’s IEP Team will also work with parents/guardians to determine if the action will cause a change in placement by conducting a Manifestation Determination Review (MDR). If the behavior was determined to be a manifestation of the student’s disability, the IEP Team and the child’s parents/guardians may either modify the current IEP/BIP or agree to a change of placement. If the behavior was determined not to be a manifestation of the child’s disability, then disciplinary procedures applicable to students without disabilities may be applied to the student.

See Appendix 4.8 – Grievience Procedure

c. If the school intends to require a uniform, the dress code policy should also be included.

Appendix 9-3: Dress Code and Uniform Policy
X. OTHER INFORMATION

34. Describe whether transportation services will be provided and include a statement that the transportation program will comply with applicable law. If transportation services are not provided, explain how this will not discourage eligible students from attending the school.

In the case of school-approved field trips, the School will contract with DCSD or a DCSD approved third-party vendor for transportation services that is in compliance with all state laws and regulations for transportation services.

Limited bus transportation to and from school will be provided and parents/guardians will be advised of such during the admissions process. DAAE contracts with the DCSD Transportation Department to provide shuttle transportation service for students from the Indian Creek MARTA station to the school and back. The procedure for obtaining MARTA Breeze cards shall be provided to parents and students. A MARTA bus stop is also located directly in front of the school.

The School will work with the Parent-Teacher-Student-Organization (PTSO) to facilitate carpools, share-a-ride, as well as identify central student pick-up locations for students who are not able to participate in car pools. By making these options available, students who are interested in attending the DAAE will have several opportunities for transportation.

35. State whether the charter school will provide food services (including participation in the National School Lunch Program).

a. If food services will be provided, please describe this program briefly.

The School participates in the Federal School Nutrition Program and adheres to the rules and regulations outlined in procedures of the Food and Nutrition Service of the USDA. All students are given the opportunity to apply for free and reduced priced meals. The Nutrition Director distributes applications to all parents at the start of each school year and monitors the application process, along with the classroom teacher, to ensure that all returned applications are submitted to the DCSD for approval. This position is funded through the Federal School Nutrition Program.

b. If food services will not be provided, please indicate your plans for providing for student lunches. This plan should include information on whether the food will be prepared on-site or off-site and the anticipated cost to students and other significant elements of the food service program should be provided.

DAAE provides meal service for students enrolled at the School. The food is prepared offsite in accordance with state mandated nutrition guidelines at a health department approved facility. The Nutrition Director works with the food service provider to ensure that state mandated nutritional guidelines are observed. Breakfast and lunch are served daily in the school’s cafeteria which meets all the health and safety guidelines for food service. Second shift students will be provided with an afternoon snack.
36. Provide information on the school’s legal representation or counsel.

a. How will the proposed school ensure compliance with the requirements of law with respect to legal issues?

The Governance Board anticipates that it shall require legal services with respect to such issues that include, but not limited to, the following: student relations, employee relations, contract negotiations, and compliance with state and federal laws, regulations and policies. The Governance Board has legal counsel on retainer to address any situation that may arise during the term of the Charter. In addition, the Governance Board has allocated specific funds in the operating budget for the purpose of paying such fees for legal services rendered and has retained the services of:

General Liability; b. Errors or Omissions; c. Property/Lease Insurance; d. Auto Liability; e. Worker’s Compensation; and f. Theft.

Copies of the school’s insurance policies should be included as an Appendix item. If insurance policies do not exist, please provide the following statement: “Copies of each policy shall be provided to the DCSD Charter School Office prior to the opening of the school.” Please list the date by which evidence of insurance will be submitted.

DAAE shall obtain insurance for the School in the following areas:

- Property/Lease Insurance – except as may otherwise be provided, the School shall obtain and maintain sufficient amounts to cover the replacement cost of all structures and contents to their full value for property owned or leased by the School. The actual amount will be determined annually, if applicable.
• Auto Liability – except as may otherwise be provided, the School shall obtain and maintain business auto insurance to cover any vehicles (owned, leased, or hired) used by the school staff in performance of their school work. The actual amount will be determined annually, if applicable.

• Workers Compensation – except as may otherwise be provided, the School shall obtain and maintain workers compensation insurance in the amount of the statutory limits established by the Georgia Assembly.

Each insurance policy that DAAE is required to obtain and maintain by the DeKalb County Board of Education shall contain the following statement, “The DeKalb County Board of Education is included as an additional insured.

Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence shall hold harmless and indemnify DeKalb County School District, the Board of Education, its members, officers and employees for every liability, claim or demand upon the charter school; and Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence agrees to defend and indemnify the DeKalb County Board of Education in any action from the charter school’s activities.

Appendix 10-1: Copies of Required Insurance Policies

38. Additional information that may support the information presented in the narrative section of your petition and helps the reviewer to better assess the proposed charter school may be included in the appendices. DCSD may request additional attachments/appendices as needed.

All Appendixes with requested and supporting information related to the charter renewal petition application are listed following the Table of Contents.

39. Letter of Assurances. The law requires your school provide assurances that it will do certain things and comply with certain laws. The DCSD Letter of Assurance Form enumerates these and other mandatory requirements. When you submit this form as part of your charter school application package, you are providing the legal assurance that your charter school understands and will do these things. This form must be signed by a duly authorized representative of the school. The Letter of Assurance Form is located at the end of this manual. The District reserves the right to add assurances, modify, or individualize this document for a petitioner, before or after the Board of Education’s approval.

Parking for student pick-up
Students come to school
It has no activities and the uniform
Nothing
Too small
Just the attendance policy, when being picked up early and the cell phone policy if caught you could be expelled
How some rules change without parents being told Least that I like about this school is that we cannot wear what we want to wear
No complaints as of yet, very impressed!!
The school seems a bit out of date. It needs to have more current materials in order for students to get the best education
No buses
They need more investments
Disrespectful children
Nothing
Nothing, I must say the school has met all my expectations
I feel that if there is an altercation between kids it should be resolved first by the school before calling police. Schools should not call police unless the situation warrants it.

Need emails for parents to communicate back and forth with teachers; during PT conferences all teachers didn’t have emails. No gym

The times of PTA and parent meetings being that I can never attend due to normal 8-5 work hours. Meetings are too early. After 6 p.m. would be better for traditional parents work hours.

Child has only been enrolled for 3 weeks. I don’t have anything that I dislike or like least at this time.

The disrespectful students

When I call and leave messages no one returns my call.

Actual school needs updating

Some teachers aren’t good at explaining their work as others are

Nothing

That the child cannot keep the cell phones during the day

The PE class needs more space

One instructor is rude to staff, teachers and students

Many students seem disengaged, unmotivated to work hard to succeed, lack of respect towards teachers, staff, peers and themselves.

Please list at least one suggestion you would like to offer to improve our school?

More involvement with the district

Make it mandatory that parents attend at least 3 PTA meetings per year

After school learning to enhance the students learning if they are failing or need extra help

Parent night out with all the parents to interact with one another

Better internet service and maybe transportation for students that are in the community but still have a distance to walk

Raise money for a gym and more classrooms

I ask for progress reports before the progress reports

Change parent teacher and PTA meeting time for 8-5 parents
Destiny Ac

Your first year

Satisfied at this time

ROTC and Sports

That all disrespectful students get put out

Return Phone Calls

Diversity

Everything is going well now I'll just say that I hope everything you guys teach leads to success

Facelift and a bigger sign

Be less strict on cell phones and focus more on learning

Just keep doing what you're doing which is a good job. My daughter is great so far. Thanks

More activities for the students

Different after school activities for the children

Prayer back in to school

Better Lunch

More tutorials

Bus service to pick students up from home

My son has not been attending long enough. Right now I am very pleased.

Better communication when changes are made during the school year.

More tutorials

Transportation

So far I think they are doing a good job

Weekly emails/progress reports

New paint job! The school should look more welcoming

School bus pickups and drop offs

Tutoring
More sports or activities
Get better lunch
Nothing now
Dress down day is enjoyable when deserved
Better breakfast and lunch
More variety in uniforms. Colors to include blue uniform pants, should be 3 pants colors and 3 shirt colors and 2 jacket colors
Be more organized
Better lunch, more athletic programs
I think there should be more one on one conferences with the parent and teachers
To get teachers who know how to teach our kids not read only from the book
We should work on creating a gym
No comment
I don’t have a suggestion. I like my child’s school. There is no problem with the kids. He is learning more, if he keeps his mouth close and they work with you. Thanks very much.
Better monitoring
Extra-curricular activities
A gym
Get the kids to be able to wear no uniforms on Fridays
I like the school a great environment for my child few distractions
Transportation is something that needs to be put in place
Chess or Debate Team (stimulates the mind). Each student completes a service project each year or semester (cultivates respect and empathy for others) Microsoft IT Academy. Partner with schools that offer programs not offered at school (i.e. ProStart). Apprenticeship Program, Mandatory self-esteem & manners program Consider peer tutors, group tutoring and 1:1 tutoring

Georgia Charter School
 Renewal Committee
 Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Committee,

I am submitting this letter of support as a testimonial of the outstanding academic support that was rendered to my nephew, , as he matriculated and earned his High School Diploma in May 2015 from Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence. With the guidance and direction in both his academic studies as well as his social relationships, he avoided several situations that would have had a negative impact on his future.

The patience and dedication that received from of all the teachers, counselors, and administrators, valued him as a gifted and talented person. As a result, this most needed encouragement, guidance and persistence helped to awaken him to get back on the road of achievement.

Presently, is a freshman at Georgia Military College in Milledgeville, Georgia. He will be the first in his immediate family to attend college.

I fully endorse Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence’s petition for renewal for 2016-2021. Albert Einstein a famous teacher quoted: “It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.”

Dr. Mary Joyce Robinson (retired)
August 7, 2015

To the DeKalb County School District and State of Georgia Charter Schools Office,

My son was diagnosed with Attention Deficit Disorder and was failing in the traditional high school setting. His class consisted of 35 to 40 students and sometimes a brand new teacher with very little to no classroom management skills. For this reason and more, we needed a change and needed it quickly. His counselor recommended Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence. I was very interested in making sure that my son is successful and that he graduates from high school. After enrolling in Destiny, I noticed a change in his level of confidence that eventually affected his grades. He began to pass all of his classes. In short, Destiny is the reason my son went on to achieve a high school diploma, otherwise it most likely would not have happened.

The leadership, faculty, and support staff make up a family that supports each family member. This school is definitely needed in this community.

My wish is that Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence stays open. I, without any reservation, support its Charter Renewal Petition for 2016-2021.

Sincerely,
August 6, 2015

To the DeKalb County School District and State of Georgia Charter Schools Office,

Two of our children just graduated in May 2015 from Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence. The school served each of them for three years. Our son was one of the student speakers at the graduation. Our daughter returned to Destiny after briefly attending another school during her pregnancy because she wanted to graduate from this school. She said that the faculty and staff at Destiny really cared about her. We have another daughter that will start going to Destiny this year. We told our cousins about the school and now two of them attend the school.

Another thing we really like about the school is that it is in our neighborhood. We take pride in the fact that our children have a chance to go to a smaller high school in the community.

We want Destiny to stay open and support their Charter Renewal Petition for 2016-2021.

Sincerely,

The Jackson Family

To the DeKalb County School District and State of Georgia Charter Schools Office,

My child attends Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence. I have found the teachers and staff to be very supportive of his efforts to regain the ability to succeed in school. My son was a failing student in the traditional public high school setting. He has experienced greater success at Destiny and is back on track to graduate with his peers.

I appreciate the open access by the administrators in helping me understand my child’s academy progress and working with our family to ensure his success. I fully support the school’s Charter Renewal Petition for the 2016-2021 school years. My son will graduate in 2017 and I want to assure that the school will continue to serve him through his graduation. Destiny is needed not only for my son, but for other students like him.

Sincerely,
Dr. Charles K. Maxwell
Destiny Achievers Academy

Ellenwood, Georgia 30294

Dear Dr. Maxwell,

I want to thank you for listening to my concerns about [redacted], my grandson who had lost interest in school at Lakeside High School. He was skipping and failing classes. I called you on a Sunday afternoon and asked if [redacted] could attend Destiny. Without hesitation, you enrolled him at Destiny. [redacted] was a little reluctant leaving Lakeside and coming to Destiny. He felt that he would not fit in and be accepted by the students. We bought his first uniform and got him ready for his first day of school. After one semester, we saw wonderful changes in his attitude about school.

[redacted] grew into an honest, considerate, hardworking young man and we know that we have Destiny to thank. The one-to-one attention that [redacted] received from Mrs. Strong and Dr. Shaw has made him confident in his abilities and sparked his interest in science and mathematics. He scored a 98 on the Language Arts EOC. He discovered that the students were very supportive and made him feel apart of the Destiny family. Being at Destiny taught the value of discipline and teamwork, traits that will serve him well throughout the rest of his life.

More than anything else, I would like to thank you for selecting him to serve as a school ambassador and giving him the opportunity to attend Saturday classes for male students. Every day he would arrive home with tales of mad scientist experiments, fantastic fiction books and challenging math word problems that he will remember for the rest of his life. Destiny is a school with a very supportive staff that focuses on giving each student the best education possible, and your leadership provided [redacted] with just that.

We fully support DAAOE’s Charter Renewal Petition for 2016-2021.

Sincerely,

ATTENDANCE-STAFF

Faculty/Staff Workday
The workday for teachers is 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. ALL teachers are to adhere to the following:

- All staff MUST sign in by 8:00 a.m. and sign out at 4:00 p.m.
- All staff members must sign in immediately upon entering the building before reporting to class.
- All staff members must stand at the classroom door before and after class.

Leaving or arriving at any time other than the time signed in or out will be considered falsification of records. It must be remembered that the sign-in/sign-out sheet is a legal document from which payroll is computed.

In case of an emergency during the school day, the assistant principal (AP) should be contacted to arrange for someone to supervise students in the classroom. After the faculty or staff member makes arrangements for class coverage with the AP, he/she must notify the Principal and sign out in the front office.

All teachers are to be available for parent conferences, help sessions with students, and staff meetings as scheduled. Planning periods are to be used for planning only. Employees are expected to arrange doctor and dental appointments and other business matters outside of school hours. All persons who desire to leave campus must secure written approval from the principal and sign the Request to Leave Campus Form. This includes scheduled and called meetings at the local and county level, all supplemented activities, and specific duty assignments.

Daily Time Records
All employees must sign in daily to avoid being marked late. Signing in and out daily is a responsibility of each individual employee. Employees are not permitted to sign in or out for another employee. Employees are not to sign in and out at the same time. Employees must sign in upon arrival and out upon departure. Employee’s time is entered into payroll daily. If an employee does not sign in for a particular day, the bookkeeper will assume that the employee did not work and enter it into payroll as a day of absence. Any errors on these sheets may affect a future pay period and/or sick leave days accrued.

Faculty/Staff Absences
An employee who is absent four or more consecutive days must obtain a physician’s statement no later than the fourth day of absence. This statement should certify the employee’s physical disability to work and the anticipated date and/or time of physical ability to return to duty. If deemed necessary, a doctor’s statement may be requested for three days or less.
Physician’s statement shall be required for workdays missed if sick leave is granted:

1. At the beginning of the school year
2. At the end of the school year
3. Any critical day (the three days immediately before and three days immediately following holidays)

In the event that it is necessary for a teacher/employee to be absent, the following procedures must be followed:

1. If an employee becomes ill during the school day, he/she must notify the assistant principal for coverage and the principal for approval to leave. Auxiliary personnel must notify the principal and the front office.
2. If an employee needs to be absent from school, he or she must call Mrs. Simon.
3. If an absence is to continue beyond that first day, the employee must call the assistant principal by 1:00 p.m. on that day so that the same substitute (if applicable) may be secured for the following day(s) to foster continuity for the students.
4. Upon return to duty, it is the responsibility of the employee to secure and complete a Statement of Absence Form and turn it in along with any necessary doctor's statements to the bookkeeper. The form will be given to the principal for approval. Failure to turn in a required doctor’s statement will impact your pay for that pay period or the following pay period.

Excessive absences will be noted throughout the school year and on the teacher's yearly evaluation. Other measures may also be taken to assist with this situation.

Faculty/Staff Tardiness

Being punctual and ready to work upon arrival is imperative to establishing a good day. When an employee is chronically late, or does not come to work, it creates a problem for his/her colleagues. When an employee will be tardy to work, he/she should call the assistant principal to ensure that supervision can be provided for his/her class and other duties.

Employees who are late thirty (30) minutes or more will have that time deducted by the half hour. Chronic tardiness will be documented and a letter will be placed in the employee’s personnel file. Other measures may also be taken to assist with this situation. If an employee is more than 30 minutes late or leaves early, he/she must complete a Statement of Leave Form.

Statement of Leave

When an employee is absent for any reason, he/she should complete a Statement of Absence Form. If an employee wishes to request leave in advance for the following reasons: personal leave, religious leave, or bereavement outside of the family, he/she must complete a Request for Leave Form. It is the responsibility of the employee to maintain an accurate account of personal leave and/or sick leave. If an employee requests leave and it is granted or he/she is absent due to sickness, the employee must have the days accrued or the leave will cause a deduction in the employee's pay during that pay period or a future pay period. When an employee is away from campus performing school-related activities (i.e. Staff Development, In-Service
Sick/Personal Leave

All full-time personnel shall be eligible for six days of non-accumulating sick leave per year. Three days of those allotted for sick leave may be used for personal leave to conduct personal business matters (i.e. legal matters, family situations not covered under sick leave, religious holidays) which can be scheduled at a time that does not conflict with the regular work schedule and professional meetings related to school matters. In the event that an employee must be out of school for personal reasons, the employee must obtain and complete a Statement of Leave Form before personal leave can be taken. This form must be turned in to the office and signed by the principal at least 5 days before leave is taken. In the case of multiple teachers applying for personal leave on the same day(s), personal leave will be granted on a first come, first serve basis. Personal leave cannot be approved on a designated critical day. Approval for personal leave on critical days can only be granted through the Principal.

Professional Leave

Professional leave is taken when an employee is attending school-related, professional workshops, meetings, etc. In order to take professional leave, an employee must complete a Statement of Leave Form and have it approved by the principal, Dr. Maxwell, prior to taking the leave.

Leaving Campus

Any employee needing to leave campus for any reason during school hours must get written approval from the principal to sign out. An employee may do so by completing the Request to Leave Campus Form and submitting it to the principal. Before leaving the building, an employee must sign out in the Blue Book maintained in the main office. If the principal is not on campus, an employee should see the assistant principal, Mrs. Simon. Leaving without the permission of either Dr. Maxwell or Mrs. Simon will result in the employee's being docked at least a half-day, and it will be documented in the employee's personnel file. An employee must sign in and out in the Blue Book in the main office, must notify the bookkeeper when he/she returns to campus, and must indicate the time of return on the Request to Leave Campus Form.

CELL PHONE USE (STAFF AND STUDENTS)

Cellular phones should be OFF during instructional times and professional meetings (faculty, instructional, parent conferences, etc.).

Student Telephone Use

Students are not to use the telephones in the school offices at any time without direct permission from office personnel. DO NOT ALLOW STUDENTS OUT OF CLASS TO USE TELEPHONES FOR FRIVOLOUS REASONS. ALWAYS PROVIDE STUDENTS A PASS IF YOU GIVE THEM PERMISSION TO GO TO THE MAIN OFFICE.

CERTIFICATION

Each professional employee should be aware of the courses needed to keep his/her certificate current. Course work needed to satisfy certification or increment requirements can be taken through the Professional Learning Department. Courses taken should satisfy requirements of the Georgia Department of Education and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. You may check each current Professional Learning Brochure for course offerings.

It is the teacher's responsibility to monitor his/her needs regarding certification. Copies of a teacher's certificate(s) should be on file with the Principal. You may access your certificate(s) at www.gapsc.com.

Staff members should not interview and question the student. The counselor will submit a report to the social worker section of the Department of Pupil Personnel Services. All employees are required to participate in training on the Code of Ethics annually. You will find the Code of Ethics for Educators in the appendix of this handbook and on the Georgia Professional Standards website: http://www.gapsc.com/

Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence members are expected to be in the hallways, actively supervising student traffic during class changes throughout the school day.

E-MAIL - Office 365

When it comes to an employee’s professional e-mail communications, one needs to make an impression that can lend to the determination that he/she is a credible professional enterprise. The employee should be sure to use correct spelling and grammar. The teacher/staff member has only one chance to make that first impression which will be invaluable to building respect, trust, and confidence. Note: Please do not use all caps or write in red.

Remember: Office 365 cannot be used for personal e-mails. Be aware of appropriate lines of protocol. Notify the Principal for approval if you are sending an email to an administrator outside of the building.

FACULTY AND STAFF MEETINGS

As a team, communication is very important. All staff members are expected to attend meetings and make sufficient contributions. The information gained during all meetings will help teachers be more effective. Employees should place all meetings on their calendar and make the necessary plans to attend. All meeting cancellations will be communicated in a timely manner. Faculty meetings are scheduled for Thursday at 4:05 p.m.

PERSONNEL

Personnel Files

A personnel file will be maintained in the local school for each staff member. Any employee may see his/her file by asking the principal.

If during the course of the school year it becomes necessary for the administrator to take any corrective action, each staff member affected will be afforded full due process. Furthermore, each teacher has the right to see and respond to any and all documents placed in his/her personnel file pertaining to corrective action or other deficiencies.

Personnel Handbook

A Manual of Policies, Procedures, Rights and Responsibilities for Contractual Personnel will be placed in the Media Center for reference and review. This manual may also be accessed at the school's website (www.daaoe.org).

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

All staff is responsible for their professional growth. Everyone is encouraged to keep abreast of current research regarding best practices and strategies for student achievement, using data to drive instruction, and integrating technology. Other topics such as classroom management, student motivation, and parent participation should also be investigated. Professional learning is mandatory for all teachers at DAAOE Charter High School. Sessions will be planned in the form of workshops, speakers, and required book readings. Each professional learning session will be pertinent to the needs of our school and community. Employees should earn 20 hours of professional learning, and they are responsible for maintaining a log of their participation. Each PL must be verified with a signature of the presenter or the principal.

PROFESSIONAL DEMANOR

Inappropriate Contact with Students

It is a violation of school and system policy to indulge in inappropriate physical or verbal contact with students. Staff members should refrain from touching students in any manner, except interceding in an altercation or preventing a student from harming himself/herself or others. Staff members should further refrain from making comments that involve sarcasm and references to character and also those comments of a demeaning or humiliating nature. Complaints will be investigated according to the guidelines provided in DAAOE Charter High School’s Charter Petition guidelines and documented in every instance accordingly.

Personal Transportation of Students

Due to possible litigation and other inherent concerns, it is not advisable for faculty or staff members to allow students to ride in their personal vehicles. Staff members are requested to refrain from transporting students, and to be aware that they are considered personally responsible for the child/children in such instances.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual Harassment

All employees are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times and refrain from actions and comments that are, or could be constituted as, violations of local, state and federal Sexual Harassment Laws and Directives.
INSTRUCTION

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Statement of Principle: Academic dishonesty subverts the goals of DAAOE Charter High School and is detrimental to education for the following reasons:

- It disheartens and frustrates students.
- It invalidates course grades, credits, and transcripts.
- It destroys a respect for learning and its value.
- It undermines one's academic foundation.
- It reduces self-confidence and self-respect.
- It instills deceptiveness at the expense of integrity.

An important aim of every teacher should be to instill a sense of personal honesty in students by emphasizing the value of academic honesty and by refusing to tolerate academic dishonesty. Teachers may help to instill in their students a principle of honesty which they may carry far beyond high school.

Definition: Academic dishonesty's intention is to subvert evaluation of learning. Academic dishonesty may include (but is not limited to) any of the following actions:

- Giving or receiving information during a test,
- Using prohibited materials or aids during a test or for an assignment,
- Acquiring or dispensing prohibited information or materials before a test, and
- Submitting work paraphrased or copied in part or whole as if it were original work.

Responsibilities of Teachers: Teachers should take every opportunity to discourage dishonesty and to explain to students its short and long-range consequences. Not only should students be penalized for academic dishonesty, they should also understand why cheating is wrong both in school and beyond it. In discouraging academic dishonesty, teachers may find the following classroom practices valuable:

- Establishing testing rules and penalties for violations before tests,
- Walking around the room frequently during tests and standing in the rear of the room,
- Alternating forms of tests within a class or among different classes,
- Requiring use of cover sheets, and
- Setting reasonable time limits for tests.

Consequences for Dishonesty: Should a teacher observe an infraction of established testing rules or any form of academic dishonesty, any of the following approaches may be used at the teacher's discretion, as may other appropriate approaches. The most desirable approach would be instructive as well as punitive.

- Conference with the student,
- Telephone conference with parents, possibly including the student,
- Conference with the student's parents and Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence others deemed necessary, and • Reduced grade (particularly for minor infraction of testing rules) when the occurrences of an infraction have been determined.

BULLETIN BOARDS
One of the teacher’s responsibilities is to maintain bulletin boards in the classroom. A bulletin board may be used for a variety of purposes: displaying student work, serving as an activity board for students, posting rules, posting announcements, or decorating the classroom. Some suggestions for creative use of bulletin boards follow:

1. Teachers should use bulletin boards to make their classrooms standards-based.
2. Teachers should use all of the bulletin board space in the classroom.
3. Teachers should strive to create bulletin boards that spark students’ interest.
4. Bulletin boards should be used to aid in instruction. Teachers should determine which materials will be needed for a unit of study and decide how to incorporate the bulletin boards in that unit.
5. Bulletin boards are a good place to post reminders or frequently used concepts such as rules, steps for beginning a lesson, or a schedule of activities.
6. Teachers should use students to help create the bulletin board with supervision. The purpose of this, as with all bulletin boards, is to make it meaningful for the students.
7. When taking down the bulletin board, store the materials in a safe box or bin to re-use if possible.
8. Bulletin boards must be changed every nine weeks by each teacher with a classroom on the hallway.

CLASSROOM OBSERVATIONS
Informal Classroom Observations
As part of the continuing program of improving instruction, administrators will make regular unannounced informal observations at any time during the school year.

Classroom Observations
Each administrator has been given, as a number one priority, the function of assisting and supervising classroom teachers for the purpose of improving instruction. Each teacher will be evaluated using the TKES Evaluation Program.
All aspects of the evaluation process and results are confidential and are to be shared only with the appropriate personnel.

CLASSROOM POSTINGS
The following items should be posted in all classrooms:

• Syllabus (outside of classroom door)
• Daily Schedule (outside of the classroom door)
• Lesson Plans (In folder on wall nearest entrance door)
• Class Discipline Plan
• Fire Drill/Tornado Drill Maps
• School’s Mission Statement
• School’s Creed

The following Standard Based Classroom elements should also be visible in the room:
CONFERENCES

Parent Conference Documentation/Parent Communication Log

Each teacher is required to keep a notebook to be used for documenting all parent communication (i.e. letters, e-mails to and from parents, actual phone contacts, conferences, etc.). Each teacher is to keep a communication log of individual communications they make to parents. Employees must keep this documentation of parental contacts handy so that administrators can have access to it.

Expectations

Parent-Teacher conferences are the most effective means of communication. The parent, teacher, counselor, or administrator may initiate conferences. The teacher should initiate a parent conference at a time when there is an academic or behavioral problem. The conference should explain the reason of difficulties and cooperatively develop a plan for remediation to enhance the probability for success. Conferences are normally scheduled in the afternoons. DO NOT SCHEDULE CONFERENCES ON FACULTY MEETING DAYS OR DURING INSTRUCTIONAL TIMES. Teachers are to keep track of all conference/phone calls for documentation purposes on the Documentation Log. Please submit the Documentation Log at the end of the grading period to the AP. There are four (4) mandatory parent conference evenings scheduled during the school year. It is the teacher’s responsibility to make every effort possible to get any parents of struggling students to attend.

Curriculum Night(s)

September 19, 2015
6:00 - 8:00 p.m.

All teachers must attend.

Parent-Teacher Conference Dates

Conferences are scheduled for the following dates:

September 17, 2015
November 26, 2015
February 13, 2016
April 29, 2016

Time for Conferences: 4:30 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Conferences are fifteen (15) minutes in durations. Parents will be informed of the exact dates via newsletters, announcements, the marquee, telephone calls, and telephone system. Parents will call the school to schedule conferences for these evenings. Teachers should call the parents of students who are performing below the level of proficiency and schedule conferences as well. Teachers should fill in the times on the conference log early so that there are no conflicts.
Tips to Teachers for Effective Conferences

1. Be on time for the conference. Introduce yourself and say what subject you teach.
2. Hear the opinions and statements of the parent completely. Do not interrupt the parent regardless of what is said.
3. After hearing the parent, make your statement in a very positive manner. Be truthful, firm, and forceful, but be polite. If the student's behavior is a problem, say so.
4. Be very positive. Always state your willingness to work with the student and to offer extra help.
5. Never mention students other than the one the conference concerns.
6. Never mention the student's performance in another class.
7. Ask the student for his opinion and feelings if he is present in the conference.
8. Be prepared to offer suggestions as to how the student may improve in your class.
9. Seek ways to compromise with the parent and student without giving in to unreasonable demands.
10. Be certain the position you take is supportable. If you are not certain, check with the appropriate administrator in advance.
11. When you return a call to a parent or have a conference, be certain to have your grade book handy and be prepared to discuss grades in detail. If make-up work is involved, give a specific due date.
12. If you need assistance or support, ask a counselor or administrator to join you in the conference.
13. Do not inform the parent that the student is improperly placed. If this is your opinion, notify the counselor as early as possible.
14. Do not state that the student cannot pass the course unless you are holding an end of semester conference.

COUNSELOR

The function of counselor is to assist the students, their parents, and the faculty in every way possible. This includes providing counseling, testing, and educational information. The staff shall provide adequate files of information. Students, parents, and faculty have access to excellent guidance resources in the counseling office.

Placement

The counselors will meet with students in planning their program of studies. Subject teachers will recommend placement. The teacher will consult the counselor if he/she desires additional information relative to qualifications or limitations of the student. The counselor will make assignments to classes.

All student information should be confidential and used only in professional and ethical ways. Law mandates legal rights to privacy and due process.

The following are several important areas for special consideration:
Annual advisement is a vital part of the overall instruction program. Provision will be made for each student to be advised by the counselor. Teachers will be notified of the advisement procedures. Please make every effort to permit students to keep the scheduled advisement times with counselors.

Teacher Referrals
When the teacher is aware that a student is having difficulty with academics and/or behavior, the teacher should begin employing intervention strategies. The teacher must check periodically to see if the interventions have led to improvements. All interventions put in place, along with the student’s progress or lack of progress, must be documented. If the student continues to have difficulties, then the teacher must refer the student to the Student Support Team (SST) with proper documentation. Upon review of the documentation, the SST committee will schedule a meeting with the teacher, the parents, and the student.

If a teacher becomes aware of a student who has unusual needs in school, the teacher will speak with the assigned counselor concerning the student. Unusual health problems, a death in the student’s family, and other similar concerns should be reported to the counselor for appropriate action or referral. If a school staff member has cause to believe that a student is contemplating suicide or is exhibiting suicidal tendencies, they will immediately report the information to the student’s counselor. The counselor will notify the Principal and the appropriate authorities. It is essential that discretion and confidentiality be maintained in all instances of this nature.

Homework Requests
The assistant principal will ask for homework assignments from teachers for students absent more than three days when requested by parents. The assignments will be due to the respective office by 4:00 p.m. the following day. It is important for these assignment requests to be honored and submitted on time.

Schedule Changes
Schedules may be changed for the following reasons only:

a. Summer school attendance
b. Clerical or administrative errors
c. Level of difficulty problems with the appropriate documentation
d. Failures

No other changes will be approved. Only the assistant principal and the principal will make schedule changes.

CO-TEACHING
Co-taught classes consist of two teachers (1 Regular Ed. Teacher & 1 Exceptional Ed. Teacher) within one class. Both teachers are considered the professional educator within the classroom. It is expected that both teachers share instructional and non-instructional responsibilities from bell-to-bell. The co-teacher should have duties and teaching assignments that are non-introductory. Non-introductory teaching responsibilities may include sponge activities, reviews, warm ups, etc.

The co-taught classroom should utilize rigorous small group instruction models on a daily basis. Three approaches of small group instruction include:
1. Parallel Grouping
   - The class is divided in half, reducing the teacher/pupil ratio.
   - Both teachers are providing instruction; one teacher may be providing review information while the other teacher moves the other half of the class forward with the lesson.
   - Two types of instruction are taking place.

2. Station Grouping
   - The class will be placed in small groups of 3 or more students each.
   - Both teachers circulate the room for instruction and monitoring.
   - Station tasks may include: different concepts and a round-robin approach games, or steps/stages to 1 unit (i.e., Group. 1- Development of writing,
     Group 2- Development of a paragraph/sentence, & Group. 3 - Remediation/Review).

3. Alternative Grouping
   - The teachers teach different strategies to comprehending the same concept.
   - There are both small and large group divisions.
   - Small grouping should not be exclusively special education students. This can be the case on some occasions. However, the grouping should consist of students with “like” needs.
   - This approach allows students who were absent to catch up to the rest of the class quickly. It can also be used to assist students who are struggling with a part of the lesson.

Co-teachers must rely on each other to make the teaching and learning experience within the co-taught classroom a success. The success of the co-taught classroom also depends on the co-teachers' taking time each week to work on lesson plans and teaching strategies for their co-taught classes. Whatever the lesson planned or the small group approach used, the co-taught classroom must consist of a rigorous instructional plan that allows all students the chance for academic success.

DAILY SCHEDULE

A copy of the daily schedule must be posted outside the entrance of the classroom. Daily schedules must reflect when and what the teacher is teaching throughout the period and must be written on the board. If a teacher moves his or her class to any location other than his or her assigned classroom, he or she must notify the front office and post a typed note on the classroom door.

DEFICIENCY REPORTS

Teacher Failure Lists

The teacher will provide any students failing his/her course a detailed plan for remediation. This plan will address low transfer grades, missing assignments due to absenteeism, need for basic skills tutoring, and any other academic...
Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence issues the student has. The teacher will provide a timeline for the plan, as well as documentation of parental involvement in the process. Teachers should use the form provided and attach any necessary documentation or instructions. A copy should be given to the parent, and a copy kept in the school's student file.

If a student is in danger of failing a class the teacher must issue a deficiency notice that includes a remediation plan. The teacher must also have at least two documented phone conversations or conferences to the parent/guardian regarding the student's failure status and remediation plan. Teachers must develop a list of students who are failing their classes and submit the list to the counselor and Assistant Principal.

Each teacher will need to submit a failure log at the end of each grading period to the counseling department and the Principal. In addition to the log, teachers must submit all documentation of remediation plans along with strategies for success used and the results for the students who receive a failing grade.

Failure lists will be reviewed by the counselor/AP to determine appropriate actions to take to provide the teacher support in helping the student remediate the failure. This may include a referral to the social work department for issues such as chronic absences or providing students with individual counseling to address social problems.

Teachers will assist in reduction of absenteeism by continuing to make phone calls home to students who are absent. Teachers will discuss the importance of school and attending class each day. Teachers must maintain a documentation log.

Teachers will implement a program of tutoring. They will facilitate this through a model of cooperative learning and monitor progress. Teachers will develop a plan to remediate students with deficiencies using differentiated instructional strategies, as well as using multiple intelligence strategies.

Teachers will help resolve failing transfer grades by giving the students the opportunity to make up low grades by providing make-up work for the student to complete. Teachers will document the receipt of the make-up work and will notify the parent of the work that was issued and the due date(s) given. After-school tutoring will be re-emphasized for students who are failing and/or may need additional help.

- No student may be given an “F” in a subject if a Deficiency Report/Plan of Remediation has not been sent to the parents and returned with the appropriate signatures.

EVALUATION

TKES Evaluation

EFFECTIVE INSTRUCTION CHECKLIST

- Inform students of what the objective of the lesson is for the class period by stating it.
- State the objective of the lesson.
- Write the objective on the board/overhead/flipchart, etc.

FIELD TRIP PROCEDURES/GUIDELINES

Field Trips will be minimized. Only necessary field trips will occur before Spring Break. All field trips must include the Georgia Professional Standard included in the lesson plans and must be instructionally sound. All field trip request forms should be completed and returned to the AP.

1. All field trip requests should follow the activity book guidelines found in the forms section. Use the form for field trips, Activity/Field Trip Request Form. This form can be secured from the front office secretary.

2. When this form is completed and signed by the designees, it is to be submitted for the principal’s signature.

3. The form will then be sent to the Board of Directors for approval.

4. When forms are returned, either approved or not, the teacher will be notified.

   Teachers must NOT send permission forms, or make any preparations for the trip until the above procedure has been completed and notification given.

   NOTE: We do not charge fees to any student or parent. Donations are accepted on a voluntary basis; however, no student is penalized in any way. The school must pay the cost for students who have not contributed so that they are not denied participation.

5. If you have a trip canceled due to weather, illness, etc., be certain to attach a note to the bus requisition noting "Canceled" and return it immediately to the field trip office. If this is not done in time, the teacher is responsible for payment to the driver.

6. A legible list of students going on the trip must be placed in the teachers’ boxes or sent via email. A copy of this list must be given to the assistant principal for student accounting. This must be done 24 hours before the trip.
7. Never plan your departure during a class period. Make every effort to time your return to coincide with the end of a period. Returning field trip students should not be in the halls during a class period. If returning during class time, they should remain in the cafeteria until the bell sounds. Attendance is to be taken prior to departure of the bus. The teacher will send the names of all students who are not present at departure time to the attendance office.

8. As soon as a trip is completed, have the bus requisition signed and take it to the bookkeeper no later than the next day to determine the cost. The bookkeeper will attach the check and send it to Transportation. Under no circumstances are you to throw a bus requisition away. (Check to make sure the bus driver's social security number is on this form.)

9. The last date for field trips is April 14, 2015. See the AP to confirm this date.

GEORGIA PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

Curriculum

As required by the Quality Basic Education Act of 1985, Georgia must maintain a curriculum that specifies what students are expected to know in each subject and grade. Additionally, the state’s standardized tests, the Georgia High School Graduation Test (GHSGT) for Grade 11 and the End of Course (EOC) must be aligned with that curriculum.

The state’s curriculum is a guideline for instruction that helps teachers, students, and parents know what topics must be covered and mastered for a particular course. The curriculum establishes the minimum standards, and does not prohibit systems, schools, or teachers from adding material to it. Some systems may have curricula of their own, but they must include everything that the state requires.

The revised and strengthened curriculum will drive both instruction and assessment in Georgia’s schools, providing guidelines for teachers, students, and test makers. We will now teach to a curriculum, not to a test or a textbook. Our statewide assessments will be aligned with the Georgia Performance Standards, taking the guesswork out of Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence teaching and providing guidelines for our schools, students, and test makers—and those standards will be based on best practices that have proven to be effective in high-performing states and nations.

Requirements
Systems are required to cover, at a minimum, the material in the state curriculum, but they are free to supplement it with additional topics they expect teachers to cover. Students will be tested on their mastery of this material through the state’s standardized tests.

The state curriculum is the minimum of what teachers should teach and what students should know. The Georgia Department of Education encourages teachers, however, to incorporate extra activities and projects that will stimulate critical thinking and in-depth learning on the part of their students.

GRADING

Recording and Reporting Student Progress
Student progress and attendance shall be maintained electronically in order to provide consistent, accurate, and effective recording and reporting of this student data. Teachers will use eSIS to record student progress and attendance daily. Teachers may also access eSIS from home by going to the website, and following the installation directions. The web address for home is: https://gradebook.dekalb.k12.ga.us/production/smartweb/smartweb.html

Electronic recording of student data will facilitate the automatic flow of information for the purpose of providing all necessary student progress reports, including official DeKalb School District mid-semester progress reports and report cards through the Department of Student Accounting. Electronic recording will also facilitate access to student progress information for students, parents, or guardians via the Internet.

Progress reports are to be issued at the four and a half and thirteen and a half weeks grading periods for students at DAAOE Charter High School. It is mandatory that all teachers to update their grade postings at each grading period by 12:00 p.m. on the day requested.

It is critical that every teacher posts accurate grades for each marking period. The counseling staff and administrators frequently pull grades from the Infinite Campus program during conferences with students, parents and probation officers. Incomplete or inaccurate grades render the program ineffective and may be detrimental to the student.
During weeks where an official progress report is not issued, teachers should print a grade report from Infinite Campus with a parental signature line on it. Students should take this home and have a parent sign and return the form. Teachers will then file these documents and turn them in to the counseling department and the principal along with their final gradebooks.

Progress Reports with Remedia­tion Plan

Each teacher will be required to issue a 4.5-week and 13.5-week remediation plan to all students in danger of failing. A parent-teacher conference should be scheduled to go over the plan of remediation with the student and parent and to acquire signatures from both the student and the parent. If a conference cannot be scheduled, every effort should be made to contact the parents by phone to be certain they are aware of the student’s performance in class. When a student fails a class, the failure should not be a surprise to the parents/guardians when the report cards are issued. Students are not to receive a failing grade unless you have secured a Deficiency/Plan of Remediation signed by the student and/or parent/guardian. There should be documentation of all telephone calls to parents. Any student, whose grade drops ten points or a letter grade in one grading period, should be given a plan of remediation and the parent/guardian should be contacted. This will alleviate any surprises when progress reports are issued. In addition, students shall receive a current print-out of their grades every 4.5 weeks in order to keep the students abreast of their performance in class. The assistant principal will complete random checks for updated grade books throughout the year.

Deficiency Reports

Deficiency reports are to be given at any time the student becomes in danger of failing a class. Even though they are included in the Progress Reports, notification to parents of this danger at any time is appropriate without waiting for a scheduled progress report. There should be documentation of telephone calls to the parents along with the parent/guardian’s signature on the Deficiency/Plan of Remediation. All deficiencies must be listed on the failure list and submitted to the assistant principal for each student who failed a class.

Teacher Failure Lists after Each Progress Report

The teacher will provide students failing the course a detailed plan for remediation. This plan will address low transfer grades, missing assignments due to absenteeism, need for basic skills tutoring, and any other academic issues the student has. The teacher will provide a timeline for the plan as well as documentation of parental involvement in the process. Teachers should use the form provided and attach any necessary documentation or instructions. A copy should be given to the parent, and a copy should be kept in the student’s file.

If a student is in danger of failing a class the teacher must issue a deficiency notice that includes a remediation plan. The teacher must also have at least two documented phone conversations or conferences to the parent/guardian regarding the student’s failure status and remediation plan. Teachers must develop a list of students who are failing their class and submit the list to the counselor and assistant principal.

Each teacher will need to submit a copy of failure log at the end of each grading period to the counselor and the principal. In addition to the log, each teacher must submit all documentation of remediation plans used, the Parent Contact Documentation Log and the results for the students who receive a failing grade.

Failure lists will be reviewed by the counselor to determine appropriate actions to take to provide the teacher support in helping the student remediate the failure. This may include a referral to the social work department for issues such as chronic absences, or providing students with individual counseling to address social problems. Teachers will assist in reduction of absenteeism by continuing to make phone calls home to students who are absent.

Teachers will implement a program of tutoring. They will facilitate this through a model of cooperative learning and monitor progress. Teachers will develop a plan to remediate student deficiencies using differentiated instructional strategies as well as using multiple intelligence strategies.

* No student may be given an “F” in a subject if a Deficiency Report/Plan of Remediation has not been sent to the parents and returned with the appropriate signatures.

Final Exams
Final exams are mandatory for all ninth through eleventh grade students and these students are not allowed to be exempt from them. At the end of the school year, teachers must leave copies and keys to the final exams for any students who did not take final exams due to legal absences. A staff member will administer the exams during the summer, and a grade will be awarded based on the instructions left by the teacher.

Incomplete Grades
Incomplete grades may be awarded in special cases, but the grade must be changed to a numerical grade within 10 calendar days of the next semester. Teachers must speak with the principal before awarding an incomplete grade.

Textbooks
Textbooks allocated to a teacher for instructional purposes are the teacher’s responsibility. The teacher shall conduct regular checks of the textbooks to ensure that they are not abused or lost. When textbooks are damaged/lost/stolen, the teacher should inform the registrar and take the necessary steps to replace or collect a fine for the textbook. All textbooks not issued must be secured so that they can be accounted for at the end of the semester.

Cheating
Cheating on a test, quiz, or assignment is considered by the school to be a serious breach of conduct. The student should be penalized with a zero (which cannot be made up) for the work, with notification to the parents/guardians of the reason for the action. Discussion of the incident with the assistant principal is required before the parent is notified. Teachers are encouraged to clearly define to students what actions constitute cheating. A statement concerning cheating should be included on the course syllabus. The following actions are considered to be cheating:
1. Receiving/Using unauthorized materials on a test.
2. Knowingly giving information during a test administration.
3. The passing of definite questions or answers to someone who has not taken the test.
4. The turning in of work for credit that is not one’s own, plagiarism.

Conduct Grades
Each student is graded on his/her conduct, which is defined as behavior toward teachers, students, and others. The letters S, N, and U are used to signify satisfactory, needs improvement and unsatisfactory, respectively. Conduct grades are recorded on the grade collection document at the end of the semester and on all progress reports throughout the year. Conduct never directly affects the academic grade a student earns in the class. Before a conduct grade of "N" or "U" is assigned, contact with the parent regarding the student’s conduct must have been made and documented. Parents should never be surprised with their child’s conduct rating in a class. Discipline referrals for inappropriate classroom conduct to the administrator should have been made and documented also.

Grade Change Policy
Once a grade has been submitted, the teacher may change grades with the proper documentation and permission of the principal. After a review with the principal, grade changes will be considered within two (2) weeks of the date the grade was reported.

Grade Rebuttal Policy
In order to ensure students share and discuss report grades with parents in a timely manner, the following policy is being established:

Parents and/or students must file a discrepancy of grade appeal form within seven school days from the first day of school. Only grades from that marking period will be considered.

The process will be as follows: The Principal or designee will review the discrepancy of grade form. This information will then be communicated to the teacher. The teacher will prepare student record of grades for the time period in question and submit all documentation to administration. Administration will review teacher documentation with teacher and parents, and a decision will be determined.

Grading Scale
A report card shall be prepared for each student each semester of the school year with the progress in each course designated. Students in grades 9 -12 will have grades displayed numerically. The grading scale for DeKalb County School District is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>90 - 100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>80 - 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>71 - 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>Below 70</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Conduct
No "U" will be given unless the teacher has (1) had at least one conference with the parent and (2) had at least one conference with an administrator. The rationale is that a parent cannot correct what he/she does not know and that administration should be involved in trying to correct the situation if it is serious.

Conduct grades of "N" and "U" should not be a surprise to a student or his parents. These grades should be documented by referrals to the assistant principal and by conferences with students, parents, and/or counselors.

GUEST SPEAKERS

All guest speakers are to be approved by the Principal at least two weeks in advance. Receive approval before you contact and schedule the speaker. It is recognized that guest speakers can be valuable assets to classroom instruction. A teacher who utilizes a guest speaker should:

1. Indicate in their lesson plans how the speaker’s message is pertinent to state objectives.
2. Have heard the person speak or reviewed transcripts of a speech/lecture by the speaker.
3. Be fully aware of that person’s qualifications, including attitude and philosophy, as they pertain to that person’s area of interest.
4. Contact the person well in advance of his appearance date.
5. Make arrangements to have the speaker met when he enters the building so that he/she immediately feels welcome.
6. Be fully aware of what the speaker will discuss.

HONORS

Governor's Honor Program

This program is designed to give students an opportunity to interview and participate in a summer program sponsored by the Georgia Department of Education. Students are nominated on a local level and must compete on a county level. Students may compete in communicative arts, science, social studies, dance & theatre, agriscience/biotechnology, technology/career education, and visual arts. Official transcripts and PSAT/SAT scores are required for this program.

INSTRUCTION

Progress Reports/Deficiencies/Conferences

Progress reports, deficiencies, and conferences are three ways to keep parents informed of their child’s progress in class.

Deficiencies offer a plan of redemption. There sometimes seems to be some confusion concerning objectives and tasks to be described on deficiencies. The objectives and tasks written on the deficiency must be clear and precise so that the parent(s) can implement a plan of action. Objectives should express broad areas such as "The student will be able to pass tests." The tasks are actions the student might take in order that he/she might reach the objective. Examples might be "Take better notes," or "Come by after school for help." Another example of an objective would be "The student will study effectively." Tasks for this objective would be "The student should review his notes on Tuesday nights (Social studies tests are on Wednesday,) and "The student should re-read chapter assignments." Task statements should be activities that parents can monitor.

Teachers must be sure that deficiencies with plans for remediation are given to those students in their classes who are in danger of failing (75 or below) or students who are doing unsatisfactory work. Be sure the student signs the signature sheet. You may secure copies of these forms from the AP.

Parents who desire conferences with teachers should call the Counselor. A Parent Teacher Conference night is normally scheduled for the week after progress reports are issued.

Each student is encouraged to work closely with a counselor. The Counselor is available from 8:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. daily. A student must have a hall pass to come to the Counselor.
Copies of Deficiency Reports will be collected by the teacher.

INSTRUCTION REPRODUCTION

Faculty members should continue to plan so that they can copy materials before the day needed. The machine serves the entire school: administrators, faculty, staff, clubs/organizations, etc. Teachers may use the machine when it is available before school, after school, and during their planning periods.

• The copier room is open for use during the school hours 7:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m.
• Teachers must NOT send students to use the copier or the cutter under any circumstances.
• Personal items and items in violation of copyright laws are not to be run. Everyone is on his/her honor to use the machine for school-related, school-approved purposes.
• If there is a problem with the machine while you are using it (paper jam or out of paper), please notify one of the key operators. Do not leave the problem for the next user to solve.
• Please remain cognizant that paper is not an unlimited commodity. Everyone must do his/her share to conserve paper. Run copies on the front and back.
• Keep the copier area clean. There is no one available to clean up all of the excess papers. Discard them as you leave the area.

Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

- Technology Usage Activities
- Content Area Reading/Writing Activities
- Library or Video Usage Activities
- Homework Assignment Activities
- Other Comments or Adjustments

Administration will provide feedback on lesson plans.

PARENTS IN CLASSROOMS

The DAAOE encourages parent participation and involvement. To maintain an optimal learning environment, parents should arrange classroom visits with the assistant principal in order to avoid testing days, field trips, or other similar pre-planned group activity. This should be done at least 24 hours in advance of the visit. Parents are asked to arrive at the school fifteen minutes prior to the beginning of the class to be visited. To assure safety of all students, parents are requested to sign in at the main office upon arrival at school and receive a visitor's pass. While visiting in the classroom, parents should avoid activity which would distract students, such as walking about the room, talking to the teacher during the class, or talking with students. The rights of all students to privacy and to a proper learning environment must be strictly observed.

PARTIES

Parties are not permitted during the instructional day. There are no exceptions!

REPORT CARDS

Report cards will be issued four times during the year: the 9th week and the 18th week of each semester. The first three report cards are given to the students in homeroom. The fourth report card will be mailed to parents. Report cards should reflect Carnegie Units earned in seven (7) classes.

SCHEDULE CHANGES

Students may request schedule changes by the fifth (5th) day of school for the following reasons only:

- To correct an administrative or clerical error
- To make adjustments for failing grades
- To make adjustments for courses made up in summer school
- To add a course needed to meet graduation requirements

It is extremely important that we register all new students during the first week of school. Therefore, schedule change requests will be evaluated and processed for core area changes only in the following order:
Schedule changes will not be made allowing a student to change from one teacher to another or from one period to another for the same course. Schedule changes will not be made to change a student from his/her chosen elective to another elective during the school year.

Schedule changes will be allowed for the following reasons only:

- Summer School Credit Received
- Credit received for a class in the past

After the request for a schedule change has been submitted, students will be informed to continue attending class, completing assignments, and participating in class activities until he or she receives an official print out of his/her new schedule if it has been approved. Students whose requests are denied will be notified at the time schedules are given to all students.

All teachers will receive updated class lists the first three Fridays of each Semester. Teachers are not allowed to change schedules, add students to rolls, or delete students from rolls. This is the responsibility of the AP or the counselor. It is imperative that all students are assigned to a class each period.

SUBSTITUTES

Substitute Folders
Each teacher will maintain an up-to-date substitute folder which will include the following information:

1. Teacher’s name, buddy teacher, duty assignments, and helpful students in each classroom.
2. School Schedule and Lunch Schedule
3. Course Syllabus (or syllabi)
4. Class Rosters (computer-generated printouts) - Update periodically when changes are made.
5. Seating Charts
6. Duty Roster
7. Fire Drill Procedures and Fire Evacuation Plan
8. Intruder Alert
9. Tornado Drill
10. Classroom procedures
11. Administrator’s names

The Sub Folder must be submitted to the AP by the end of the first week of school each semester.

Emergency Substitute Lesson Plans

A five-day lesson plan for emergency use only is to be placed on file in the office of the assistant principal at the beginning of the year and updated each semester as necessary. In addition to instructional activities, this plan should include the emergency preparedness procedures. See the Substitute Folder information above for all other items that must be included in the Emergency Substitute Lesson Plan Folder.

TEXTBOOKS

Textbook Issuance
Teachers are responsible for issuing textbooks, conducting random/frequent book checks, and collecting textbooks at the end of the semester. Money for lost textbooks will be collected by the registrar. If students lose textbooks, the teacher should contact the parents and advise them of the book’s price and the payment options (cash or money order only). The teachers should stress to the students the importance of keeping up with their books at all times.
Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

A. Textbooks will be issued at the beginning of each semester and collected at the end of that semester.

B. Each student who receives a textbook must sign for his/her textbook after the teacher has scanned it into the computer database. Teachers are responsible for indicating the book number (found on the inside cover of the book) and for ensuring that all information is complete and correct.

C. Teachers should write the student’s name, the teacher’s name and the semester/year inside the book’s cover. Books cannot be returned expeditiously if the information is not legible.

D. Teachers should retain possession of student signature list until the end of the semester. Students are responsible for returning their textbooks in the cases of schedule change or school withdrawal.

Textbook Return
All teachers must take up all textbooks at the end of each semester, as students may or may not return to the same class/teacher for the new semester.

A. When a student returns the textbook that was issued to him/her at the beginning of the semester, he/she will be checked out electronically.

B. If a student does not return the textbook, the teacher should submit the electronic copy and hard copy of the student’s name and textbook number under the LOST category. Teachers should also keep a running list of students who did not return textbooks, so that another book of the same title is not issued to them the next semester.

C. Students who owe for textbooks must make payment to the Registrar in order to clear their records. At no time should teachers accept money from students for textbooks.

D. The student may make payment in the form of cash or money order only. No checks will be accepted by the school for any reason.

E. Per DeKalb County School District’s Board Policy, students who do not make restitution for lost textbooks will not be issued a textbook of the same title.

Registrar’s Textbook Procedures
The accountability for textbooks and resource materials will be facilitated by the registrar. All requests for additional materials should be given to the AP, who will work with the registrar to determine if enrollment necessitates the ordering of additional materials. At the end of each semester, the registrar will take a complete inventory of all textbooks and materials, and the registrar will submit a detailed list of textbook and material losses to the AP.

See also DCSD Policy---Textbooks.

VIDEO GUIDELINE
Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

A teacher should only show videos that are cataloged in his/her subject area. Copyright laws must be followed when showing videos to classes. At all times, the videos shown must be instructionally valid to the content currently being taught as evidenced by the teacher's lesson plans. The videos may not be used for entertainment, rewards, fundraisers, or time fillers. The use of all audiovisual materials must be for instructional purposes. This includes the showing of full-length films and videos used in the classroom. Film/videos used during instructional time should be those that students would not typically view on their own. (Example: Popular films which most students have seen or are likely to see on their own should not be shown in class.)

As a teacher plans the use of a video in his/her instruction, the teacher should consider the language, the violence, and the social and/or historical accuracy to determine if the video truly appropriate. Approval from the Principal is REQUIRED before showing any video not ordered from the Learning Resource Center.

During instructional time, films/videos may not be used as rewards, fillers, or entertainment. Films/videos used for these purposes should be shown outside the school hours. Films/videos may be used instructionally, however, as a supplement to the content taught during a lesson/unit or for enrichment at the conclusion of the lesson/unit, provided there are valid instructional objectives for use of the film/video.

The use of videos, DVD’s, and all films must be pre-approved by the principal or the AP. This request form may be obtained from the AP and must be filled out completely and submitted for approval at least 7 to 10 days prior to the day the teacher wishes to show the film, video or DVD. If any objectionable material/language, violence, or adult situations are present in the film, video or DVD, the teacher must personally discuss the nature of the material with an administrator and may be required to send a viewing permission slip home for a parent or guardian’s signature.

WEBSITES

Each teacher is required to create an instructional webpage. (Details will be given to you.)

The Zero Is Not an Option Policy gives students an opportunity to re-do substandard work and to improve low grades.

Retests:

- Students will have an opportunity to retest.
- Students must attend a remediation session and must retest within a week of receiving a low grade.

III SAFETY AND ORDER

ABSENCES - STUDENT

Student Attendance Policy and Procedures
All classroom teachers are to record absences and tardies for students on their class roll for each class session. If a teacher is absent, he/she must check when he/she returns to insure that class attendance is recorded. If the class does not meet during its scheduled time, the teacher will receive directions from the AP on how to mark the attendance for the class period. If a student is absent for three or more consecutive school days, the teacher is to contact the parents. To view the Board Policy on student attendance, refer to pages 15 and 16 of the DeKalb County School District Code of Student Conduct, Student Rights and Responsibilities, and Character Development Handbook, 2015-2016 (Middle School and High School Edition).

Attendance Policy
Attendance at school is essential to the learning process. Students are expected to attend school for the entire day. Students are expected to be on time to each scheduled class and homeroom. If a student is on campus, but not in class during school, the student is considered to be TRUANT and his/her parent/guardian will be called. Absences, according to Georgia State School Law, must be recorded as either EXCUSED OR UNEXCUSED.

Excused absences are defined as:
1. Personal illness or medical appointment
2. Death in immediate family
3. Religious holiday
4. When attendance could be hazardous as determined by the DeKalb School District
5. Service as a Page for the General Assembly
6. Suspension
7. Court subpoena

NOTE: For seniors, the days missed for testing, school sponsored field trips, religious holidays, and guidance activities will not count against the days for final exam exemption.

Absences
The following process will be used for all absences:
On the first day of attendance after an absence, the student must bring a written excuse from a parent/guardian stating the specific reason for the absence. The excuse must be presented to the homeroom teacher. The parental excuse must show:
1. Date
2. Full name of the student
3. Date(s) of absence
4. Parent/guardian signature and telephone number
5. Reason for absence

Students with no excuse for an absence will be counted as having an unexcused absence. Unexcused absences due to truancy or class cutting will result in disciplinary action. In addition, students will be given a zero for all work missed.

Plan of Action for Unexcused Absences:
1. Students missing three (3) unexcused days will receive the first warning letter.
Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

Teachers are required to call parents/guardians.

2. Students missing five (5) unexcused days will receive a letter from the attendance office, will be placed on an attendance contract, and will be referred to the counselor/social worker.

3. Students missing ten (10) or more unexcused days will receive an attendance certificate of non-compliance and will be referred to the social worker and possibly withdrawn.

Tardiness

Students who arrive at school after the beginning of first period are considered tardy. A tardy student should have a note from a parent/guardian stating the reason for his or her being late. Tardies are excused on the same basis as absences. Excessive tardiness will result in disciplinary action.

Plan of Action for Tardies:

1. Students will be given a teacher warning for the first two tardies. Student should be required to sign classroom tardy log.

2. On the 3rd and 4th tardies, the teacher should assign a detention and contact the parent.

3. Students earning 5-7 tardies will be assigned Administrative Detention. Teachers should provide documentation of prior intervention and submit to the Attendance Office.

4. Students earning seven to nine (7-9) unexcused tardies per semester will be assigned Administrative Evening School, will be denied Driver's License Attendance Forms for the semester, and will be placed on an Attendance Contract for one semester. Seniors will not be eligible for final exam exempt status. Furthermore, these students will be referred to the counselor and social worker. Students that elect not to attend Administrative Evening School when assigned will be suspended.

5. Students earning ten (10) unexcused tardies per semester will be assigned Administrative Evening School and will be denied Driver's License Attendance Forms for the school year. Also, junior and senior students will be denied driving privileges for the year. Seniors will not be eligible for final exam exempt status. Furthermore, these students will be referred to the counselor and social worker. Students that elect not to attend administrative Evening School when assigned will be suspended.

6. Students earning more than ten (10) unexcused tardies per semester will be withdrawn and/or referred to the social worker.

Returned Mail

A letter not returned by mail to the school will be assumed received by the parents. If mail is returned, the AP or the registrar will contact the student and/or parent and require current proof of residency (electric or gas bill) before mail is released or before the student is allowed to attend classes at DAAOE.

APPLIANCES

According to the Fire Marshall code, appliances are NOT permitted in classrooms. This includes coffee pots, microwaves, refrigerators, portable heaters, hot plates, etc. However, microwaves, coffee pots, and refrigerators are permitted in the faculty lounge (see the business manager for details).

BADGES

Every DAAOE employee is required to have a DCSD identification badge. Badges must be worn at all times. An employee who has lost his or her badge should notify the secretary immediately.

CAFETERIA PROCEDURES

Over fifty (50) students eat in the cafeteria at one time. The following are the cafeteria expectations:

- All students MUST REMOVE TRAYS AND OTHER TRASH FROM TABLES.
- All students must remain in their seats throughout the lunch period.
- All students must follow directions of adults on duty.
- All students must enter the cafeteria in an orderly manner.
- At the end of lunch, teachers are to be at their doors to clear the hallways and begin instruction promptly.

CLASSROOM CLEANLINESS

Responsibilities

A definite relationship exists between instruction and good housekeeping. A room properly cared for gives the impression of orderliness and efficiency together with the feeling that the teacher wants to present his subject in the best possible environment.

At the end of each class and prior to dismissal of the students, all paper and extraneous matter should be picked up and placed in the trashcan. This can make a great difference in the attitudes and sense of responsibility of most of the students.

Floating teachers are expected to leave each room in a neat and orderly condition. At the end of the day, the last teacher to use a particular room should see that all paper is picked up and the door is locked securely.

Reminders: Custodians will be responsible for routine cleaning of the floors, as well as maintenance of lighting, ceiling tiles, and touch-up painting as needed. In the event of an emergency, please contact the front office for custodial needs.

The classroom teacher is responsible for making sure that the room is kept neat and clean. In addition, all bulletin boards should be neat, content related, attractive and changed with the change in units of study.

Student work should be posted, current, and relevant.

CONFISCATING ITEMS

The teacher may confiscate a prohibited item from a student. However, if the student is uncooperative, the teacher should avoid a confrontation with the student and seek administrative assistance. If a teacher confiscates an item from a student, that teacher becomes liable for the property taken from the student. It is recommended that the item be given to an administrator as soon as possible. Items are then secured, labeled, and released at the discretion of the Principal. The

The student must be given one day's notice to arrange transportation home or the teacher may contact the parents to notify them of the detention in advance. Remember to let the parent know what time to pick up the student so that he/she can exit the school campus immediately after completing detention. The teacher should keep documentation that proper notice has been given for the detention.

If a student fails to show for teacher detention, the teacher may refer the student to an administrator for additional consequences.

Students may also be assigned Administrative Detention or Administrative Evening School (AES) as a consequence for discipline infractions as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct. Please note that only an administrator can assign a student to ISS, Administrative Detention, or AES.
DISCIPLINE

A brochure has been prepared in accordance with the Discipline Procedures of the DeKalb County School District. It contains important information for school personnel, students, and parents. Included in the Student Code of Conduct is an outline of student offenses and the various dispositions relating to these offenses.

Disciplinary action will include appropriate hearings and reviews and, in all cases, the rights of individuals will be ensured and protected. Disciplinary actions will be administered consistently throughout the DeKalb County School District.

These brochures are given to each student who must sign for it upon receipt. Students receive the brochure and are taught and tested on the brochure’s content. A student must make a minimal score of 90% in order to pass the test. All new students will be administered the Student Code of Conduct by an administrator or counselor upon completion of registration or at the designated time.

DISMISSAL OF STUDENTS

Teachers are to stand at the door at the end of the school day. Students will be directed out of the building. Dismiss only students with a scan key when directed by an administration.

DRESS CODE FOR STUDENTS

The atmosphere of a school must be conducive to learning. A student’s appearance can positively or negatively impact the climate of a school. Students must adhere to DeKalb County School District dress code requirements ((pages 59-60 in the DCSD Code of Student Conduct). Students who fail to comply with the DeKalb County School District’s dress code requirements, as enumerated below, may be charged with Offense #25 - Student Dress Code Violation (see pages 17):

There will be no headgear worn in the building. This includes hats, scarves, bandanas, do-rags, headbands, hooded jackets, hooded shirts, or hooded sweatshirts. All students are required to wear shoes. Flip flops, beach and shower shoes, open-toed sandals, and house shoes are not appropriate wear for school.

Electronic and/or communication devices are to be left at home. If a student has such items in the classroom adhere to the following protocol:

1) The teacher should confiscate the item and label the item with the student's name, homeroom, and the teacher's name.
2) The item must be immediately secured so that the item is not lost or stolen while in the teacher's possession. (REMEMBER: The teacher is liable for the item.)
2) During the passing period, the teacher should give the item to an administrator.

4) The item will be secured in the front office and held for parent pickup. Items will be returned at the Principal's discretion.

If a student refuses to give you the item do not stop your instruction. DO NOT confront the student. DO NOT attempt to take the item. Use the two-way radio to ask for an administrator to come to your room.

FIRST AID KITS

All first aid kits and materials are housed in the Attendance Office.

FOOD SALES

In keeping with the requirements of State Standard E 4.4, except for the regular school lunch program, no food items of any type are sold until after the regular school day has ended at 3:10 p.m. After school food sales must be approved in writing by the Principal.

HALL PASSES

Instructional time must be experienced by all students. No student should be out of class during instructional time. Only if an emergency situation arises should a student be given a hall pass. No student will be allowed to leave class or walk in the halls without an official hall pass from the instructor. Do not allow a student from another room into your classroom without a proper pass completed and signed by a teacher or an administrator. Do not send a student to the office unless an administrator, counselor, or office personnel sends for the student. An exception to this policy is during an emergency situation only.
HALL RULES

A student in the hall or on any part of the campus during class time must have a pass. Designated passes are to be used as a hall pass. No passes should be issued to students during the first fifteen (15) minutes of class or the last fifteen (15) minutes of class (15/15 Rule). Teachers should keep in mind the importance of instructional time and the need for each student to be in class the entire class period.

IN-SCHOOL SUSPENSION/ALTERNATIVE INSTRUCTION (AI)

In-School Suspension will be referred to as Alternative Instruction (AI). AI is a structured disciplinary environment in which a student is isolated from regular classroom activities. Students assigned to AI are counted present for the assigned day(s). Students have the opportunity to complete their academic assignments from their regular teachers. Students are required to follow a set schedule and follow the rules and procedures of the Alternative Instruction program and DAAOE Charter High School. Students must also abide by the expectations and policies of the Student Code of Conduct. (See memo regarding duty assignments.)

FAILURE BY STUDENTS TO FOLLOW RULES AND ABIDE BY THE POLICIES OF AI, DESTINY ACHIEVERS ACADEMY OF EXCELLENCE CHARTER HIGH SCHOOL AND/OR THE STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT WILL RESULT IN ADDITIONAL CONSEQUENCES, SUCH AS ADDITIONAL DAYS OF AI OR OUT-OF-SCHOOL SUSPENSION. THE SPECIFIC CONSEQUENCE WILL BE DETERMINED BY THE ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL IN CONSULTATION WITH THE AI FACILITATOR.

Work for Students in Alternative Instruction:

It is the teacher’s responsibility to provide work for their students while they are assigned to AI. The work must be equivalent to the course work the other students are receiving in the classroom. All work should take at least 60 minutes to finish each day assigned. In some cases, students are assigned to AI on a same-day basis. At this time, they are placed on the “Present in AI list”, and the teacher will be asked to provide work for the student at that time. Teachers should also provide a number of one-day emergency packets for students who must be placed immediately. If work is not received in a timely manner, a formal request will be issued by an administrator. Students must receive credit for any work completed in Alternative Instruction.

INTRUDER ALERT PROCEDURE

This procedure has been developed to alert staff members to the presence of intruders in the building. The announcement is coded so students are not alarmed. Upon hearing the announcement, teachers will lock the classroom doors and retain all students inside the room until the all-clear announcement has been made. Neither teachers nor students are to be in the hallways during the Alert. The announcement that will signal teachers to put into effect the intruder alert procedures is, “This is an Intruder Alert.”
INJURY ON SCHOOL PROPERTY

Any student injured on school property should be sent to the office. The event should be reported to an administrator. The parent will be called, and a decision will be made on the need for further assistance. An injury/accident report must be filled out for all persons injured on school property.

Should an employee’s accident or injury occur during school hours, the injured party must report the accident to the principal and complete a written report on the accident. (See the secretary.) The reports are in the main office and should be completed and given to the attending physician or sent to the insurance company.

The Board of Directors expects all students to be under the supervision of an assigned adult at all times when they are in class or on school grounds, on a school related trip, or engaged in school-sponsored activities. School personnel assigned to supervise students are expected to act as reasonably prudent adults in lieu of parents in providing for the safety of the students in their charge. In keeping with this expected prudence, no teacher or other staff member shall leave his/her assigned group unsupervised except as an arrangement has been made to take care of an emergency. The principal must be notified.

TEACHING AND LEARNING EXPECTATIONS

1. Students should always remain our focus.

2. Student success is dependent upon teacher and staff attendance. Therefore, it is our expectation that all employees report to work. In the event of an absence, all employees must notify the supervising administrator or designee following the process communicated at the campus level and all teachers are expected to call the computerized substitute teacher assignment system. In an era of accountability, all employees should be mindful of their attendance and the impact that attendance has on student learning outcomes and employee morale.

3. All employees assigned an email account must maintain accurate information on his/her resume section of the First Class account. All employees are also are expected to consistently check emails for information, updates, meeting reminders, professional development activities, policy updates, and all other information sent via the email system.

4. Instruction is our core business. Instructional time is to be protected at all times. Personal business should not be conducted during students' instructional time. Use of cell phones for such is expressly prohibited during instructional time. Also, students should not run errands or conduct similar activities that take them away from instruction. Parents expect students to receive quality instruction and to achieve; therefore, all actions that compromise instruction and student achievement are expressly prohibited. All certificated employees should follow the Professional Standards of the PSC.

5. All Teachers are expected to consistently implement and document all aspects of the instructional and leadership frameworks and processes as communicated by the Division of Teaching and Learning. This includes the Seven-Step Instructional Process, PreK-12 Alignment of Expectations, Pre-Planning activities, and the First Week of School activities, and Response to Intervention (RtI) process, to name a few.

6. All teachers are expected to plan for instruction. Starting the second week of school, all lesson plans should be emailed to the AP and posted in the lesson plan conference located on the little red schoolhouse as directed by the principal. The following resources are expected to be used as Teachers should plan relevant and engaging lessons for the students of Destiny:

Expectations for Faculty and Staff Participation in Professional Development

a) Faculty and staff are expected to attend district scheduled professional development as requested or assigned and remain for the entire time that training is scheduled.

b) Faculty and staff should inform the principal if there are personal appointments that interfere with attending and remaining in scheduled training for the entire time when the request to attend training is made by the principal or the principal's designee. The principal or the principal's designee will be responsible for identifying another employee who can attend and remain in training for the entire time that training will take place or for the entire series of trainings that will take place when the expectation is for one person or multiple persons to become the school's expert(s) for a particular topic.

c) Should a participant who attends training have an emergency that necessitates the need to leave early, the following will take place: (1) the employee will sign-out of training and note the time of departure on the sign-in log, (2) the employee will contact their principal to inform them of the need to leave the training before it ends, (3) full credit and/or participation for training will not be awarded, (4) there will be no obligation to provide a make-up opportunity for training, and (5) a copy of the sign-in and sign-out log will be forwarded to the principal.
d) Faculty and staff are expected to attend professional development activities dressed in a professional manner. Faculty cannot bring children to district-level professional development activities, training or workshops.

e) Faculty and staff are expected to report to professional development activities on time. Faculty and staff are responsible for obtaining clarity regarding the location and time for training based upon the published information regarding the training. Faculty and staff will not be allowed to participate in training if late arrival is greater than 15 minutes. The following will take place when participants are late:

1) If the participant is 15 minutes late or more in arriving to training in the morning or in returning from the lunch break, the supervisor will be notified.

2) If the participant is 30 minutes or more late in arriving to training in the morning or in returning from the lunch break, the participant will be asked to leave the session and the supervisor will be notified that you will be returning to the school.

f) Substitute teacher payroll forms will only be provided to those who attend training and remain for the entire training.

g) Registration for Training and No Shows

Should a participant register for training and become a “no show” without notifying the training contact person at least two days before the training begins, the registered participant will not be allowed to participate in district-level training for a one year period. Notification allows another interested person on a waiting list an opportunity to participate.

8. To avoid incidents that could impact student and employee safety, as health allows, employees are prohibited from eating and drinking during instructional time and while students are in the classroom.

9. The videotaping of classroom instruction must be approved by the building principal and must be directly related to improving instructional outcomes.

Additionally, they are expected to document that they have contacted and conversed with parents about academic progress (improvements and regression), attendance, and discipline progress (appropriate behavior and concerns) on a consistent basis. All Administrators and Teachers are expected to return telephone calls and respond to emails or letters within 48 hours.
11. Employees are expected to support the students enrolled in DAAOE. Support is reflected in various ways (e.g., listening to students, respecting students, attending school and community activities to show support of students, speaking pleasantly with students, affirming positive actions, and correcting negative actions by engaging the student and the parent).

12. Employees are expected to demonstrate the highest level of professionalism and respect for one another in the workplace. Issues that compromise safety, student instruction and student achievement will be appropriately addressed by the principal, the assistant principal, or CEO.

13. All Teachers are expected to take attendance and hold students accountable for tardiness. The campus discipline plan should be consistently followed to ensure a positive culture and climate.

14. All Teachers are expected to maintain current grades and attendance in eSIS. Parents should see current progress when utilizing the portal. It is the expectation of the Division of Teaching and Learning that grades are posted in eSIS in a timely and reasonable timeframe (e.g. 2-3 days upon collection) and that students and parents are provided timely feedback of progress.

15. All Teachers and are expected to offer and document student remediation and acceleration opportunities. Students not on grade level should be afforded every opportunity to learn the necessary content and skills to perform on grade level. RtI strategies must be employed and documented, as needed for all level 1 students. Additionally, students on grade level or high achievers or gifted students should be offered ample opportunities to accelerate and enrich their learning.

16. School safety and positive climate are the responsibilities of administrators and teachers; other staff, as assigned, are expected to assist with morning, lunch, and dismissal in addition to monitoring the hallways during transitional times.

17. Campus concerns or issues should be first addressed at the campus level with the building principal or designee. It is the expectation that efforts are made to resolve campus concerns at the campus level first. The DAAOE grievance process should be followed at all times.

18. Employees are expected to minimize early check-outs. The effectiveness of a campus and improvements in student achievement are dependent upon employees. Employees are expected to be mindful and considerate of one another in this respect.

19. Employees are expected to and must complete duties, responsibilities, and expectations in a timely and professional manner.

The corporation shall maintain appropriate accounting records.

(b) Form. The corporation shall maintain its records in written form or in another form capable of conversion into written form within a reasonable time.

(c) Other Records. The corporation shall keep a copy of the following records at its principal office or at a location from which the records may be recovered within 2 business days:

ARTICLE III. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 3.1 - General Powers

All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of the board of directors. The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under the direction of the board of directors.

Section 3.2 - Number, Tenure, and Qualifications of Directors

The authorized number of directors shall be not less than four (4) or more than eight (8), until changed by a duly adopted amendment to these bylaws. Each director shall have one vote on any matter that comes before the board. Directors shall serve staggered three (3) year terms, determined by lot, and shall be elected at the annual business meeting of the board of directors. Each director shall hold office for their specified term, or until removed in accordance with section 3.3. However, if the director's term expires, the director shall continue to serve until the board of directors has elected and qualified a successor or until there is a decrease in the number of directors. Directors need not be residents of Georgia.

Section 3.3 - Removal of Directors

A director may be removed, with or without cause, if a majority of the directors present at a duly constituted meeting votes for the removal. Removal is effective only if it occurs at a meeting called for that purpose. Notice must be sent to all directors that a purpose of the meeting is removal.

Section 3.4 - Board of Director Vacancies

If a vacancy occurs on the board of directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the directors shall fill the vacancy by establishing a selection committee and acting on its recommendation.

If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, they shall fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office.

If a director resigns effective at a specific later date, the directors may fill the vacancy, before the vacancy occurs, but the new director may not take office until the vacancy actually occurs.

Section 3.5 - Ex-officio Members of the Board
The officers and executive directors or managers of the corporation shall serve as non-voting, ex-officio members of the board. They are members by virtue of their office. Each ex-officio member officer or director may attend board meetings and participate in discussion; however, each ex-officio member shall be entitled to one vote only if the individual is a regularly elected or appointed board member.

Section 3.6 - Regular Meetings of the Board of Directors

The board of directors shall hold a regular meeting at least once per quarter. One of these quarterly meetings shall be designated as the board's annual business meeting, for the purpose of electing directors. The board of directors may provide, by resolution, the date, time and place (which shall be within the county where the company's principal office is located) of additional regular meetings. Regular board of director meetings may be held by conference telephone, if convened in accordance with section 3.8.

Section 3.7 - Special Meetings of the Board of Directors

The presiding officer of the board, the Chairperson, or a majority of the directors then in office may call and give notice of special meetings of the board of directors. Those authorized to call special board meetings may fix any place within the county where the corporation has its principal office as the special meeting place. Special board of director meetings may be held by conference telephone, if convened in accordance with section 3.8.

Section 3.8 - Board of Director Meetings by Conference Telephone

If authorized by the board of directors, the board of directors or any designated committee of the corporation may participate in a board or committee meeting by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment, provided all persons entitled to participate in the meeting received proper notice of the telephone meeting (see section 3.9), and provided all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other at the same time. A director participating in a conference telephone meeting is deemed present in person at the meeting. The chairperson of the meeting may establish reasonable rules as to conducting the meeting by phone.

Section 3.9 - Notice of, and Waiver of Notice for, Special Director Meetings

(a) Notice. The corporation's secretary shall give either oral or written notice of any special director meeting at least 5 business days before the meeting. The notice shall include the meeting place, day and hour. If the meeting is to be held by conference telephone, (regardless of whether it is regular or special), the secretary must provide instructions for participating in the telephone meeting.

(b) Effective Date. If mailed, notice of any director meeting shall be deemed to be effective at the earlier of:

1) 5 days after deposited in the United States mail, addressed to the director's business office, with postage prepaid; or the date shown on the return receipt (if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the director); or

(3) the date when received.

c) Waiver of Notice. Any director may waive notice of any meeting. The waiver must be in writing, signed by the director entitled to the notice, and filed with the minutes or corporate records.

A director's attendance at a meeting waives the director's right to object to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting; this shall be true unless the director, at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon arrival), objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting, and does not vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

Neither the secretary nor director needs to specify in the notice or waiver of notice the business to be transacted at, or the purpose of, any special board meeting.

Section 3.10 - Director Quorum

A majority of the number of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any board of director meeting.

Absent board members may give their proxy to a board member in attendance at a board of director meeting. Such proxy can be counted in determining a quorum.

Section 3.11 - Directors, Manner of Acting

(a) Required Number to Constitute Act. The act of a majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present (when the vote is taken) shall be the act of the board of directors. If no quorum is present at a meeting of directors, the directors may not take action on any board matter other than to adjourn the meeting to a later date.

(b) Director Approval. The corporation shall deem a director to have approved of an action taken if the director is present at a meeting of the board unless:

(1) the director objects at the beginning of the meeting (or promptly upon arrival) to holding it or transacting business at the meeting; or

(2) the director's dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting; or

(3) the director delivers written notice of dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting. Payment has been authorized in accordance with procedures listed in the Georgia Nonprofit Corporation Act based on a conclusion that the expenses are reasonable, the corporation has the financial ability to make the payment, and the financial resources of the corporation should be devoted to this use rather than some other use by the corporation.

(c) Standard of Conduct. The individual shall demonstrate that:

(1) the individual acted in good faith; and

(2) the individual reasonably believed:

(i) in acting in an official capacity with the corporation, that the individual’s conduct was in the corporation’s best interests;

(2) the board of directors authorized an advance payment to a director; and
(3) the director has furnished the corporation with a written affirmation of the director's good faith belief that the director has met the standard of conduct described in section 6.1 of Article VI; and

(4) the director has provided the corporation with a written undertaking, executed personally or on the director's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that the director did not meet the standard of conduct; the director's undertaking must be an unlimited general obligation, but need not be secured, and the corporation may accept the undertaking without reference to financial ability to make repayment; and

(5) the board of directors determines that the facts then known to it would not preclude indemnification under section 6.1 of this Article VI or the Georgia Nonprofit Corporation Act.

Section 6.3 - Indemnification of Officers, Agents and Employees

The board of directors may choose to indemnify and advance expenses to any officer, employee, or agent of the corporation applying those standards described in sections 6.1 and 6.2 of Article VI.

Section 8.1 - Prohibited Transactions

(a) Prohibition Against Sharing in Corporation Earnings. No director, officer, employee, committee member, or person connected with the corporation shall receive at any time any of the net earnings or pecuniary profit from the operations of the corporation; provided that this shall not prevent the corporation's payment to any person of reasonable compensation for services rendered to or for the corporation in effecting any of its purposes as determined by the board of directors.

(b) Other Prohibitions. Neither the corporation, nor its directors, nor its officers have any power to cause the corporation to do any of the following with Related Parties:

The seal of the corporation shall be in such form as the board of directors may from time to time determine. 4.7 Annual Audit Report
Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

FOR THE FISCAL YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 2014 AND 2013

WITH INDEPENDENT AUDITORS REPORT THEREON

Prepared by: Bennett & Moody, Certified Public Accountants INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

To the Board of Trustees
Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT (CONT'D)

Other Matters

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards, as required by Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated November 22, 2013, on our consideration of Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Curriculum
Curriculum Details

Student Body Composition and Enrollment. DAAE serves a unique student population of 14 to 21 year-olds. They are non-traditional students who are at-risk. The student population is divided into three groups and students are enrolled into these groups versus by grade level.

- Group 1: Individual Course Program - Students who wish to recover high school credits and graduate from DAAE within the same full academic year they enrolled in the School;

- Group 2: Credit Recovery Program - Students who wish to recover high school credits at DAAE and reenter their home high schools at the appropriate grade for their cohort/age group; and

- Group 3: High School Diploma Program – DAAE’s 9-12 High School Diploma Program enrolls students who enter the school and will spend the remainder of their high school experience (grades 9 through 12) at the School and graduate with a high school diploma.

The academic goals are the same for all students even as they may find themselves in unique at-risk situations today. Students at-risk may be:

- Currently in DCSD schools, for example, (a) too old to continue middle school; (b) a 10th grade student with three or less credits; (c) alternative school placements
- Exiting the juvenile detention system and in need of completing their education
- A pregnant teen or single parent
- English language learners
- Smart as they can be but bored with the classroom setting they are presently in
Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

- A student who must work (more than 15 hours a week) to help take care of his/her family
- A gifted student who wants to move on when ready
- Had not participated in college/career preparatory program
- Students from military families
- Economically disadvantaged and/or socially marginalized

Of course, there are some risk factors not listed and others yet to be determined. However, DAAE has the capability to serve non-traditional students who are at-risk in an environment that will enhance their success because the Governance Board and Leadership Team believe in the value and worth of these students.

Over the five-year period of the renewal charter petition, a total of 300 students will be enrolled in the School. DAAE expects that a number of students in Groups 1 and 2 may opt to stay at the School and complete the requirements for their high school diploma instead of returning to their home schools. While this may appear to be a slow start, the Governance Board and the Leadership team believe that the controlled enrollment projections to 300 students is based on the change in program design as described in the Charter Renewal Petition Application. The controlled enrollment every year also gives the Governance Board and Leadership Team the opportunity to make necessary and appropriate changes to accommodate the projected student enrollment (see Table Below).

As the program is under constant review and continuous improvement, and especially as technology is improving, teachers and staff will need to be trained as well as anticipate efficiencies in carrying out their position responsibilities. If it appears that more students than projected can be enrolled at the School, then the Leadership Team will make that recommendation to the Governance Board so they know and can be prepared to offer the educational program to these additional students.

Assessments. DAAE administers classroom, district and statewide assessments as a means to verify student proficiency on CCGPS and GPS. The School uses a variety of assessment types and techniques to measure students’ progress towards meeting the academic achievements goals in their ILPs.

School-wide Assessments – DAAE will administer assessments from the STAR 360 Assessments tools. These assessments are nationally normed and include tools to measure reading, math, English, science, and literacy. This package also has a universal screener that will assist in identifying student Lexile scores and reading ranges for students. Most importantly, these online assessments will provide information to teachers about student growth and achievement levels that can be used to progress monitor. The STAR assessments provide estimates of students’ skills and comparisons of students’ abilities to national norms. They are also able to provide comprehensive insight into our students’ performance Georgia Performance Standards and predict their performance on the Georgia Milestones test, while assisting us in monitoring College and Career readiness through classroom assessments.

The data gathered from the STAR assessments will assist teachers in determining the instructional level that students are performing on and it will provide teachers with suggested instructional strategies to assist in planning for instruction. This will also help teachers with the direct instruction models we will employ, the large and small group work that teachers will be able to target students who have specific deficit areas. The STAR assessments will be used to monitor student growth throughout the year and will be administered three times each year: fall, winter, and spring.

District and State-Based Assessments – All DCSD and state-mandated tests and assessments will be administered and academic performance data for each student will be used to inform student instruction and teacher professional development. The tests include: Georgia Milestone Assessment System (GMAS) End of Course Tests (EOCT), Student Learning Objectives (S-L-Os) for non-content area courses, Cognitive Abilities Test (CogAT), and the Georgia High School Writing Test (GHSWT). The results from these tests will be used each year to measure the percentage of students meeting grade level expectations for content areas contained in their ILP with an emphasis on the priority content areas of improvement: Coordinate Algebra and Analytic Geometry, Biology, U.S. History, and Economics.

The Assistant Principal participates in all district and state assessment-training sessions and administers local and state assessments in accordance with the DCSD schedules and procedures, and published testing calendar. The CogAT will be utilized contingent upon funding availability. The ACCESS test in Reading, Writing, Speaking and Listening will be administered to English Language Learners (ELL) in each grade level. The Georgia Alternate Assessments (GAA) in Reading, English, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies will be administered to appropriate Special Education students in grades 9-12.

DAAE adheres to the guidelines and procedures as outlined by the State Assessment Handbook and the State Accommodations Manual. The documented and appropriate signatures from the Principal’s pre- and post-administration of assessments compliance forms and the verification forms gathered for various assessments will further demonstrate adherence to the local and state guidelines and procedures. The summative scores for DAAE will be included in all district and state report including the CCRPI.

Classroom-Based Assessments – These assessments are curriculum based and provide teachers and specialists with immediate feedback regarding the level of students’ understanding and their progress toward goals. Classroom-based assessments include a variety of measures (formal and informal) such as unit tests, chapter tests, quizzes, projects, portfolios, written work, rubrics and observation checklists.

Diagnosing Educational Strengths and Using Data for Instructional Planning. The Leadership Team will monitor the administration of appropriate assessments to measure students’ academic growth and mastery of standards against benchmarks. They will also collect student achievement data for review and analysis to gain a broader, deeper perspective of student knowledge and skill levels. They will also review student portfolios, work sampling, teacher observations, parent/guardian consultations, etc. to establish a comprehensive data profile for each student.

During the admissions/enrollment process, students will take a series of online academic assessments to understand their current levels of proficiency in math, reading, science, social studies, Lexile score and results from the Universal Screener. The purpose of this assessment process is to be able to identify the areas of weaknesses and strengths of the students who are enrolling for the current school year. The assessment will identify the reading and mathematics level of the students that teachers will be working with and serve to indicate at what levels intervention services may be needed. Since DAAE’s instructional program is a “Blended or Hybrid” model, classroom teachers will set goals with their students to monitor and improve achievement. Monitoring progress is also part of the student’s responsibility, as well as that of the teacher and the Leadership Team.

Family engagement is important and necessary to begin to understand how students’ families operate and what support systems are in place. DAAE will use this information to strengthen family support for student achievement through curriculum and academic nights, parent and teacher conferences and parent contracts. Parents/guardians will also have access to their student's academic performance data through Odesseyware. If a student is having difficulty meeting achievement goals, their ILP will be revised to provide that student with additional instructional time and tutoring and accommodations for support services. Parents/guardians may schedule teacher conferences to discuss student progress as needed.

Research tells us that many schools experience disconnectedness between collecting and analyzing student data and responding to what the data is saying. The Leadership Team aims to bridge this gap. Student achievement data analysis will not only determine how much each student knows but will demonstrate the nature of his or her knowledge and understanding as well as identify patterns of strengths and needs in order to help each student learn. To this end, the Leadership Team will assist teachers in understanding and using student data to inform instruction towards meeting individual student achievement goals, providing instructional support for teachers, and the ongoing review of student’s learning to diagnose their educational strengths and needs.

The Leadership Team works with teachers to implement the School’s data driven instruction process to make teaching more systematic and effective and develop instructional plans based on assessment information relevant to the desired learning outcomes for students. Within this process, teachers will learn to analyze achievement test results and other types of data to make decisions to improve student success. Given the importance of re-teaching and differentiation strategies, the Leadership Team will be trained in the use of a variety of assessment tools and will serve as instructional coaches to assist teachers in using data to inform instruction.

The Leadership Team works with teachers to address the needs of individual students by examining student work and assessments and assisting with the development of re-teaching strategies for gifted and struggling students to meet learning expectations set in the CCGPS and GPS. Student assessments are used to determine their present levels of achievement, improve classroom instruction, improve the overall school program and determine intervention and acceleration strategies for individual students or groups of students. The Leadership Team disaggregates the data collected from the various formative and summative assessments to determine students’ grade level progress toward meeting their ILP goals.
Teachers meet in a collaborative team setting to review students’ ILPs monthly. Students who have been determined to be most at risk are monitored more frequently with appropriate interventions to address weaknesses. Using each student’s ILP, teachers will have current performance assessment data and will be able to make appropriate adjustments in the instructional program. The teachers in their collaborative professional learning communities will be guided by the Leadership Team to make appropriate adjustments in their instructional program to ensure student growth and content mastery.

High School Diploma Course of Study. DAAE follows the DCSD’s adopted diploma program of studies. Students’ ILPs are developed and shall include the courses necessary to satisfy the student performance objectives.

Hybrid/Blended Learning. The American Institutes for Research’s recent report—Education Issue Paper Series: Are Personalized Learning Environments the Next Wave of k-12 Education Reform? August 2013—reviewed 16 Race-to-The-Top District grantees and their approaches to learning which may ultimately reshape the way instruction is conceptualized and delivered in American schools.

The Report states that a clear vision for, and purposeful use of blended learning models are necessary for improved teaching and learning to result. DAAE believes that it has a clear vision for the purposeful use of blended learning to serve unique student body that we will be serving. Further, DAAE know exactly how they will utilize the expertise of the staff and what kinds of professional development and support will be needed for students to excel. DAAE also has the will to do what needs to be done!

“Too often, schools make plans for using technology but do not develop plans for how the technology will actually be used and integrated to effectively support the learning and curriculum goals” (Fishman, Pinkard, & Bruce, 1998; Hew & Brush, 2007; Lawless & Pellegrino, 2007).

While a great deal of technology will be utilized in the Personalization of Learning at DAAE, the School will also use technology to keep informed of staff and students’ progress using the Odesseyware LMS. The figure on the previous page indicates that the curriculum design and focus at DAAE is aligned to current research for which the main components are:

1. Creating blended learning environments
2. Developing and using individualized college and career readiness learning plans
3. Implementing competency-based models to support and accelerate students’ progress through their learning plans
4. Engaging and empowering key stakeholder groups—teachers, parents/guardians, and the broader community—in the process of ensuring student success.

Arts and Music Therapy. The Performing Arts program’s philosophy is that education in music, drama, and dance is essential to nurturing the cognitive, physical and emotional growth of the human being. Through musical and movement activities, humans empowered with a sense of joy, creative independence, self-worth, openness and confidence. Music, drama, and dance are taught with the same high expectations of any language learning or the learning of any content material. All humans are entitled to build and master skills in the performing arts within a nurturing and joyful atmosphere. Students will learn how to play percussive and steel drums, and guitars.

Zenkov describes the use of photography when teachers are using culturally relevant strategies in their classroom instruction. Drawing is a strategy that is used to get student to begin to see pictures in implementing the writing process.

Personalization of Learning. This is a teaching and learning environment where teachers develop students’ capacity to become independent learners who set goals, monitor their progress, and reflect on their own learning. Student assessments measure mastery of standards. A Personalization of Learning approach to teaching and learning will require rethinking the role of the school, teachers, parents/guardians and the community, the structure of the classroom, and the ways in which knowledge and skills are taught to students and measured. The chart on the following page provides a snapshot of Personalization of Learning.

Understanding Personalization of Learning vs Differentiation vs. Individualization
(Barbara Bray & Kathleen McClaskey, Personalize Learning™, 2013)

Further, the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching is doing continuing research on Personalization of Learning. This excerpt from The Promise of Personalized Learning. (Education Next, Fall 2013, Vol.13, No.4) explains best the impact personalized learning can have on Charter Schools.
At the Alliance Tennenbaum Family Technology High School, a charter school on L.A.’s east side, every teacher is responsible for at least one-third more students than any mainstream educator would recommend. But these are not traditional classrooms. The school uses a hybrid model that combines online and traditional instruction and offers students three different ways to learn. On this particular fall day, 16 students are getting traditional in-person instruction in Algebra I from teacher Wendy Chaves; roughly the same number are doing math problems online; and still others are gathered in clusters of four tutoring each other.

The fact that budgets are tight and we continue to find ways to stretch them and Charter School budgets seem to get even tighter, the use of blended learning and the use of technology with Online curriculum makes sense for educating students in nontraditional ways and in nontraditional formats.

Instructional Delivery Model. Maintaining a stable staff at the school is critical to DAAE’s success. Since so many of the Students attending DAAE come from challenging situations, the School’s instructional staff receive training to address the unique needs of students. This training will allow them to add instructional strategies and methods to their classroom toolkits that are based on:

- Culturally Relevant Pedagogy - effective teachers strive to acknowledge the kaleidoscope of background experiences students bring to the classroom and to ensure the materials and methods are representative of this ever-growing diversity. They aim to provide students with opportunities to connect their learning experiences to their own lives.

- Brain Based Strategies – effective teachers will explicitly teach and provide their students with opportunities to practice using executive functions such as how to learn, study, organize, prioritize, review, and actively participate in class. Activities that can support executive function network development include comparing and contrasting, giving new examples of a concept, group collaboration, open-ended discussions.

DAAE is able to enroll higher numbers of students at-risk than traditional public high schools. At the same time, the School is structured to have shorter course lengths, full time enrollment, and a strong job/career and college orientation that will help students at-risk—who might not succeed in a more traditional high school setting—succeed.

Life Skills Development. DAAE Students come to the School not only behind academically but also lacking in college, career and life skills preparation. It is imperative for the School to help students with cultivating these skills. Life skill are necessary because we live in a constantly changing world and having these skills is an essential part of being able to meet the challenges of everyday life. The dramatic changes in the global economy of last two decades is matched only by the transformation of technology in the last five years. These changes are impacting education, the workplace and personal lives.

In order for DAAE students to cope with the increasing pace and change of life in the 21st Century, they need to develop a cluster of life skills such as the ability to deal with stress and frustration. The first step in providing support to students is to ensure that their Advisors know as much about their academic abilities an interests. This information is gather during the registration and enrollment process from:
1. Meeting with students and their families:
   - Interview with student and parent/guardian/friends
   - Online academic assessments
   - Parent survey and home assessment for internet and/or Wi-Fi/study
   - Survey for Computer support and or compatibility issues
   - Student career interest inventory
   - Artistic inventory
   - Student Interests Inventory
   - Student Planning for Enrollment

2. Review of student documents:
   - Credentials
   - Transcripts
   - IEP
   - Health papers

3. Review of student data and suggested course requirements
   - Support needed
   - Development of Student Schedule
   - Academic support needs
   - Scheduling of support
   - Scheduling of classes
   - Classroom support
   - Classroom classes
   - Online classes
   - Additional programming
   - Mentor Assignments
   - Student Volunteer Responsibility Assignments
   - Student Work Internships/Student Work Schedule

Once we understand each student’s background and unique needs, his/his Advisor will develop their Life Skills Attainment Plan as part of the student’s Individual Learning Plan (ILP). The plan will ensure that students cultivate skills necessary for everyday life that will help them to:

- Find new ways of thinking and solving problems
- Recognize the impact of their action/resultant actions to others and teach them to take responsibility for what they do rather than blame others
- Build confidence both in spoken skills, knowledge areas, creativity, and for group collaboration and cooperation
- Analyze options, make decisions and understand why they make certain choices outside of the classroom
- Develop a greater sense of self-awareness, appreciation for others, and responsibility to give and to help others.
• Learn different ways to spend quality time alone and or with others through individual and lifetime sports participation and health and wellness activities.

In the career and job arena students at-risk may still struggle to gain employment. Current research indicate that employers are not only looking for academic success and technical skills but also for key employability skills. DAAE’s life skills development program will ensure that students develop the ability to:

• Self-manage, solve problems and understand the work/business environment they work in or would like to work in

• Work well as part of a team; soft skills and attitude adjustment are major interpersonal skills

• Manage their own time as well as people

• Adapt to different roles and flexible working environments

• Lead and influence; knowing what kinds of contributions they can make to their communities and what they still need to learn.

The more individuals develop life skills described above, the more these affect and benefit the community in which they live, work and play in. It is also DAAE’s hope that its graduates will:

• Recognize and develop cultural awareness, which makes cooperation easier in the very diverse communities in which we live

• Respect diversity, allow creativity, and allow their imaginations to flourish thereby creating a more tolerant society

• Develop negotiation skills along with the ability to network and empathize with others to build resolutions instead of resentments

The development and use of life skills for each student will vary depending on their individual situations. DAAE hopes to graduate students who are college and career ready with the tools necessary to deal with the challenges of the 21st Century.

Gifted and Talented Students. DAAE is committed to meeting and exceeding the needs of all of our gifted and talented students by providing a rigorous educational program that enriches, extends, and accelerates learning for the gifted students in their areas of strength. We also believe that many times these unique students have great gifted and talented potential that has been derailed because it was misidentified as discipline problems. DAAE will identify students who are eligible for gifted educational services following the eligibility requirements guidance for Gifted Education Services (O.C.G.A. § 160-4-2-.38) used by DCSD. This will provide teachers with a framework for: (i) identifying, referring and assessing students for gifted instruction; (ii) designing and delivering gifted instruction; (iii) program administration and teacher professional development; and (iv) program evaluation.

The identification of gifted learners will begin with a screening process where a student’s enrollment assessment scores will be closely reviewed, and/or the nomination by a staff member or a parent/community member is recognized. Anyone of these events will trigger a screening event, which will begin a screening process. During the screening process, the School’s Leadership Team will collect data from a variety of sources to support the student’s nomination. The data gathered will be comprehensive in order to represent a complete profile of the student’s present level of educational performance and to show a pattern of performance over time. Data may come from the sources listed below:

*These assessments consider students who might be coming from out of state, district, private or home school.

To be eligible for gifted services, students must qualify in three of the following four areas of the screening assessment:

1. Mental Ability – Minimum score of 96th percentile (or higher) in at least one sub-test area
2. Achievement – Minimum score of 90th percentile (or higher) on the total reading, total math, or complete composite
3. Creativity – Minimum score of 90th percentile (or higher) on an assessment for creativity
4. Motivation – Minimum of 90th percentile (or higher) on an assessment for motivation (Grades K-8) or GPA of at least 3.5 on 4.0 scale, using the average of core grades over the last two years.

This information will also form the basis for each student’s individualized gifted education plan and will also include his or her areas of strengths. The Leadership Team will have meetings throughout the school year to review student profiles to determine if they meet the eligibility criteria of the state’s Gifted Education program. All eligibility decisions are made by the Leadership Team. DAAE goal is to provide a developmentally appropriate curriculum that is consistent with gifted students’ learning rates and abilities in all subject areas. The instructional program for gifted students will implement research-based programs to:
• Maximize each student’s educational potential
• Make appropriate course and grade accommodations
• Modify and supplement curriculum based on the student’s needs
• Welcome, support and give necessary attention to each student

There are unlimited educational options that may be chosen to fit a gifted learner’s individual abilities. However, providing goals that apply to all areas of the curriculum for all types of gifted learners at all stages of development is impossible. Therefore, the curriculum at DAAE will be differentiated in content, pacing, and expectation of student achievement.

A variety of instructional models will be used to meet the educational, social, and emotional needs of gifted and talented students. The entire curriculum will be challenging and differentiated to the degree that it is clearly not appropriate for the more typical students at that grade level. Teachers will help each student utilize his or her own giftedness and will provide resources and enhanced learning opportunities daily.

The School will provide the support services needed to ensure that students benefit from access to the gifted program and may include, but are not limited to, the following: technology education; counseling and guidance; research-based teaching strategies and collaboration between gifted and regular education teachers. DAAE will employ the following research-based strategies, among others, to engage gifted/talented and/or academically advanced students:

• Content-based acceleration, which provides students with advanced content, skills, or understanding before the expected age or grade level. Students may typically remain with peers but will receive higher than grade-level instruction via differentiation and blended learning
• Use vertical enrichment activities, which are assignments that go above and beyond what is covered in the regular classroom
• Create independent project opportunities to extend thinking beyond the scope of the curriculum. This time can be used to help advanced students develop their creativity by allowing them to explore a special area of interest related to the topic being studied
• Involve gifted and high achieving students in mentoring younger students in order to build confidence, encourage productivity, and increase ownership of learning (for self and others) within the DAAE community
• Incorporate Multiple Intelligences (Gardner, 2006) into classroom activities. Multiple intelligences include linguistic, logical-mathematical, visual-spatial, body-kinesthetic, musical, interpersonal, and intra-personal intelligences
• Set up learning centers in classrooms so that students can work at their own speed
• Create increased opportunity to implement critical thinking skills
• Project-based learning for Science and Social Studies under an engaged learning model will help provide enrichment opportunities for academically talented children by providing them opportunities to create and investigate
New Students: Students new to DAAE may be evaluated for gifted program eligibility if the following documents are provided: (i) gifted program eligibility report/satisfactory gifted program continuation report from the transferring school; (ii) National Standardized Required Test Scores – these scores may only be used to determine eligibility for gifted program evaluation and may not be used to determine gifted program eligibility; and (iii) teacher or parent recommendation based on current academic performance evaluated over a sufficient observation period. Students from an out-of-state school, private or home school must complete all tests required by the state and local systems to determine gifted program eligibility once enrolled in the School.

Reciprocity: Reciprocity will be granted to students whose households include a member of the United States uniform services according to laws O.C.G.A. 20-2-2140 through 20-2-2180. If a student in a gifted program is transferring to DAAE he or she will automatically become part of the School's gifted program. A student already participating in a gifted program in another Georgia school system will be eligible to participate in DAAE’s gifted program; pending receipt of a gifted eligibility report confirming gifted services.

Continuation Policy: All identified gifted students are given a continuation policy form that must be reviewed and signed by the parent and the student. All gifted students must maintain a minimum 80% or higher in the gifted class and regular classes.

Support for Gifted Students: Students who meet all but one of the requirements for gifted instruction will be invited to participate in the High Potentials class. These students meet before the start of the instructional day two times per week and are taught by a certified gifted teacher. The teacher designs lessons based on the National Gifted Education Standards. Students who are in probation in the Gifted Program are also supported in the High Potentials class and will receive instruction from the High Potentials class teacher.

The Leadership Team monitors all gifted students to ensure that they remain on track; if it is determined that any gifted student is at-risk of entering into probation, they are immediately referred to the High Potentials teachers. The High Potentials teacher will determine where the deficit is and provides recommendations on how to bridge the gap. The High Potentials teacher may provide appropriate intervention, such as: organization and executive function skills development; and studying and note-taking strategies.

Probation Policy: If students receiving gifted services fail to maintain a minimum of 80% or higher in the gifted class and regular classes, the student will be placed on probation for a period of one semester.

State and Federally Mandated Services for Special Education. DAAE will follow the procedures that are prescribed through the DCSD’s Office of Student Support Services to provide state and federally mandated services for students with disabilities through the identification and implementation of written individual education plans (IEP), developed 504 plans and other accommodations prescribed to meet student needs. With the assistance of the school counselor we will work to ensure services. DAAE shall continue to comply with all applicable State and Federal Laws in serving students with disabilities, including, but not limited to, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act (“Section 504”), the Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”) and the Individuals with Disabilities in Education Improvement Act, revised 2004 (“IDEA 2004”). The facilities to be used by DAAE shall be accessible for all students with disabilities and shall provide students with disabilities equal access to all aspects of the educational program.
Further, DAAE will comply with all state and federal laws related to the provision of special education instruction and related services. The School shall not discriminate against any student with a disability in the admissions process or any other aspect of School operations. Additionally, the School will ensure that appropriate accommodations and equipment are provided to eligible students. IDEA 2004 requires that all individuals, ages 3–21, in public and private schools, who may need special education and related services, shall be identified, evaluated and served. In accordance with these requirements, DAAE will identify, evaluate and serve eligible enrolled students.

DAAE has implemented the GaDOE’s Student Achievement Pyramid of Intervention in the general education classroom to align appropriate assessment with purposeful instruction for all students. Some classrooms may have an additional teacher to provide direct instructional services to support students in the classroom. DAAE has a Student Support Team (SST) in accordance with State guidelines and DeKalb County Board of Education policies. The School will also utilize all DCSD SST Forms when working with students. When a student goes through the SST process and fails to make adequate academic progress after the implementation of Tiers 1, 2 and 3 interventions and instruction, the student will be referred for Special Education testing (Tier 4). The student’s parents or guardians and other adults who may be effective in working with the student will continue to be involved in the assessment and identification process for Special Education services. All staff members, inclusive of contractors, who may provide services to students identified as special needs will be certified as special education teachers or professionals.

Incoming students with an IEP will have their IEP reviewed within 30 days to determine how best to meet their needs. After the review, including observation of the student in the LPA environment, the IEP may be modified in order to provide appropriate interventions and supports based upon state and federal guidelines. Similarly, all incoming students who may need special education services will be evaluated in a timely manner to determine appropriate staffing. All students will be provided with a free and appropriate public education (FAPE) in the least restrictive environment (LRE). Parents/guardians will participate in this process and have all rights consistent with IDEA 2004. The process used to appropriately place students who are eligible for Special Education services is as follows:

- A meeting of the Leadership Team is called to determine a student’s eligibility
- If the student is eligible for services, an IEP meeting is held and the IEP is developed
- At least once a year, but more often if necessary, the IEP is reviewed and updated to reflect interventions and supports that meet the student’s current needs
- At least every three years a re-evaluation meeting is held to determine if continuation of Special Education Services is required
- If required, the re-evaluation may consist of a complete psychological-education evaluation
- If continued services are required, the IEP is updated and the student continues to receive special education services
- If the re-evaluation determines that the student no longer requires special education services, he or she is dismissed from Special Education
Once a student’s IEP is established, DAAE will provide the appropriate interventions and supports both directly and under contract with outside providers, or arrange for the provision of said services with assistance from DCSD. DAAE works specifically under the DCSD Charter Guidelines for Special Education and Wrap-Around Services. LPA takes responsibility for the delivery of special education services by working with its Special Education and classroom teachers to integrate all IEP interventions and supports into the general education classroom. All special education interventions and supports will be delivered in the timeline outlined in the IEP and a co-teaching model will be used to provide direct instructional services and support to students with disabilities in the general education classroom. All transition and assistive technology needs, as identified in the IEP, will be provided to students.

DAAE will employ highly qualified special education teachers to ensure compliance with IDEA 2004 Rules and Regulations. LPA will also contract for services with related personnel, including school psychologists, school social workers, and other personnel who meet the required regulations from the DCSD. The forms utilized in the identification and placement for special education students will be the forms authorized by the DCSD that are available on “TieNet.” LPA will utilize the TieNet system to record all required Special Education information.

DAAE shall comply with the treatment of Special Education records pursuant with all procedures and guidelines in the Federal Regulations for IDEA 2004 including, but not limited to: access rights, record of access, records on more than one person, list of types and locations of educational records, fees, amendment of records at parents’ request, opportunity for a hearing to challenge records hearing results in finding of violation, finding of no confidentiality safeguards, and destruction of information.

Teachers, social workers, parents, licensed physicians, registered nurses, or representatives of related agencies may refer a student suspected of having a disability. IDEA (2004) identifies certain categories under which a student may become eligible for services. These disabilities are defined as: Autism spectrum disorder, deaf-blind, deaf/hard of hearing, emotional and behavioral disorder, intellectual disability (mild, moderate, severe, profound), orthopedic impairment, other health impairment, significant developmental delay, specific learning disability, speech-language impairment, traumatic brain injury, visual impairment. When a referral is received, LPA will notify the parents in writing and must receive parental consent to conduct an evaluation.

DAAE will follow all procedures that are outlined in the DCSD document “Your Rights as Parents Regarding Special Education” (Revised 2007). DAAE will follow the mandated procedures relating to parental consent for initial evaluation. Parental consent must be received prior to initiating the evaluation process. Parents/guardians will be kept informed throughout the process and will be invited to attend any meetings concerning their students. Parents/guardians will have the right to refuse evaluation and placement in any program. When there is a difference of opinion related to any part of the referral/placement process, all efforts will be made to reach a satisfactory agreement regarding an arrangement that will benefit the student.

Additionally, DAAE shall develop a Section 504 support team in accordance with state guidelines and DeKalb County Board of Education policies. The School will utilize DCSD 504 Forms when working with students. The School’s staff will: (i) be trained to handle all discipline issues regarding Section 504 students in accordance with federal regulations, state guidelines, and DeKalb County Board of Education policies including the DCSD’s Student Code of Conduct; and (ii) participate in workshops, in-service and/or trainings offered by the District. Through regular reporting and coordination of services with DCSD, the School will notify the DCSD’s Director of Charter Schools of any complaints made by a parent/guardian or student concerning Section 504 and/or IDEA 2004, furnish a copy of the complaint, and cooperate fully with the DCSD on any investigation, defense and resolution of such complaint.

All special education students will receive instruction based on the core curriculum and will have the same opportunity, as other neuro-typical students, to participate in all extended learning activities which include, but are not limited, to the following: early morning tutorials, after school tutorials, Saturday programs, and web-based activities. The Leadership Team will intentionally monitor Special Education students to ensure they are accessing curricula content that improves their skills. In the event that they are at-risk of not accessing curricula content, the Leadership Team will convene an IEP/BIP/504 meeting, within 14 days, to develop a plan or action.
K-12 Mathematics Introduction

Georgia Mathematics focuses on actively engaging the student in the development of mathematical understanding by working independently and cooperatively to solve problems, estimating and computing efficiently, using appropriate tools, concrete models and a variety of representations, and conducting investigations and recording findings. There is a shift toward applying mathematical concepts and skills in the context of authentic problems and student understanding of concepts rather than merely following a sequence of procedures. In mathematics classrooms, students will learn to think critically in a mathematical way with an understanding that there are many different solution pathways and sometimes more than one right answer in applied mathematics. Mathematics is the economy of information. The central idea of all mathematics is to discover how knowing some things leads, via reasoning, to knowing more—without having to commit the information to memory as a separate fact. It is the reasoned, logical connections that make mathematics manageable. The implementation of the Georgia Standards of Excellence in Mathematics places the expected emphasis on sense-making, problem solving, reasoning, representation, modeling, representation, connections, and communication.

Algebra I

Algebra I is the first course in a sequence of three required high school courses designed to ensure career and college readiness. The course represents a discrete study of algebra with correlated statistics applications.

The standards in the three-course high school sequence specify the mathematics that all students should study in order to be college and career ready. Additional mathematics content is provided in fourth credit courses and advanced courses including pre-calculus, calculus, advanced statistics, discrete mathematics, and mathematics of finance courses. High school course content standards are listed by conceptual categories including Number and Quantity, Algebra, Functions, Geometry, and Statistics and Probability. Conceptual categories portray a coherent view of high school mathematics content; a student’s work with functions, for example, crosses a number of traditional course boundaries, potentially up through and including calculus. Standards for Mathematical Practice provide the foundation for instruction and assessment.

Mathematics | Standards for Mathematical Practice

Mathematical Practices are listed with each grade’s mathematical content standards to reflect the need to connect the mathematical practices to mathematical content in instruction.

The Standards for Mathematical Practice describe varieties of expertise that mathematics educators at all levels should seek to develop in their students. These practices rest on important “processes and proficiencies” with longstanding importance in mathematics education. The first of these are the NCTM process standards of problem solving, reasoning and proof, communication, representation, and connections. The second are the strands of mathematical proficiency specified in the National Research Council’s report Adding It Up: adaptive reasoning, strategic competence, conceptual understanding (comprehension of mathematical concepts, operations and relations), procedural fluency (skill in carrying out procedures flexibly, accurately, efficiently and appropriately), and productive disposition (habitual inclination to see mathematics as sensible, useful, and worthwhile, coupled with a belief in diligence and one’s own efficacy).
1 Make sense of problems and persevere in solving them.

High school students start to examine problems by explaining to themselves the meaning of a problem and looking for entry points to its solution. They analyze givens, constraints, relationships, and goals. They make conjectures about the form and meaning of the solution and plan a solution pathway rather than simply jumping into a solution attempt. They consider analogous problems, and try special cases and simpler forms of the original problem in order to gain insight into its solution. They monitor and evaluate their progress and change course if necessary. Older students might, depending on the context of the problem, transform algebraic expressions or change the viewing window on their graphing calculator to get the information they need. By high school, students can explain correspondences between equations, verbal descriptions, tables, and graphs or draw diagrams of important features and relationships, graph data, and search for regularity or trends. They check their answers to problems using different methods and continually ask themselves, “Does this make sense?” They can understand the approaches of others to solving complex problems and identify correspondences between different approaches.

2 Reason abstractly and quantitatively.

High school students seek to make sense of quantities and their relationships in problem situations. They abstract a given situation and represent it symbolically, manipulate the representing symbols, and pause as needed during the manipulation process in order to probe into the referents for the symbols involved. Students use quantitative reasoning to create coherent representations of the problem at hand; consider the units involved; attend to the meaning of quantities, not just how to compute them; and know and flexibly use different properties of operations and objects.

3 Construct viable arguments and critique the reasoning of others.

High school students understand and use stated assumptions, definitions, and previously established results in constructing arguments. They make conjectures and build a logical progression of statements to explore the truth of their conjectures. They are able to analyze situations by breaking them into cases, and can recognize and use counterexamples. They justify their conclusions, communicate them to others, and respond to the arguments of others. They reason inductively about data, making plausible arguments that take into account the context from which the data arose. High school students are also able to compare the effectiveness of two plausible arguments, distinguish correct logic or reasoning from that which is flawed, and—if there is a flaw in an argument—explain what it is. High school students learn to determine domains to which an argument applies, listen or read the arguments of others, decide whether they make sense, and ask useful questions to clarify or improve the arguments.

4 Model with mathematics.

High school students can apply the mathematics they know to solve problems arising in everyday life, society, and the workplace. By high school, a student might use geometry to solve a design problem or use a function to describe how one quantity of interest depends on another. High school students making assumptions and approximations to simplify a complicated situation, realizing that these may need revision later. They are able to identify important quantities in a practical situation and map their relationships using such tools as diagrams, two-way tables, graphs, flowcharts and formulas. They can analyze those relationships mathematically to draw conclusions. They routinely interpret their mathematical results in the context of the situation and reflect on whether the results make sense, possibly improving the model if it has not served its purpose.
5 Use appropriate tools strategically.

High school students consider the available tools when solving a mathematical problem. These tools might include pencil and paper, concrete models, a ruler, a protractor, a calculator, a spreadsheet, a computer algebra system, a statistical package, or dynamic geometry software. High school students should be sufficiently familiar with tools appropriate for their grade or course to make sound decisions about when each of these tools might be helpful, recognizing both the insight to be gained and their limitations. For example, high school students analyze graphs of functions and solutions generated using a graphing calculator. They detect possible errors by strategically using estimation and other mathematical knowledge. When making mathematical models, they know that technology can enable them to visualize the results of varying assumptions, explore consequences, and compare predictions with data. They are able to identify relevant external mathematical resources, such as digital content located on a website, and use them to pose or solve problems. They are able to use technological tools to explore and deepen their understanding of concepts.

6 Attend to precision. High school students try to communicate precisely to others by using clear definitions in discussion with others and in their own reasoning. They state the meaning of the symbols they choose, specifying units of measure, and labeling axes to clarify the correspondence with quantities in a problem. They calculate accurately and efficiently, express numerical answers with a degree of precision appropriate for the problem context. By the time they reach high school they have learned to examine claims and make explicit use of definitions.

7 Look for and make use of structure. By high school, students look closely to discern a pattern or structure. In the expression \(x^2 + 9x + 14\), older students can see the 14 as \(2 \times 7\) and the 9 as \(2 + 7\). They recognize the significance of an existing line in a geometric figure and can use the strategy of drawing an auxiliary line for solving problems. They also can step back for an overview and shift perspective. They can see complicated things, such as some algebraic expressions, as single objects or as being composed of several objects. For example, they can see \(5 - 3(x - y)^2\) as 5 minus a positive number times a square and use that to realize that its value cannot be more than 5 for any real numbers \(x\) and \(y\). High school students use these patterns to create equivalent expressions, factor and solve equations, and compose functions, and transform figures.

8 Look for and express regularity in repeated reasoning.

High school students notice if calculations are repeated, and look both for general methods and for shortcuts. Noticing the regularity in the way terms cancel when expanding \((x - 1)(x + 1), (x - 1)(x^2 + x + 1),\) and \((x - 1)(x^3 + x^2 + x + 1)\) might lead them to the general formula for the sum of a geometric series. As they work to solve a problem, derive formulas or make generalizations, high school students maintain oversight of the process, while attending to the details. They continually evaluate the reasonableness of their intermediate results.

Connecting the Standards for Mathematical Practice to the Standards for Mathematical Content

The Standards for Mathematical Practice describe ways in which developing student practitioners of the discipline of mathematics should engage with the subject matter as they grow in mathematical maturity and expertise throughout the elementary, middle and high school years. Designers of curricula, assessments, and professional development should all attend to the need to connect the mathematical practices to mathematical content in mathematics instruction.

The Standards for Mathematical Content are a balanced combination of procedure and understanding. Expectations that begin with the word “understand” are often especially good opportunities to connect the practices to the content. Students who do not have an understanding of a topic may rely on procedures too heavily. Without a flexible base from which to work, they may be less likely to consider analogous problems, represent problems coherently, justify conclusions, apply the mathematics to practical situations, use technology mindfully to work with the mathematics, explain the mathematics accurately to other students, step back for an overview, or deviate from a known procedure to find a shortcut. In short, a lack of understanding effectively prevents a student from engaging in the mathematical practices.

In this respect, those content standards which set an expectation of understanding are potential “points of intersection” between the Standards for Mathematical Content and the Standards for Mathematical Practice. These points of intersection are intended to be weighted toward central and generative concepts in the school mathematics curriculum that most merit the time, resources, innovative energies, and focus necessary to qualitatively improve the curriculum, instruction, assessment, professional development, and student achievement in mathematics.

The Real Number System

Use properties of rational and irrational numbers.

MGSE9-12.N.RN.2 Rewrite expressions involving radicals and rational exponents using the properties of exponents. (i.e., simplify and/or use the operations of addition, subtraction, and multiplication, with radicals within expressions limited to square roots).

MGSE9-12.N.RN.3 Explain why the sum or product of rational numbers is rational; why the sum of a rational number and an irrational number is irrational; and why the product of a nonzero rational number and an irrational number is irrational.

Quantities

Reason quantitatively and use units to solve problems.

MGSE9-12.N.Q.1 Use units of measure (linear, area, capacity, rates, and time) as a way to understand problems:

a. Identify, use, and record appropriate units of measure within context, within data displays, and on graphs;

b. Convert units and rates using dimensional analysis (English-to-English and Metric-to-Metric without conversion factor provided and between English and Metric with conversion factor);

c. Use units within multi-step problems and formulas; interpret units of input and resulting units of output.

MGSE9-12.N.Q.2 Define appropriate quantities for the purpose of descriptive modeling. Given a situation, context, or problem, students will determine, identify, and use appropriate quantities for representing the situation.

MGSE9-12.N.Q.3 Choose a level of accuracy appropriate to limitations on measurement when reporting quantities. For example, money situations are generally reported to the nearest cent (hundredth). Also, an answers’ precision is limited to the precision of the data given.

Write expressions in equivalent forms to solve problems

MGSE9-12.A.SSE.3 Choose and produce an equivalent form of an expression to reveal and explain properties of the quantity represented by the expression.

MGSE9-12.A.SSE.3a Factor any quadratic expression to reveal the zeros of the function defined by the expression.

MGSE9-12.A.CED.2 Create linear, quadratic, and exponential equations in two or more variables to represent relationships between quantities; graph equations on coordinate axes with labels and scales. (The phrase “in two or more variables” refers to formulas like the compound interest formula, in which \( A = P(1 + r/n)^nt \) has multiple variables.)
MGSE9-12.A.CED.3 Represent constraints by equations or inequalities, and by systems of equations and/or inequalities, and interpret data points as possible (i.e. a solution) or not possible (i.e. a non-solution) under the established constraints.

MGSE9-12.A.CED.4 Rearrange formulas to highlight a quantity of interest using the same reasoning as in solving equations. Examples: Rearrange Ohm’s law $V = IR$ to highlight resistance $R$; Rearrange area of a circle formula $A = \pi r^2$ to highlight the radius $r$.

Reasoning with Equations and Inequalities

Understand solving equations as a process of reasoning and explain the reasoning

MGSE9-12.A.REI.1 Using algebraic properties and the properties of real numbers, justify the steps of a simple, one-solution equation. Students should justify their own steps, or if given two or more steps of an equation, explain the progression from one step to the next using properties.

Solve equations and inequalities in one variable

MGSE9-12.A.REI.3 Solve linear equations and inequalities in one variable including equations with coefficients represented by letters. For example, given $ax + 3 = 7$, solve for $x$.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.4 Solve quadratic equations in one variable.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.4a Use the method of completing the square to transform any quadratic equation in $x$ into an equation of the form $(x - p)^2 = q$ that has the same solutions. Derive the quadratic formula from $ax^2 + bx + c = 0$.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.4b Solve quadratic equations by inspection (e.g., for $x^2 = 49$), taking square roots, factoring, completing the square, and the quadratic formula, as appropriate to the initial form of the equation (limit to real number solutions).

MGSE9-12.A.REI.5 Show and explain why the elimination method works to solve a system of two-variable equations.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.6 Solve systems of linear equations exactly and approximately (e.g., with graphs), focusing on pairs of linear equations in two variables.

Represent and solve equations and inequalities graphically

MGSE9-12.A.REI.10 Understand that the graph of an equation in two variables is the set of all its solutions plotted in the coordinate plane.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.11 Using graphs, tables, or successive approximations, show that the solution to the equation $f(x) = g(x)$ is the $x$-value where the $y$-values of $f(x)$ and $g(x)$ are the same.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.12 Graph the solution set to a linear inequality in two variables.
Interpreting Functions F.IF

Understand the concept of a function and use function notation

MGSE9-12.F.IF.1 Understand that a function from one set (the input, called the domain) to another set (the output, called the range) assigns to each element of the domain exactly one element of the range, i.e. each input value maps to exactly one output value. If f is a function, x is the input (an element of the domain), and f(x) is the output (an element of the range). Graphically, the graph is y = f(x).

MGSE9-12.F.IF.2 Use function notation, evaluate functions for inputs in their domains, and interpret statements that use function notation in terms of a context.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.3 Recognize that sequences are functions, sometimes defined recursively, whose domain is a subset of the integers. (Generally, the scope of high school math defines this subset as the set of natural numbers 1,2,3,4...) By graphing or calculating terms, students should be able to show how the recursive sequence $a_1=7, a_n=a_{n-1} +2$; the sequence $s_n = 2(n-1) + 7$; and the function $f(x) = 2x + 5$ (when x is a natural number) all define the same sequence.

Interpret functions that arise in applications in terms of the context

MGSE9-12.F.IF.4 Using tables, graphs, and verbal descriptions, interpret the key characteristics of a function which models the relationship between two quantities. Sketch a graph showing key features including: intercepts; interval where the function is increasing, decreasing, positive, or negative; relative maximums and minimums; symmetries; end behavior; and periodicity.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.5 Relate the domain of a function to its graph and, where applicable, to the quantitative relationship it describes. For example, if the function $h(n)$ gives the number of person-hours it takes to assemble $n$ engines in a factory, then the positive integers would be an appropriate domain for the function.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.6 Calculate and interpret the average rate of change of a function (presented symbolically or as a table) over a specified interval. Estimate the rate of change from a graph.

Analyze functions using different representations

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7 Graph functions expressed algebraically and show key features of the graph both by hand and by using technology.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7a Graph linear and quadratic functions and show intercepts, maxima, and minima (as determined by the function or by context).

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7e Graph exponential and logarithmic functions, showing intercepts and end behavior, and trigonometric functions, showing period, midline, and amplitude.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.8 Write a function defined by an expression in different but equivalent forms to reveal and explain different properties of the function.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.8a Use the process of factoring and completing the square in a quadratic function to show zeros, extreme values, and symmetry of the graph, and interpret these in terms of a context. For example, compare and contrast quadratic functions in standard, vertex, and intercept forms.
MGSE-9-12.F.IF.9 Compare properties of two functions each represented in a different way (algebraically, graphically, numerically in tables, or by verbal descriptions). For example, given a graph of one function and an algebraic expression for another, say which has the larger maximum.

Building Functions
F.BF

Build a function that models a relationship between two quantities

MGSE-9-12.F.BF.1 Write a function that describes a relationship between two quantities.

MGSE-9-12.F.BF.1a Determine an explicit expression and the recursive process (steps for calculation) from context. For example, if Jimmy starts out with $15 and earns $2 a day, the explicit expression “2x+15” can be described recursively (either in writing or verbally) as “to find out how much money Jimmy will have tomorrow, you add $2 to his total today.” $J_n = J_{n-1} + 2, J_0 = 15$

MGSE-9-12.F.BF.2 Write arithmetic and geometric sequences recursively and explicitly, use them to model situations, and translate between the two forms. Connect arithmetic sequences to linear functions and geometric sequences to exponential functions.

Build new functions from existing functions

MGSE-9-12.F.BF.3 Identify the effect on the graph of replacing f(x) by f(x) + k, k f(x), f(kx), and f(x + k) for specific values of k (both positive and negative); find the value of k given the graphs. Experiment with cases and illustrate an explanation of the effects on the graph using technology. Include recognizing even and odd functions from their graphs and algebraic expressions for them.

Linear, Quadratic, and Exponential Models
F.LE

Construct and compare linear, quadratic, and exponential models and solve problems

MGSE-9-12.F.LE.1 Distinguish between situations that can be modeled with linear functions and with exponential functions.

MGSE-9-12.F.LE.1a Show that linear functions grow by equal differences over equal intervals and that exponential functions grow by equal factors over equal intervals. (This can be shown by algebraic proof, with a table showing differences, or by calculating average rates of change over equal intervals).

MGSE-9-12.F.LE.1b. Recognize situations in which one quantity changes at a constant rate per unit interval relative to another.

MGSE-9-12.F.LE.1c Recognize situations in which a quantity grows or decays by a constant percent rate per unit interval relative to another.

MGSE-9-12.F.LE.2 Construct linear and exponential functions, including arithmetic and geometric sequences, given a graph, a description of a relationship, or two input-output pairs (include reading these from a table).

MGSE-9-12.F.LE.3 Observe using graphs and tables that a quantity increasing exponentially eventually exceeds a quantity increasing linearly, quadratically, or (more generally) as a polynomial function.
Interpret expressions for functions in terms of the situation they model

MGSE9-12.F.LE.5 Interpret the parameters in a linear \( f(x) = mx + b \) and exponential \( f(x) = a \cdot d^x \) function in terms of context. (In the functions above, “\( m \)” and “\( b \)” are the parameters of the linear function, and “\( a \)” and “\( d \)” are the parameters of the exponential function.) In context, students should describe what these parameters mean in terms of change and starting value.

Interpreting Categorical and Quantitative Data

Summarize, represent, and interpret data on a single count or measurement variable

MGSE9-12.S.ID.1 Represent data with plots on the real number line (dot plots, histograms, and box plots).

MGSE9-12.S.ID.2 Use statistics appropriate to the shape of the data distribution to compare center (median, mean) and spread (interquartile range, mean absolute deviation, standard deviation) of two or more different data sets.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.3 Interpret differences in shape, center, and spread in the context of the data sets, accounting for possible effects of extreme data points (outliers).

Summarize, represent, and interpret data on two categorical and quantitative variables

MGSE9-12.S.ID.5 Summarize categorical data for two categories in two-way frequency tables. Interpret relative frequencies in the context of the data (including joint, marginal, and conditional relative frequencies). Recognize possible associations and trends in the data.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.6 Represent data on two quantitative variables on a scatter plot, and describe how the variables are related.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.6a Decide which type of function is most appropriate by observing graphed data, charted data, or by analysis of context to generate a viable (rough) function of best fit. Use this function to solve problems in context. Emphasize linear, quadratic and exponential models.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.6c Using given or collected bivariate data, fit a linear function for a scatter plot that suggests a linear association.

Interpret linear models

MGSE9-12.S.ID.7 Interpret the slope (rate of change) and the intercept (constant term) of a linear model in the context of the data.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.8 Compute (using technology) and interpret the correlation coefficient “\( r \)” of a linear fit. (For instance, by looking at a scatterplot, students should be able to tell if the correlation coefficient is positive or negative and give a reasonable estimate of the “\( r \)” value.) After calculating the line of best fit using technology, students should be able to describe how strong the goodness of fit of the regression is, using “\( r \)”.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.9 Distinguish between correlation and causation.

GSE Analytic Geometry
K-12 Mathematics Introduction
Georgia Mathematics focuses on actively engaging the student in the development of mathematical understanding by working independently and cooperatively to solve problems, estimating and computing efficiently, using appropriate tools, concrete models and a variety of representations, and conducting investigations and recording findings. There is a shift toward applying mathematical concepts and skills in the context of authentic problems and student understanding of concepts rather than merely following a sequence of procedures. In mathematics classrooms, students will learn to think critically in a mathematical way with an understanding that there are many different solution pathways and sometimes more than one right answer in applied mathematics. Mathematics is the economy of information. The central idea of all mathematics is to discover how knowing some things leads, via reasoning, to knowing more—without having to commit the information to memory as a separate fact. It is the reasoned, logical connections that make mathematics manageable. The implementation of the Georgia Standards of Excellence in Mathematics places the expected emphasis on sense-making, problem solving, reasoning, representation, modeling, representation, connections, and communication.

Analytic Geometry

Analytic Geometry is the second course in a sequence of three high school courses designed to ensure career and college readiness. The course embodies a discrete study of geometry analyzed by means of algebraic operations with correlated probability/statistics applications and a bridge to the third course through algebraic topics.

The standards in the three-course high school sequence specify the mathematics that all students should study in order to be college and career ready. Additional mathematics content is provided in fourth credit courses and advanced courses including pre-calculus, calculus, advanced statistics, discrete mathematics, and mathematics of finance courses. High school course content standards are listed by conceptual categories including Number and Quantity, Algebra, Functions, Geometry, and Statistics and Probability. Conceptual categories portray a coherent view of high school mathematics content; a student’s work with functions, for example, crosses a number of traditional course boundaries, potentially up through and including calculus. Standards for Mathematical Practice provide the foundation for instruction and assessment.

Mathematical Practices are listed with each grade’s mathematical content standards to reflect the need to connect the mathematical practices to mathematical content in instruction.

The Standards for Mathematical Practice describe varieties of expertise that mathematics educators at all levels should seek to develop in their students. These practices rest on important “processes and proficiencies” with longstanding importance in mathematics education. The first of these are the NCTM process standards of problem solving, reasoning and proof, communication, representation, and connections. The second are the strands of mathematical proficiency specified in the National Research Council’s report Adding It Up: adaptive reasoning, strategic competence, conceptual understanding (comprehension of mathematical concepts, operations and relations), procedural fluency (skill in carrying out procedures flexibly, accurately, efficiently and appropriately), and productive disposition (habitual inclination to see mathematics as sensible, useful, and worthwhile, coupled with a belief in diligence and one’s own efficacy).

1 Make sense of problems and persevere in solving them.

High school students start to examine problems by explaining to themselves the meaning of a problem and looking for entry points to its solution. They analyze givens, constraints, relationships, and goals. They make conjectures about the form and meaning of the solution and plan a solution pathway rather than simply jumping into a solution attempt. They consider analogous problems, and try special cases and simpler forms of the original problem in order to gain insight into its solution. They monitor and evaluate their progress and change course if necessary. Older students might, depending on the context of the problem, transform algebraic expressions or change the viewing window on their graphing calculator to get the information they need. By high school, students can explain correspondences between equations, verbal descriptions, tables, and graphs or draw diagrams of important features and relationships, graph data, and search for regularity or trends. They check their answers to problems using different methods and continually ask themselves, “Does this make sense?” They can understand the approaches of others to solving complex problems and identify correspondences between different approaches.

2 Reason abstractly and quantitatively.

High school students seek to make sense of quantities and their relationships in problem situations. They abstract a given situation and represent it symbolically, manipulate the representing symbols, and pause as needed during the manipulation process in order to probe into the referents for the symbols involved. Students use quantitative reasoning to create coherent representations of the problem at hand; consider the units involved; attend to the meaning of quantities, not just how to compute them; and know and flexibly use different properties of operations and objects.

3 Construct viable arguments and critique the reasoning of others.

High school students understand and use stated assumptions, definitions, and previously established results in constructing arguments. They make conjectures and build a logical progression of statements to explore the truth of their conjectures. They are able to analyze situations by breaking them into cases, and can recognize and use counterexamples. They justify their conclusions, communicate them to others, and respond to the arguments of others. They reason inductively about data, making plausible arguments that take into account the context from which the data arose. High school students are also able to compare the effectiveness of two plausible arguments, distinguish correct logic or reasoning from that which is flawed, and—if there is a flaw in an argument—explain what it is. High school students learn to determine domains to which an argument applies, listen or read the arguments of others, decide whether they make sense, and ask useful questions to clarify or improve the arguments.

4 Model with mathematics.

High school students can apply the mathematics they know to solve problems arising in everyday life, society, and the workplace. By high school, a student might use geometry to solve a design problem or use a function to describe how one quantity of interest depends on another. High school students making assumptions and approximations to simplify a complicated situation, realizing that these may need revision later. They are able to identify important quantities in a practical situation and map their relationships using such tools as diagrams, two-way tables, graphs, flowcharts and formulas. They can analyze those relationships mathematically to draw Conclusions. They routinely interpret their mathematical results in the context of the situation and reflect on whether the results make sense, possibly improving the model if it has not served its purpose.

5 Use appropriate tools strategically.

High school students consider the available tools when solving a mathematical problem. These tools might include pencil and paper, concrete models, a ruler, a protractor, a calculator, a spreadsheet, a computer algebra system, a statistical package, or dynamic geometry software. High school students should be sufficiently familiar with tools appropriate for their grade or course to make sound decisions about when each of these tools might be helpful, recognizing both the insight to be gained and their limitations. For example, high school students analyze graphs of functions and solutions generated using a graphing calculator. They detect possible errors by strategically using estimation and other mathematical knowledge. When making mathematical models, they know that technology can enable them to visualize the results of varying assumptions, explore consequences, and compare predictions with data. They are able to identify relevant external mathematical resources, such as digital content located on a website, and use them to pose or solve problems. They are able to use technological tools to explore and deepen their understanding of concepts.

6 Attend to precision. High school students try to communicate precisely to others by using clear definitions in discussion with others and in their own reasoning. They state the meaning of the symbols they choose, specifying units of measure, and labeling axes to clarify the correspondence with quantities in a problem. They calculate accurately and efficiently, express numerical answers with a degree of precision appropriate for the problem context. By the time they reach high school they have learned to examine claims and make explicit use of definitions.

7 Look for and make use of structure. By high school, students look closely to discern a pattern or structure. In the expression $x^2 + 9x + 14$, older students can see the 14 as $2 \times 7$ and the 9 as $2 + 7$. They recognize the significance of an existing line in a geometric figure and can use the strategy of drawing an auxiliary line for solving problems. They also can step back for an overview and shift perspective. They can see complicated things, such as some algebraic expressions, as single objects or as being composed of several objects. For example, they can see $5 - 3(x - y)^2$ as 5 minus a positive number times a square and use that to realize that its value cannot be more than 5 for any real numbers x and y. High school students use these patterns to create equivalent expressions, factor and solve equations, and compose functions, and transform figures.

8 Look for and express regularity in repeated reasoning.

High school students notice if calculations are repeated, and look both for general methods and for shortcuts. Noticing the regularity in the way terms cancel when expanding $(x - 1)(x + 1)$, $(x - 1)(x^2 + x + 1)$, and $(x - 1)(x^3 + x^2 + x + 1)$ might lead them to the general formula for the sum of a geometric series. As they work to solve a problem, derive formulas or make generalizations, high school students maintain oversight of the process, while attending to the details. They continually evaluate the reasonableness of their intermediate results.

Connecting the Standards for Mathematical Practice to the Standards for Mathematical Content

The Standards for Mathematical Practice describe ways in which developing student practitioners of the discipline of mathematics should engage with the subject matter as they grow in mathematical maturity and expertise throughout the elementary, middle and high school years. Designers of curricula, assessments, and professional development should all attend to the need to connect the mathematical practices to mathematical content in mathematics instruction. The Standards for Mathematical Content are a balanced combination of procedure and understanding. Expectations that begin with the word “understand” are often especially good opportunities to connect the practices to the content. Students who do not have an understanding of a topic may rely on procedures too heavily. Without a flexible base from which to work, they may be less likely to consider analogous problems, represent problems coherently, justify conclusions, apply the mathematics to practical situations, use technology mindfully to work with the mathematics, explain the mathematics accurately to other students, step back for an overview, or deviate from a known procedure to find a shortcut. In short, a lack of understanding effectively prevents a student from engaging in the mathematical practices.

In this respect, those content standards which set an expectation of understanding are potential “points of intersection” between the Standards for Mathematical Content and the Standards for Mathematical Practice. These points of intersection are intended to be weighted toward central and generative concepts in the school mathematics curriculum that most merit the time, resources, innovative energies, and focus necessary to qualitatively improve the curriculum, instruction, assessment, professional development, and student achievement in mathematics.

MGSE9-12.S.CP.1 Describe categories of events as subsets of a sample space using unions, intersections, or complements of other events (or, and, not).

MGSE9-12.S.CP.2 Understand that if two events A and B are independent, the probability of A and B occurring together is the product of their probabilities, and that if the probability of two events A and B occurring together is the product of their probabilities, the two events are independent.

MGSE9-12.S.CP.3 Understand the conditional probability of A given B as P (A and B)/P(B). Interpret independence of A and B in terms of conditional probability; that is, the conditional probability of A given B is the same as the probability of A, and the conditional probability of B given A is the same as the probability of B.

MGSE9-12.S.CP.4 Construct and interpret two-way frequency tables of data when two categories are associated with each object being classified. Use the two-way table as a sample space to decide if events are independent and to approximate conditional probabilities. For example, use collected data from a random sample of students in your school on their favorite subject among math, science, and English. Estimate the probability that a randomly selected student from your school will favor science given that the student is in tenth grade. Do the same for other subjects and compare the results.

MGSE9-12.S.CP.5 Recognize and explain the concepts of conditional probability and independence in everyday language and everyday situations. For example, compare the chance of having lung cancer if you are a smoker with the chance of being a smoker if you have lung cancer.
Use the rules of probability to compute probabilities of compound events in a uniform probability model

Richard Woods, Georgia’s School Superintendent
“Educating Georgia’s Future”
K-12 Mathematics Introduction

Georgia Mathematics focuses on actively engaging the student in the development of mathematical understanding by working independently and cooperatively to solve problems, estimating and computing efficiently, using appropriate tools, concrete models and a variety of representations, and conducting investigations and recording findings. There is a shift toward applying mathematical concepts and skills in the context of authentic problems and student understanding of concepts rather than merely following a sequence of procedures. In mathematics classrooms, students will learn to think critically in a mathematical way with an understanding that there are many different solution pathways and sometimes more than one right answer in applied mathematics. Mathematics is the economy of information. The central idea of all mathematics is to discover how knowing some things leads, via reasoning, to knowing more—without having to commit the information to memory as a separate fact. It is the reasoned, logical connections that make mathematics manageable. The implementation of the Georgia Standards of Excellence in Mathematics places the expected emphasis on sense-making, problem solving, reasoning, representation, modeling, representation, connections, and communication.

Coordinate Algebra

Coordinate Algebra is the first in a sequence of three high school courses designed to ensure career and college readiness. The course represents a discrete study of algebra with correlated statistics applications and a bridge to the second course through coordinate geometric topics.

The standards in the three-course high school sequence specify the mathematics that all students should study in order to be college and career ready. Additional mathematics content is provided in fourth credit courses and advanced courses including pre-calculus, calculus, advanced statistics, discrete mathematics, and mathematics of finance courses. High school course content standards are listed by conceptual categories including Number and Quantity, Algebra, Functions, Geometry, and Statistics and Probability. Conceptual categories portray a coherent view of high school mathematics content; a student’s work with functions, for example, crosses a number of traditional course boundaries, potentially up through and including calculus. Standards for Mathematical Practice provide the foundation for instruction and assessment.

Mathematical Practices are listed with each grade’s mathematical content standards to reflect the need to connect the mathematical practices to mathematical content in instruction.

The Standards for Mathematical Practice describe varieties of expertise that mathematics educators at all levels should seek to develop in their students. These practices rest on important “processes and proficiencies” with longstanding importance in mathematics education. The first of these are the NCTM process standards of problem solving, reasoning and proof, communication, representation, and connections. The second are the strands of mathematical proficiency specified in the National Research Council’s report Adding It Up: adaptive reasoning, strategic competence, conceptual understanding (comprehension of mathematical concepts, operations and relations), procedural fluency (skill in carrying out procedures flexibly, accurately, efficiently and appropriately), and productive disposition (habitual inclination to see mathematics as sensible, useful, and worthwhile, coupled with a belief in diligence and one’s own efficacy).

1 Make sense of problems and persevere in solving them.
High school students start to examine problems by explaining to themselves the meaning of a problem and looking for entry points to its solution. They analyze givens, constraints, relationships, and goals. They make conjectures about the form and meaning of the solution and plan a solution pathway rather than simply jumping into a solution attempt. They consider analogous problems, and try special cases and simpler forms of the original problem in order to gain insight into its solution. They monitor and evaluate their progress and change course if necessary. Older students might, depending on the context of the problem, transform algebraic expressions or change the viewing window on their graphing calculator to get the information they need. By high school, students can explain correspondences between equations, verbal descriptions, tables, and graphs or draw diagrams of important features and relationships, graph data, and search for regularity or trends. They check their answers to problems using different methods and continually ask themselves, “Does this make sense?” They can understand the approaches of others to solving complex problems and identify correspondences between different approaches.

2 Reason abstractly and quantitatively.
High school students seek to make sense of quantities and their relationships in problem situations. They abstract a given situation and represent it symbolically, manipulate the representing symbols, and pause as needed during the manipulation process in order to probe into the referents for the symbols involved. Students use quantitative reasoning to create coherent representations of the problem at hand; consider the units involved; attend to the meaning of quantities, not just how to compute them; and know and flexibly use different properties of operations and objects.

3 Construct viable arguments and critique the reasoning of others.
High school students understand and use stated assumptions, definitions, and previously established results in constructing arguments. They make conjectures and build a logical progression of statements to explore the truth of their conjectures. They are able to analyze situations by breaking them into cases, and can recognize and use counterexamples. They justify their conclusions, communicate them to others, and respond to the arguments of others. They reason inductively about data, making plausible arguments that take into account the context from which the data arose. High school students are also able to compare the effectiveness of two plausible arguments, distinguish correct logic or reasoning from that which is flawed, and—if there is a flaw in an argument—explain what it is. High school students learn to determine domains to which an argument applies, listen or read the arguments of others, decide whether they make sense, and ask useful questions to clarify or improve the arguments.

4 Model with mathematics.
High school students can apply the mathematics they know to solve problems arising in everyday life, society, and the workplace. By high school, a student might use geometry to solve a design problem or use a function to describe how one quantity of interest depends on another. High school students making assumptions and approximations to simplify a complicated situation, realizing that these may need revision later. They are able to identify important quantities in a practical situation and map their relationships using such tools as diagrams, two-way tables, graphs, flowcharts and formulas. They can analyze those relationships mathematically to draw conclusions. They routinely interpret their mathematical results in the context of the situation and reflect on whether the results make sense, possibly improving the model if it has not served its purpose.

5 Use appropriate tools strategically.

High school students consider the available tools when solving a mathematical problem. These tools might include pencil and paper, concrete models, a ruler, a protractor, a calculator, a spreadsheet, a computer algebra system, a statistical package, or dynamic geometry software. High school students should be sufficiently familiar with tools appropriate for their grade or course to make sound decisions about when each of these tools might be helpful, recognizing both the insight to be gained and their limitations. For example, high school students analyze graphs of functions and solutions generated using a graphing calculator. They detect possible errors by strategically using estimation and other mathematical knowledge. When making mathematical models, they know that technology can enable them to visualize the results of varying assumptions, explore consequences, and compare predictions with data. They are able to identify relevant external mathematical resources, such as digital content located on a website, and use them to pose or solve problems. They are able to use technological tools to explore and deepen their understanding of concepts.

6 Attend to precision. High school students try to communicate precisely to others by using clear definitions in discussion with others and in their own reasoning. They state the meaning of the symbols they choose, specifying units of measure, and labeling axes to clarify the correspondence with quantities in a problem. They calculate accurately and efficiently, express numerical answers with a degree of precision appropriate for the problem context. By the time they reach high school they have learned to examine claims and make explicit use of definitions.

7 Look for and make use of structure. By high school, students look closely to discern a pattern or structure. In the expression $x^2 + 9x + 14$, older students can see the 14 as $2 \times 7$ and the 9 as $2 + 7$. They recognize the significance of an existing line in a geometric figure and can use the strategy of drawing an auxiliary line for solving problems. They also can step back for an overview and shift perspective. They can see complicated things, such as some algebraic expressions, as single objects or as being composed of several objects. For example, they can see $5 - 3(x - y)^2$ as 5 minus a positive number times a square and use that to realize that its value cannot be more than 5 for any real numbers $x$ and $y$. High school students use these patterns to create equivalent expressions, factor and solve equations, and compose functions, and transform figures.

8 Look for and express regularity in repeated reasoning.

High school students notice if calculations are repeated, and look both for general methods and for shortcuts. Noticing the regularity in the way terms cancel when expanding $(x - 1)(x + 1)$, $(x - 1)(x^2 + x + 1)$, and $(x - 1)(x^3 + x^2 + x + 1)$ might lead them to the general formula for the sum of a geometric series. As they work to solve a problem, derive formulas or make generalizations, high school students maintain oversight of the process, while attending to the details. They continually evaluate the reasonableness of their intermediate results.

Connecting the Standards for Mathematical Practice to the Standards for Mathematical Content

The Standards for Mathematical Practice describe ways in which developing student practitioners of the discipline of mathematics should engage with the subject matter as they grow in mathematical maturity and expertise throughout the elementary, middle and high school years. Designers of curricula, assessments, and professional development should all attend to the need to connect the mathematical practices to mathematical content in mathematics instruction.

The Standards for Mathematical Content are a balanced combination of procedure and understanding. Expectations that begin with the word “understand” are often especially good opportunities to connect the practices to the content. Students who do not have an understanding of a topic may rely on procedures too heavily. Without a flexible base from which to work, they may be less likely to consider analogous problems, represent problems coherently, justify conclusions, apply the mathematics to practical situations, use technology mindfully to work with the mathematics, explain the mathematics accurately to other students, step back for an overview, or deviate from a known procedure to find a shortcut. In short, a lack of understanding effectively prevents a student from engaging in the mathematical practices.

In this respect, those content standards which set an expectation of understanding are potential “points of intersection” between the Standards for Mathematical Content and the Standards for Mathematical Practice. These points of intersection are intended to be weighted toward central and generative concepts in the school mathematics curriculum that most merit the time, resources, innovative energies, and focus necessary to qualitatively improve the curriculum, instruction, assessment, professional development, and student achievement in mathematics.

Quantities

N.Q

Reason quantitatively and use units to solve problems.

MGSE-12.N.Q.1 Use units of measure (linear, area, capacity, rates, and time) as a way to understand problems:

- a. Identify, use, and record appropriate units of measure within context, within data displays, and on graphs;
- b. Convert units and rates using dimensional analysis (English-to-English and Metric-to-Metric without conversion factor provided and between English and Metric with conversion factor);
- c. Use units within multi-step problems and formulas; interpret units of input and resulting units of output.

MGSE-12.N.Q.2 Define appropriate quantities for the purpose of descriptive modeling. Given a situation, context, or problem, students will determine, identify, and use appropriate quantities for representing the situation.

MGSE-12.N.Q.3 Choose a level of accuracy appropriate to limitations on measurement when reporting quantities. _For example, money situations are generally reported to the nearest cent (hundredth). Also, an answers’ precision is limited to the precision of the data given._

Seeing Structure in Expressions

A.SSE

Interpret the structure of expressions

MGSE-12.A.SSE.1 Interpret expressions that represent a quantity in terms of its context.

- MGSE-12.A.SSE.1a Interpret parts of an expression, such as terms, factors, and coefficients, in context.
MGSE9-12.A.SSE.1b Given situations which utilize formulas or expressions with multiple terms and/or factors, interpret the meaning (in context) of individual terms or factors.

Creating Equations

Create equations that describe numbers or relationships

MGSE9-12.A.CED.1 Create equations and inequalities in one variable and use them to solve problems. Include equations arising from linear, quadratic, simple rational, and exponential functions (integer inputs only).

MGSE9-12.A.CED.2 Create linear, quadratic, and exponential equations in two or more variables to represent relationships between quantities; graph equations on coordinate axes with labels and scales. (The phrase “in two or more variables” refers to formulas like the compound interest formula, in which \( A = P(1 + r/n)^{nt} \) has multiple variables.)

MGSE9-12.A.CED.3 Represent constraints by equations or inequalities, and by systems of equations and/or inequalities, and interpret data points as possible (i.e. a solution) or not possible (i.e. a non-solution) under the established constraints.

MGSE9-12.A.CED.4 Rearrange formulas to highlight a quantity of interest using the same reasoning as in solving equations. Examples: Rearrange Ohm’s law \( V = IR \) to highlight resistance \( R \); Rearrange area of a circle formula \( A = \pi r^2 \) to highlight the radius \( r \).

Reasoning with Equations and Inequalities

Understand solving equations as a process of reasoning and explain the reasoning

MGSE9-12.A.REI.1 Using algebraic properties and the properties of real numbers, justify the steps of a simple, one-solution equation. Students should justify their own steps, or if given two or more steps of an equation, explain the progression from one step to the next using properties.

Solve equations and inequalities in one variable

MGSE9-12.A.REI.3 Solve linear equations and inequalities in one variable including equations with coefficients represented by letters. For example, given \( ax + 3 = 7 \), solve for \( x \).

Solve systems of equations

MGSE9-12.A.REI.5 Show and explain why the elimination method works to solve a system of two-variable equations.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.6 Solve systems of linear equations exactly and approximately (e.g., with graphs), focusing on pairs of linear equations in two variables.

Represent and solve equations and inequalities graphically

MGSE9-12.A.REI.10 Understand that the graph of an equation in two variables is the set of all its solutions plotted in the coordinate plane.
MGSE9-12.A.REI.11 Using graphs, tables, or successive approximations, show that the solution to the equation \( f(x) = g(x) \) is the \( x \)-value where the \( y \)-values of \( f(x) \) and \( g(x) \) are the same.

MGSE9-12.A.REI.12 Graph the solution set to a linear inequality in two variables.

Interpreting Functions

Understand the concept of a function and use function notation

MGSE9-12.F.IF.1 Understand that a function from one set (the input, called the domain) to another set (the output, called the range) assigns to each element of the domain exactly one element of the range, i.e. each input value maps to exactly one output value. If \( f \) is a function, \( x \) is the input (an element of the domain), and \( f(x) \) is the output (an element of the range). Graphically, the graph is \( y = f(x) \).

MGSE9-12.F.IF.2 Use function notation, evaluate functions for inputs in their domains, and interpret statements that use function notation in terms of a context.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.3 Recognize that sequences are functions, sometimes defined recursively, whose domain is a subset of the integers. (Generally, the scope of high school math defines this subset as the set of natural numbers 1,2,3,4...) By graphing or calculating terms, students should be able to show how the recursive sequence \( a_1=7, \ a_n=a_{n-1}+2; \) the sequence \( s_n = 2(n-1) + 7; \) and the function \( f(x) = 2x + 5 \) (when \( x \) is a natural number) all define the same sequence.

Interpret functions that arise in applications in terms of the context

MGSE9-12.F.IF.4 Using tables, graphs, and verbal descriptions, interpret the key characteristics of a function which models the relationship between two quantities. Sketch a graph showing key features including: intercepts; interval where the function is increasing, decreasing, positive, or negative; relative maximums and minimums; symmetries; end behavior; and periodicity.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.5 Relate the domain of a function to its graph and, where applicable, to the quantitative relationship it describes. For example, if the function \( h(n) \) gives the number of person-hours it takes to assemble \( n \) engines in a factory, then the positive integers would be an appropriate domain for the function.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.6 Calculate and interpret the average rate of change of a function (presented symbolically or as a table) over a specified interval. Estimate the rate of change from a graph.

Analyze functions using different representations

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7 Graph functions expressed algebraically and show key features of the graph both by hand and by using technology.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7a Graph linear and quadratic functions and show intercepts, maxima, and minima (as determined by the function or by context).

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7e Graph exponential and logarithmic functions, showing intercepts and end behavior, and trigonometric functions, showing period, midline, and amplitude.
MGSE9-12.F.IF.9 Compare properties of two functions each represented in a different way (algebraically, graphically, numerically in tables, or by verbal descriptions). For example, given a graph of one function and an algebraic expression for another, say which has the larger maximum.

Building Functions F.BF

Build a function that models a relationship between two quantities

MGSE9-12.F.BF.1 Write a function that describes a relationship between two quantities.

MGSE9-12.F.BF.1a Determine an explicit expression and the recursive process (steps for calculation) from context. For example, if Jimmy starts out with $15 and earns $2 a day, the explicit expression “2x+15” can be described recursively (either in writing or verbally) as “to find out how much money Jimmy will have tomorrow, you add $2 to his total today.” \( J_n = J_{n-1} + 2, J_0 = 15 \)

MGSE9-12.F.BF.2 Write arithmetic and geometric sequences recursively and explicitly, use them to model situations, and translate between the two forms. Connect arithmetic sequences to linear functions and geometric sequences to exponential functions.

Build new functions from existing functions

MGSE9-12.F.BF.3 Identify the effect on the graph of replacing \( f(x) \) by \( f(x) + k, k f(x), f(kx), \) and \( f(x + k) \) for specific values of \( k \) (both positive and negative); find the value of \( k \) given the graphs. Experiment with cases and illustrate an explanation of the effects on the graph using technology. Include recognizing even and odd functions from their graphs and algebraic expressions for them.

Linear, Quadratic, and Exponential Models F.LE

Construct and compare linear, quadratic, and exponential models and solve problems

MGSE9-12.F.LE.1 Distinguish between situations that can be modeled with linear functions and with exponential functions.

MGSE9-12.F.LE.1b Recognize situations in which one quantity changes at a constant rate per unit interval relative to another.

MGSE9-12.F.LE.1c Recognize situations in which a quantity grows or decays by a constant percent rate per unit interval relative to another.

MGSE9-12.F.LE.2 Construct linear and exponential functions, including arithmetic and geometric sequences, given a graph, a description of a relationship, or two input-output pairs (include reading these from a table).

MGSE9-12.F.LE.3 Observe using graphs and tables that a quantity increasing exponentially eventually exceeds a quantity increasing linearly, quadratically, or (more generally) as a polynomial function.
Interpret expressions for functions in terms of the situation they model

MGSE9-12.F.LE.5 Interpret the parameters in a linear \( f(x) = mx + b \) and exponential \( f(x) = a \cdot d^x \) function in terms of context. (In the functions above, “m” and “b” are the parameters of the linear function, and “a” and “d” are the parameters of the exponential function.) In context, students should describe what these parameters mean in terms of change and starting value.

Congruence G.CO

Experiment with transformations in the plane

MGSE9-12.G.CO.1 Know precise definitions of angle, circle, perpendicular line, parallel line, and line segment, based on the undefined notions of point, line, distance along a line, and distance around a circular arc.

MGSE9-12.G.CO.2 Represent transformations in the plane using, e.g., transparencies and geometry software; describe transformations as functions that take points in the plane as inputs and give other points as outputs. Compare transformations that preserve distance and angle to those that do not (e.g., translation versus horizontal stretch).

MGSE9-12.G.CO.3 Given a rectangle, parallelogram, trapezoid, or regular polygon, describe the rotations and reflections that carry it onto itself.

MGSE9-12.G.CO.4 Develop definitions of rotations, reflections, and translations in terms of angles, circles, perpendicular lines, parallel lines, and line segments.

MGSE9-12.G.CO.5 Given a geometric figure and a rotation, reflection, or translation, draw the transformed figure using, e.g., graph paper, tracing paper, or geometry software. Specify a sequence of transformations that will carry a given figure onto another.

Expressing Geometric Properties with Equations G.GPE

Use coordinates to prove simple geometric theorems algebraically

MGSE9-12.G.GPE.4 Use coordinates to prove simple geometric theorems algebraically. For example, prove or disprove that a figure defined by four given points in the coordinate plane is a rectangle; prove or disprove that the point \( (1, \sqrt{3}) \) lies on the circle centered at the origin and containing the point \( (0, 2) \). (Focus on quadrilaterals, right triangles, and circles.)

MGSE9-12.G.GPE.5 Prove the slope criteria for parallel and perpendicular lines and use them to solve geometric problems (e.g., find the equation of a line parallel or perpendicular to a given line that passes through a given point).

MGSE9-12.G.GPE.6 Find the point on a directed line segment between two given points that partitions the segment in a given ratio.

MGSE9-12.G.GPE.7 Use coordinates to compute perimeters of polygons and areas of triangles and rectangles, e.g., using the distance formula.
Interpreting Categorical and Quantitative Data

Summarize, represent, and interpret data on a single count or measurement variable

MGSE9-12.S.ID.1 Represent data with plots on the real number line (dot plots, histograms, and box plots).

MGSE9-12.S.ID.2 Use statistics appropriate to the shape of the data distribution to compare center (median, mean) and spread (interquartile range, mean absolute deviation, standard deviation) of two or more different data sets.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.3 Interpret differences in shape, center, and spread in the context of the data sets, accounting for possible effects of extreme data points (outliers).

Summarize, represent, and interpret data on two categorical and quantitative variables

MGSE9-12.S.ID.5 Summarize categorical data for two categories in two-way frequency tables. Interpret relative frequencies in the context of the data (including joint, marginal, and conditional relative frequencies). Recognize possible associations and trends in the data.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.6 Represent data on two quantitative variables on a scatter plot, and describe how the variables are related.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.6a Decide which type of function is most appropriate by observing graphed data, charted data, or by analysis of context to generate a viable (rough) function of best fit. Use this function to solve problems in context. Emphasize linear, quadratic and exponential models.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.6c Using given or collected bivariate data, fit a linear function for a scatter plot that suggests a linear association.

Interpret linear models

MGSE9-12.S.ID.7 Interpret the slope (rate of change) and the intercept (constant term) of a linear model in the context of the data.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.8 Compute (using technology) and interpret the correlation coefficient “r” of a linear fit. (For instance, by looking at a scatterplot, students should be able to tell if the correlation coefficient is positive or negative and give a reasonable estimate of the “r” value.) After calculating the line of best fit using technology, students should be able to describe how strong the goodness of fit of the regression is, using “r”.

MGSE9-12.S.ID.9 Distinguish between correlation and causation.

MGSE9-12.F.LE.1b Recognize situations in which one quantity changes at a constant rate per unit interval relative to another.

MGSE9-12.F.LE.1c Recognize situations in which a quantity grows or decays by a constant percent rate per unit interval relative to another.

MGSE9-12.F.LE.2 Construct linear and exponential functions, including arithmetic and geometric sequences, given a graph, a description of a relationship, or two input-output pairs (include reading these from a table).
MGSE9-12.F.LE.3 Observe using graphs and tables that a quantity increasing exponentially eventually exceeds a quantity increasing linearly, quadratically, or (more generally) as a polynomial function.

Interpret expressions for functions in terms of the situation they model

MGSE9-12.F.LE.5 Interpret the parameters in a linear \((f(x) = mx + b)\) and exponential \((f(x) = a \cdot d^x)\) function in terms of context. (In the functions above, “\(m\)” and “\(b\)” are the parameters of the linear function, and “\(a\)” and “\(d\)” are the parameters of the exponential function.) In context, students should describe what these parameters mean in terms of change and starting value.

Congruence

Experiment with transformations in the plane

MGSE9-12.G.CO.1 Know precise definitions of angle, circle, perpendicular line, parallel line, and line segment, based on the undefined notions of point, line, distance along a line, and distance around a circular arc.

MGSE9-12.G.CO.2 Represent transformations in the plane using, e.g., transparencies and geometry software; describe transformations as functions that take points in the plane as inputs and give other points as outputs. Compare transformations that preserve distance and angle to those that do not (e.g., translation versus horizontal stretch).

MGSE9-12.G.CO.3 Given a rectangle, parallelogram, trapezoid, or regular polygon, describe the rotations and reflections that carry it onto itself.

MGSE9-12.G.CO.4 Develop definitions of rotations, reflections, and translations in terms of angles, circles, perpendicular lines, parallel lines, and line segments.
MGSE-12.G.CO.5 Given a geometric figure and a rotation, reflection, or translation, draw the transformed figure using, e.g., graph paper, tracing paper, or geometry software. Specify a sequence of transformations that will carry a given figure onto another.

between two quantities. Sketch a graph showing key features including: intercepts; interval where the function is increasing, decreasing, positive, or negative; relative maximums and minimums; symmetries; end behavior; and periodicity.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.5 Relate the domain of a function to its graph and, where applicable, to the quantitative relationship it describes. For example, if the function \( h(n) \) gives the number of person-hours it takes to assemble \( n \) engines in a factory, then the positive integers would be an appropriate domain for the function.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.6 Calculate and interpret the average rate of change of a function (presented symbolically or as a table) over a specified interval. Estimate the rate of change from a graph.

Analyze functions using different representations

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7 Graph functions expressed algebraically and show key features of the graph both by hand and by using technology.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.7a Graph linear and quadratic functions and show intercepts, maxima, and minima (as determined by the function or by context).

MGSE9-12.F.IF.8 Write a function defined by an expression in different but equivalent forms to reveal and explain different properties of the function.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.8a Use the process of factoring and completing the square in a quadratic function to show zeros, extreme values, and symmetry of the graph, and interpret these in terms of a context. For example, compare and contrast quadratic functions in standard, vertex, and intercept forms.

MGSE9-12.F.IF.9 Compare properties of two functions each represented in a different way (algebraically, graphically, numerically in tables, or by verbal descriptions). For example, given a graph of one function and an algebraic expression for another, say which has the larger maximum.

b. Work with peers to set rules for collegial discussions and decision-making (e.g., informal consensus, taking votes on key issues, presentation of alternate views), clear goals and deadlines, and individual roles as needed.

c. Propel conversations by posing and responding to questions that relate the current discussion to broader themes or larger ideas; actively incorporate others into the discussion; and clarify, verify, or challenge ideas and conclusions.

d. Respond thoughtfully to diverse perspectives, summarize points of agreement and disagreement, and, when warranted, qualify or justify their own views and understanding and make new connections in light of the evidence and reasoning presented.

ELAGSE9-10SL2: Integrate multiple sources of information presented in diverse media or formats (e.g., visually, quantitatively, orally) evaluating the credibility and accuracy of each source.

ELAGSE9-10SL3: Evaluate and/or reflect on a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, identifying any fallacious reasoning or exaggerated or distorted evidence.

Presentation of Knowledge and Ideas

ELAGSE9-10SL4: Present information, findings, and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically such that listeners can follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development, substance, and style are appropriate to purpose, audience, and task.

ELAGSE9-10SL5: Make strategic use of digital media (e.g., textual, graphical, audio, visual, and interactive elements) in presentations to enhance understanding of findings, reasoning, and evidence and to add interest.

ELAGSE9-10SL6: Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and tasks, demonstrating command of formal English when indicated or appropriate.

(See grades 9–10 Language standards 1 and 3 for specific expectations.)

Knowledge of Language

ELAGSE9-10L3: Apply knowledge of language to understand how language functions in different contexts, to make effective choices for meaning or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading or listening, and to write and to edit so that it conforms to the guidelines in a style manual (e.g., MLA Handbook, APA Handbook, Turabian’s Manual for Writers) appropriate for the discipline and writing type.

Vocabulary Acquisition and Use

ELAGSE9-10L4: Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words and phrases based on grades 9–10 reading and content, choosing flexibly from a range of strategies.

- a. Use context (e.g., the overall meaning of a sentence, paragraph, or text; a word’s position or function in a sentence) as a clue to the meaning of a word or phrase.
- b. Identify and correctly use patterns of word changes that indicate different meanings or parts of speech (e.g., analyze, analysis, analytical; advocate, advocacy).
- c. Consult general and specialized reference materials (e.g., dictionaries, glossaries, thesauruses), both print and digital, to find the pronunciation of a word or determine or clarify its precise meaning, its part of speech, or its etymology.
- d. Verify the preliminary determination of the meaning of a word or phrase (e.g., by checking the inferred meaning in context or in a dictionary).

ELAGSE9-10L5: Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings.

- a. Interpret figures of speech (e.g., euphemism, oxymoron) in context and analyze their role in the text.
- b. Analyze nuances in the meaning of words with similar denotations.

ELAGSE9-10L6: Acquire and use accurately general academic and domain-specific words and phrases, sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Text Types and Purposes

ELAGSE9-10W1: Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

a. Introduce precise claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that establishes clear relationships among claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

b. Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly, supplying evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience’s knowledge level and concerns.

c. Use words, phrases, and clauses to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims.

d. Establish and maintain an appropriate style and objective tone.

e. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.

ELAGSE9-10W2: Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.

a. Introduce a topic; organize complex ideas, concepts, and information to make important connections and distinctions; include formatting (e.g., headings), graphics (e.g., figures, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension.

b. Develop the topic with well-chosen, relevant, and sufficient facts, extended definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples appropriate to the audience’s knowledge of the topic.

c. Use appropriate and varied transitions to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships among complex ideas and concepts.

d. Use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to manage the complexity of the topic.

e. Establish and maintain an appropriate style and objective tone.

f. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the information or explanation presented (e.g., articulating implications or the significance of the topic).

ELAGSE9-10W3: Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.

a. Engage and orient the reader by setting out a problem, situation, or observation, establishing one or multiple point(s) of view, and introducing a narrator and/or characters; create a smooth progression of experiences or events.

b. Use narrative techniques, such as dialogue, pacing, description, reflection, and multiple plot lines, to develop experiences, events, and/or characters.

c. Use a variety of techniques to sequence events so that they build on one another to create a coherent whole.

d. Use precise words and phrases, telling details, and sensory language to convey a vivid picture of the experiences, events, setting, and/or characters.

e. Provide a conclusion that follows from and reflects on what is experienced, observed, or resolved over the course of the narrative.

Biology Curriculum

The Georgia Performance Standards are designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills for proficiency in science. The Project 2061’s Benchmarks for Science Literacy is used as the core of the curriculum to determine appropriate content and process skills for students. The GPS is also aligned to the National Research Council’s National Science Education Standards. Technology is infused into the curriculum. The relationship between science, our environment, and our everyday world is crucial to each student’s success and should be emphasized.

The performance standards should drive instruction. Hands-on, student-centered, and inquiry-based approaches should be the emphases of instruction. This curriculum is intended as a required curriculum that would show proficiency in science, and instruction should extend beyond the curriculum to meet the student needs.

The hands-on nature of the science curriculum standards increases the need for teachers to use appropriate precautions in the laboratory and field. The guidelines for the safe use, storage, and disposal of chemicals must be observed. Safety of the student should always be foremost in science instruction.

Science consists of a way of thinking and investigating, and includes a growing body of knowledge about the natural world. To become literate in science, therefore, students need to acquire understandings of both the Characteristics of Science and its Content. The Georgia Performance Standards for Science require that instruction be organized so that these are treated together. Therefore, a CONTENT STANDARD IS NOT MET UNLESS APPLICABLE CHARACTERISTICS OF SCIENCE ARE ALSO ADDRESSED AT THE SAME TIME. For this reason they are presented as co-requisites.

An explanation of the coding of the science GPS is attached.

This Performance Standards document includes four major components. They are:

The Standards for Georgia Science Courses. The Characteristics of Science co-requisite standards are listed first followed by the Content co-requisite standards. Each Standard is followed by elements that indicate the specific learning goals associated with it.

Tasks that students should be able to perform during or by the end of the course. These tasks are keyed to the relevant Standards. Some of these can serve as activities that will help students achieve the learning goals of the Standard while others can be used to assess student learning. Many of these tasks can serve both purposes.

Samples of student work. As a way of indicating what it takes to meet a Standard, examples of successful student work are provided. Many of these illustrate how student work can bridge the Content and Characteristics of Science Standards. The Georgia DOE Standards web site will continue to add samples as they are identified and teachers are encouraged to submit examples from their own classroom experiences.

Teacher Commentary. Teacher commentary is meant to open the pathways of communication between students and the classroom teacher. Showing students why they did or did not meet a standard enables them to take ownership of their own learning.

Reading Standard Comment

After the elementary years, students are seriously engaged in reading for learning. This process sweeps across all disciplinary domains, extending even to the area of personal learning. Students encounter a variety of informational as well as fictional texts, and they experience text in all genres and modes of discourse. In the study of various disciplines of learning (language arts, mathematics, science, social studies), students must learn through reading the communities of discourse of each of those disciplines. Each subject has its own specific vocabulary, and for students to excel in all subjects, they must learn the specific vocabulary of those subject areas in context.

Beginning with the middle grades years, students begin to self-select reading materials based on personal interests established through classroom learning. Students become curious about science, mathematics, history, and literature as they form contexts for those subjects related to their personal and classroom experiences. As students explore academic areas through reading, they develop favorite subjects and become confident in their verbal discourse about those subjects.

Reading across curriculum content develops both academic and personal interests in students. As students read, they develop both content and contextual vocabulary. They also build good habits for reading, researching, and learning. The Reading Across the Curriculum standard focuses on the academic and personal skills students acquire as they read in all areas of learning.

Physical Science Curriculum

The Georgia Performance Standards are designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills for proficiency in science. The Project 2061’s Benchmarks for Science Literacy is used as the core of the curriculum to determine appropriate content and process skills for students. The GPS is also aligned to the National Research Council’s National Science Education Standards. Technology is infused into the curriculum. The relationship between science, our environment, and our everyday world is crucial to each student’s success and should be emphasized.

The performance standards should drive instruction. Hands-on, student-centered, and inquiry-based approaches should be the emphases of instruction. This curriculum is intended as a required curriculum that would show proficiency in science, and instruction should extend beyond the curriculum to meet the student needs.

The hands-on nature of the science curriculum standards increases the need for teachers to use appropriate precautions in the laboratory and field. The guidelines for the safe use, storage, and disposal of materials must be observed. Safety of the student should always be foremost in science instruction.

Science consists of a way of thinking and investigating, and includes a growing body of knowledge about the natural world. To become literate in science, therefore, students need to acquire understandings of both the Characteristics of Science and its Content. The Georgia Performance Standards for Science require that instruction be organized so that these are treated together. Therefore, A CONTENT STANDARD IS NOT MET UNLESS APPLICABLE CHARACTERISTICS OF SCIENCE ARE ALSO ADDRESSED AT THE SAME TIME. For this reason they are presented as co-requisites.

This Performance Standards document includes four major components. They are

The Standards for Georgia Science Courses. The Characteristics of Science co-requisite standards are listed first followed by the Content co-requisite standards. Each Standard is followed by elements that indicate the specific learning goals associated with it.

Tasks that students should be able to perform during or by the end of the course. These tasks are keyed to the relevant Standards. Some of these can serve as activities that will help students achieve the learning goals of the Standard while others can be used to assess student learning. Many of these tasks can serve both purposes.

Samples of student work. As a way of indicating what it takes to meet a Standard, examples of successful student work are provided. Many of these illustrate how student work can bridge the Content and Characteristics of Science Standards. The Georgia DOE Standards web site will continue to add samples as they are identified, and teachers are encouraged to submit examples from their own classroom experiences.

Teacher Commentary. Teacher commentary is meant to open the pathways of communication between students and the classroom teacher. Showing students why they did or did not meet a standard enables them to take ownership of their own learning.

Text Types and Purposes

a. Introduce precise claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that establishes clear relationships among the claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence.

b. Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly, supplying data and evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both claim(s) and counterclaims in a discipline-appropriate form and in a manner that anticipates the audience’s knowledge level and concerns.

c. Use words, phrases, and clauses to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims.

Botvin LifeSkills Training: High School Program

Program Overview

The Botvin LifeSkills Training High School program is a highly interactive, skills-based program designed to promote positive health and personal development for high school youth. Based on the highly effective LifeSkills Training curriculum, this program helps adolescents navigate the challenges of the high school years and prepares them for the transition to work or college and the independence and responsibilities that they will encounter as young adults. The LifeSkills Training High School program uses developmentally appropriate and collaborative learning strategies to help students achieve competency in the skills that have been found to reduce and prevent substance use and violence.

Program Structure

The Botvin LifeSkills Training High School program is designed for students in the 9th or 10th grade. The program consists of 10 class sessions (approximately 40–45 minutes each session). The program can be taught either as an intensive mini-series (consecutively every day, or two to three times a week) until the program is complete, or on a more extended schedule (once a week for 10 weeks).

The High School program can be used alone or in combination with the LifeSkills Training Middle School program as a maintenance program. The program can be taught in school, community, and after-school settings.

Program Learning Objectives

The Botvin LifeSkills Training High School program is an integrated approach that develops personal, interpersonal, and drug resistance skills. The curriculum is designed to strengthen student abilities in the following areas:

- Personal Self-Management Skills

  Provides students with strategies for decision-making, managing stress, and anger.

- General Social Skills

  Enables students to strengthen their communication skills and build healthy relationships.

- Drug Resistance Skills

  Empowers students to understand the consequences of substance use and risk-taking and the influences of the media.

Unit 6

Family Communications
Introduction

The core of who you are is built on family—it’s values, rules, expectations, and approaches to life.

A family can take many forms. For some it’s blood relatives; for others it’s an intricate network of friends and relations. When you were young, you received a lot of guidance and supervision from your family. Now that you’re in high school, you want more independence. But people who care for you want to be sure you can handle the responsibility. There will be disagreements about your needs and expectations for one another, which may result in arguments, misunderstanding, and confusion.

The questions we’ll be thinking about in this unit are:

1. What are your needs for independence? How does your family’s caregiving style adapt to those needs?

2. How and why do misunderstandings about needs and expectations for safe and drug-free behavior typically develop?

3. What expectations regarding substance use should you and your family members have for one another?

4. What communication skills help families avoid misunderstandings about each other’s needs and expectations?

5. What’s the difference between misunderstandings and disagreements? Why is it important to know the difference?

Unit Concepts

- understanding others’ views
- communicating effectively
- validate
- empathy

Group Activity. Brainstorm ideas about how your family roles have stayed the same and changed over the years. Write your ideas in the chart below.

- Stayed the Same
  - youngest child
  - the “funny” one

- Changed
  - more adult responsibilities
  - get good grades

Now discuss how families change as children grow older.

- What are family expectations for behavior?
- How do families communicate these expectations?
- What are your needs, and how does your family meet them?
- When you’re trying to communicate your needs, what behaviors help others understand you? What contributes to misunderstandings?

Reflection

In what ways are you different now physically, emotionally, mentally, and socially from how you were in elementary school? In middle school? How do these changes impact your roles in the family now?
Non-Verbal

SPEAKER AND LISTENER

- Maintain eye contact.
- Facial expressions, such as smiling and nodding, should show interest.
- Your body language and gestures should be confident but inviting.
- Find a physical distance that has you near enough to each other to talk easily, but not so close that you feel crowded.

Verbal

SPEAKER

- Your words should match your body language.
- Ask both specific (e.g., “Do you understand what I mean by…?”) and open-ended (e.g., “What do you think of that idea?”) questions to check if the other person understands.
- Give the other person time to talk; don’t monopolize the conversation.
- Keep your tone of voice clear and respectful.

LISTENER

- Use passive listening: Nod, look engaged in what the person is saying, respond with short comments to show you’re paying attention.
- Let the other person finish sentences; don’t interrupt.
- Use active listening: Summarize what you have heard and check for understanding by paraphrasing (saying it in your own words), restating (saying it back using the other person’s words), or asking specific questions.
- Keep your tone of voice clear and respectful.

Concept

Effective communication is the respectful exchange of thoughts, feelings, and beliefs between a speaker and a listener in such a way that the listener interprets the message in the same way the speaker intended it.
Partners. Take turns reading and responding to the rules below and practicing the Effective Communication Skills on page 5. When you’re finished, check off in the Effective Communication Skills box those cues that you used.

   SKILL(s):
1. Read over the interview questions on page 8. Add two or more questions that you can think of on this topic to the worksheet.

2. Set up a time before your next class for your interview. Let your interviewee know that it will take about 30 minutes. Be sure to ask all the questions on page 8, but remember to include the questions you added.

3. Refer to the rubric for the Family Interview on page 12 for guidelines on completing the Family Interview Worksheet and the Reflection.

4. Follow your teacher’s instructions on how to complete and submit your Family Interview Worksheet and Reflection.

Tips for Interviewing

There are a few points to keep in mind while doing your interview.

- Find a time that’s convenient for both of you.
- Use the verbal and non-verbal communication skills that you learned about on page 5.
- Ask if you can record the interview, since it will help you focus on the questions and answers. Try to take notes when reviewing the recording.
- If you don’t record, write down notes while you’re interviewing that you can use to remind yourself of what the person said.
- If you want to know more about what the person said, ask a follow-up question.

Remember, an important part of this activity is to have fun!

6. What are the consequences for me if I don’t follow these rules?

7. Why do you think these rules are important?

Reflection for Family Interview

1. Which Effective Communication Skills did you use in the interview? How did they help?

2. I learned that

3. I was surprised that

4. I am puzzled about

Think About It

Activity E: I Was Surprised That . . .

Look back at question #5 on your Family Interview Worksheet. For each of the rules and expectations that your caregiver has for you, mark:

A next to those that you AGREE with and understand

D next to those you DISAGREE with but understand

P next to those that PUZZLE you—that you disagree with and don’t understand

Concept

Understanding others’ views involves comprehending what the other person means even if you don’t agree with it.
These Communicating for Understanding Skills follow five steps so that each person in the conversation understands what the other person is saying—whether they agree or not.

- Step 1: Initiate
  The sender asks for some time to talk.
  Sender: “Can we talk?”
  Receiver: “Sure. What’s on your mind?”
  Sender: “I really want you to stop hanging out at the basketball courts. I’ve been hearing about drugs being sold and fights there.”

- Step 2: Mirror
  The receiver checks for understanding about what the sender has said and means. This step should continue until the receiver understands the sender’s message.
  Receiver: “So, if I’ve got it, what I’m hearing you say is that you’ve heard stories about fights and drug dealing at the courts and you want me to stop hanging out there. Is there anything more you’d like me to know?” (or “Tell me more.”) Sender: “I know that you and your friends like to play ball there, but I’m worried about your safety.”

- Step 3: Summarize
  The receiver summarizes the key parts of what the sender has said.
  Receiver: “So let me see if I’ve got it all. You know my friends and I like to play ball at the courts, but you’ve heard a lot of stories about fights and drug dealing there, and you’re worried about my safety so you’d like me not to hang out there. Did I get it all?”
  Sender: “You got it!”

- Step 4: Validate
  The receiver shows understanding and valuing of the sender’s point of view even if they don’t agree.
  Receiver: “I understand that you’re concerned about my safety and I can see it’s important to you because there have been some fights at the courts. I’ll talk to my friends and figure out where else we can go.”

- Step 5: Empathize
  The receiver expresses care and sensitivity to the sender’s feelings, thoughts, or experience.
  Receiver: “I imagine you feel worried when I’m at the courts.”
  Sender: “Yes, it does worry me. Now, is there anything you want to talk to me about?”

Concepts
- Validate means showing you value the other person’s opinions even if you don’t agree.
- Empathize means understanding and being sensitive to the other person’s feelings, thoughts, and experience.
Partners. Each of you will choose one rule from your interview that you marked with a P (or a D, if there is no P). Using the Communicating for Understanding Skills on page 10, practice having a conversation for understanding. Remember to use the Effective Communications Skills on page 5 as well. When you are done, switch roles. Then complete the Reflection.

Make It Happen

Activity H: I Mean What I Say

At home, introduce the Communicating for Understanding Skills to your family. Use these skills to talk to your caregiver about one of the rules you marked with a P or D in Activity E on page 9 and come to an understanding about the rule you selected. After the conversation, write a Reflection paragraph about your conversation. Use the questions below to shape your paragraph.

Reflection

- What was your caregiver’s reaction to you introducing these skills?
- How has your understanding about the rule changed?
- Do you still disagree about the rule?
- Whether you now agree with the rule or not, what would you like to have happen next (another topic you’d like to talk about, a way the rule could be changed, etc.)?

Evaluate your Reflection using the rubric for I Mean What I Say on page 13. Follow your teacher’s instructions about submitting your Reflection.

Background to the Unit
Two important ingredients in preventing and reducing substance use and other risky behaviors in adolescents and young adults are: (1) the clear and consistent communication from parents and caregivers that the use of substances and other risky behaviors are not safe, and (2) the establishment of expectations for healthy and safe behavior.

Students live in a variety of family structures. Completing this unit may be difficult for some. You will need to be sensitive to students who live in “nontraditional” or challenging settings and help them successfully complete this unit.

In Activity D, students interview a parent or caregiver. You may need to arrange ahead of time for a group of people from your school to serve as interview subjects for students who need someone to interview. Keep in mind that the Family Interview and its follow-up activity (I Mean What I Say) will take about 30 minutes each, so your students will need to schedule time accordingly with the people they’re interviewing.

You may want to begin the unit with a brief discussion of what a family is, emphasizing that there is no right or wrong definition.

Goals for Family Communications
After completing this unit, students will better understand:
1. What young adults’ needs are for independence and how family caregiving styles adapt to those needs.
2. How and why misunderstandings about needs and expectations for safe and drug-free behavior typically develop.
3. The expectations regarding substance use that young adults and their families should have for one another.
4. Which communication skills can help families avoid misunderstandings about each other’s needs and expectations for safe and drug-free behavior.
5. The difference between understandings and agreements and why it is important to know the difference.
Goal
After completing this activity students will better understand:

#1. What young adults’ needs are for independence and how family caregiving styles adapt to those needs.

Instructions
1. State the goal for the activity.
2. Write these column heads on the board: Stayed the Same, Changed.
3. Group Activity. Place students in small groups. Appoint a recorder and reporter for each.
4. Brainstorm. Have students brainstorm in their groups how their family roles have stayed the same and changed over the years. The recorder should write down the group’s observations.
5. Ask each reporter to give their group’s observations. Write their responses on the board in the appropriate category.
6. Instruct students to turn to Activity A on page 4 in the Student Guide. Have them write down in the chart any ideas that apply to them.
7. In the same groups, have students discuss the questions and the Reflection at the bottom of page 4 in the Student Guide.

Option: Run a length of string down the classroom and mark it at different points with these grade levels and ages: pre-school (0-4), elementary school (5-9), middle school (10-12), and high school (13-15). Have students write on index cards the changes they experienced in their roles at these different times and paper clip the cards to the string at the appropriate ages. Then invite students to stand by the group that is most interesting to them. Ask open questions about each stage. Using the responses, have students compare the changes from birth to now (if there are ages no one chose, use open questions to find out why).

Reflection
In what ways are you different now physically, emotionally, mentally, and socially from how you were in elementary school? In middle school? How do these changes impact your roles in your family now?
Observe
“How have your roles changed? How have they stayed the same?”

Analyze
“Why do you think these changes occurred? Why have some stayed the same? How have you and your family adapted to these changes?”

Predict
“What roles have stayed the same that you would like to change?”

Suggest
“What can families and young adults do to better understand each other’s needs?”

Points to Make
✓ We have different needs and abilities at different times in our lives. These affect our roles within our families.
✓ Adolescents need independence, peer relationships, the opportunities to take healthy risks and make their own decisions, and the space to develop their identities.
✓ Adolescents often need caregivers to trust them as they explore new experiences.
✓ Teens need to remember that caregivers have to adapt to these new needs. Families need to learn to work together to adjust their evolving roles.
✓ Adults have to learn how to balance teen needs with parental concerns to enable the teens to make good decisions, engage in safe activities, and maintain healthy communication with the family.

Activity B: Effective Communication Skills

Goal
After completing this activity students will better understand:
#2. How and why misunderstandings about needs and expectations for safe and drug-free behavior typically develop.

Instructions
1. State the goal for the activity.
2. Write on the board, Effective Communication.
3. Ask students to call out their responses to the question, “What is effective communication?” After gathering responses and writing them on the board, have students open to Activity B on page 5 in the Student Guide. Review the concept:

Effective communication is the respectful exchange of thoughts, feelings, and beliefs between a speaker and a listener in such a way that the listener interprets the message in the same way the speaker intended it.

Ask students to identify the key words and ideas in the definition.

4. Review the Effective Communication Skills and these terms:

- Eye contact is looking directly into someone’s eyes (in a nonconfrontational manner) while listening or speaking; it shows the other person you’re paying attention to them.
- Non-verbal/body language is the “message” your body gives; e.g., looking around the room instead of at the person suggests you’re not paying attention.
- Active listening shows understanding by repeating back what the other person just said, sometimes by putting the message in your own words.
- Passive listening shows interest and understanding such as by occasionally nodding your head or using short phrases (e.g., “I see”) at appropriate breaks in the conversation.

5. Invite a student to demonstrate the non-verbal skills with you. Start by coaching the student on how to maintain eye contact, proper facial expressions, body language, and distance.

6. Invite another student to help you demonstrate the verbal skills. Coach the student in the listener role as you communicate a simple idea such as, “If I communicate effectively, you will understand me.”

7. Thank the students for their help.

Non-Verbal

SPEAKER AND LISTENER

- Maintain eye contact.
- Facial expressions, such as smiling and nodding, should show interest.
- Your body language and gestures should be confident but inviting.
- Find a physical distance that has you near enough to each other to talk easily, but not so close that you feel crowded.

Verbal

SPEAKER

- Your words should match your body language.
- Ask both specific (e.g., “Do you understand what I mean by...?”) and open-ended (e.g., “What do you think of that idea?”) questions to check if the other person understands.
- Give the other person time to talk; don’t monopolize the conversation.
- Keep your tone of voice clear and respectful.

LISTENER

- Use passive listening: nod, look engaged in what the person is saying, respond with short comments to show you’re paying attention.
- Let the other person finish sentences; don’t interrupt.
- Use active listening: summarize what you have heard and check for understanding by paraphrasing (saying it in your own words), restating (saying it back using the other person’s words), or asking specific questions.
- Keep your tone of voice clear and respectful.

Be sensitive to cultural differences in communication styles. For instance, in some cultures, it is not appropriate for a female to look directly into someone’s eyes.
Goals
After completing this activity students will better understand:

#2. Why and how misunderstandings about needs and expectations for safe and drug-free behavior typically develop.

#3. The expectations regarding substance use that young adults and their families should have for one another.

Instructions
1. State the goals for this activity.

2. Ask students to turn to Activity C on page 6 in the Student Guide. Call up a volunteer to read the “parent” (A) rule in item 1. Model the B response using verbal and non-verbal skills. Ask the class to identify which skills you use.

3. Partners. Have students work in pairs, taking turns on each rule (each student should come up with a response and write it on their worksheet) and identifying the skills they used. Circulate and coach as necessary.

4. Bring the class back together and ask a few pairs to report on their responses and use of the skills.

5. Summarize with open-ended questions such as:

   Observe
   “What was difficult about this activity? What was easy?”

   Analyze
   “What communication skills did you use?”
   “Why do families have rules and expectations?”

   Predict
   “What happens if you don’t use clear communication skills—if the person misunderstands your message?”
   “What happens if family members don’t talk about their rules and expectations about staying safe?”

   Suggest
   “How do you think these skills can help you with difficult discussions with your family or your friends?”
Points to Make

✓ Using Effective Communication Skills can help prevent misunderstandings with others.
✓ Verbal and non-verbal techniques include active and passive listening, using open-ended questions, and looking at the person.
✓ Practicing the Effective Communication Skills can help you become more comfortable with them.

Make It Happen

Activity D: Family Interview (Out-of-Class Activity)

Goal
After completing this activity students will better understand:

#3. The expectations regarding substance use young adults and their families should have for one another.

Preparation

If a caregiver is not available for an interview, offer students other options. For instance, they could interview a teacher or administrator with whom they have a good relationship or a parent of a friend.

Instructions

1. State the goal for the activity.

2. Have students turn to Activity D on pages 7-8 of the Student Guide. Inform students they will be interviewing a caregiver or trusted adult before the next class.

3. Facilitate a discussion with students about why knowledge of family expectations about drug use and safe behavior is important.

Sample Facilitation Questions

1. Why might it be useful to know family rules or expectations?
2. Why is it important to know what our families think is safe or risky behavior?
3. How do you think you could find out?

Family Interview Worksheet

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Interviewer</th>
<th>Name of Interviewee</th>
<th>Relationship to You</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Thank you for agreeing to this interview. I’d like to start by asking you some questions about when you were my age:

1. What did you like to do when you were my age?
2. What did you want to be when you got older?
3. What rules and expectations did your family have?
4. What messages did you get from your parents about alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs when you were growing up?

Now I’d like to ask you some questions about your role as a caregiver.

5. What are your rules and expectations for me about the use of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs when you were growing up?
6. What are the consequences for me if I don’t follow these rules?
7. Why do you think these rules are important?
8. What do you think is the most challenging part of taking care of a young adult?
9. What have you liked about participating in this interview?
10. Add two questions of your own.

Sample Follow-Up Responses:

Tell me more.
Can you give me an example?
Then what did you do?
Is there anything else?
4. Assign the Family Interview and Reflection (on page 9) and review the instructions. Remind the students of the Effective Communication Skills on page 5. If you will be collecting and grading the Family Interview Worksheet, review the rubric for the Family Interview (page 12) with the students. Be sure to set a due date for the completion of the assignments.

5. Check with students for any questions or issues about the assignment.

6. Tell students that in the next session they will learn more skills to help them communicate clearly with their families, and that the family interview will be used to complete those activities.

Lesson 2

Think About It

Activity E: I Was Surprised That . . .

Goals

After completing this activity students will better understand:

#4. Which communication skills can help families avoid misunderstandings about each other’s needs and expectations for safe and drug-free behavior.

Instructions

1. State the goal for the activity.

2. Check for students’ comprehension of the concept of understanding others’ views. Ask for an example or two of when students have understood someone though they didn’t agree. (Examples might include their family’s curfew rule or not being allowed off-campus during the school day.)

   Understanding others’ views involves comprehending what the other person means even if we don’t agree with it.

3. Have students open to Activity E on page 9 in the Student Guide.

   For any students who didn’t do the interview, have them write down rules that they think apply to them on the interview sheet, then classify them.
4. Ask students to look back at their Family Interview Worksheets on page 8 and indicate their reaction to each of the rules and expectations that their caregiver has for them by marking:

A next to those that they AGREE with and understand
D next to those they DISAGREE with but understand
P next to those that PUZZLE them—that is, disagree with and don’t understand

5. Have students call out a rule or expectation they heard from their parents. Write them on the board.

6. After collecting a few representative rules, ask students if they:
   • have a similar rule in their family
   • agree with and understand it
   • disagree with but understand it
   • disagree with and don’t understand it

7. Summarize with open-ended questions such as:

   Observe
   “What happened during your interview? How did it go?”
   “What kinds of patterns are there to the expectations and rules we understand and those we don’t?”

   Analyze
   “What kinds of patterns are there to the rules we agree with? To those we’re puzzled by?”

   Predict
   “How can understanding those things we might not agree with help us and our relationships with others?”

   Suggest
   “How can we use communication skills to turn misunderstandings into understandings?”

Points to Make
✓ Understanding doesn’t necessarily mean we agree with others’ points of view. Similarly, misunderstanding doesn’t mean that we disagree.
✓ Understanding can increase the opportunities for agreement and respectful acceptance for disagreement.
Goal
After completing this activity students will better understand:
#5. The difference between understandings and agreements and why it is important to know the difference.

Instructions
1. State the goal for the activity.
2. Facilitate a discussion about the roles of understanding and agreement.

Sample Facilitation Questions
1. What does it mean to understand what another person is saying?
2. Does understanding mean we necessarily agree?
3. If we don’t understand each other, what can we do to make it happen?
4. How do understanding and agreement differ?

3. Have students turn to Activity F on page 10.

4. Review the skills and provide the following definitions as needed.

Validate means showing that you value the other person’s opinion, even if you don’t agree.

Empathize means understanding and being sensitive to the other person’s feelings, thoughts, and experience.

5. Ask for a volunteer to model the steps on page 10 with you (see page 6.11 for the script).
Goals
After completing this activity students will better understand:

#4. Which communication skills can help families avoid misunderstandings about each other’s needs and expectations for safe and drug-free behavior.

#5. The difference between understandings and agreements and why it is important to know the difference.

Instructions

1. State the goals of the activity.

2. Ask students to think about the skills they just reviewed and which ones they think will work well for them in resolving one of the rules or expectations they don’t understand or agree with.

3. Have students turn to Activity G on page 11 in the Student Guide.

4. Partners. Have students work in pairs. Each person should choose a rule or expectation from their interview that they don’t understand.

5. Pairs should practice coming to an understanding of the rule using the Communicating for Understanding Skills. Remind students to complete the Reflection on page 11.

6. Summarize using open-ended questions such as:

   - Observe
     “What happened during your practice?”
     “What did you think and feel while using the communication skills?”

   - Analyze
     “Why did those things happen?”

   - Predict
     “What happens when we practice these skills with our families and each other?”

   - Suggest
     “What other skills have we learned that might help us communicate effectively about misunderstandings with our family?”
     “What are some other tips that you think would help create effective communication with our families when we have misunderstandings about expectations for safe behavior and substance use?”
     “How might using these skills be different if you were doing it with a parent or caregiver? Which do you think would work best? Why?”
Points to Make

✓ The more we practice these communication skills, the more we can decrease our misunderstandings and increase our understanding.
✓ Effective communication skills create trust and respect between people.
✓ Effective communication skills help reach agreements about rules and expectations that honor the needs of both young adults and their families.
✓ Some rules are non-negotiable because they are about safety.
✓ It is important is to understand even if you don’t agree, and to know when something can be negotiated and when you have to follow the rules.
✓ We may experience strong emotions when we approach difficult communications with our family. There are techniques we can use to help us be good listeners and speakers.

Make It Happen

Activity H: I Mean What I Say (Out-of-Class-Activity) 5 minutes

Goal

After completing this activity students will better understand:

#5. The difference between understandings and agreements and why it is important to know the difference.

Instructions

1. State the goal for the activity.

2. Have students open to Activity H on page 11 in the Student Guide. Direct students to pick one family rule (it can be the same one they worked on in class) and have a Communicating for Understanding conversation with their caregiver.

3. Suggest they explain that this is a follow-up to their interview and that they go over the Communicating for Understanding Skills (Student Guide, page 10).

4. Following the conversation, the student should answer the Reflection questions on page 11 and write one or two paragraphs summarizing what skills worked well and which still need work. Students should include samples from the conversation.

5. If you will be grading this activity, review the rubric for I Mean What I Say (page 13) with your students. Be sure to assign a due date.

6. Tell students that in the next unit they will be exploring skills that will help them create and maintain healthy personal relationships.

• Sometimes our decisions will go against what our friends are doing. It’s up to us to decide what is right for us.

• In the end, we have to live with the consequences of our decisions.

• When we face a difficult decision, it’s important to take the time to work it through using PROPS.

Unit 3: Risk-Taking and Substance Abuse

1. For each major objective and corresponding points to make listed below, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

A. Valuing What’s Important
   - How our values are influenced by our perception of risk. □ □
   - How a possible risk becomes a probable risk. □ □
   - People tend to decide whether to take a risk based on what they think they have to lose, what they think they have to gain, and how much value they place on the potential gains and losses. □ □
   - Knowing what we value is an important first step in deciding what whether a risk is worth taking. □ □
   - We tend to act in ways that are consistent with our values. □ □

B. What Kind of Risk-Taker Are You?
   - How our values are influenced by our perception of risk. □ □
   - How a possible risk becomes a probable risk. □ □
   - There are many factors that influence how risky we think something is. □ □
   - We all have different comfort levels with taking risks. □ □
   - Some risks will result in benefits and some will result in harms. □ □
   - When it comes to risk-taking, it is important to anticipate the probability of both benefits and harms. □ □
C. Risky, Riskier, Riskiest

- How a possible risk becomes a probable risk.
- The role substance use plays in risk-taking and its consequences.
- Taking risks can be fun, making us feel excited and energized.
- We have to take some risks if we want to grow and learn new things about ourselves.
- Healthy risk-taking provides us with opportunities to experience those feelings of excitement while enhancing, rather than harming what we value.
- Not all risks are equal.
- Sometimes, the energy of being in a group can influence us to take risks or perceive them differently than we would if we were by ourselves.
- Substance use can increase the level of risk and the probability of harm for activities that might otherwise be rather low risk.
- All types of substance use have the potential for being high risk with unhealthy results; some types of substance use are always high risk.
- A decision-making method such as PROPS (from Unit 2) can help us think through whether taking a risk will enhance or harm our health.

D. Playing it Safe

- How decision-making skills and understanding the factors affecting risk-taking can help us decide whether to take a risk.

A. Popular Media

- The different forms of media.
- Why people use media and why they prefer certain types.
- How the media influence our beliefs about ourselves, our culture, and various health behaviors.
- Even though the media influences us, we choose which ones we engage with.
- We have many choices about what type of media and which media messages to consume.
- Teenagers are the largest consumers of media and more likely than any other group to use multiple forms of media.
- The media send us messages about our self-image and culture and what is popular and socially acceptable. When we use media, we are consuming those messages.
- Some messages promote positive and healthy beliefs and behaviors, but some are negative and unhealthy.
- Media messages are highly influential in the formation of our ideas about ourselves and others.
B. Images: Self and Culture

- How the media influence our beliefs about ourselves, our culture, and various health behaviors.
- Media can be excellent educational resources, with positive messages that inform and entertain us.
- Teenagers represent a huge market for the media. Teens spend vast amounts of money and time on the media, which makes them prime targets of the media.
- Ordinarily we don’t think too much about the implied messages in the music we listen to, the movies we go see, and the shows we watch.
- Whether we are thinking about them, though, the messages get through.
- When we think about our media choices, we are likely to see connections between ourselves, our self-image, and a medium’s effect on us.
- Knowing how the media work can help us be more critical consumers of media messages, especially when those messages affect our thoughts and beliefs about identity and mental, emotional, and physical health.

C. Media Log (Out-of-Class Activity)

- Why people use media, and why they prefer certain types.
- How the media influence our beliefs about ourselves, our culture, and various health behaviors.
- Rubric

D. Talking Back to the Media

- How the media influence our beliefs about ourselves, our culture, and various health behaviors.
- In addition to beliefs about self and culture, we consume the media’s powerful messages about health practices.
- Some of these messages are positive and show behaviors that are good for us to imitate.
- Many of these messages do not accurately show what is really healthy or socially acceptable for us as individuals or as members of a culture.
- We can respond to media messages to correct inaccuracies, counter their illustration of health risks, or promote health-protective beliefs and behaviors.
E. Tuning In

- The strategies we can use to analyze media messages that we consume.
- What we can do to make sure that we use media in ways that protect our health.
- When we are more aware that the media we consume are projecting messages, we find ourselves paying more attention to the messages in the media.
- Media messages do not always accurately reflect what we believe or do or how problems are solved in the real world.
- Since we tend to act in ways that reflect what we believe about ourselves and what is popular and socially acceptable in our culture, the unthinking consumption of inaccurate media messages may lead us to adopt beliefs and behaviors that can jeopardize our health.
- We can increase and protect our self-image, cultural, physical, mental, and emotional health by being informed consumers of media products.

F. Leave a Message (Out-of-Class Activity)

- The strategies we can use to analyze media messages that we consume.
- What we can do to make sure that we use media in ways that protect our health.

2. For each of the concepts listed, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

- Media influence affects what we believe about ourselves and our cultures, and that what we believe is usually expressed in the choices that we make.
- Culture is the shared ideas, activities, language, and social expressions (food, music, clothing, etc.) of the members of one group that distinguishes it from another. It is part of our self-image.
- Targeting is the shaping of messages so that they attract a specific group of people who share individual or cultural interests, beliefs, and practices.

Unit 5: Managing Stress, Anger, and Other Emotions

1. For each major objective and corresponding points to make listed below, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

A. Start at the Source

- How emotions such as stress and anger affect other emotions.
- Some common trigger situations that can provoke strong emotions for us, as well as ones that are personally challenging.
- How emotions can influence our decisions about how to respond to triggers.
- There is a wide range of complexity of human emotions.
- Stress and anger are two powerful emotions that many find difficult to manage.
- There are many different possible emotional responses to triggers. Some triggers may be more challenging for one person than for another.
- We are unique in what we feel, how we feel it, and how we respond.
- Learning to manage powerful emotions can help us think more clearly so we can make decisions that enhance our lives.
- When our emotional responses and reactions are larger than the trigger, we need to examine whether there is more than one emotion taking place. If stress and anger are involved, our responses and reactions will be intensified.
- The consequences of not learning how to manage our emotions may include making decisions that hurt us or others, damaging relationships, developing physical illnesses, and feeling unhappy about our life.
• Alcohol and other drugs increase the odds that we won’t think clearly. They either exaggerate or diminish our ability to respond in a healthy way to a trigger and keep us from taking an appropriate action.

• Healthy emotional responses to triggers match the appropriate level of emotion to the situation, balance feeling with thinking and result in decisions that help us work more effectively toward what is important for us.

B. Make the Connection

• How tobacco, alcohol, and other drugs influence our emotional responses to triggers.
• When we’re experiencing strong emotions, especially when we add stress and anger to them, we can be tempted to control those emotions by using alcohol, tobacco, or other substances.
• These substances may make us feel like we’re in control of our emotions, but they generally make things worse and keep us from being able to deal with the problem.
• Substances tend to blunt our emotions and delay our reactions.
• It is often helpful to calm our bodies, thoughts, and feelings before acting or responding to something when we are feeling strong emotions.

C. Finding Balance

• Healthy techniques that help us manage powerful emotions so we can stay true to our values.
• The benefits of managing emotions (such as stress and anger) and expressing them in healthy ways.

D. Take a Break (Out-of-Class Activity)

• Healthy techniques that help us manage powerful emotions so we can stay true to our values.
• The benefits of managing emotions (such as stress and anger) and expressing them in healthy ways.
• Rubric

2. For each of the concepts listed, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

   Yes  No

• Stress and anger are two normal emotions that, when layered on another emotion, can sometimes lead us to respond to a situation in an unbalanced, emotionally extreme way.

• A trigger is a situation, person, place, or thing that causes an emotional response.

Unit 6: Family Communications

1. For each major objective and corresponding points to make listed below, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

A. The More Things Change…

- What young adults’ needs are for independence and how family caregiving styles adapt to those needs.
- We have different needs and abilities at different times in our lives. These affect our roles within our families.
- Adolescents need independence, peer relationships, the opportunities to take healthy risks and make their own decisions, and the space to develop their identities.

Unit 7: Healthy Relationships

1. For each major objective and corresponding points to make listed below, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

A. The Main Attraction

- The kinds of traits that draw people to each other and help build healthy relationships.
- There are many qualities that draw people to each other.
- Human beings are complex. Taking the time to discover someone’s deeper qualities may take more effort but can result in a healthy relationship.
- Sometimes the qualities that we like initially in someone aren’t enough to build a friendship or relationship on.
- It is healthy to know when someone isn’t right for you.
- Good conversational skills and doing things together can help you get to know someone better.

B. Putting a Relationship Together

- The ingredients that make up a healthy relationship.
- Throughout life we will be in many different relationships with many different kinds of people.
- Healthy relationships possess qualities of respect, safety, accountability, trust, and honesty.
- Relationships can be healthy or unhealthy. It is up to us to decide what we value and to set boundaries we are comfortable with.
- The key to developing a healthy close relationship with another person is to spend time getting to know one another through conversation and sharing interests and activities.
- The benefits of healthy relationships include companionship, feeling supported and respected, and feeling safe.
C. The Art of Assertiveness

- The role persuasion plays in personal and relationship health.
- How assertiveness can help us build healthy relationships.

D. Practicing Assertiveness

- The role persuasion plays in personal and relationship health.
- How assertiveness can help us build healthy relationships.
- Being assertive requires many other skills, such as effective verbal and non-verbal communication and stress and anger management.
- The more techniques we know, the more likely we are to be successful in resisting negative persuasion.
- We don’t always get what we want when we are assertive, but we may gain improved communication, self-respect, respect from others, personal growth, and sometimes the awareness that the relationship isn’t right for us.
- The most effective assertiveness skill is the one that works for you. It is important to know and use as many techniques as you can, because what works in one situation might not work in another.
- It isn’t easy to be assertive. Start by practicing with little things (“No, really, I don’t want more pie.”) and working up to the big things (“I feel angry when you break a date because your friend asks you to do something at the last minute.”).
- Relationships can lead us to take part in healthy as well as unhealthy behaviors. An important first step is to consider whether what someone is trying to persuade us to do will benefit or harm our best interests.
- We often give in to persuasion in relationship because we have something important at stake.
- Assertiveness can help us maintain the qualities we want for personal and relationship health.

E. Speak Up (Out-of-Class Activity)

- How assertiveness can help us build healthy relationships.

The Life Skills Training Process Tool is distributed free of charge to those interested in evaluating the implementation fidelity of the Life Skills Training program. The LST Process Tool can be completed by teachers who implement the program or by LST program observers. It is important to monitor program implementation because only teachers who implement the program with fidelity can best replicate the results achieved in 20 years of research.

If a prevention program is only partially implemented, its effectiveness will be substantially diluted. Stronger results were found when individuals received a complete version of the intervention.

I hope that this information is helpful. Please feel free to contact NHPA at 1-800-293-4969 with any questions.

- Determine the similarities and differences between formal and informal communication.
- Identify the types of relationships that occur in personal and work-related settings.
- The way we communicate with others creates an impression about who we are.
- In order to make the best impression, our communication behavior should be appropriate to the relationship. If you’re not sure which to use, adopt a more formal style.
- Effective communication skills can be used in any setting to facilitate mutual understanding and convey a positive impression of ourselves to others.

B. Effective Communication Skills

- Effective communication is a skill that helps us represent ourselves in a confident way to others.
- Effective communication skills can help us define, understand, and convey our new roles and responsibilities in a transition.
- Practicing and reflecting on how well we are communicating can help us cultivate effective communication skills.

C. Speaking for Understanding
- Learn and apply effective communication skills to speaking.
- Effective spoken communication includes the use of verbal and non-verbal behaviors as well as active and passive listening.
• When people communicate effectively, there is a constant flow of communication between them.

• Much of what we communicate is transmitted non-verbally.

• If you are using effective communication skills with someone who isn’t, continuing to use them will help you get your message across.

D. Writing Effectively

• Learn and apply effective communication skills to writing.

• Using a writing style that matches the type of relationship helps our message to be understood.

Unit Wrap Up

• Understanding the difference between formal and informal communication behaviors is essential to being able to present ourselves in a positive way.

• When people use informal communication styles in formal settings, they may give an inaccurate impression of themselves.

• Effective communication skills are tools that help us convey our message accurately and understand other people’s messages.

• When we use these skills, our communication and understanding improve.

• Understanding how to communicate in different settings and relationships will help us successfully navigate a transition.

2. For each of the concepts listed, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

2. A. Formal communication is the exchange of information between people in a setting where there is likely to be a hierarchy to the relationship or where the people may not know each other well.

C. 10 Bounce-Back Techniques for Managing Stress
   - Learn and apply stress management techniques that can help cultivate resilience.
   - Understand how the use of substances can undermine resilience.
   - Substance use may feel like it helps handle stress, but in reality it can make the stress worse and negatively affect our ability to make sound judgments and take appropriate actions to solve problems.
   - The more resilient we are, the more we can handle stress and take advantage of opportunities that may come with a transition.
D. Bounce-Back Practice

- Learn and apply stress management techniques that can help cultivate resilience.
- Identifying our triggers and responses can help us determine which techniques work well for us.
- The benefits of these techniques vary with the person and the trigger. Knowing and using multiple techniques provide a variety of solutions to draw from.

A. What's at Stake?
   - Examine attitudes and beliefs about risk.
   - Explore possible consequences involved when taking risks.
   - Not all risks are equal. Some have beneficial consequences that can contribute to our growth, others can have harmful consequences, and still others may produce a mixture of both beneficial and harmful consequences.
   - Taking risks may impact things we value, such as our health, education, career, and relationships.
   - The use of substances can affect our ability to evaluate the consequences of taking a risk.

B. A Decision-Making Method

C. A Decision about Risk
   - Practice a step-by-step decision-making method.
   - A step-by-step decision-making method is useful when considering the potential beneficial and harmful consequences associated with taking a risk.
   - PROPS can be helpful for both simple and complex decisions.
   - Using PROPS enables us to think about our options and prioritize them based on what we value.
   - The more we practice and master the skill of decision-making, the more equipped we will be to make a decision that is right for us.
D. Reality Check

- Identify the effects of substance use on risks and decision-making.

Unit Wrap Up

- Not all risks are equal. Some can contribute to growth, but others can have harmful consequences.
- Decision-making can help us consider the consequences of our actions, both to ourselves and others.
- Applying a decision-making method to evaluating risk increases the likelihood of making choices that are right for us.
- The use of substances affects the ability to consider the consequences of a risk and can therefore affect decision-making.

Unit 5: Managing Time and Money

1. For each major objective and corresponding points to make listed below, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

A. Setting Priorities
   - Explore the relationship between priorities and managing time and money. □ □
   - Examine the elements involved in prioritizing. □ □
   - Time and money are essential resources. As with other resources, prioritizing how we use them can facilitate achieving our goals. □ □
   - When in a transition, our priorities may shift. From time to time, we need to evaluate whether our priorities still support our goals. □ □
   - Prioritizing gives us a guide on how to spend our resources. It helps us focus on taking care of what is most important to us. □ □

B. It’s About Time
   - Learn and practice steps for managing schedules to support priorities. □ □
   - Time is a resource that can be managed through scheduling. □ □
   - The use of alcohol, tobacco, or other drugs can have a severe impact on schedules and compromise the ability to stay focused on personal priorities. □ □
   - Spending a lot of time on non-productive, low-priority activities keeps us from focusing on activities that are important to us. □ □

C. Money Smarts
   - Examine the elements involved in budgeting. □ □
   - Learn and practice steps for managing money to support priorities. □ □
   - Budgeting to manage money is similar to scheduling to manage time. Both skills help you to support your priorities. □ □
• Substances can drain both your financial resources as well as your ability to control your budget and spending.

• When a new expense is added, the budget needs to be evaluated. Review priorities and determine how to accommodate the new expense.

• Setting aside money for savings creates resources to meet planned future expenses as well as unexpected emergency expenses.

D. Practical Applications

• Practice steps for managing money to support priorities.

• Identify possible obstacles to the successful management of time and money, and learn strategies that help overcome them.

Unit Wrap Up

• Time and money are essential resources. Prioritizing how to use them can help us be successful.

• Knowing how to use a variety of skills and strategies to manage our time helps us to maintain control even when a schedule doesn’t work as planned.

• Budgeting to manage money is similar to scheduling to manage time.

• Substances can drain resources as well as the ability to manage time and money.

• Adding a new activity to our schedule or expense to our budget means we need to review our overall priorities. Then we can determine how to accommodate the new activity or expense without jeopardizing the achievement of our goals.

2. For each of the concepts listed, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

   Yes  No

• Prioritizing is the act of placing items in their order of importance based on a particular factor, such as values, goals, or needs.

• Scheduling involves planning and reviewing how our time is used – that is, managing our time so it supports our priorities.

• Budgeting involves planning how to manage money so it supports priorities.

• Procrastinating involves putting off a task for too long so that it may keep you from accomplishing the task or doing it well (for example: repeatedly rescheduling time set aside to apply for a job).

• Impulsiveness is acting on the spur of the moment without thinking about the results of your actions (for example: purchasing clothing that you didn't plan on).

Some issues can be resolved effectively by any of these skills, but some skills are better suited to particular situations.

D. Building Relationships During Transitions

- Practice the skills of collaborating, negotiating, and compromising.
- Explore how collaborating, negotiating, and compromising are related to building and maintaining relationships.

Unit Wrap Up

- There are many different types of relationships in our lives, each with its own standard of behavior.
- Knowing whether the relationship we have with a person is formal or informal can help us determine which behaviors are productive to use.
- Collaborating, negotiating, and compromising are specific skills that we can use to successfully build relationships in ways that preserve and strengthen them.
- Healthy relationships depend on people working together to create an atmosphere that promotes mutual trust, honesty, respect, accountability, and safety.

2. For each of the concepts listed, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

- Collaborating involves people coordinating their skills, efforts, and knowledge in order to reach a common end.
- Negotiating involves people in a disagreement working together to come to an agreement so that everyone feels their respective interests are satisfied; also known as a “win-win” situation.
- Compromising involves settling a difference so that each person gives up something in order to reach a mutually beneficial agreement.

3. For each of the topics covered and activities listed, please check “yes” or “no” to indicate if it was covered when the unit was taught.

Thank you for completing this survey!
The LSTQ-HS is a survey instrument that is used to examine changes in knowledge, attitudes, and skills among students participating in the High School version of the LifeSkills Training (LST) program.

This guide provides an overview of the LSTQ-HS and instructions on how to administer the survey as part of a “pre-post” evaluation design. These instructions should be followed closely if you are using NHPA’s Evaluation Service. We provide additional information for those who want to score the LSTQ-HS themselves.

Pre-Post Evaluation Design

A pretest-posttest (i.e., “pre-post”) evaluation design is when participants in a program such as LST complete the same survey both before and after the program is implemented in order to look at the effect of the program on relevant outcomes. The LifeSkills Training Questionnaire – High School version (LSTQ-HS) is a tool designed by National Health Promotion Associates (NHPA) that is used to examine pre-post changes in students’ knowledge, attitudes, and skills as a result of participating in the LST High School program.

The LSTQ-HS MUST be administered both before the LST intervention and after the intervention to examine changes over time.

Timeline for Pretest-Posttest Evaluation Design

<table>
<thead>

</tbody>
</table>

Administering the LSTQ

There are several steps that you should follow when administering the LSTQ and you should be as consistent as possible in executing these steps. Consistency in data collection methods will help to ensure that the data is of the best possible quality.

1. Create A Unique Identification Number for Each Student

   In order to properly evaluate the effectiveness of the LST program, each student’s pretest questionnaire must be matched to his or her posttest questionnaire. This matching enables you to track how individuals change over time. In order to maintain confidentiality, students’ names are not used on the questionnaire; instead, you assign a unique ID number for each student prior to data collection.

   We suggest that you use the following procedures before the LST program is implemented and before any data are collected.

   First, create a list of all students that will be participating in the LST program and assign a unique ID number for each student. You could simply number the student names starting at 1 and going down the list. Alternatively, if LST is being administered in more than one classroom or school or by more than one teacher, you may want to come up with a system where the digits in the ID number represent the school, classroom, or teacher as well as the student.

Second, once each student has a unique ID, set aside two copies of the LSTQ-HS for each student, one for the pretest assessment and one for the posttest assessment. Write each student’s name and corresponding ID number on the Tear-Off Sheet of the pretest and posttest questionnaire.

Third, write the student ID number (and School Code, if appropriate) on the LSTQ-HS Cover Page (the page after the tear-off sheet) so that the completed pretest and posttest questionnaires can be matched after they are completed.

Fourth, circle or check off ‘Pretest’ on the Cover Page of one of the copies of the LSTQ, and ‘Posttest’ on the other copy. Then separate the questionnaires into a “Pretest” pile and a “Posttest” pile for use during each of the two assessments.

Once you have finished these steps, the final list containing the student names and ID codes should be secured in a locked cabinet to ensure confidentiality of students’ responses. Finally, when the LSTQ is administered at the pretest and posttest assessments, the Tear-Off Sheet with the student’s name and Student ID number should be torn off and discarded as the questionnaire is handed out. This way, the only place where the student ID number is directly linked to the student’s name will be on the list that has been stored in a locked file cabinet.

2. Collect the Data

We strongly recommend that someone aside from the classroom teacher administers and collects the questionnaire data, if at all possible. This will increase the chances that students will answer the questions honestly. In addition, we recommend that the pretest survey be administered a few days before starting the LST program, and the posttest be administered a few days after completing the program. The surveys should not be administered in such a way that it takes time away from implementing the program itself. The person responsible for data collection (again, preferably someone other than the classroom teacher) should follow these guidelines when administering the LSTQ:

1. Remind students to sit quietly and not begin marking the questionnaire until they are told to begin.

2. Distribute pencils and questionnaires (remove and discard the “Tear Off Sheet”).

3. Read instructions (see below) before students begin.

4. When students are finished, collect the completed surveys and put them in a large envelope so that no one can see the responses.
We recommend that the data collector(s) read the following statement, after modifying it as needed so that it is accurate for your situation.

“Hello, my name is ___ and I’m here from ___. We would like you to answer some questions about substance use. We are interested in how students your age act, think, and feel about this topic. We hope that you will find it interesting to answer these questions.” (At posttest assessment, say, “We know that most of you have completed the survey before. However, we are now interested in what your answers are to the questions AT THIS TIME.”)

“This survey is NOT a test. There are NO right or wrong answers. Just give the most accurate answer you can, and try to work quickly but carefully. The questions will often give you different options for answering. Remember, you can fill in any response for a question, whichever one most accurately describes you. Be sure to fill in the circle completely and carefully, and make sure that you fill in only one circle for each question. Also, please read each question carefully and remember to answer each and every question. After you have finished one page, you may turn and go to the next page. After you have finished a page, please DO NOT turn back and change your answers.”

“Your name does not appear anywhere on the survey, so your answers are confidential. We are interested in how lots of students respond to these questions. We are not especially interested in any one person’s answers in particular. No one will ever know how you answered these questions – not your teachers, parents, friends, or other students. Please start the survey. When you are finished, we will come by to collect the survey. If you have any questions raise your hand and one of us will come over to help you.”
National Health Promotion Associates Evaluation Service

NHPA offers an Evaluation Service for those using the LSTQ-HS to evaluate the LST program. If you use the Evaluation Service, NHPA will provide you with the LSTQ-HS, enter the data once you have collected it, check the data for consistency, recode and score the items, produce descriptive statistics, and conduct the appropriate statistical tests. The Evaluation Report you will receive is a professional-quality individualized summary that describes the data that you have collected and reports on the impact of the LST intervention for your students. The Evaluation Report will display the results using text, graphs, charts, and tables, and will be geared so that an informed layperson can understand the outcomes.

To use the Evaluation Service, you must use the LST Questionnaire with no modifications and according to the instructions in this guide, and you must use our data entry service. Please contact NHPA if you have additional questions about the Evaluation Service.

We provide the following instructions on how to score the data for those who are using the LSTQ-HS survey, but have chosen not to use our Evaluation Service.

Score & Analyzing Data

Section A: No scoring is needed for the demographic items.

Section B: Knowledge Items. There are 14 knowledge items. Summary scores reflect the number of items answered correctly. The correct answers are as follows:

- TRUE: B1, B4, B5, B7, B11, B12, B14
- FALSE: B2, B3, B6, B8, B9, B10, B13

To create a knowledge summary score, add up the number of items that are answered correctly and divide by 14 (the total number of knowledge items). This number gives you the proportion of knowledge items answered correctly.

Section C: Anti-Drug Attitudes. It is preferable for students to disagree with the statements in this section. To create an anti-smoking attitudes summary score, calculate the mean of items C3, C6, C11 and C12. Then subtract the mean from 6 to create the summary score. To create an anti-drinking attitudes summary score, calculate the mean of items C1, C5, C8, and C15. Then subtract the mean from 6 to create the summary score. To create an anti-marijuana attitudes summary score, calculate the mean of items C2, C4, C7, and C16. Then subtract the mean from 6 to create the summary score. To create an anti-hard drug attitudes summary score, calculate the mean of items C9, C10, C13, and C14. Then subtract the mean from 6 to create the summary score. Higher scores indicate stronger attitudes against substance use.
Section D: Life Skills. There are 12 life skills items, including five drug refusal skills items (D1 to D5), three assertiveness skills items (D6 to D8), two relaxation skills items (D9, D10) and two self-control skills items (D11, D12).

To create a drug refusal skills score, calculate the mean of items D1 to D5, then subtract the mean from 6 to create the summary score. Higher scores represent more frequent use of these skills.

To create an assertiveness skills score, calculate the mean of items D6 to D8, then subtract the mean from 6 to create the summary score. Higher scores represent more frequent use of these skills.

To create a relaxation skills score, calculate the mean of items D9 and D10 to create the summary score. Higher scores represent more frequent use of these skills.

To create a self-control skills score, subtract the answer for D11 from 6 (so that higher scores represent more use of the skills), then calculate the mean of this recoded item and D12. Higher scores represent more frequent use of these skills.

Instructions on Scoring the LST Parent Program Survey

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1.</td>
<td>Most lung cancer cases are linked to cigarette smoking. (TRUE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.</td>
<td>Cigarette smoking is physically and psychologically addictive. (TRUE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.</td>
<td>Most adults smoke cigarettes on a daily basis. (FALSE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.</td>
<td>Most adults use marijuana once a month or more. (FALSE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.</td>
<td>Adolescent drug use in the United States is the highest in the developed world. (TRUE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.</td>
<td>Providing facts about cigarettes, alcohol, marijuana and other drugs can actually lead to drug use due to increased curiosity. (TRUE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.</td>
<td>Experimentation with drugs typically begins with the use of cigarettes and alcohol. (TRUE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9.</td>
<td>All types of adolescents experiment with drugs. (TRUE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.</td>
<td>Few adolescents engage in alcohol, tobacco and other drug use. (FALSE)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The summary score for Drug Knowledge is the sum of the items answered correctly.

Section III includes 9 items that assess Pro-Drug Attitudes. The best answer for each item is “Strongly Disagree.” To compute a summary score, take the average of the items for that scale. For example, add up the responses to the 9 items, then divide that sum by 9 to arrive at the summary score for Pro-Drug Attitudes. Lower scores are more desirable, and a decrease in scores from before to after the intervention would be a positive outcome for the LST Parent Program.

Section IV assesses several Parenting variables:

1) Parental Role Modeling, a scale that included six items assessing the frequency with which parents model appropriate behaviors such as demonstrate positive self-esteem, and standing up for one’s own rights;

2) Parental Discipline, a scale that included seven items assessing the frequency with which parents engaged in disciplinary behavior with their children, such as enforcing clear rules and reinforcing positive behaviors;

3) Parental Communication, a five item scale that assessed the frequency with which parents talk to their child about important issues and whether parents make themselves available for open communication;

4) Parental Monitoring, a four item scale that assessed the frequency with which parents keep track of their child’s whereabouts and daily activities;
5) Setting an Anti-Drug Message, a five item scale that assessed the frequency with which parents tell their child that they do not want them to become involved in substance use.

Calculating Summary Scores using the Worksheet

You can use the worksheet in Table 1 above to calculate summary scores for the parenting variables. For each of the items listed in Table 1, find the relevant question from the parent survey and write it the parent’s response in the box on the right. Summary scores can be calculated by taking the average of the items for that scale. For example, one would add up the responses to the 7 items measuring Parental Discipline, then divide that sum by 7 to arrive at the score for Parental Discipline.

You may notice that not all of the items on the initial survey you received are included in the scoring. This is because we have done additional work to improve the psychometric properties of the Parent Survey since we initially distributed it, and we recommend that you create summary scores based on the items in Table 1.

Psychometric Properties

In order to examine the psychometric properties of the scales on the LST Parent Survey, two reliability statistics were calculated for each scale. First, Cronbach’s Alpha, a measure of the internal consistency of items within a scale, was computed based on the average inter-item correlation. Test-retest reliability is a measure of how reliable a scale is over time. Table 2 indicates that each of the scales had good to excellent psychometric properties.

I understand that for my child to attend this school, I must meet the responsibilities listed below. I know that there are other public school options in this attendance zone, and I have decided that a high level of parental involvement meets the needs of my family.

Parent / Guardian Responsibilities

1. I will abide by the uniform policy, thereby ensuring my child is dressed in the required DAAE Uniform every day that he/she attends school.
2. I will donate at least 5 hours/quarter (two parent families) or 2.5 hours (single parent families) of volunteer service to the school each school year.
3. I will participate in at least one fundraising event during the year.

8. I will read to or make sure that my child reads for a minimum of 20 minutes per day, 4 days per week.
9. I will review and immediately answer any messages that I get from my child’s teacher. I will review, sign and return my child’s courier each week.
10. I will report any illness or absence to the school and keep my child home if he or she is ill.
11. I will immediately inform the school as to any change in my child’s transportation. I understand that this is necessary for the safety of my child.

GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

A GUIDE TO SITE/FACILITY SELECTION FOR PROPOSED SITES WHEN THE PROPERTY WILL NOT BE OWNED BY A SCHOOL SYSTEM

GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION FACILITIES SERVICES UNIT
July 1, 2006
A GUIDE TO SITE/FACILITY SELECTION

The attached form is designed for use by a local school system in making determinations concerning the acceptability of a site/facility that will be owned by a charter school, leased, or used by contractual agreement without the school system having fee simple title to the property.

Definitions

Site: A defined area of land for a facility
Facility: A building or group of buildings on a site
Site/Facility: Refers to a site and/or Facility

Good Sites/Facilities are Important

A good, well-developed site and a well-equipped, functionally designed facility is a basic physical tool for a quality education. Without one or the other, the educational program may suffer. Current school programs include many activities that must be carried on outside the walls of the physical plant. Well-planned and properly developed outdoor areas are essential to support outdoor activities, provide vehicular circulation, adequate and convenient parking and also be conducive to the safety of children. The site is an integral part of the total facility and may enhance or inhibit the achievement of a school's educational objectives.

Environment is an influential factor in the lives of young children. Therefore, the facility site should contribute positively to the health, safety and social aspects of a child's life at school.

Choosing a good site/facility is one of the important early steps in overall planning. Success or failure in this initial step will be reflected in every subsequent stage in the developmental process.

For these reasons, the choice of a site/facility requires careful study, including a thorough and objective evaluation. Much thought should be given to the basic principles involved in good site/facility selection.

These principles, when studied in the light of their relation to the local situation, should provide a basis for the objective selection of the best site/facility available. Undue consideration given to the value or acquisition cost of a site/facility can be false economy, and often has proven to be very expensive.

THE CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT –
STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES AND CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT HANDBOOK

POLICY STATEMENT

The DeKalb County Board of Education is committed to providing the best possible education for children who attend its schools. This commitment requires not only rigorous courses, highly-qualified teachers, and well-equipped facilities, but also a safe, positive environment for our students, staff, parents, stakeholders, and community partners. The Board of Education expects all students to adhere to strict standards of acceptable behavior to foster learning.

The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook identifies the rules of student behavior applicable to all DeKalb students and the procedures for imposing discipline on students who violate these rules. When discipline must be administered, the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook ensures that it is fair and serves the best interests of all students in the School District.

In general, discipline is designed to correct a student’s misconduct and encourages the student to be a responsible citizen of the school community. Disciplinary actions will be administered based on the discretion of the handling administrator in proportion but not limited to the severity of the unacceptable behavior, its impact on the school environment, the student’s age and grade level, the student’s previous discipline history, substantial injuries and other relevant factors.

In considering the nature or severity of the behavioral scenario, the disciplinary process may include student support services provided by the District and other public entities or community organizations. The Board prefers to reassign disruptive students to alternative educational settings rather than suspend or expel such students from school, as authorized by Georgia law.

Parental notification and parental involvement are essential to any effort to modify a student’s inappropriate behavior. The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook will only be effective if parents and guardians, teachers, and school administrators work together to improve student behavior and enhance academic performance. Parents, educators, and community members are urged to communicate concerns about student behavior or the student discipline process to the school principal or the Department of Safe Schools and Student Relations.

The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook is authorized pursuant to Board Policy JCD.

THE CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT –

PURPOSE

The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook is intended to inform students in grades K-12 of the types of behaviors that are unacceptable. It is impossible to write a Code that addresses every conceivable variation of prohibited behavior. Consequently, students should understand they may be disciplined for any misconduct that disrupts the orderly mission of the school or that is otherwise inappropriate, whether or not it is specifically listed in the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook.

Individual schools and classroom teachers may impose campus or classroom rules in addition to those found in this Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook. These rules may be explained by the teacher, posted in classrooms, or distributed to students, and may or may not constitute violations of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook.
THE CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT –
STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES AND CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT HANDBOOK

LEARNING AND COMPLIANCE

All students, regardless of age or grade level, are required to know the contents of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook and abide by it and any other rules of conduct imposed by the school district and/or the school they attend. The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook is distributed to all schools and centers. Prior to the distribution of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook, it is reviewed with the faculty and staff before school begins/students arrive to ensure their understanding.

The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook is distributed and taught to students during the first week of school. A signed Parent/Guardian Signature Page found on page 3 is required from each student and parent/guardian. A district-wide mandatory test on the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook is administered to students within the first two weeks of school. Student test scores are recorded. Class meetings are held during the first three weeks of school to discuss discipline and the application of discipline procedures.

Students who enter the School District during the school year will receive the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook and will be tested on its contents.

Students sent to in-school suspension for the first time are re-taught and re-tested on the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook. Teachers are required to conduct a more thorough review of the Code of Student Conduct - Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook with younger students in grades K-3, Exceptional Education, and English Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) to ensure their understanding.

Students are urged to ask faculty or staff members for clarification of any part of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook they do not understand.

DEKALB COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT
2015-2016 CHARACTER TRAITS

“The final forming of a person's character lies in their own hands.”

- Anne Frank

Character Education is the deliberate effort to help people understand, care about, and act upon core ethical values. An intentional and comprehensive character education initiative provides a lens through which every aspect of school becomes an opportunity for character development.

Benefits of Character Education:

- Promotes character development through the exploration of ethical issues across the curriculum
- Develops a positive and moral climate by engaging the participation of students, teachers and staff, parents, and communities
- Teaches how to solve conflicts fairly, creating safer schools that are free of intimidation, fear, and violence, and are more conducive to learning*

| LEVEL 6 | Long-term Suspension:
Required 10-day suspension served by the student and a District due process hearing that may result in additional consequences, to include, but not limited to, additional suspension, in-school suspension, social restriction, community service and assignment to an identified program or alternative school |
| LEVEL 7 | Expulsion:
Required 10-day suspension served by the student and a District due process hearing that may result in additional consequences, as listed in Level 6 but to continue beyond the current semester - Exclusion from ALL units of the District for a specified period of time through permanent expulsion may be applicable |

Violations of the Code of Student Conduct ~ Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook with a consequence of Level 6 or 7 require a 10 day suspension and a due process hearing. However, violations that occur within the last 10 days of the school year will result in a suspension through the end of the current school year followed by a due process hearing.

Violations that occur involving the school bus and/or incidents that occur while students are on the way to school (bus stop/neighborhood) or returning from school (bus stop/neighborhood) may result in direct intervention by the school. (See Bus Referral Matrix Page 34)

NOTE:

Violations of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook with a consequence of Level 6 and 7 require a District due process hearing.

The determination of whether or not a student has violated the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook will be based solely on a preponderance of the evidence. In other words, is it more likely to be true than not true, based on the evidence, that the student did or did not violate the rule?

State Law indicates a student found by a preponderance of evidence to be in violation of committing an act of physical violence against a teacher, school bus driver, school official, or school employee causing physical hurt, harm or injury will be expelled from school for the remainder of the student's eligibility to attend public school (O.C.G.A. § 20-2-751.6). The law applies to all students in grades K-12. The Hearing Officer may assign the student to an alternative education program for the period of the expulsion. If the student is in kindergarten through grade eight, the Hearing Officer may allow the student to re-enroll at some point when he/she reaches the high school grades. Additionally, if the student is in kindergarten through grade six and there is no alternative educational program available, the Hearing Officer may permit the student, at a recommended time, to re-enroll in school.

Students will not engage in behavior that repeatedly or chronically disrupts or disturbs the educational process, the orderly operation of school, school activities, school buses, or other school operations that constitutes a violation of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook. Before a student may be charged with such a violation, the student must be warned of possible consequences and be referred to a school counselor, school social worker, or other appropriate resource personnel. In addition, the parents/guardian must be contacted about the misbehavior, be given an opportunity to observe their child in school and be given an opportunity to participate in developing a student discipline correction plan.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL INITIATED CONSEQUENCES:

| Minimum:       | Level 3 – Suspension of 1-3 days |

Parking on school property without a permit or with an expired permit, engaging in reckless or careless operation of a vehicle on or near school property or near a school bus, or failing to comply with all parking and traffic regulations issued by the school or School District will constitute a violation of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook. |              | A required 10-day suspension must be served and a due process hearing held for Level 6-7 |

21. LOITERING OR GOING ON ANY SCHOOL CAMPUS WITHOUT AUTHORIZATION/TRESPASSING/BREAKING AND ENTERING

Students will not enter the premises of a school other than their own school, unless prior permission is received from an administrator of the school to be visited, or unless the school is hosting a school-related function, such as an academic or athletic activity. A student will not enter or remain in any school building on weekends or after school hours without authorization or permission.

NOTE: When a student refuses to leave any school property and/or returns to any school property after being instructed by school staff or law enforcement staff to leave the property, the student will be in violation of this section and the matter may be handled by law enforcement.

Students will not be present on school grounds or attend any school event without proper student identification. If mandated by the local school, DeKalb County high school students must carry ID cards while on school property and at any school event. A suspected non-student with no ID card will be asked to leave the school grounds, with police assistance if needed. Students who are not in possession of their ID cards are in violation of this section. Students must pay for replacement ID cards.
25. STUDENT DRESS CODE VIOLATION

Students will not dress inappropriately on school grounds or at school events. ALL students are expected to dress appropriately and to adhere to the student dress code found on pages 63-64 of this handbook and any additional requirements listed in local school regulations.

26. UNSAFE ACTION

Students will not commit any action that has the potential to cause danger or physical harm to themselves or to others, to include exiting a moving school bus, exiting a school bus by way of the emergency exit (when an emergency does not exist), attempting to allude school officials by running through a parking lot or any traffic area, climbing on the roof of buildings, being in construction areas, boiler rooms, attics or elevator shafts, any knockout style punches to an unsuspecting victim, or any action that has the potential for physical harm to self or others. This rule will only apply when the unsafe behavior does not meet the standards of any other violation.

O.C.G.A. § 20-2-751.4

Consequences for Levels 1, 2, 3, & 4 are bus specific and do not include a school suspension. Consequences for Levels 5, 6 & 7 require a bus suspension and a school suspension.
DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION OVER STUDENT CONDUCT

The DeKalb County School District has discipline authority over its students whenever the interests of the School District are involved. Therefore, the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook applies at the following times and places:

- On school grounds at any time;
- Off school grounds at a school bus stop or at a school activity, function, or event;
- While the student is on a school bus or School District-sponsored transportation;
- When either the alleged perpetrator or the alleged victim is en route to or from school, or to or from a school activity, function, or event;
- Off school grounds while the student is participating in or attending school-sponsored or school-related activities, such as field trips, conferences, or athletic events, or is otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of school authorities;
- Off school grounds while attending a school-sponsored or school-related activity of another school system in Georgia;
- Off school grounds when the behavior of the student could result in the student being criminally charged with a felony and which makes the student's continued presence at school a potential danger to persons or property at the school or which disrupts the educational process (O.C.G.A. § 20-2-751.5(c));
- Off school grounds when the misconduct is directed at a School District student, employee, or volunteer and is related to the victim's affiliation with the School District;
- Off school grounds when a student leaves school without permission of a school official (Absent Without Leave); and
- Off school grounds when the misconduct adversely affects the safety and welfare of the school community or the orderly mission and function of the school.

INVESTIGATION OF MISCONDUCT

When a violation of school rules is reported or suspected, the principal or designee will determine whether an investigation is warranted and, if so, will instruct appropriate personnel to conduct an investigation. The investigation should be timely and include interviews with the alleged perpetrator(s), victim(s), identified witnesses, teacher(s), staff members, and others who might have relevant information. Written statements should be obtained from all individuals who are interviewed. Video surveillance, if available, should be reviewed and secured. If administrators believe a request for a due process hearing will be made, he/she should attempt to preserve video surveillance of any misconduct. Any other physical and documentary evidence should be collected and preserved. School counselors, school social workers, school police, and other support staff should be utilized for their expertise as determined by the circumstances of the matter. At an appropriate time during or after the investigation, the parent or guardian will be notified. However, if the incident involves an injury or similar situation, appropriate medical attention should be provided, and the parent or guardian should be notified immediately.

The determination of whether or not a student has violated the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook will be made based solely on a preponderance of the evidence. In other words, is it more likely to be true than not true, based on the evidence, that the student did violate the rule? If you disagree with this decision, you may appeal to the school principal in writing within one (1) school day of receiving the decision. If you disagree with the principal's decision, you may appeal in writing to the regional superintendent within one (1) school day of receiving the principal's decision. Please refer to the Discipline Due Process flowchart on page 73 of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook for a summary of the District's discipline process.

SCHOOL- INITIATED CONSEQUENCES

NOTE: Suspensions may consist of in-school, out-of-school or bus suspensions, as deemed appropriate by school administrators.

Level 3 Suspension (1-3 days): School initiated suspension

Level 4 Suspension (4-10 days): School initiated suspension

Level 5 Suspension of 10 days (with contract): School initiated suspension

Level 6 and 7 Violations: Out of School Suspension for more than 10 days - Require a District due process hearing with appropriate consequences levied by the Hearing Officer or the Board of Education Level 6 Long-Term Suspension: A long-term suspension is beyond 10 days through the current semester. During the suspension, one or more of the following decisions will be rendered:

A. Suspension: The student is removed from all programs of the School District for a specified length of time up to the end of the current semester.

B. Assignment to an Alternative School or an Alternative Program: The Hearing Officer or the Board of Education may require that the student be assigned to an alternative educational placement during the long-term suspension.

C. Allowed to Remain in the Local School with Additional Consequences: The Hearing Officer or the Board of Education may require that the student participate in in-school suspension, community service, be placed on school-based social restriction, attend the GRIP (Gaining Results Intervention/Prevention) Program, POINTS (Providing Optional Intervention Needed To Succeed) Program or other consequences as deemed appropriate.

D. No Further Action: The Hearing Officer or Board of Education will allow the student to return to the local school at the end of any outstanding suspension and no further consequences will be assigned.

Level 7 Expulsion: The denial of a student’s right to attend school and school sponsored activities beyond the current semester. The student may or may not be assigned alternative education during this time as deemed appropriate and/or in compliance with state/federal law. This decision may only be rendered by the Hearing Officer or the DeKalb Board of Education.
DEFINITIONS OF TYPES OF DISCIPLINE

IN-SCHOOL SUSPENSION
"In-school suspension" means the removal of a student from regular classes and assignment to an in-school suspension setting in the local school. The student’s teachers send class assignments to in-school suspension. The student may not attend or participate in extracurricular activities while assigned to in-school suspension.

A teacher may request that a student who has been assigned to in-school suspension be allowed to attend his/her class (such as lab classes). The granting of this request is limited to cases where it is extremely important that a class not be missed or where a class cannot be made up at a later date. The principal has the final decision.

For minor offenses, in lieu of in-school suspension, and upon student or parent request, students may be given the option of school service (i.e., picking up trash on the school grounds, cleaning lunchroom tables, etc.), provided the school service is age-appropriate, supervised, and does not include restroom duties.

OUT-OF-SCHOOL SUSPENSION
"Short-term suspension" means the removal of a student from school (or school bus) for 1-10 school days, as imposed by the school administrator.

School work missed during 1-3 day suspensions may be made up when the student returns to school. For suspensions of 4-10 school days, parents/guardians may request school work and pick up the school work during school hours. A student on short-term suspension is not allowed on school property and may not participate in any school activities or school functions.

"Long-term Suspension" means the removal of a student from school (or school bus) for more than ten school days but not beyond the current school semester. Only the Hearing Officer or the Board of Education may impose long-term suspension.

A student on long-term suspension who has not been referred to an alternative school may not receive homework, make up work, or take semester exams unless allowed to do so by the Hearing Officer, Superintendent/Designee or the Board of Education. A student on long-term suspension is not allowed on school property and may not participate in any school activities or school functions.

In some cases (limited to one per student per academic year), the principal may temporarily postpone a student’s suspension if the offense was committed at a critical time in the academic calendar (i.e., immediately before final exams). This does not apply to offenses that are violations of state or federal law or that involve weapons, violence, or drugs.

EXPULSION
"Expulsion" means the removal of a student from school (or school bus) for a specified period of time beyond the current semester. Only the Hearing Officer or the Board of Education may impose expulsion. During an expulsion, a student may or may not be allowed to attend an alternative school.

A student who has been expelled six months or more may not attend any DeKalb County school, but may apply for re-admission after six months.

ALTERNATIVE SCHOOL
A student who is removed from his/her local school for more than 10 school days may be assigned to an alternative school for instruction, academic support, and counseling. Alternative school enables a student to take academic classes that allow the student to keep up with the course credit requirements toward graduation. The student must attend and successfully complete his/her alternative school assignment and may not return to his/her school or any other school or attend any extracurricular activities while attending an alternative school pursuant to a long-term suspension or expulsion.

Students cannot withdraw/leave the DeKalb County School District to circumvent an assignment to an alternative school. Students who are assigned to an alternative school must attend and successfully complete that program before returning to the designated local school. Students who leave the School District and return at a later date will automatically be assigned to an alternative school to complete the original assignment unless the student was enrolled in a comparable alternative setting as approved by the Superintendent or Designee.
PROBATION
“Probation” means that a student is placed on a trial period during which the student is expected to maintain good behavior. A student found by a preponderance of evidence to be in violation of certain offenses may be placed on probation by a school administrator, Hearing Officer, the Disciplinary Action Review Committee, or the Board of Education. Violation of a local school or School District rule while on probation may result in further disciplinary action, including a possible referral to a District due process hearing.

RESTRICTIONS ON SCHOOL ACTIVITIES
Students who are suspended or expelled will not be allowed to participate in any school-sponsored activities, including the prom or graduation exercises if these occur during the period of suspension or expulsion. A parent or guardian may, for good cause, petition the school principal for permission for the student to participate in school-sponsored activities. If denied permission by the principal, the parent or guardian may appeal to the appropriate Regional Superintendent. If denied by the Regional Superintendent, the parent or guardian may appeal to the Disciplinary Action Review Committee for the final decision.

ACCESSORY
Based on a preponderance of evidence, a student may be found to be an accessory to a violation of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook if the student assists, plans, participates, advises, incites, counsels, and/or encourages other individuals to violate the Code of Student Conduct. A student accessory is subject to the same penalties as the students who are actively involved in committing such offenses.

SELF-DEFENSE
A student’s use or attempted use of force may be justified if the student reasonably believed the force was necessary to protect the student or another person against the immediate use of unlawful force and School District personnel were not in the immediate area to intervene. However, the student must not use more force than appears reasonably necessary in the circumstances. Self-defense is not available as a defense where the use of force continued after staff intervention. If self-defense is accepted as a valid defense under the circumstances, the student is found not in violation by a preponderance of evidence and no punishment is imposed for that offense.

RESTROOMS AND LOCKERS
All offenses listed in this Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook apply to student behavior in school restrooms and locker rooms. Students are expected to help keep restrooms clean and safe. Also, students are expected to report disruptive, unsafe, and/or unclean conditions in restrooms to an administrator.

No cell phones, camcorders, video recorders, or cameras are allowed in locker rooms. It should be noted that no one is allowed to take pictures or video of other persons in any area of the school without the express permission of the principal.

STUDENT DISCIPLINE PROCEDURES
Students are entitled to certain due process measures before being suspended/expelled from public school. The extent of the procedural protections depends on how long the suspension/expulsion from school will last. For example, for suspensions of ten school days or less, the United States Supreme Court has held that only minimal due process is required.

The DeKalb County School District has adopted a set of procedural safeguards that afford students greater due process than the law requires. The procedures are described in the following sections.
SCHOOL ADMINISTRATIVE DUE PROCESS FOR SUSPENSION

School administrative due process for suspension is held before a student is given in-school suspension, out-of-school suspension, or bus suspension up to ten (10) days or other appropriate consequences. If the violation warrants further suspension beyond the 10 days, it must be referred by the school principal with a recommendation for long-term suspension or expulsion.

At the school administrative due process for suspension meeting, the student is informed verbally of the offense with which he/she is charged, who made the charge(s), who witnessed the offense, and what disciplinary action is proposed to be taken. The student is provided with an opportunity to tell his/her side of the story. The student's parent/guardian will be contacted if disciplinary action is taken. Witnesses (when applicable) are asked to submit written accounts of the incident as soon as possible after the incident.

DISTRICT DUE PROCESS HEARING

District due process hearings are conducted by a Hearing Officer who hears evidence concerning charges of student misconduct, which, if proven, may require punishment greater than a ten school-day suspension. The Hearing Officers are appointed by the Superintendent and have no prior knowledge of the charges.

When a school principal recommends a student to the District due process hearing, the recommendation is reviewed by the appropriate Hearing Officer, who decides whether to hold a hearing. All hearings must be held no later than ten school days after the disciplinary action or school-initiated arrest by a School Resource Officer (SRO) unless the School District and parents/guardians mutually agree to an extension. If a hearing is to be held, the student and parent/guardian will be provided verbal and written notice of the date, time and place of the hearing, charges and a list of possible witnesses.

District due process hearings are confidential and not open to the public. The student, his/her parent or guardian, and their witnesses may attend the hearing, but other relatives or friends of the student will not be allowed to attend. The proceedings are recorded electronically. The School District may summon witnesses to testify on its behalf at the hearing. The student and parent/guardian may also bring witnesses to testify at the discretion of the Hearing Officer. If the student or parent/guardian wants School District personnel or other students to testify at the hearing, they should contact school administration, which will arrange the issuance of summonses for these persons. The parent/guardian must contact the school within 48 hours of the hearing so that parental consent can be requested for the student asked to testify. Witnesses testifying in a District due process hearing will not be allowed to have an attorney present at the hearing unless that witness is or may be charged in the incident.

The evidence presented at a District due process hearing may include physical evidence, such as drugs or weapons; witness testimony; and relevant documents, such as witness statements, investigation reports, and the student's current discipline and academic record. The School District bears the burden of proving the charges against the student by a "preponderance of the evidence." The School District is not usually represented by an attorney at District due process hearings, but in some cases an attorney is used. The student has the right, at his/her own expense, to be represented by counsel at the District due process hearing.

The District due process hearing is not required to be identical to a courtroom trial, and the Georgia Evidence Code does not apply. All parties may offer relevant information to assist the Hearing Officer with determining whether the student is in violation of an offense and whether punishment must be imposed. The Hearing Officer is authorized to make the final decision regarding relevancy of information provided. Based upon a preponderance of the evidence presented at the hearing, the Hearing Officer will determine whether or not school rules have been violated and identify the discipline to be imposed.

After the presentation of evidence by both sides, each side is given an opportunity to make a closing argument. The hearing then ends, and the Hearing Officer will deliberate privately to decide whether or not a violation has occurred and an appropriate punishment if the student is found in violation by a preponderance of evidence. If the student is found not in violation of school rules, the student shall be allowed to return to school. If the student is found in violation, the Hearing Officer may impose punishment ranging from sending the accused back to school on probation to expulsion from the School District. Parents/guardians may contact the office the next school day to receive the decision. A letter will be sent to the student's parent/guardian within ten days after the hearing is held. The student's parent/guardian may appeal the Hearing Officer's decision to the Board of Education by submitting a written request to the Superintendent of DeKalb County School District at 5823 Memorial Drive, Stone Mountain, Georgia, 30083. This request must be made within twenty (20) calendar days from the date the decision is rendered.
APPEAL TO BOARD OF EDUCATION

A transcript of the District due process hearing will be made only if there is an appeal. The student's parent/guardian or attorney may request an audio copy of the hearing at the Department of Safe Schools and Student Relations or may order a copy of a written transcript their own copy at their own expense.

The decision of the Board of Education will be based solely on the record created during the District due process hearing. The Board will not consider any new evidence or hear any oral arguments; however, written arguments concerning the merits of the appeal may be submitted. For additional information on the

The Board will make its decision in Executive Session within ten (10) working days after receipt of the written notice of appeal. It has the power to affirm, reverse, or modify the Hearing Officer’s decision. The Board’s decision will be final, unless an appeal is made to the State Board of Education within 30 calendar days of the Board’s decision. The contents of this notice of appeal and the procedure to be followed before the State Board of Education of Georgia are specified in O.C.G.A. § 20-2-1160.

DISTRICT DUE PROCESS WAIVER

A parent/guardian and student may choose to waive their District due process hearing and accept the appropriate consequences for the incident by completing and signing a District Due Process Hearing Waiver. By submitting this waiver, the parent/guardian and student agree to the decision and waive any future challenges and appeals relative to that incident.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

The discipline procedures for special education students and students with disabilities covered under Section 504 are the same as above with the following additional steps:

1. The administrative staff should determine if the student was in possession of a weapon, possessed, used or sold drugs, or inflicted serious bodily injury to another person. If yes, proceed to A & B. If no, proceed to #2.

   A. The Special Education Director/Section 504 Chair is notified immediately of the above triggers.
      • Special Education/Section 504 Personnel investigate the situation and work with the local school.
      • A plan of action is developed.

   B. Special Education/504 Personnel will contact the local school if an emergency change in education location is needed.

2. The Special Education teacher(s), the IEP manager or the Section 504 chairperson is notified of the occurrence.
3. If a disabled student is referred to a District due process hearing, a school administrator contacts the school’s coordinator from Special Education Services/Section 504 Chair to schedule a Manifestation/Determination meeting.
4. If it is determined that the behavior is not a manifestation of the disability, a recommendation is made by the school principal for a District due process hearing, subject to the education rights of the student under IDEA 2004. If the behavior is a manifestation of the disability, any further placement decisions will be made by the IEP Review Committee or Section 504 Team.
STUDENT PLACEMENT PROTOCOL FOR STUDENTS RETURNING AFTER INCARCERATION, DETENTION, OR OTHER SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES

Students who have been out of school due to incarceration or detention often need a period of transition before returning to their local school. Moreover, there may be circumstances in which a current student’s presence at school may pose a serious and significant danger to the persons and/or property at the school. A protocol has been established for determining whether a student returning from a period of incarceration or detention due to alleged or adjudicated criminal conduct should be placed in an alternative school program or returned to the student’s local school. The DeKalb County School District affords these students an opportunity to rebuild their academic and social skills so that the transition to their local school will go smoothly. The primary considerations in making this determination are the educational needs of the returning student and the safety of other students and staff.

In many cases, the conduct at issue is very serious, ranging from property offenses to serious sexual violations or other violent acts. Students adjudicated for these offenses may be placed on a safety plan by the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) or the Juvenile Court. These plans may impose certain restrictions on the returning student; for example, the student may not be allowed around children of a certain age or may have to be supervised by an adult at all times.

In some cases, these students have been expelled or suspended from DeKalb or another school district or private school, and the term of suspension or expulsion has not yet been completed. This brings other questions into play, such as whether the student should be excluded altogether for the remainder of the expulsion or suspension or offered an alternative placement (O.C.G.A. § 20-2-751.2).

Before these students return to school, they will be referred to the Department of Safe Schools and Student Relations. Department personnel will gather and review all appropriate information, including any information that the student’s parents may wish to provide, and make a placement determination. Parents may be present for this review and may provide input. Attorneys will not be allowed to attend.

Parents who disagree with the placement determination made by the Department of Safe Schools and Student Relations will have three school days following the determination to request review by the Disciplinary Action Review Committee (DARC). The DARC operates under the auspices of the Department of Safe Schools and Student Relations and is authorized to consider and rule on special requests from parents/guardians and school administrators pertaining to student discipline-related situations. The DARC will meet and make a placement determination based upon a review of the information from the Department of Safe Schools and Student Relations and any additional information provided by the parties. Parents who disagree with the placement determination made by the Disciplinary Action Review Committee will have three school days following the determination to request a District due process hearing, pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 20-2-754.

The protocol described above may be used in other types of student placement situations as deemed appropriate by Safe Schools and Student Relations administrators. All placement determinations will be made on a case-by-case basis. Various factors, including age, length of incarceration, nature of charges, existing discipline order, potential safety concerns or disruption of the educational process, present/prior discipline history, etc. may be used in making placement determinations at all levels. By example, the following general categories of serious violent offenses will result in the school administrator’s referral to the Department of Safe Schools and Student Relations:

- Assault resulting in serious injury
- Assault involving use of a weapon
- Death by other than natural causes (homicide)
- Kidnapping
- Rape
- Robbery with a dangerous weapon (armed robbery)
- Robbery without a dangerous weapon
- Sexual assault (not involving rape or sexual offense)
- Sexual Offense
- Taking indecent liberties with a minor
Additionally, an offense involving accusations of manufacturing, selling or trafficking large quantities of controlled substances is to be included.

All principals will continue to follow the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook when a student’s disciplinary infraction occurs within the school’s jurisdiction, as defined on page 35. The normal disciplinary procedures will be followed in these instances.

This protocol does not apply to students with disabilities. Students with disabilities will be referred directly to the Department of Exceptional Education or the Section 504 Coordinator for students with 504 plans.

SEARCHES

To maintain order and discipline in the schools and to protect the safety and welfare of students and school personnel, school authorities may search a student, student lockers, student desks and tables, or student automobiles under the circumstances outlined below and may seize any illegal, unauthorized, or contraband materials discovered in the search.

As used in this Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook, the term "unauthorized" means any item dangerous to the health or safety of students or school personnel, or disruptive of any lawful function, mission or process of the school, or any item described as unauthorized in school rules available beforehand to the student.

A student's failure to permit a search or seizure as provided in this Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook will be considered grounds for disciplinary action.

All searches by school employees shall be reasonably related to the objectives of the search and not excessively intrusive in light of the student's age and gender and the nature of the infraction.

PERSONAL SEARCHES

A student's person and/or personal effects (e.g., purse, book bag, etc.) may be searched whenever a school official has reasonable suspicion to believe that the search will reveal a violation of the law, the student conduct behavior code, or local school rules.

If a pat-down search of a student's person is conducted, it will be conducted in private by a school official of the same sex and with an adult witness present, when feasible. If the school official has reasonable grounds for suspecting that the student has on his or her person an item immediately dangerous to the student or to others, the student should be isolated, a school resource officer should be notified, and appropriate disciplinary action should be administered.

In appropriate circumstances, searches may include the use of electronic devices such as hand-held metal detectors or walk-through metal detectors.

LOCKER, DESK, AND TABLE SEARCHES

Student lockers, desks, and tables are school property and remain at all times under the control of the school. Principals of each school where lockers are issued shall ensure that each student receives written notice prior to the issuance of the locker that lockers are subject to inspection and search by school officials. Each school shall maintain duplicate keys or records of all locker combinations and avoid any practices that would lead students to believe that lockers are under their exclusive control.

Periodic general inspections of lockers, desks, and tables may be conducted by school authorities for any reason at any time without notice, without student consent, and without a search warrant. The School District may use K-9 Units to check lockers, desks, and tables. Items brought to school or placed in lockers, desks or tables are subject to reasonable searches.
AUTOMOBILE SEARCHES

Students are permitted to park on school premises as a matter of privilege, not of right. The school retains authority to conduct routine patrols of student parking lots and visual inspections from the outside of student vehicles on school property. State law does not authorize a student to have a firearm secured in a vehicle parked on school premises.

The interiors of student vehicles may be inspected whenever a school authority has reasonable grounds for suspecting that illegal, unauthorized, or contraband materials are contained inside. Such patrols and inspections may be conducted without notice, without student consent, and without a search warrant.

Notice of the foregoing right to search shall be given to students who park on school property; however, failure to give such notice will not preclude school officials from conducting searches of vehicle interiors when otherwise authorized.

SEARCH RESULTS

If a search reveals a violation of federal, state or local law, law enforcement authorities may be notified so that they may take appropriate action.
KEEPING WEAPONS OUT OF SCHOOL

KEEPING YOUR SCHOOLS SAFE

Every student wants and deserves a safe and secure school. For that reason, school districts and schools have rules against weapons and violence at school, on any school bus, and at any school-sponsored function.

Students may be expelled for bringing weapons to school. Also, bringing certain weapons to school is a “designated felony” under Georgia law. This means that student offenders under the age of 17 may be arrested and placed in a youth detention center for carrying or possessing a weapon at school, on a school bus, or at any school-sponsored function. For students age 17 or over, these offenses amount to a felony and may result in a felony conviction and imprisonment.

Schools across the nation are required by federal law to have a student discipline policy that mandates a minimum one calendar year expulsion for bringing a firearm to school or for being in possession of a firearm on school property (including school buses). Consequently, DeKalb has a policy that requires a minimum one calendar year expulsion from all DeKalb schools for possession of a firearm.

WHAT OTHER WEAPONS MAY RESULT IN EXPULSION?

Having any type of knife, razor blade (including box cutters), chain, pipe, martial arts device, mace, BB gun or pellet gun, and other items such as ammunition at school, on the school bus or other school property, or at school functions is a violation of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook and may result in expulsion. (For a full and complete list of weapons, see page 13-14.)

SO, WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Take pride in your school and show respect for yourself and your friends by participating in keeping your school and friends safe.

• Do not, for any reason, bring a weapon to school, or accept a weapon from another student, or allow another student to place a weapon in your locker, desk, vehicle, or personal belongings.

• Tell your friends not to bring weapons to school for any reason, not to show off, not for protection, not for any reason.

• If you hear about or see a weapon at school or on a school bus, inform a teacher or administrator immediately (you may ask that your name not be used).

WHY GET INVOLVED?

Students should get involved because the problems that weapons at school can cause are serious and will not completely go away without student involvement. Students across the nation have said “enough is enough.” These students are taking a more active interest in keeping their schools safe and free of weapons. These students let it be known that weapons will be reported, regardless of who brings them to school.

When word gets around that weapons are going to be reported, students are less likely to bring weapons to school.
DO YOU REALLY WANT TO LOSE YOUR DRIVER’S LICENSE?

That’s right! You will lose your Driver’s License or your Learner’s License, or you will be prevented from receiving your Driver’s or Learner’s License if you have a weapon at school. That’s the law in Georgia, according to the Teenage and Adult Driver Responsibility Act. This law requires schools to report students who have brought weapons to school not only to the police but also to the Department of Driver Services so that the student’s Driver’s License or Learner’s License can be revoked.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO STUDENTS 17 YEARS OLD OR OLDER

If you are 17 years old or older and you are caught with a weapon at school or on the bus or in your vehicle at school, you may be charged with a felony. A felony conviction gives you a record, one that may keep you from being accepted in colleges, technical schools, and the armed services. It may also keep you from getting a job or voting.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT – STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES AND CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT HANDBOOK

The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook makes it very clear to all students that weapons cannot be brought to school. The Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook also includes important information and advice to students about weapons and other dangerous items.

IT’S IMPORTANT TO REMEMBER

When the weapons laws of Georgia are violated, the student may be:

- ARRESTED
- PLACED IN A POLICE CAR
- TAKEN TO JAIL OR A DETENTION CENTER
- SENTENCED TO JAIL
- PENALIZED WITH SUBSTANTIAL COURT FINES
- PLACED ON PROBATION
- EXPelled FROM SCHOOL

PREVENTION AND INTERVENTION

What are school districts doing to keep weapons out of schools? Several strategies are being used, such as:

- Distributing the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook to all students to let them know that weapons are against the law and against school rules;
- Informing students that lockers, desks, tables, vehicles, and personal belongings are subject to being searched by school officials;
- Informing parents that most weapons come to school from home;
- Randomly conducting firearm and drug searches by the use of gunpowder and drug-sniffing dogs;
- Restricting or limiting the use of book bags at school;
- Expelling students who have brought weapons to school or on a school bus;
- Installing more surveillance cameras and increasing the use of metal detectors.

Responsibility is knowing what is expected of you.
Responsibility is having high expectations of yourself and others.
Responsibility is making responsible choices.
Responsibility is making the right decision when the wrong decision is easier.
Responsibility is the measure of maturity.
STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

RESPONSIBILITIES

A. Parent(s)/Guardian Responsibilities

Through dissemination of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook each school will inform the parent of the following expectations:

RELEASE OF STUDENT INFORMATION

Notification of Rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords parents and students over 18 years of age ("eligible students") certain rights with respect to the student’s education records. These rights are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student’s education records within 45 days of the day the DeKalb County School District receives a request for access.

   Parents or eligible students should submit to the school principal a written request that identifies the record(s) they wish to inspect. The principal will make arrangements for access and notify the parent or eligible student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student’s education records that the parent or eligible student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy rights under FERPA.

   Parents or eligible students who wish to ask the District to amend a record should write the school principal, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it should be changed. If the District decides not to amend the record as requested by the parent or eligible student, the District will notify the parent or eligible student of the decision and advise them of their right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the parent or eligible student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to privacy of personally identifiable information in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

   One exception, which permits disclosure without consent, is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the District as an administrator, supervisor, instructor, or support staff member (including health or medical staff and law enforcement unit personnel); a person serving on the DeKalb County Board of Education; a person or company with whom the District has outsourced services or functions it would otherwise use its own employees to perform (such as an attorney, auditor, medical consultant, educational consultant, volunteer, or therapist); a parent or student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee; or a parent, student, or other volunteer assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

   A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

   Upon request, the District discloses education records without consent to officials of another school district in which a student seeks or intends to enroll, or is already enrolled if the disclosure is for purposes of the student’s enrollment or transfer.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the District to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA are:

   Family Policy Compliance Office
   U.S. Department of Education
   400 Maryland Avenue, SW
   Washington, DC 20202-8520
RELEASE OF DIRECTORY INFORMATION

FERPA requires that the District, with certain exceptions, obtain the written consent of a parent, guardian, or eligible student (i.e., a student over 18 years of age) prior to the disclosure of personally identifiable information from a child’s education records. However, the District may disclose appropriately designated “directory information” without written consent, unless the parent, guardian, or eligible student has advised the District to the contrary in accordance with District procedures. The primary purpose of directory information is to allow the District to include this type of information from a child’s education records in certain school publications. Examples include:

- A playbill, showing a student’s role in a drama production;
- The annual yearbook;
- Honor roll or other recognition lists;
- Information posted on the school’s or the District’s website;
- Graduation programs; and
- Sports activity sheets, such as for wrestling, showing weight and height of team members.

Directory information, which is information that is generally not considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if released, can also be disclosed to outside organizations without the prior written consent of a parent, guardian, or eligible student. Outside organizations include, but are not limited to, companies that manufacture class rings or publish yearbooks. In addition, federal law requires the District to provide military recruiters, upon request, with the following information—names, addresses and telephone listings—unless the parent, guardian, or eligible student has advised the District that they do not want their student’s information disclosed without their prior written consent.

A parent, guardian, or eligible student who does not want directory information to be disclosed from the student’s education records without prior written consent must notify the District in writing annually within a reasonable time period after receiving this notice. The District has designated the following information as directory information: student’s name, address, and telephone listing; date and place of birth; dates of attendance; grade level; major field of study; photograph; participation in officially recognized activities and sports; weight and height of members of athletic teams; degrees, honors, and awards received; and the most recent educational institution previously attended. Such notification should be sent to the student’s principal.

PROTECTION OF PUPIL RIGHTS AMENDMENT (PPRA)

Local school officials must notify parents annually at the beginning of the school year of their right to (1) consent to the administration of surveys funded in whole or in part by the U.S. Department of Education, or (2) opt out of the administration of any survey, regardless of funding, if these surveys contain questions from one or more of eight protected areas. These protected areas are: (1) political affiliations and beliefs of students or parents; (2) family mental and psychological problems; (3) sexual behavior or attitudes; (4) illegal, anti-social, self-incriminating, or demeaning behavior; (5) critical appraisals of close family members and friends; (6) legally recognized privileged or analogous relationships (e.g., lawyers, doctors, etc.); (7) student or parent religious affiliations, or beliefs; or (8) income (other than that required by law) to determine eligibility for program participation or financial assistance. Parents wishing to opt out of such surveys should submit their request to the school on an annual basis.
STUDENT COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

COMPLAINTS OF DISCRIMINATION OR HARASSMENT

Pursuant to federal and state laws, students are entitled to a Complaint Procedure to address allegations of discrimination and harassment (including bullying). Accordingly, the School District has established both informal and formal procedures for resolving any complaints of discrimination, harassment, or bullying on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex (including sexual harassment), sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, or age. Allegations of discrimination should be reported immediately to any school employee, administrator, or counselor at the school, center or any school event. A student may also make a direct report to the Title IX Officer at 1701 Mountain Industrial Blvd., Stone Mountain, Georgia 30083 or by dialing 678-676-0310. The school administrator or the Title IX Officer shall assist the student with formalizing and processing the complaint, which should include a statement of facts, identification of witnesses and any other information necessary to fully describe the matter.

Formal complaints should be filed within 30 calendar days of the alleged incident. All policies and/or procedures mandated by any agency of the State of Georgia, or the United States, will be followed. As per O.C.G.A. § 20-2-751.5, it is unlawful for a student to falsify, misrepresent, omit, or erroneously report information regarding instances of alleged inappropriate behavior by a teacher, administrator or other school employee, including during off-school hours. Please refer to page 74 for the Bullying/Harassment/Hazing flowchart and page 75 for the Bullying/Harassment/Hazing Report Form in the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook.

REPORTING ACTS OF SEXUAL ABUSE OR SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

O.C.G.A. § 20-2-751.7.(a) provides that: "The Professional Standards Commission shall establish a state-mandated process for students to follow in reporting instances of alleged inappropriate behavior by a teacher, administrator, or other school employee toward a student which shall not prohibit the ability of a student to report the incident to law enforcement authorities. Each local school system shall be required to implement and follow such state-mandated process and shall include the mandated process in student handbooks and in employee handbooks or policies.” The following is the reporting process:

A. Any student (or parent or friend of a student) who has been the victim of an act of sexual abuse or sexual misconduct by a teacher, administrator or other School District employee is urged to make an oral report of the act to any teacher, counselor or administrator at his/her school.

B. Any teacher, counselor, volunteer or administrator receiving a report of sexual abuse or sexual misconduct of a student by a teacher, administrator, or other employee shall make an oral report of the incident immediately by telephone or otherwise to the school principal or principal’s designee, and shall submit a written report of the incident to the school principal or principal’s designee within 24 hours. If the principal is the person accused of the sexual abuse or sexual misconduct, the oral and written reports should be made to the superintendent or the superintendent’s designee.

C. Any school principal or principal’s designee receiving a report of sexual abuse as defined in O.C.G.A. § 19-7-5 shall make an oral report immediately, but in no case later than 24 hours from the time there is reasonable cause to believe a child has been abused. The report should be made by telephone and followed by a written report in writing, if requested, to a child welfare agency providing protective services, as designated by the Department of Human Resources, or, in the absence of such agency, to an appropriate police authority or district attorney.

Reports of acts of sexual misconduct against a student by a teacher, administrator, or other employee not covered by O.C.G.A. § 19-7-5 shall be investigated immediately by school or system personnel. If the investigation of the allegation of sexual misconduct indicates a reasonable cause to believe that the report of sexual misconduct is valid, the school principal or principal’s designee shall make an immediate written report to the superintendent and the Professional Standards Commission Ethics Division.

SUPPLEMENTAL SAFETY AND DISCIPLINE INFORMATION

BULLYING, HARASSMENT AND HAZING

DeKalb County School District has also implemented a District Alert Line (1-888-475-0482) to report weapons, violence, bullying, harassment, or drugs.

Board Policy: Bullying/Harassment/Hazing

Students cannot be expected to reach their full academic potential in an environment of fear and intimidation. All schools in the DeKalb County School District have an obligation to provide a safe, healthy, and positive learning environment for their students and to promote mutual respect and acceptance among students, staff and volunteers.

The District expressly prohibits the bullying/harassing/hazing of any student, by any means or method, at school, on school property, or at school-related functions; while traveling to or from school on a school bus; off-campus when the behavior results in a disruption to the school environment; or by use of data or software that is accessed through a District computer, computer system, computer network, or other electronic technology of the District.

Pursuant to state law, this policy also applies to acts of cyberbullying which occur through the use of electronic communication, whether or not such electronic act originated on school property or with school equipment, if the electronic communication:

1. is directed specifically at students or school personnel;
2. is maliciously intended for the purpose of threatening the safety of those specified or substantially disrupting the orderly operation of the school and;
3. creates a reasonable fear of harm to the students’ or school personnel’s person or property or has a high likelihood of succeeding in that purpose.

For purposes of this policy, electronic communication includes but is not limited to any transfer of signs, signals, writings, images, sounds, data or intelligence of any nature transmitted in whole or in part by a wire, radio, electromagnetic, photo electronic or photo optical system.

All staff, students, and parents or guardians will receive a verbatim copy of this policy and accompanying administrative regulation prohibiting bullying/harassment/hazing at the beginning of the school year as part of the Code of Student Conduct.

The District strictly prohibits retaliation against any person who reports bullying/harassment/hazing or participates in an investigation of bullying/harassment/hazing. Schools shall keep reports of bullying/harassment/hazing confidential to the extent consistent with a thorough investigation.

School officials are expected to intervene immediately when they see a bullying/harassment/hazing incident occur or upon receipt of any report of bullying/harassment/hazing.

An employee who fails to comply with the requirements of this policy and accompanying administrative regulation may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

At an appropriate time during or after the investigation of a report, the parent or guardian of both the accused and the victim must be notified. If the incident involves an injury or similar situation, appropriate medical attention should be provided, and the parent or guardian should be notified immediately.

Upon being found in violation, a student who has committed the offense of bullying/harassment/hazing should be given an age-appropriate consequence which shall include, at minimum and without limitation, disciplinary action or counseling as appropriate under the circumstances.
Detailed guidelines and procedures for reporting and addressing student bullying/harassment/hazing shall be implemented in accordance with the accompanying administrative regulation.

Administrative Regulation: Bullying/Harassment/Hazing
Descriptor Code JCDAG-R(1)

The District expressly prohibits the bullying/harassment/hazing of any student, by any means or method, at school, on school property, or at school-related functions; while traveling to or from school on a school bus; off-campus when the behavior results in a disruption to the school environment; or by use of data or software that is accessed through a District computer, computer system, computer network, or other electronic technology of the District.

A. Definitions

- Bullying – Unwanted, aggressive behavior among school-aged children that involves a real or perceived power imbalance. The behavior is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time. Both students who are bullied and who bully others may have serious, lasting problems.

- Harassment – Unwelcome conduct based on real or perceived race, color, national origin, sex, religion, disability, sexual orientation, gender Identity or gender expression. It may take many forms, including verbal acts and name-calling; graphic and written statements, which may include use of cell phones or the Internet; or other conduct that may be physically threatening, harmful, or humiliating. Harassment does not have to include intent to harm, be directed at a specific target, or involve repeated incidents. Unlike bullying, harassment does not always involve a real or perceived power imbalance. Harassment creates a hostile environment when the conduct is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent so as to interfere with or limit a student’s ability to participate in or benefit from the services, activities, or opportunities offered by a school.

- Hazing – Bullying and intimidation in association with rituals to join an extracurricular group/activity or to raise a student’s rank/status within the organization.

B. Prohibited Behaviors

Examples of prohibited behaviors include, but are not limited to:

- Verbal assaults such as unwanted teasing or name-calling;
- Rumors or spreading of falsehoods;
- Threats, taunts and intimidation through words and/or gestures;
- Public humiliation;
- Social isolation;
- Harassment Stalking;
- Direct physical contact such as hitting or shoving;
- Physical violence and/or attacks;
- Theft of money and/or personal possessions for the purpose of bullying, harassing, or intimidating;
- Extortion or manipulation, including incitement and/or coercion;
- Destruction of school or personal property;
- Any form of electronic bullying or cyberbullying using school equipment, school networks, or e-mail systems or committed at school;
- The use of cameras or camera phones to take embarrassing photographs of students or school employees and distributing them to others or posting them online;
- Sending abusive or threatening text messages or instant messages; and
- Using websites to circulate gossip and rumors to other students;

- Cyberstalking or engaging in conduct to communicate, or to cause to be communicated, words, images, or language by or through the use of electronic mail or electronic communication, directed at or about a specific person, causing substantial emotional distress to the victim;
All staff, students, and parents or guardians will receive a verbatim copy of this policy prohibiting bullying/harassment/hazing at the beginning of the school year as part of the Code of Student Conduct.

C. Reporting Incidents of Bullying/Harassment/Hazing

Bullying/Harassment/Hazing may be reported by a student, parent, guardian, or other stakeholder to an administrator, teacher, counselor, or other staff member at the student’s school. At the option of the person reporting the incident, the report may be made either by name or anonymously and either verbally or in writing. Reporting forms may be found in the Code of Student Conduct, on the District’s website, and at each District school. Reports of bullying/harassment/hazing also may be made by using the District’s Alert Line at 1-888-475-0482 or by calling the Georgia Department of Education’s School Safety Hotline at 1-877 SAY-STOP (1-877-729-7867).

Any employee to whom bullying/harassment/hazing is reported must promptly document the report and forward it to the principal or designee. Any employee who witnesses an incident of bullying/harassment/hazing or who otherwise learns that a student is being bullied/harassed/hazed must promptly, but no later than one (1) day following the receipt of a concern, submit a written report to the principal or designee. The principal or designee shall ensure that proper documentation is maintained throughout the investigation and resolution of the matter. If the report is made by the alleged target/victim, the principal or designee will contact the parent or guardian immediately upon receipt of the report.

If the reporting student or the parent or guardian of the student feels that the school is not taking appropriate steps to investigate or address the problem even after consulting the school principal, the student or the parent or guardian should contact the appropriate Regional Superintendent or his or her designee.

Students who believe that another student at their school is being bullied/harassed/hazed are urged to inform a teacher, counselor, administrator or other staff member.

The District strictly prohibits retaliation against any person who reports bullying/harassment/hazing or participates in an investigation of bullying/harassment/hazing. Incidents of retaliation should be reported using the same process as used for the original complaint and will be investigated and resolved by school or district personnel.

Where complainants request confidentiality, schools shall share details of reports of bullying/harassment/hazing with only those individuals who need to know consistent with the District’s obligation to respond promptly and appropriately to reports of misconduct.

An employee who fails to comply with the requirements of Board Policy JCDAG and this accompanying regulation may be subject to disciplinary action, up to including termination of employment.

D. Responding to Incidents of Bullying/Harassment/Hazing

School officials are expected to intervene immediately when they see a bullying/harassment/hazing incident occur or upon receipt of any report of bullying/harassment/hazing. The following actions will be taken when bullying/harassment/hazing is reported.

1. Investigation – Upon receipt of any report of bullying/harassment/hazing, the principal or designee will direct an immediate investigation involving appropriate personnel. The investigation should begin no later than the following school day. The investigation shall include interviewing the alleged perpetrator(s), victim(s), identified witnesses, teacher(s), and staff members and reviewing video surveillance, if available. School counselors, school social workers, and other support staff should be utilized for their expertise as determined by the circumstances of the matter. The school shall keep confidential the results of the investigation, except with respect to the District’s notification and reporting obligations.

2. Notification – At an appropriate time during or after the investigation of a report, the parent or guardian of both the accused and the victim must be notified, but no later than three (3) days after completion of the investigation. If the incident involves an injury or similar situation, appropriate medical attention should be provided, and the parent or guardian should be notified immediately.
At the conclusion of the investigation, both the victim and the offending student must be notified of the results of the investigation. Victims may request information about the sanction imposed upon a student who was found to have engaged in harassment when the sanction directly relates to the victim. This includes an order that the harasser stay away from the harassed student, or that the harasser is prohibited from attending school for a period of time, or transferred to other classes. Schools will not disclose of other information in the offending student’s “education record,” including information about sanctions that do not relate to the harassed student.

3. Interim Measures – The school will take steps to protect the complainant as necessary, including taking interim steps before the final outcome of the investigation.

4. Disciplinary Action – Upon a finding of guilt, a student who has committed the offense of bullying/harassment/hazing will be given an age-appropriate consequence which shall include, at minimum and without limitation, counseling, disciplinary action or other consequence as appropriate under the circumstances. Disciplinary action after the first incident of bullying/harassment/hazing may include but is not limited to the following:

- Loss of a privilege;
- Reassignment of seats in the classroom, cafeteria, or school bus;
- Reassignment of classes;
- Detention;
- In-school suspension;
- Out-of-school suspension (through appropriate due process hearing);
- Expulsion (through appropriate due process hearing);
- Assignment to an alternative school (through appropriate due process hearing).

5. Follow Up and Aftercare – Follow up is important to the accused, the victim, and in some circumstances, the broader school community. Each school must provide after-care and follow up to individuals and groups affected by the bullying/harassment/hazing. Where necessary, counseling and other interventions should be provided to address the social-emotional, behavioral, and academic needs of students who are victims of bullying/harassment/hazing and students who commit an offense of bullying/harassment/hazing. Schools must also assess school climate to determine whether additional staff training or student instruction is needed. Where appropriate, the school should also reiterate the prohibition on retaliation and how to report such misconduct.

Pursuant to state law, students in grades six through twelve found to have committed the offense of bullying/harassment/hazing for the third time in a school year shall at a minimum be assigned to an alternative school through appropriate due process by disciplinary hearing officers, panels, or tribunals.

GANG-RELATED ACTIVITY

The DeKalb County School District believes that school should be a safe place for students to learn and grow. Distractions caused by gangs and similar organizations are a direct threat to the safety and security of students and disrupt the learning environment. Therefore, the DeKalb County School District strictly prohibits all activities related to gangs and other organizations that engage in unlawful or delinquent behavior. The School District provides support for students affected by gang activity. A student will not, by use of violence, force, coercion, threat of violence, or gang activity, cause disruption or obstruction to the educational process.

A gang is a formal or informal organization, association, or group consisting of three or more persons who engage in activities that threaten the safety of students, staff, volunteers, visitors, or others; that compromise the general school order or its activities; and/or that interfere with the School District's educational mission. Individuals associated with a gang may share a common name or common identifying signs, symbols, tattoos, graffiti, or attire or other distinguishing characteristics.
“Gang-related activities” are acts by a group of students or an individual student representing the group, which can or may cause danger/disruption to the school environment and/or threaten the safety of students, faculty, or other employees of the school district. Prohibited behavior includes, but is not limited to:

- Displaying gang signs and symbols on personal and school property;
- Wearing clothing that symbolizes gang affiliation (shirts, hats, bandanas, belts, jewelry, etc.);
- Displaying gang hand-signs, tattoos / brands, and/or other adornments which symbolize gang affiliation;
- Defacing school property with gang graffiti (furniture, walls, buses, buildings, structures, etc.);
- Using electronic devices (computers, cellular phones, camera/video phones, video cameras, camcorders, MP3 players, etc.) for the purpose of documenting, disseminating, or transmitting gang activity, threats, and/or planned violent behavior;
- Engaging in any criminal offense involving violence, possession of a weapon and/or use of weapon which includes, but is not limited to, gang recruitment, intimidation, and premeditated/planned school disturbances that may place students, faculty and staff in reasonable fear of receiving bodily injury.

Students who participate in gang-related activities, as defined in this section, will be charged with Offense #12 – School Disturbance. Upon being found in violation of this offense, the student will be referred to a District due process hearing, which may result in suspension, referral to an alternative school or expulsion. In addition, the student will be referred to mandatory gang prevention counseling. Parents, law enforcement and other appropriate persons will be notified any time a student is suspected of being involved in gang-related activity. Students who participate in gang-related activities may be subject to consequences set forth in state law (O.C.G.A. §§ 16-15-3, 16-15-4).

Students who feel bullied, threatened or unsafe at school because of gang activity should report their concerns to a teacher, counselor, principal, assistant principal, or the Georgia Department of Education’s anonymous hotline number to report gang-related activity by calling 1-877-SAY-STOP (1-877-729-7867) or the DeKalb County School District Alert Line at 1-888-475-0482. Students who want to leave a gang should contact a principal or a staff member whom they trust for guidance and support services. The school or School District may provide students and parents with information on community organizations that assist students in leaving gangs.

MANDATORY REPORTING OF STUDENT CRIMES

School administrators, teachers and other school-based employees will report crimes, as required by law (O.C.G.A. § 20-2-1184).

Victims of the following alleged student misconduct must file a written complaint or report with the school administration and with central administration, describing the alleged incident and the injury or damage sustained: (1) an alleged assault or battery by a student upon any teacher, other school official or employee; (2) an alleged assault or battery by a student upon another student; (3) substantial damage alleged to be intentionally caused by a student on school property to personal property belonging to a teacher, other school official, employee, or student, if, in the discretion of the school principal, the alleged damage could justify the expulsion or long-term suspension of the student.

ILLEGAL/DANGEROUS/SUSPICIOUS ITEMS

Students are to notify an administrator or other staff member immediately when illegal, suspicious, or dangerous items, or other items banned from school, are found. Students will not touch or handle such items, or receive or accept such items from other students.

HOTLINE TO REPORT BULLYING, VIOLENCE, WEAPONS, AND DRUGS

Sponsored by the Georgia Department of Education, the HOTLINE provides a 24-hour reporting system for students to report weapons, violence (including bullying), or drugs anonymously by calling 1-877-SAY-STOP (1-877-729-7867) or the DeKalb County School District Alert Line at 1-888-475-0482. Information is recorded and shared with the local school district and local law enforcement. An investigation is conducted upon receipt of the report.
CELL PHONE/ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION DEVICE USE BY STUDENTS

Students may possess and use electronic communication devices in accordance with procedures promulgated by the Superintendent. Such procedures shall provide that electronic communication devices may not be used during instructional time and must not interfere with the educational mission of the schools or pose a safety hazard.

All students are expected to adhere to the following rules relative to electronic communication devices: (1) Phones must be turned completely off (not on silent or vibrate mode) and put away out of view (as directed by the school) during instructional time (official start of school day to the end of the school day), except for approved instructional purposes; (2) No text messaging is allowed, except for approved instructional purposes; (3) Students with serious medical conditions or other unusual circumstances may be given special permission by the school principal to use this device if it is determined to be essential for the health of the student.

Parents/guardians are asked to refrain from calling, e-mailing, or texting their student during instructional time. In the event of an emergency, the parent/guardian may contact the student via the school’s phone system. All violations of these expectations will result in confiscation of the device. Moreover, the confiscated device will be returned only to the parent/guardian.

NOTE: No one is allowed to take pictures or video of other persons at school without the express permission of the principal.

STUDENTS ARE STRONGLY CAUTIONED THAT SENDING THREATENING/INAPPROPRIATE MESSAGES AND/OR IMAGES VIA ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION DEVICES OR THE INTERNET/INTRANET AT ANY TIME COULD RESULT IN VERY SERIOUS SCHOOL, PERSONAL AND/OR CRIMINAL CONSEQUENCES.

SCHOOL RESOURCE OFFICERS

School Resource Officers (SRO) are POST-certified veteran police officers assigned to schools to maintain safety and security at the assigned school, ensure the initiation of prevention and intervention programs, act as positive role models for students, serve as liaisons with other law enforcement personnel and agencies, help develop the Safe School Plan, and work to foster a better understanding of legal issues and the judicial process. However, SROs are not disciplinarians. They are not to be used as a substitute for an administrator in the daily administration of the student discipline program. The administrative staff works with the SRO to use their law enforcement expertise and experience but should refrain from assigning SROs or other law enforcement agency personnel to duties and stations that limit or encumber their effectiveness. As School District employees, SROs follow the professional requirements of all employees.

As mandated by state law in Georgia, students will be charged and arrested for possession of weapons, as defined in O.C.G.A. § 16-11-127.1, for possession of drugs, as defined in O.C.G.A. § 16-13-24 through O.C.G.A. § 16-13-32, for any felony or designated felony, as described in Title 16 of the Criminal Code of Georgia Annotated, and for causing bodily injury to others, damage to public or private property, and/or causing a major school disturbance, including, but not limited to, making terroristic threats.

School administrators are required to immediately report suspected violations of the law to SROs or other law enforcement personnel. When an SRO, other law enforcement or emergency agency is on a school campus for the purpose of responding to a request for intervention, investigation, serving a warrant, or in response to an emergency, the school administrative staff follows the responder’s recommendations. In all cases involving an SRO, as in all other serious situations at the school, the parents/guardians are notified in a timely manner.

Parents and guardians are encouraged to inform their children of the consequences, including potential criminal penalties, of underage sexual conduct and crimes for which a minor can be tried as an adult (O.C.G.A. § 20-2-735). Information on this may be found on the DeKalb District Attorney’s website at http://www.dekalbda.org/DocumentView.aspx?DID=274&DL=1.
CAMPUS SECURITY PERSONNEL

Campus Security Personnel (CSP) maintain the security of the school by monitoring campus activity and undertaking necessary precautions vital to the protection of the staff and students to preserve an environment suitable for the education process by patrolling school buildings and grounds to ensure security. CSP are assigned to all secondary schools and several elementary schools.

TEENAGE/ADULT DRIVERS RESPONSIBILITY ACT (TAADRA)

Please note that SB 100, signed into law on April 16, 2015, makes significant changes to the Teenage and Adult Driver Responsibility Act by eliminating the requirement for schools to submit noncompliance data for students with excessive unexcused absences and certain discipline infractions. Effective July 1, 2015, schools will certify that a student is enrolled in and not under expulsion from a public or private school to be eligible for a driver’s license or learner’s permit. Beginning on July 1, 2015, schools will use the new Certificate of School Enrollment form and the Certificate of Eligibility for Restoration of Driving Privileges form.

CHRONICALLY DISRUPTIVE STUDENTS

Students who chronically disrupt class are addressed through a Response to Intervention (RtI) process using a tiered process of interventions and continuous monitoring of progress. Progressive consequences range from Tier 1 of the RtI process for the initial disruptions to Tier 3 for continuously disruptive behavior. The initial focus of the RtI process is developing and implementing intervention strategies to modify the identified behavior problems.

Chronically disruptive students may be placed on probation with a signed contract. The administrative staff, in conjunction with resource personnel and the parents, should collectively devise a discipline correction plan. Chronically disruptive students must be referred to and receive interventions from resource personnel (i.e. counselor, social worker, school psychologist, SST chair or student support specialist) prior to a referral to a District due process hearing.

STUDENT SUPPORT TEAM

The Student Support Team (SST) is a problem-solving team at the Tier 3 level of interventions and/or student assessment that seeks intervention strategies for students with academic, behavior, or other types of problems. SST levels of interventions are implemented only if they are necessary as part of the progression through the tiers of intervention.

Once the student reaches SST/Tier 3, interventions are implemented for a specified period of time. If the strategies at SST/Tier 3 are not successful, based on data from the interventions implemented by the Assistant Principal for discipline and/or teachers as part of the committee, additional alternative interventions and modifications are developed and implemented for an additional specified time. A follow-up SST meeting is scheduled to review the results. The SST may request parent permission to complete a psychoeducational evaluation to determine the student’s cognitive and academic strengths and weaknesses and/or behavioral/social and emotional status.

If the student continues to experience difficulties and based upon the student’s responses to the implemented interventions, a referral to Special Education may be warranted. If such a referral is made, special education staff will obtain parental consent to review all SST/RtI records, including all data and all evaluations, and to complete any additional evaluations necessary. A special education eligibility meeting is then held to determine the student’s eligibility for special education services.
PLACEMENT REVIEW PROCEDURES FOR REMOVING STUDENTS FROM CLASS

Based on state law (O.C.G.A. § 20-2-738), a teacher may remove from class a student who repeatedly or substantially interferes with the teacher’s ability to conduct instructional activities, provided the student has previously been reported or the teacher determines that the behavior of the student poses an immediate threat to the safety of the student’s classmates or the teacher. In the case of immediate removal from the classroom, the teacher will submit a written referral by the end of the school day or at the beginning of the next school day to the principal or other school administrator. The administrator will, within one school day after the student’s removal from class, send the student’s parents a written notice that the student was removed from class, a copy of the teacher’s referral, and information regarding how the parent may contact a school administrator. When a teacher removes a student from class, as prescribed above, the administrator will discuss the matter with the teacher by the end of the school day or at the beginning of the next school day. The administrator will give the student oral or written notice of the basis for the removal from class. If the teacher withholds his or her consent to the student’s return to the same class, or the student’s misbehavior precludes returning to school (such as committing a major violation of the Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook), the administrator determines the consequences for the student by the end of the first day, which may include in-school suspension or out-of-school suspension for up to ten days. Suspensions or expulsions of longer than ten days may be imposed only by the Hearing Officer or Board of Education.

If the teacher withholds his or her consent to the student’s return to the same class and the administrator does not impose other disciplinary action, the administrator will convene the Local Placement Review Committee by the second day after the removal from the classroom, and the committee will render a decision whether the student should or should not return to the teacher’s classroom. The committee’s decision will be made no later than three days after the removal from class. In the interim, the administrator will make a temporary placement for the student (other than in the classroom from which the student was removed, unless the teacher gives permission). Any teacher who removes more than two students from his or her total enrollment in any school year who are subsequently returned to the class by the Local Placement Review Committee because such class is the best available alternative may be required to complete professional development to improve classroom management or other skills, based on classroom observations and documentation.

Each school and center principal shall establish at least one Local Placement Review Committee, composed of three members. The school faculty will select two teachers and one alternate and the principal will select one staff member to serve on the committee (schools may have more than one Local Placement Review Committee, at the discretion of the principal, but each committee must have three members selected as stated above). The selection of the committee should proceed as follows: (1) principal asks for volunteers and nominations; (2) a secret ballot is taken at a faculty meeting; (3) results are tabulated by a teacher; (4) results of the ballot are shared with the faculty. The Local Placement Review Committee (by simple majority vote) determines the placement of a student when a teacher withholds his or her consent to the return of the student to the teacher’s class when an administrator has not imposed disciplinary action (provided the teacher has met the reporting requirements enumerated above or if the student poses a threat). The committee is authorized to (1) return the student to the teacher’s class upon determining that such placement is the best or only alternative; or (2) refer the student to the administrator for other appropriate action.

The decision of the committee shall be in writing and will be made within three school days after the teacher withholds consent to the return of the student. If the Local Placement Review Committee decides not to return the student to the class from which he or she was removed, the administrator may place the student into another appropriate classroom, in-school suspension, or out-of-school suspension. In-school suspension or out-of-school suspensions may be for up to ten days. Any and all disciplinary action will be sent to the parents in writing, by either letter or copy of the Student Discipline Referral form, with a note to the parent to confirm receipt of the notice.

PREVENTION/INTERVENTION

Prevention/Intervention has several programs in place for students, including peer mediation, conflict resolution classes, drug education classes, parenting classes, character education, in-school suspension/life skills training, bullying awareness activities, and other programs and activities.
POINTS (Providing Optional Intervention Needed To Succeed) helps students resolve conflict, cope with peer pressure, manage anger, and communicate with others. Students who have been involved in a fight may be referred to POINTS, which is a conflict management class offered on Saturdays to students. Parents are also asked to participate in the classes in order to reinforce the effort to resolve issues peacefully between and among students.

GRIP (Gaining Results Intervention/Prevention) is a drug education program that is provided for first-time violators of the Drug/Substance offenses (possession or use) in this Code of Student Conduct – Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook. Violators of offense #5a (distribution/sale/intent), or students charged with felony possessions or multiple offenses are not eligible, unless otherwise indicated by the Hearing Officer or the Board of Education.
SAFE SCHOOL AUDITS

The DeKalb County School District is committed to ensuring a safe and orderly learning environment. Research studies have indicated that supervision of students is vitally important in the prevention and reduction of violent and criminal behaviors. Adult supervision is necessary for students to feel safe at school. Therefore, the purpose of Safe School Audits is to monitor adult supervision of students, especially during transitional times; assess students’ understanding of the rules for appropriate behavior according the DCSD Code of Student Conduct Student Rights and Responsibilities and Character Development Handbook; ensure staff understanding of procedures to follow if a campus crisis occurs; and to conduct randomly selected student surveys regarding whether the student feels safe at school.

The Safe School Audits goal is for students and staff to learn and work in a safe and orderly environment. Objectives for conducting the audits are: (1) provide school-based data to local school administrators regarding supervision of staff during transitional periods of the school day; (2) gather and report information on students’ feelings about safety at school; (3) provide information on staff awareness of procedures to be followed during a crisis; and (4) building and environment checks.

Trained audit teams (four-five members per team) will conduct random Safe School Audits throughout the year. Upon entering a school building, the team leader will notify the principal of the team’s presence. Audit team members, equipped with a school map, bell schedule, and audit checklist will proceed to designated areas on the school’s campus to observe and document information gathered during the audit. The process generally takes about thirty-five (35) minutes to complete. The audit will be scored according to a prescribed procedure for elementary and secondary schools. Results will be shared with the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, School Leadership and Operational Support, Chief Legal Officer, Regional Superintendents, Principals, and Assistant Principals.

In order to ensure that Safe School Audits are conducted with fidelity, a Safe School Audit training module will be developed. Campus identified personnel will be trained and tested in the use and understanding of the Safe School Audit process. Additionally, school administrators, school personnel, and students will receive professional learning on the Safe School Audit process. It is expected that the use of the Safe Schools Audit will result in a reduction of discipline referrals and suspensions.

SECLUSION AND RERAINT

On July 8, 2010, the Georgia Board of Education approved Rule 160-5-1.35 regarding the use of restraint in Georgia schools. As required, the DeKalb Board of Education approved a board policy, Descriptor Code JGF (2), on October 7, 2010 which met the requirements of the state rule. The DeKalb policy is provided below.

BOARD POLICY SECLUSION AND RERAINT
DESCRIPTOR CODE: JGF (2)

The DeKalb County Board of Education establishes the following standards for the safe administration of physical restraint with regard to enrolled students.

1. The use of chemical restraint, mechanical restraint, or prone restraint, as defined by Georgia Department of Education Rule 160-5-1-.35, is prohibited within the DeKalb County School District.

2. The use of seclusion, as defined by Georgia Department of Education Rule 160-5-1-.35, is prohibited within the DeKalb County School District.
   a. Seclusion does not include situations in which a staff member trained in the use of de-escalation techniques or restraint is physically present in the same unlocked room as the student.
   b. Seclusion does not include “time-out,” defined as a behavioral intervention in which the student is temporarily removed from the learning activity but in which the student is not confined.
   c. Seclusion does not include in-school suspension, detention, or a student-requested break in a different location in the classroom or in a separate unlocked room.

3. Physical restraint may be utilized only when the student is an immediate danger to himself or others and the student is not responsive to less intensive behavioral interventions including verbal directives or other de-escalation techniques.
   a. Physical restraint does not include: providing limited physical contact and/or redirection to promote student safety, providing physical guidance or prompting when teaching a skill, redirecting attention, providing guidance to a location, or providing comfort.
   b. Physical restraint shall not be used:
      i. as a form of discipline or punishment, or
      ii. when the student cannot be safely restrained, or
      iii. when the use of the intervention would be contraindicated due to the student’s psychiatric, medical, or physical conditions as described in the student’s educational records.
   c. All physical restraint must be immediately terminated when the student is no longer an immediate danger to himself or others or if the student is observed to be in severe distress.

4. Before any staff member may implement physical restraint, he or she should have completed an approved training program.
   a. Approved training programs will address a full continuum of positive behavioral intervention strategies as well as prevention and de-escalation techniques and restraint.
   b. Schools and programs shall maintain written or electronic documentation on training provided and the list of participants in each training. Copies of such documentation will be made available to the Georgia Department of Education or any member of the public upon request.
   c. If a staff member who has not completed an approved training program has to physically restrain a student to prevent injury to a student or others in an emergency situation when staff members trained in physical restraint are not available, he or she should ask other students, if present, to request assistance immediately.
5. Whenever possible, the use of physical restraint on a student shall be monitored by another staff member or administrator. The use of physical restraint shall be documented by staff or faculty participating in or supervising the restraint for each student in each instance in which the student is restrained.

6. Whenever physical restraint is used on a student, the school or program where the restraint is administered shall notify the student’s parent or legal guardian within one school day after the use of restraint.

7. This policy does not prohibit a staff member from utilizing time-out, as defined in paragraph (2) above, or any other classroom management technique or approach, including a student’s removal from the classroom that is not specifically addressed in this rule.

8. This policy does not prohibit a staff member from taking appropriate action to diffuse a student fight or altercation.

9. Deciding whether the use of physical restraint is necessary to protect students or others from imminent harm or bodily injury, and taking the actions deemed necessary to protect students or others from imminent harm or bodily injury, are actions that involve the performance of discretionary, not ministerial, duties.

10. In some instances in which a student is an immediate danger to himself or herself or others, the school or program must determine when it becomes necessary to seek assistance from law enforcement and/or emergency medical personnel. Nothing in this policy shall be construed to interfere with the duties of law enforcement or emergency medical personnel.

11. School officials must notify a student’s parent or guardian immediately when emergency medical or law enforcement personnel remove a student from a school or program setting.

16. You have the right to, at any time, file a complaint with the United States Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights.
SECTION 504 PROCEDURAL SAFEGUARDS

OVERVIEW:
Any student or parent or guardian ("grievant") may request an impartial hearing due to the District’s actions or inactions regarding a child’s identification, evaluation, or educational placement under Section 504. Requests for an impartial hearing must be in writing to the District’s Section 504 Coordinator; however, a grievant’s failure to request a hearing in writing does not alleviate the District’s obligation to provide an impartial hearing if the grievant orally requests an impartial hearing through the Section 504 Coordinator. The Section 504 Coordinator will assist the grievant in completing the written Request for Hearing.

HEARING REQUEST:
The Request for the Hearing must include the following:

A. The name of the student;
B. The address of the residence of the student;
C. The name of the school the student is attending;
D. The decision that is the subject of the hearing;
E. The requested reasons for review;
F. The proposed remedy sought by the grievant; and
G. The name and contact information of the grievant.

Within 10 business days from receiving the grievant’s Request for Hearing, the Section 504 Coordinator will acknowledge the Request for Hearing in writing and schedule a time and place for a hearing. If the written Request for Hearing does not contain the necessary information noted above, the Section 504 Coordinator will inform the grievant of the specific information needed to complete the request. All timelines and processes will be stayed until the Request for Hearing contains the necessary information noted above.

MEDIATION:
The District may offer mediation to resolve the issues detailed by the grievant in this or her Request for Hearing. Mediation is voluntary and both the grievant and District must agree to participate. A waiver form must be signed to toll time limits for the scheduling for a formal hearing, if necessary. The grievant may terminate the mediation at any time. If the mediation is terminated without an agreement, the District will follow the procedures for conducting an impartial hearing without an additional Request for Hearing.

HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. The Section 504 Coordinator will obtain an impartial review official who will conduct a hearing within 45 calendar days from the receipt of the grievant’s Request for Hearing unless agreed to otherwise by the grievant or a continuance is granted by the impartial review official.

B. Upon a showing of good cause by the grievant or the District, the impartial review official, at his or her discretion, may grant a continuance and set a new hearing date. The request for a continuance must be in writing and copied to the other party.
C. The grievant will have an opportunity to examine the child’s educational records prior to the hearing.

D. The grievant will have the opportunity to be represented by legal counsel at his or her own expense at the hearing and participate, speak, examine witnesses, and present information at the hearing. If the grievant is to be represented by legal counsel at the hearing, he or she must inform the Section 504 Coordinator of that fact in writing at least 10 calendar days prior to the hearing. Failure to notify the Section 504 Coordinator in writing of representation by legal counsel shall constitute good cause for continuance of the hearing.

E. The grievant will have the burden of proving any claims he or she may assert. When warranted by circumstances or law, the impartial Hearing Officer may require the District to defend its position/decision regarding the claims (i.e., a recipient shall place a disabled student in the regular educational environment operated by the recipient unless it is demonstrated by the recipient that the education of the person in the regular environment with the use of supplementary aids and services cannot be achieved satisfactorily. 34 C.F.R. §104.34). One or more representatives of the District, who may be an attorney, will attend the hearing to present the evidence and witnesses, respond to the grievant testimony and answer questions posed by the review official.

F. The impartial review official shall not have the power to subpoena witnesses, and the strict rules of evidence shall not apply to hearings. The impartial review official shall have the authority to issue pre-hearing instructions, which may include requiring the parties to exchange documents and names of witnesses to be present.

G. The impartial review official shall determine the weight to be given any evidence based on its reliability and probative value.

H. The hearing shall be closed to the public.

I. The issues of the hearing will be limited to those raised in the written or oral request for the hearing.

J. Witnesses will be questioned directly by the party who calls them. Cross-examination of witnesses will be allowed. The impartial review official, at his or her discretion, may allow further examination of witnesses or ask questions of the witnesses.

K. Testimony shall be recorded by court reporting or audio recording at the expense of the District. All documentation related to the hearing shall be retained by the District.

L. Unless otherwise required by law, the impartial review official shall uphold the action of the District unless the grievant can prove that a preponderance of the evidence supports his or her claim.

M. Failure of the grievant to appear at a scheduled hearing unless prior notification of absence was provided and approved by the impartial review official or just cause is shown shall constitute a waiver of the right to a personal appearance before the impartial review official.

DECISION:

The impartial review official shall issue a written determination within 20 calendar days of the date the hearing concluded. The determination of the impartial review official shall not include any monetary damages or the award of any attorney’s fees.

REVIEW:

If not satisfied with the decision of the impartial review official, any party may pursue any right of review, appeal, cause of action or claim available to them under the law or existing state or federal rules or regulations.

"As the significant adult in the child’s life while in school, teachers certainly have some degree of responsibility in maintaining discipline. Effective teaching cannot take place without discipline. However, the foundation for discipline begins at home. When teachers report a discipline problem, parents or guardians should talk to their children and to the teachers to work out a solution together.

The purpose of discipline should be to guide children toward acceptable behavior and to teach them to make wise and responsible decisions. Discipline helps children learn to think in an orderly fashion and to understand the logical consequences of their actions.”

Five Tips for Student Success

Use daily, weekly, and semester calendars to keep track of appointments, assignments, and projects and to plan how to use your time wisely.

- Effective time managers don't rely on their memories to hold important dates and times. They write them down! This clears their brains for more important tasks like thinking.
• Combine due dates for several major projects on a long-term calendar like the Semester-On-A-Page to help you set and accomplish goals, plan and use your time wisely, and avoid procrastination or last minute panics.

Review your lecture and reading notes within 24 hours after you take them.

• Since we tend to forget about 80% of what we read or hear within the first 24 hours, this first review is vital to retention. Equally important, it helps you to build a "framework" of knowledge that you continually add to instead of starting from scratch.

• Another method that helps you to retain new information is to review your notes periodically to avoid having to cram shortly before a test or quiz.

Keep all your class materials syllabi, notes, papers, exams, and homework in a 3-ring binder.

• Many students spend half of their time just getting organized. Do it as you go; then, use the time you've saved for valuable physical and mental recreation.

• Organize items in your notebook immediately rather than just sticking them in a book or some other place for later. Loose papers often slip or fall out if they are not secured.

Establish a regular study routine, and study during daylight hours.

• Find a place that is comfortable but not too comfortable and always do your studying there, preferably during the same hours each day.

• Also, keep in mind that you are about 1.5 times more productive during the daylight hours than when the sun is down.

Parents and Students:

The charter school shall cooperate with the DCSD to the extent necessary to provide an orderly return of the students to the appropriate schools for which they are zoned. Any surplus remaining at the time any charter school ceases operations shall be remitted to the DCSD. Any furniture and equipment purchased with state or local funds shall be delivered to DCSD.

10.3 SACS Accreditation
February 10, 2015

Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence

Dear Administrator:

Congratulations! Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence has been awarded initial Accreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Council on Accreditation and School Improvement (SACS-CASI). This action was taken at the AdvancED® Accreditation Commission meeting held on January 22, 2015. A certificate that indicates the term of your SACS-CASI accreditation is enclosed. Throughout this term of accreditation, Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence must continue to engage in the tasks required of all institutions to maintain accredited status as outlined in the AdvancED Accreditation Policies and Procedures available on our website at www.advanc-ed.org/services/policies-and-procedures. Your efforts and associated accreditation signify your commitment to educational excellence. You can take pride in your achievement and so can your community.

As part of your External Review report, you received an Index of Education Quality™ (IEQ™) score. The IEQ provides a holistic measure of your institution’s overall performance on indicators and evaluative criteria used in the accreditation protocol. As a formative tool for improvement, it pinpoints areas of success as well as areas in need of support and/or focus.

In the past, accreditation reviews resulted in a recommended accreditation status. Labels such as accredited, advised, warned or on probation were used to describe the status of an institution relative to a set of static standards. These labels, with the exception of accredited, were oftentimes perceived as punitive in nature and not as a formative measure by which a school or school system could improve. Given that the most critical aspect of an institution’s work is optimizing student learning, the new IEQ framework recognizes and supports the journey of continuous improvement. Your institution’s initial IEQ is the starting point for that improvement. Using the IEQ, you have the opportunity to focus your attention, activities and actions resulting in positive impact and measurable improvement designed to optimize learning for every student. As your institution documents these changes and submits them for review, your IEQ scores are updated to reflect this progress and guide the next steps on your improvement journey. To learn more about the IEQ, please visit www.advanc-ed.org/services/overview-index-education-quality.

As an accredited institution, you are part of the AdvancED network of over 32,000 schools and systems in more than 70 countries that are committed to continuous quality improvement through accreditation. Through our state, national, and international offices, AdvancED, the parent organization of SACS-CASI, offers a wide range of services including workshops, conferences, web-based resources, publications, surveys and technical assistance. Please check the Improvement Services/ Professional Learning section at www.advanc-ed.org for upcoming events.

Destiny Achievers Academy of Excellence
Finally, promoting your accreditation is one of the easiest things that you can do to raise awareness of the importance of continuous improvement of education in your community. To help you celebrate your accreditation, we are providing you with a press release that you may share with your local media. You can access the press release by visiting www.advanc-ed.org/communicationskit. In the kit, you will find other press releases, brochures, accreditation seals and promotional items to display your pride in your institution’s accreditation.

If you have questions regarding the enclosed certificate, e-mail us at accreditation-certificates@advanc-ed.org. Our AdvancED Accreditation Office is available to answer any questions you may have as well and can be reached at 888.413.3669 (1.888.413.3669). We look forward to serving you now and in the future.

Sincerely,
