OUR PURPOSE

One Team, One Voice, One DeKalb

DeKalb County School District's (DCSD) Brand Identity Style Guide is a comprehensive tool for staff and stakeholders designing, printing or producing marketing materials. As we communicate about our work both internally and externally, it is crucial that we are consistent and effective. With your help, we can ensure the standards and specifications of our district's brand are appropriately being used across a wide variety of media. DCSD logos should be prominently displayed on all visual communications and may not be incorporated into or combined with any other mark, symbol or graphic to create a new mark. These guidelines may be adapted when necessary due to the context of the publication or media only upon approval by the Communications Team.

Logomark & Logotype

Logo Font: Calibri Bold/Calibri Light

Logo Font: Calibri Bold/Calibri Light

The DeKalb County School District (DCSD) logo consists of the logomark and logotype.

The three figures can be used separately, but only through the approval of the Division of Communications & Community Relations.

1. Logomark

The figures that create the logomark symbolize our 100,000+ students and the network of nurturing adults in their lives.

The figures also convey interaction, protections, and vitality.

2. Logotype

The logotype consists of DCSD. In some instances the logotype can be used separately but only through the approval of the Division of Communications & Community Relations.

Clear Space Rule & Size

1. Protected Area

This is the area around the logo where nothing else should appear, helping to increase the logo's impact. To create the protected space, use the letter "D" in DeKalb as a guide.

Logotype Space

The spaces between the logotype and logomark should never be changed.

2.

2. Minimum Production Size

Primary Logo: The primary district logo may not reproduced any smaller than 1.5" in width.

Horizontal Logo: The horizontal logo may not be reproduced any smaller than 2.5" in width.

Note: The logomark and logotype should never be used separately.

Logo Usage

Section 4.1: Department Logos

To ensure the integrity of department logos, units should not attempt to create their own logo. Department logos include left aligned and centered options. The font style and/or color of the logo copy should never be altered.

By keeping the individual departmental branding so closely related to that of the overall DCSD brand, each department benefits from the recognition of the district and in turn helps with the overall consistency and impact internally and externally.

TYPOGRAPHY

Primary Fonts

Four typefaces have been chosen for the primary fonts used in the DCSD. These fonts should be used in all marketing to project a consistent visual identity. This includes promotional materials, advertising, digital assets and printed materials.

Note: Calibri should be the only font used on all district stationery.

Section 6: Terminology

Understanding DCSD Logo Files 38

TERMINOLOGY

Understanding DCSD's Logo Files

What is high resolution?

A high-resolution (high-res) file is typically a file that is 300 dpi (dots per inch) at 100% of the image size needed. High resolution files are required for sharp reproduction of the district's publications. DCSD logos and graphics should be used and created at the highest resolution.

What is a vector file?

Vector based files usually require professional design software to open. Vector files are constructed using mathematical formulas rather than individual pixels. These files normally have an extension of .eps, .ai and .pdf.

.eps (Encapsulated PostScript) and .ai (Illustrator)

A vector-based, editable file format created with Adobe Illustrator and Corel Draw.

.jpg (Joint Photographic Experts Group)

A compressed raster image format primarily used for on-screen display. JPEG files can not be re-edited or scaled up without loss of quality.

.png (Portable Network Graphics)

Allows for the display of transparent backgrounds. PNG files cannot be re-edited or scaled up without loss of quality.

When to use each file

- .eps and .ai: Great for printed media and web-based graphics.
- .jpg: Great for web use, as well as Word, PowerPoint and Prezi.
- .png: Great for web and email use, as well as Word, PowerPoint and Prezi (this file format is capable of having a transparent background).
